University of Richmond Religious Observance Calendar

The University is a secular institution that values a diversity of religious expression. The University is also an active community with a wide range of personal commitments and academic and extracurricular activities.

Planning for academic and extracurricular activities should be done with sensitivity to the diverse religious commitments of the community and an awareness of religious holidays. Scheduling large-scale, one-time academic or extra-curricular events on a religious holiday should be avoided whenever possible.

Any student may be excused from class or other assignments because of religious observance. A student who will miss an academic obligation because of religious observance is responsible for contacting his or her professor within the first two weeks of the semester. The student is responsible for completing missed work in a timely manner.

Faculty are expected to be mindful of potential conflicts with religious observances and should make reasonable accommodations when students' religious practices conflict with their academic responsibilities.

The religious observance calendar is meant to serve as a scheduling guide. It lists significant holidays from the five largest global faith traditions. However, it is not comprehensive and students may choose to observe a holiday not included on the calendar.

The holidays listed are those which occur during the academic year when the University is open.

University of Richmond School of Law

The University of Richmond School of Law is committed to excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service. It educates lawyers to think critically, act ethically, advocate zealously, serve compassionately, and advance the broader social good of their communities. It produces knowledge that expands the understanding of law and contributes to the improvement of legal systems. And it cultivates and models a genuinely collegial community marked by inclusivity, civility, engagement, and concern for others and the greater good.

Mission and Accreditation

University of Richmond Mission Statement

The mission of the University of Richmond is to educate in an academically challenging, intellectually vibrant, and collaborative community dedicated to the holistic development of students and the production of scholarly and creative work. A Richmond education prepares students for lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a diverse world.

Organization and Accreditation

Five academic schools and two coordinate colleges form the University of Richmond, with authority and responsibility vested legally in the Board of Trustees and the president of the University. The several colleges and schools award no degrees individually, but all degrees for work done in any one of them are conferred by the University of Richmond.

The University enrolls approximately 2,900 full-time undergraduates, 92 percent of whom live on campus; 600 full-time law and graduate students; and 1,300 part-time students, largely from Richmond and the surrounding community.

SACSCOC Accreditation

The University of Richmond is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award associate, baccalaureate, masters, and juris doctor degrees. Contact SACSCOC at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of the University of Richmond.

To request a copy of our letter of accreditation, contact: Office of Institutional Effectiveness, 28 Westhampton Way, University of Richmond, VA 23173; Phone: (804) 484-1595; FAX (804) 484-1596.

AACSB Accreditation

The Robins School of Business is fully accredited at the undergraduate and graduate levels in Business and Accounting by the Association for the Advancement of Collegiate Schools of Business International (AACSB).

ABA Accreditation

The T.C. Williams School of Law is fully accredited by the recognized standardizing agencies in the United States. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools; it is on the approved lists of the American Bar Association and the Virginia State Board of Bar Examiners; and its Juris Doctor degree is fully accredited by the Regents of the University of the State of New York. Although each state has its own requirements for admission to the bar, a law degree from the School of Law qualifies the holder to seek admission to the bar in any state in the nation and in the District of Columbia. Additional information about accreditation may be found at abanet.org/legaled/resources/contactus.html.

Virginia State Board of Education Certification

The University also is approved by the Virginia State Board of Education to offer teacher licensure programs.

Teacher Education Accreditation Council Accreditation

The University of Richmond's undergraduate teacher preparation programs and the graduate certificate in teacher licensure program are accredited by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council.

American Chemical Society Accreditation

The University of Richmond's chemistry program is accredited by the American Chemical Society.

Environment and History

The University of Richmond campus consists of about 50 major buildings of Collegiate Gothic architectural style set amid 350 acres of lawns, lake, and woodlands. The beautiful and harmonious setting has been recognized nationally by college guides. Richmond's history began almost two centuries ago with Richmond College, founded in 1830 by Virginia Baptists as a college of liberal arts and sciences for men. Around this nucleus were established the School of Law (1870); Westhampton College, a college of liberal arts and sciences for women (1914); the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, for advanced study in the liberal arts and sciences (1921); the E. Claiborne Robins School of Business, for undergraduate and graduate study in business (1949); University College, now known as the School of Professional and Continuing Studies, for evening, summer, and continuing education (1962); and the Jepson School of Leadership Studies, the first school of leadership studies in the United States (1992). In 1992, the academic missions of Richmond College and Westhampton College were combined in a separate school, the School of Arts and Sciences. Richmond College and Westhampton College are the coordinate colleges for men and women respectively, providing special programming and leadership opportunities in student life.

The law school was established within the college in 1870. In 1890 the family of the late T.C. Williams, who had been a devoted and valued trustee, donated $25,000 as the nucleus of an endowment for the law school. In recognition of this gift, the school was named the T.C. Williams School of Law. At various times the school has received further generous gifts from members of Mr. Williams' family. A substantial gift came through a bequest from T.C. Williams Jr. who, like his father, was long a trustee of Richmond College, and for 20 years was the chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees. The largest gift was received in 1952 by bequest from A.D. Williams, another son of T.C. Williams. In 1976, George E. Allen Jr., Ashby B. Allen, and Wilbur C. Allen provided the initial endowment for the school's first chair, the George E. Allen Chair. For a number of years, this endowment brought to the law school outstanding scholars, lawyers, and judges in a variety of fields, as visiting professors teaching in the annual Allen Chair Seminar. As a result of recent additions to the endowment by members of the Allen family, the Allen Chair became a full-time position on the law school faculty in 1998. Former Dean Rodney A. Smolla was the first full-time holder of the Allen Chair. Through a $2 million pledge from Russell C. Williams, L '84, the law school has established its second chair, the Williams Chair. Williams, who practiced law in Richmond in the 1980s and 1990s, and who worked in the Virginia attorney general's office, is vice president of Hanover Shoe Farms in Hanover, Pa., which breeds horses for harness racing. The Williams Professor focuses on fundamental subjects such as torts, contracts, and civil procedure. Carl Tobias is the first full-time holder of the Williams Chair.

The University of Richmond School of Law is an integral part of the University of Richmond. The University Senate, on which sit representatives of all the faculties, provides for intercollegiate cooperation. The degrees in law are conferred by the corporation of the University of Richmond. While possessing a proud tradition, the law school continues to keep pace with the changing methods of legal education in order to prepare its graduates for the practice of law in today's society.

Location

The University of Richmond campus consists of 350 acres located about six miles west of the center of the city of Richmond, Va. The law school building, of Collegiate Gothic architecture, was originally opened in 1954 and enlarged in 1972 and 1981. In 1991, the building was significantly expanded, renovated, and refurbished. The law school building provides modern and technically equipped classrooms, seminar rooms, a law library, a courtroom, faculty study and offices, administrative offices, student lounges, and offices for the Law Review, three other journals, and numerous other student organizations.

Richmond, the capital of the Commonwealth of Virginia, is where the Virginia General Assembly holds its annual sessions and the Supreme Court of Virginia sits. The Federal District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia and the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit also hold regular terms here. In addition, the State Corporation Commission, the Workers' Compensation Commission, and many federal administrative agencies hold hearings in the city. Washington, D.C., where the United States Supreme Court sits, is only about a two-hour drive away. Thus, students find, in addition to the formal law school program, unsurpassed opportunities for observation of the legal process at work in various legislative, judicial, and administrative departments of the local, state, and federal governments.

- Regardless of the University school in which a course is taken, the student pays the tuition and fees of the school to which he or she has been admitted and which is considered the school of record.
- The University reserves the right to increase the fees listed herein and the charges for room and board if conditions should make such changes necessary or advisable. The changes will be announced as far in advance as feasible.
- The University is not liable for student's personal property. Students or parents should verify that their homeowner's insurance will cover their personal property on campus.
- Please consult Parking Services, Residence Life, and One Card Services for further information regarding their respective charges.
- Fees and charges will increase for the 2019-20 school year and will be announced as soon as possible.

Deposits

Upon acceptance for admission to the University of Richmond, and to confirm a student's intention to matriculate, two non-refundable seat deposits of $300 and $500 are required on dates specified by the law school. These advance payments will be credited on the first semester account of the student and is not refundable if the student fails to matriculate.

Rooms and Meals

Rooms in the law residence hall are available to single students upon application to the Dean of Admissions of the Law School, accompanied by check payable to University of Richmond in the amount of $250. Returning students must apply for a room on or before May 1; new students must apply for a room upon acceptance by the school. Preference is given to entering students not from the area.

The deposit will be a credit toward other fees if written notice releasing the room is received by July 1. If notification is received after July 1, the deposit is forfeited. The charge for room covers medical care by the University Student Health Center but does not cover the cost of medicines, expenses at a hospital or the services of any additional physician or nurse. All rooms are furnished. Each student provides his or her own pillow, bed linens, towels, and blankets. Students living in the law residence halls are required to purchase a Spider Plus Unlimited, Spider Unlimited, or Spider 40 meal plan. Meal plans are available for law students living off-campus. Please contact One Card Services, Heilman Center (located next to University Post Office), for assistance.

Invoices

Inquiries concerning invoices and payments should be directed to the Office of the Bursar, phone (804) 289-8147 or toll-free (866) 241-8893, or email bursar@richmond.edu or mailed to Office of Student Accounts, Box R, University of Richmond, VA 23173.

Fees are invoiced electronically and are to be paid in advance by the semester. The fall semester payment is due by the first Monday in August, and the spring semester payment is due by the first Monday in December. To avoid incurring a late-payment fee and delays in housing, registration, and other areas, please pay by due date. Satisfactory financial arrangements for room and board must be made before occupancy.

Students receive a monthly email notification to their University of Richmond email address with the subject line 'University of Richmond Electronic Invoice/Statement' with a link to QuikPAY, our financial portal. Students access their account in QuikPAY through BannerWeb/Student Services/Pay Tuition & Fees/View & Pay Accounts. The student's University of Richmond ID number is used for authentication. Upon login, students can view their invoice, set up and store bank account or credit card information, set up authorized payers, pay the invoice electronically, and print paper copies.

The student may authorize others to view the invoice as an authorized payer. Each invoice cycle, the student and the authorized payer(s) will receive an email notification that the electronic invoice has been sent with a link to the QuikPAY login page.

Each authorized payer is assigned a PIN number for added security and privacy. Only Authorized payers will be able to view their personal payment history and bank information.

Payments

Electronic checks (eCheck) is the preferred payment method, is convenient, and generates no additional fee. Checking and savings account information from a bank within the United States is entered through the QuikPAY website, and payments will be transferred electronically to the University of Richmond. The site can retain your bank account information for future convenience, by building a profile, or you may enter it each time you make an eCheck payment.

Payment by traditional check may be mailed or made in person at the Cashier's Office in the Queally Center. To mail a check or money order to the university, please print a copy of the PDF invoice, detach the bottom portion of the statement, and mail with the payment payable to the University of Richmond.

Office of Student Accounts
Box R
University of Richmond, VA 23173

Cash payments are accepted in the Student Accounts office in Queally Center.

The University of Richmond also accepts MasterCard, Visa, Discover and American Express via QuikPAY. This service will generate a vendor fee of 2.75% of the amount charged. This will appear as an additional fee on your credit card statement.

If the University deems it necessary to engage the services of a collection agency or attorney to collect or to settle any dispute in connection with an unpaid balance on a student account, the student will be responsible for reimbursing the University of Richmond the fees of any collection agency, which may be based on a percentage at a maximum of 33.3% of the debt, and all costs and expenses including reasonable attorney's fees that are incurred. Accounts referred to a collection agency are reported to a credit bureau(s). By registering for classes you are acknowledging receipt of this information and your acceptance of the associated responsibilities.

No credit is given for a term's work nor a degree conferred until all charges have been satisfactorily settled. Failure to make satisfactory financial arrangements can result in delay of graduation, denial of registration privileges, removal from classes, and/or the withholding of transcripts.

Installment Payment Plan

University of Richmond students may set up an installment payment plan through Tuition Management Systems, TMS. TMS offers a payment schedule choice of four or five payments per semester. There is a $50.00 nonrefundable enrollment fee per semester.

Please visit the website for more information or to enroll in a plan, richmond.afford.com or call 1 (800) 722-4867

Late Payment Fee

A late payment fee will be assessed on any unpaid balance. Students who fail to make satisfactory arrangements for their semester fees by the close of business on the first day of the term will be charged a late payment fee of up to $70.

Refunds

Inquiries concerning credit balances on student's accounts should be directed to the Office of Student Accounts, (804) 289-8147 or toll free (866) 241-8893 or bursar@richmond.edu.

Refunds can be issued by check or direct deposit. With a check refund, it is the student's responsibility to ensure the address on record is correct. With direct deposit, your refund will be automatically deposited to the bank account you specify, eliminating trips to the bank and the risk of your check being lost or stolen. It may take up to two business days for a direct deposit to post to your bank account. To participate, log onto BannerWeb and click on Manage/Sign Up for Direct Deposit. When you are finished click submit and your direct deposit form will be sent automatically to Accounts Payable. If you have any questions please call Accounts Payable at (804) 289-8179.

Tuition Insurance Plan

Tuition withdrawal insurance plans are available through Allianz Global Assistance. Information is available at allianztuitioninsurance.com/ur or by calling (888) 427-5045.

Withdrawal Refund Policy

Inquiries concerning refunds after withdrawal from University of Richmond should be directed to the Office of Student Accounts, (804) 289-8147 or toll free (866) 241-8893.

Students are matriculated by semester. If a student withdraws from classes or is dropped from the University for whatever cause, a refund of fees for a fall or spring semester shall be made in accordance with the University's refund policy, based on the schedule below. This schedule is adapted for summer terms. Students who withdraw from the University and receive any financial assistance may be required to return such assistance per Public Law 668.22 and institutional policy. The student would then be responsible for any unpaid balance.

The University of Richmond complies with all federal regulations governing recipients of federal Title IV funds. Information regarding financial aid refund policies is available from the Office of Financial Aid.

Any special fee associated with a particular course is non-refundable after the first day of class.

Financial Aid

Financial Aid Overview

The University of Richmond offers law students various forms of financial assistance from federal and institutional sources. Financial aid recipients must be enrolled or unconditionally accepted for enrollment at Richmond on at least a half-time basis in a degree program at the University. Grants and scholarships may be awarded on the basis of need and/or merit to entering full-time students. Students who receive them for their first year will receive them in subsequent years as well as long as they remain enrolled in good academic standing. It is unlikely that students who do not receive grants or scholarships during their first year will receive them for the second or third year.

Need/Merit Scholarships

Need and merit scholarships are awarded by the law school to students on the basis of character, leadership, scholastic attainment, and capacity for law study. The John Marshall Scholars Program was established in 1998 as a result of a generous bequest by Joseph Dickerson, a member of the Class of 1932. Scholarships of $10,000 each are awarded to a number of incoming students each year. In addition, other significant scholarship aid is awarded to supplement the Marshall Scholarship. The scholarship is renewed automatically each year provided the recipient ranks in the top third of his or her class. John Marshall Scholars are chosen by a blue-ribbon panel of Virginia Supreme Court justices and prominent alumni and are invited to participate in a specially designed seminar during the course of the academic year. Contact the Law School Admissions Office for more information.

FAFSA

Students applying for financial aid in the form of grants, loans, and work-study opportunities, must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents, enrolled on at least a half-time basis, and making satisfactory academic progress. Students must be enrolled full-time for grant assistance. The deadline is February 25 for prospective students and May 15 for returning students. The FAFSA is available online at fafsa.gov. For more information regarding these programs, visit financialaid.richmond.edu/law or contact the Financial Aid Office at (804) 289-8438 or at finaid@richmond.edu.

Loans

Loans are available to assist students with meeting their educational expenses. Federal Direct Loans and Direct Grad PLUS Loans are available to students who meet eligibility requirements, and who complete the FAFSA and the appropriate Federal Direct Loan application. There are also private loans available. Visit financialaid.richmond.edu/law/loans/index.html or contact the Financial Aid Office for more information.

Student Employment

Student employment opportunities are available on campus. Earnings will depend on the wage rate and the number of hours worked. Typically, first year students are discouraged from working. The American Bar Association prohibits law students from working more than 20 hours per week while attending classes. For more information, contact the Financial Aid Office at (804)289-8438 or visit studentjobs.richmond.edu.

Veterans Benefits

Students eligible to receive tuition benefits administered by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) must apply for benefits through the VA. Students should forward Certificates of Eligibility to the Veterans Certifying Official, Registrar's Office, University of Richmond, VA 23173 to have enrollment certified. In addition to the tuition benefits offered under the Post 9/11 GI Bill program, the University participates in the Yellow Ribbon program. For details regarding eligibility for the Yellow Ribbon program at Richmond, go to financialaid.richmond.edu/yellowribbon.html.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

According to federal regulations and University of Richmond (UR) policy, students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to receive federal and institutional financial aid. Some private loan programs also require SAP.

Evaluation of students' progress for financial aid purposes is made annually at the end of the spring term to determine financial aid eligibility for the following year (summer term, fall term, and spring term).

Institutional Financial Aid

Receipt of institutional financial aid requires full-time enrollment (9 hours or more) during the fall and spring terms and a minimum UR cumulative grade point average (GPA) on attempted hours as outlined below:

Hours Earned UR Grade Point Average

1 to 26 2.00
27 to 54 2.10
55 to 86 2.20

Students must also be meeting the SAP requirements for federal aid (see below). Institutional aid is generally not awarded for summer term. Institutional aid is available to students through their sixth term of enrollment (prorated for transfer students). Some institutional aid programs, such as Marshall Scholarships, have higher academic and/or other requirements which are conveyed to recipients when they are selected for such programs.

Students not meeting the SAP requirements for institutional financial aid at the end of the spring term will not be eligible for any additional institutional financial aid in subsequent terms of enrollment until the standards are met. Denial of aid under this policy may be appealed by the student, in writing, to the Director of Financial Aid within 30 days of notification that the student is no longer eligible for institutional aid. A student's request must include information regarding why the student is not meeting the SAP requirements for institutional aid and what factors have changed that will allow the student's academic progress to improve by the next evaluation.

Federal Financial Aid

The Higher Education Act requires that colleges and universities establish minimum standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for students receiving federal aid. When assessing SAP, the University will review all terms of enrollment at UR as well as transfer work accepted toward UR degree requirements, whether or not the student received financial aid during those terms.

The standards of academic progress outlined here are solely for the purpose of evaluating eligibility to continue receiving federal financial aid. They do not replace or modify academic standards required for continued enrollment at the University of Richmond. The effect of incomplete coursework, withdrawals, and course repetitions impacts SAP in the following ways:

- Incomplete coursework is not included in the GPA or in the number of credits earned but is counted as attempted credit.
- Courses from which a student withdraws are not included in the GPA or in the number of credits earned but are counted as attempted credit.
- Repeated courses are counted only one time as earned credits. However, credits for each course taken, including all repeated courses, are counted as attempted credit. Both grades will be calculated in the cumulative GPA.

SAP is checked annually at the end of the spring term. Students must meet both of the following requirements:

- Have completed 67% of all attempted coursework, (including transfer work and pass/fail courses) AND
- Have achieved a cumulative grade point average, depending on the number of units earned, as follows:

Hours Earned UR Grade Point Average

1 to 26 2.00
27 to 54 2.10
55 to 86 2.20

In addition, students must complete the requirements for a law degree within the 150% maximum timeframe allowed. That is, as the law degree program requires 86 hours to complete, the maximum number of hours attempted to complete the program cannot exceed 129 hours, including transfer work and pass/fail courses. Successful completion of a class means receiving one of the following grades for the class: A, B, C, D.

Students not meeting the SAP requirements for federal financial aid at the end of the spring term will not be eligible for any additional federal financial aid until the standards are met. Denial of aid under this policy may be appealed by the student, in writing, to the Director of Financial Aid within 30 days of notification that the student is no longer eligible for aid. Appeals will be considered for the following circumstances: the death of a relative of the student; an injury or illness to the student; or other special circumstances. A student's request must include information regarding why the student is not meeting the SAP standards and what factors have changed that will allow the student's academic progress to improve by the next evaluation.

Successful appeals will lead to one of two SAP statuses: Financial Probation or Eligible for Financial Aid. A student may be placed on 'Financial Probation' for the subsequent term if it is determined that he/she can regain eligibility after one term. A student may be found 'Eligible for Financial Aid' based on an academic plan that outlines future academic progress for the student as established by the Director of Financial Aid. The student will be notified of their SAP status based on the merits of the appeal. If the appeal is not granted, the student will be notified of the decision and will be financially responsible for their educational expenses.

Return of Financial Aid when a Student Withdraws

A student who withdraws during a semester may be entitled to a refund of certain charges as outlined in the refund policy (see Financial Affairs section of this catalog). Withdrawal may also affect a student's financial aid eligibility for the semester as outlined in the federal Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy and the Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy.

Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy

The 1998 amendments to the Higher Education Act (HEA) of 1965 and subsequent regulations issued by the Department of Education (43 CFR 668.22) establish a policy for the return of Title IV grant and loan funds for a student who withdraws or takes a leave of absence. Title IV grant and loan funds include the following programs: Federal Direct Loans, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Work-Study, Federal TEACH Grant, and the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant

The amount of Title IV funds the student earns, up to the withdrawal or leave of absence date, is based on a daily proration determined by dividing the total number of calendar days completed by the total number of calendar days in the semester (excluding breaks of five or more consecutive days). This calculation must only be done up to the 60% point in time for the semester. After the 60% point in time, the student is considered to have earned all of the Title IV funds awarded for that semester.

Unearned Title IV funds must be returned to the Title IV programs. If the amount earned is greater than the amount that has been disbursed, the difference is treated as a late disbursement to the student. Unearned funds, up to the amount of total institutional charges (tuition, room, and board) multiplied by the unearned percentage of funds, are returned to the Title IV programs by the University of Richmond. The student must return any portion of unearned funds not returned by the school. Only 50% of unearned grants funds must be returned. Title IV loan funds that must be returned by the student are repaid per the loan terms.

Unearned Title IV funds are returned to the Title IV programs in the following order: Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans, Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans, Perkins Loans, Direct PLUS Loans, Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants for which a return of funds is required, TEACH Grant for which a return of funds is required, and Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant for which a return of funds is required.

Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy

Non-Title IV financial aid will be adjusted for a law student who is withdrawing or taking a leave of absence based upon the University's Refund Policy. Adjustments will be made through the sixth week of classes. The amount to be returned to the Non-Title IV financial aid program is the same percentage that will be refunded to the student for tuition and room charges. After the sixth week the student is considered to have earned all of the Non-Title IV aid.

Non-Title IV financial aid funds are returned in the following order: institutional grants/scholarships, non-federal loans, agency scholarships.

Computer Policies

Law School Computer Program

The University of Richmond initiated a laptop requirement program in 1994 to provide students with the technological expertise necessary to practice law in today's society. The law school was the first law school in the United States to require all entering students to own a laptop as a condition of enrollment. By choosing the University of Richmond as the place to study law, students use computers just like they are used by lawyers in the practice of law, as a personal, portable tool to gather, organize, produce, and store the kind of information that is the lifeblood of the modern legal practitioner.

Students entering law school at the University of Richmond must own a laptop, either Windows-based or Mac, with software that fully complies with the technical specifications and requirements necessary to connect effectively with the University network. Students who indicate plans to enter the University of Richmond Law School receive detailed information about satisfying the laptop requirement prior to enrollment.

Students use laptops at the University of Richmond in the classroom and in the in the classroom, in clinics and trials, in the library, and in student informal spaces, such as the DownUnder. Wireless access to the Internet and the University network is available throughout the law school building, including the classrooms and the library, and some classrooms also include wired access. Students use laptop computers for Westlaw, LexisNexis, Bloomberg Law, and Fastcase access, email, discussions with professors and fellow classmates, and searching the Internet, as well as many other uses. Students also can access the law school network from home.

The library staff provides extensive training about connectivity and other computer issues. Computer professionals offer beginning and review sessions about word processing, email, Internet searching, and other topics throughout the year for students and faculty.

Computing Facilities

The University of Richmond has a strong commitment to prepare students to work in technology- and information-centered environments. The University provides computers, software, and specialized equipment for student use in labs, public areas, classrooms, and residence hall lounges. All students in the residence halls have their own wired network connections, and the entire campus is blanketed with a high-speed wireless network that provides students, faculty, staff, and guests with secure access to a wealth of resources.

The University maintains a robust network infrastructure. A wireless network supports mobile computing in every building on campus, and provides coverage in most outdoor locations and public gathering spaces. Information Services maintains University-owned systems loaded with up-to-date versions of the latest software tools and anti-virus software. All users must have an active University computer account to log into any lab machine. To help ensure the security of the University systems and network, the University requires all users to change passwords regularly in order to maintain an active account. Policies regarding the use of technology and information resources are posted on the Information Services Policies website.

The ground floor of Jepson Hall houses many computing resources, including a general purpose computer lab; five PC classrooms with full multimedia capabilities; and two computer classrooms running Windows, Linux, and Unix designated for use by the math and computer science department. When classes are not in session, the Jepson Hall computer classrooms are open for student use. Jepson Hall is also the location of the Computer Help Desk, a resource that provides assistance with computing-related issues for the entire campus. A listing of the current hours of operation for all of these resources may be found on the Information Services website.

The Center for Technology Learning Center (CTLTC) is a unique resource located on the third floor of Boatwright Memorial Library. It is devoted to servicing the multimedia needs of students, faculty, and staff. This area offers PC and Mac workstations equipped with high-end Web development, multimedia, animation, 3-D modeling, and audio-video recording and editing software. Scanners, high quality printers, large-format plotters, digitizers, and digital video and still cameras also are available. In addition, the CTLTC contains a photography studio and a small recording studio. The CTLTC also supports media production in the Media Resource Center on the second floor of Boatwright Library. Most importantly, the CTLTC is staffed by professionals and well-trained student assistants are available to assist students, faculty and staff. Students not only have access to the hardware and software, but also to experts who can help them effectively use the specialized tools.

Technology training for students, faculty, and staff is available in a variety of formats, including books and CDs available in the CTLTC and searchable through the Library catalog; online video tutorials; technology training classes offered throughout the school year; and one-on-one training sessions available through appointments at the CTLTC. CTLTC hours of operation and current technology training classes may be found on the Information Services website.

Emergency Information

To report an emergency, call 911 or 289-8911 (cell phone). The non-emergency number is 289-8715

Getting Information

During an emergency, UR will distribute information to the campus community via:

- Audio–Tornado siren and PA system
- Web–This website, alert.richmond.edu
- Email–Blast email to '@richmond.edu' accounts
- Text/voice messages–UR Alert text messages and/or voice messages to faculty, staff, and students who register a cell or home phone through BannerWeb
- Campus phones–Telephone messages to campus telephones
- TV–UR TV channel 16 broadcasts
- People–Resident assistants and area coordinators
- Hotline–UR Emergency Hotline: (804) 289-8760 or toll free at (866) 386-0403

Emergency Terms

Shelter in Place: Choose an interior room or one with as few doors and windows as possible. Remain there until the danger has passed. Examples: Tornado or other severe weather, nuclear alert, or hazardous materials spill.

Seek Secure Shelter: Get into a lockable space, like an office or classroom, and remain there. Lock and barricade doors, turn off lights, and turn cell phones to silent or vibrate mode. Get under a desk or other surface to hide. Wait for further instruction from law enforcement. If the threat is in your building and you can safely flee, then do so. Examples: Active shooter or dangerous person immediately threatening the campus.

Evacuate: Immediately leave the building that you are in, exiting through the nearest and safest exit. If the fire alarm has not been activated, do so. Examples: Fire, smoke.

Avoid Area, Warn Others: In these types of incidents, the emergency is localized on campus. University officials do not want anyone near the area and want you to alert others of the emergency. Examples: Hazardous materials spill, flooded roads, aircraft accident, bomb threat, civil disturbance, fire, gas leak, or power lines down.

What to Do

Tornado

- Listen for the tornado siren. A single siren blast will sound continuously until the danger has passed.
- Seek shelter inside a building until notified by University officials that it is safe to leave.
- Stay away from electrical lines and devices.
- There is no “all-clear.” The danger has passed when the siren silences.

Fire

- Activate the nearest fire alarm and call 289-8911 if possible to report the location and cause of the fire.
- Everyone must leave immediately when a fire alarm is activated, even if there are no obvious signs of an emergency.
- Do not use the elevator.
- Remain calm and assist others in safely getting out.
- Confine the fire by closing all doors and windows if possible. Follow directions given by emergency personnel and go to the location designated by your building coordinator to await further instructions.

Earthquake

- Stay inside the building until the shaking stops. Don't run downstairs or rush outside while the building is shaking.
- Stay away from glass, windows, outside doors and walls, and anything that could fall.
- A sturdy table or desk can provide cover.
- Once the building stops shaking, exit the building calmly and check for others in need.
- Do not use elevators.
- If outdoors, stay in the open until the shaking stops, avoid any falling debris fields such as buildings, power lines, etc.

Active Shooter/Dangerous Person

- Remain calm, do not engage the intruder.
- A quick and quiet escape is suggested, if it can be done safely.
- If attempting to escape, keep your hands elevated with open palms visible, especially if encountering law enforcement officers. Follow all instructions officers may give you.
- If you cannot safely exit the building, seek secure shelter.
- Close and lock windows, lower blinds, remain out of sight, and turn off lights.
- Once secured inside, take cover behind concrete walls, thick desks, and filing cabinets that are away from windows and doors.
- Remain quiet, and turn off cell phone ringers.
- Only one person from the room should call police at 289-8911 and tell them where you are, where the dangerous person is, and the condition of others with you. Follow their instructions. If you cannot speak, leave the line open so the dispatcher can hear what is going on.
- Assist others if they are injured.
- Do not respond to any unfamiliar voice commands until you can be sure they are coming from a police officer.

Grievances and Complaints

Students who wish to file a complaint or grievance pertaining to University policies, procedures, or conditions may address their complaint in written form to the appropriate department head or official who oversees the area of concern. If in doubt as to whom to direct the complaint, the following officials may be contacted:

Student Life Concerns

Housing

Carolyn Bigler, Office of Undergraduate Student Housing

Financial policies

David Hale, Vice President for Business and Finance

All other concerns
Steve Bisese, Vice President for Student Development

Academic Concerns

School of Arts and Sciences
Joe Boehman, Dean of Richmond College
Mia Reinoso Genoni, Interim Dean of Westhampton College

Robins School of Business
Jim Monks, Associate Dean for Undergraduate Business Programs
Richard Coughlan, Senior Associate Dean and Director of the Reynolds Graduate School of Business

Jepson School of Leadership Studies
Sandra Peart, Dean

School of Law
Alex Sklut, Associate Dean for Student Services and Administration

School of Professional and Continuing Studies
Ellen Walk, Associate Dean for Administration

Inclement Weather Policy

In case of inclement weather, the law school generally follows the lead of the University. University closings will be announced on the University Emergency Hotline, (804) 289-8760, and on following stations:

TV Stations

- WCVE/WCVW – (PBS)
- WRIC – (ABC)
- WTVR – (CBS)
- WWBT – (NBC)

Radio Stations

- WCVE – FM 88.9
- WRVA – AM 1140
- WRVQ – FM 94.5

If the University is NOT closed in the inclement weather, individual professors may still decide to cancel certain classes if weather conditions make it unsafe or unrealistic for a faculty member to make it to school. In that event, the faculty member will take steps to notify students about the class cancellation.

Students should always exercise their best personal judgment with regard to road conditions and other safety concerns.

Student Complaints (ABA Standard 512)

Student Complaints

The faculty and administration of the School of Law are continually searching for ways to improve the delivery of legal education. As such, the faculty and administration are receptive to student suggestions and concerns. In an effort to provide a vehicle for this valuable information, the following procedure has been instituted.

Any student at the School of Law who wishes to bring a complaint to the Administration of the School of Law about a significant program that directly implicates the School's program of legal education and its compliance with the ABA Standards (https://www.americanbar.org/groups/legal_education/resources/standards.html) should take the following steps:

1. The student complaint should be submitted in writing to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

2. The writing should describe in detail the behavior, program, or process complained of, and demonstrate how it implicates the School's program of legal education and the School's compliance with a particular identified ABA Standard.
3. The writing must provide both the name of the student submitting the complaint, the student's University of Richmond email address and a street address for further communication about the complaint.

Procedures for Addressing Complaints

- The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs should acknowledge the complaint within three business days of receipt of the written complaint. Acknowledgment may be made by email, U.S. Mail, or by personal delivery.
- Within two weeks of acknowledgment of the complaint, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs or his designee shall either meet with the complaining student or respond to the substance of the complaint in writing. The student should either receive a substantive response to the complaint or information about what steps are being taken by the School to address the complaint or further investigate the complaint.
- Appeals may be taken to the Dean of the Law School. Any decision made on appeal by the Dean shall be final.
- A copy of the complaint and a summary of the process and resolution of the complaint shall be kept in the Office of the Dean of the School of Law for a period of eight years.

Student Conduct Policies

Alcohol and Drug Policy

The legal age for the consumption and possession of alcohol is 21 in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Each member of the University community is encouraged to make risk-aware choices regarding the consumption of alcohol or the use of other psychoactive drugs. Members of the campus community who choose to use such drugs are expected to consider the risks of harm to self, others, and the community-at-large. To mitigate the harmful behavior associated with such drugs, the University has established policies to eliminate the use of illicit drugs and to limit the consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus. It is our individual responsibility to understand and abide by the regulations as defined by the University, the Commonwealth of Virginia, and the federal government governing the use and distribution of alcohol and other drugs. These regulations apply to all members of the University community and its guests and visitors. Persons who infringe upon the rights of others, break the law, conduct themselves in a disorderly manner, or damage University property are accountable for their actions. Such persons are subject to University disciplinary sanctions (up to and including removal from this community) and/or criminal action. Such harmful behavior is absolutely at variance with the mission of the University. Because the University of Richmond strives to achieve a healthy living and learning environment, the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on the University's property, or as a part of its activities, is prohibited.

More information about the University's alcohol and drug policy can be found online at wellness.richmond.edu/common/pdfs/factsheets/alcohol-drug-policy.pdf.

Harassment & Discrimination

The University of Richmond prohibits any form of harassment or discrimination against applicants, students, faculty, or staff on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any classification protected by local, state, or federal law. . The University prohibits such discrimination or harassment by all students, faculty and staff, and Affiliates of the University. For more information, please see the Policy on Preventing and Responding to Discrimination and Harassment Against Students https://policy.richmond.edu/documents/policy-pdfs/Public/Governance/policy_prohibiting_discrimination_and_harrassment_for_faculty_and_staff.pdf

Hazing

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that students at the University of Richmond are not subjected to any type of hazing when joining a fraternity, sorority, athletic team or any other University of Richmond sponsored student organization. For more information, please see the Hazing Policy https://policy.richmond.edu/documents/policy-pdfs/Public/Student-Development/hazing_policy.pdf

Response to Troubled Students

If immediate assistance is needed because of a threat to someone's safety, call the police:

On-campus situations: Call UR Police emergency (804-289-8911); or 911 from any campus phone

Off-campus situations: Call 911 to access local police responders

For all other types of mental health or safety concerns, please fill out an Incident Report Form, which will be routed to the appropriate office(s):

- Undergraduate women: Westhampton College Dean's Office (804) 289-8468
- Undergraduate men: Richmond College Dean's Office (804) 289-8061
- Law students: Kris Henderson (804) 289-8186
- MBA students: Richard Coughlan (804) 289-8553
- School of Professional and Continuing Studies students: John Zinn (804) 287-6378
- Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS): (804) 289-8119.
- AFTER-HOURS: Contact University of Richmond Police: (804) 289-8715 (non-emergency), (804) 289-8911 (emergency).

Be alert to signs of difficulty:

- Deterioration in classroom performance or quality/quantity of work
- Missed assignments
- Repeated absences from class
- Disorganized or erratic performance
- Frequently falls asleep in class
- Comes to class bleary-eyed, hungover, or smelling of alcohol
- Continually seeks special provisions (late papers, extensions, postponed examinations); NOT including accommodations granted by a UR Disability Accommodation Notice
- Essays or creative work which indicate extremes of hopelessness, social isolation, rage, or despair
- Inappropriate or atypical behavior in class (e.g., hostile glances; highly argumentative; leaving class abruptly)

General behavioral indicators:

- Direct statements indicating distress, family problems or other difficulties
- Unprovoked or excessive anger or hostility
- Exaggerated personality traits (e.g., more withdrawn or more animated than usual)
- Excessive dependency
- Tearfulness
- Dramatic mood swings
- Flat affect (i.e., no display of emotion at all)
- Deterioration in physical appearance, or lack of personal hygiene
- Impaired speech; disjointed thoughts
- Social withdrawal
- Loss of interest in previously enjoyed activities
- Excessive fatigue
- Significant changes in weight
- Marked worries, fears, anxiety
- Marked restlessness, tension, or agitation

Safety risk indicators:

- Becomes easily frustrated and converts frustration into physical violence
- Access to or preoccupation with weapons
- Possesses or creates media depicting graphic images of death or violence
- Statements indicating harmful intentions toward others
- Detailed plans for committing acts of violence

Take these signs seriously

Don't disregard what you've observed. At the very least, convey your observations and concerns to the appropriate dean's office. The dean's office usually has the most holistic picture of each student, and is best able to gather information from a variety of sources. The dean's office can call a student in, express concern and make referrals to appropriate sources of help.

Sex Offender

In accordance with the Jacob Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act, the Virginia State Police will advise the University of Richmond Police Department if a registered sex offender is employed, carries a vocation, or is a student at the University of Richmond. This information is also available at the Virginia State Police Sex Offender registry.

Sexual Misconduct

As an educational institution, the University of Richmond values a learning community in which all members feel secure, physically and intellectually. Behavior that harms others or threatens campus security challenges the institution's key mission to "sustain a collaborative learning and research community that supports the personal development of its members and the creation of new knowledge." Sexual misconduct is such behavior and is prohibited at the University of Richmond. Sexual misconduct is a broad range of behavior that includes but is not limited to non-consensual sexual intercourse, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, and stalking. Additionally, the University prohibits retaliation against anyone who reports or witnesses an incident of possible sexual misconduct.

Please see the complete policy at policy.richmond.edu/documents/policy-pdfs/Public/Governance/policy_prohibiting_sexual_misconduct.pdf. Standards of Student Conduct

Campus Resources

Disability Accommodations

The University seeks to comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws regarding the rights of individuals with disabilities. To facilitate such compliance, the vice president for student development serves as the University's disability coordinator. The University does not discriminate on the basis of disability in admission. Therefore, applicants are not required to provide information about their physical condition or disability status prior to admission. Individuals with disabilities are invited to contact the disability coordinator regarding any accommodations they may require in visiting the campus or upon matriculation. The University provides reasonable adjustments or accommodations in its academic programs as necessary for equal opportunity and participation for qualified students with disabilities.

Student Health Center

The Student Health Center offers a comprehensive program in health education and health maintenance, as well as treatment for illness and injury. The Health Center staff includes board-certified family practice physicians and registered nurses. Services include acute care for illness and injury, general medical care, women's health, men's health, allergy shots, and immunizations. The telephone number is (804) 289-8064 and FAX is (804) 287-6466. Students and parents are encouraged to visit the Health Center's website for general information and timely messages: healthcenter.richmond.edu and the Health Center can be reached by email at healthcenter@richmond.edu.

Rather than walking in without an appointment, students are encouraged to call and speak with a registered nurse about their concerns through the Dial-A-Nurse system (call 804-289-8700 for the Dial-A-Nurse). After evaluating the history and symptoms of the illness, the nurse will advise the most appropriate treatment. If indicated after the Dial-A-Nurse evaluation, an appointment will be made. Appointments may be made for annual gynecological examinations, doctor-requested follow-up visits, allergy shots, immunizations, and PPD tests by calling (804) 289-8064.

All full time students are eligible for the services provided by the Student Health Center. (School of Professional and Continuing Studies students are not eligible.) The cost of prescription drugs, some laboratory tests, hospital emergency room treatment, hospitalization, x-rays, and referral off campus for consultation with medical specialists are not covered by any student fees. These costs will be billed separately by the provider.

The Student Health Center does not accept insurance assignments. This means we will not bill a patient's insurance company. Any charges incurred at the time of visit will be billed through student accounts or may be paid by check, cash, or Spider Card. The patient will be provided with a medical encounter form itemizing all charges and containing all necessary information to submit for insurance reimbursement.

Information regarding hours of operation, descriptions of services, details of allergy shot procedure, billing and insurance questions, medical information, community facilities, medical referrals, and helpful links can be found on the Health Center's website.

Virginia law mandates that each student submit an immunization record and tuberculosis screening status prior to enrollment. In compliance with this requirement, the immunization record is included in the health history form provided to entering students and is to be returned to the Student Health Center.

All communications between student and Health Center staff are strictly confidential. Information will not be released from the Student Health Center without the patient's prior approval except in an emergency or by court order.

University Police

The University of Richmond Police Department, a nationally accredited police department, is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for our students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The University of Richmond Police Department provides 24-hour uniformed response to calls for service, provides routine and directed patrol activities, performs vehicular crash investigation, and investigates criminal offenses. Additionally, all police officers are Red Cross

First Responder/CPR-certified. Uniformed security officers also assist with building security and other calls for service as needed. All crimes that occur on campus should be reported to the University Police in person or by calling 911, (804) 289-8911 or (804) 289-8715. More information about the police department, including crime statistics, can be found online at police.richmond.edu.

Jeanne Clery Disclosure Act

University of Richmond is committed to assisting all members of the university community in providing for their own safety and security. The annual security and fire safety compliance document is available on the University of Richmond website at police.richmond.edu/reports/index.html

If you would like to receive a copy of the security and fire safety report which contains this information, you can stop by the University Police Department at Special Programs Building, #31 UR Drive, University of Richmond, VA 23173 or you can request a copy be mailed to you by calling (804) 289-8722.

The website and document contain information regarding campus security and personal safety including topics such as: crime prevention, University police law enforcement authority, crime reporting policies, disciplinary procedures and other matters of importance related to security on campus. They also contain information about crime statistics for the three previous calendar years concerning reported crime that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by University of Richmond, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

This information is required by law and is provided by the University of Richmond Police Department.

Dining Services

University of Richmond Dining Services is a multi-operation department consisting of dining locations, snack shops, and retail stores. The E. Bruce Heilman Dining Center is a state-of-the-art facility overlooking Westhampton Lake that serves approximately 3,000 students and guests daily. A retail market is located off the main lobby and the upper level of the facility houses the Department of Food and Auxiliary Services and the campus post office.

The centrally located Tyler Haynes Commons (THC) houses Tyler's Grill, an eat-in or carry-out operation with a dining area that faces Westhampton Lake and gazebo. The campus smoothie bar, Freshens, and the Cellar, a late-night gathering space, are also located in THC. For late-night studying at Boatwright Library, gourmet coffee, hot drinks, and snacks are available at Eight Fifteen at Boatwright. Sodas, snacks, and grocery items also are available at the Dean's Den, located in the Whitehurst building near the Richmond Dean's office.

Meal Plans

Off campus and commuting students have meal plan options including the Spider Flex and the Spider Blue. Both plans offer on-campus convenience, meal discounts, and flexibility. Meal plan information is available on the Dining Services website at dining.richmond.edu.

Hours of Operation and Other Services

Students can find something to eat somewhere on campus whenever classes are in session, from 7:15 a.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday, Fridays from 7:15 a.m. until 1:00 a.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10:30 a.m. until 1:00 a.m. Dining services maintains an up-to-date schedule of menus and operational hours for all campus locations on its Web page. Meal plans follow the undergraduate academic calendar, and service and hours may be limited during academic breaks and holidays.

Catering and a wide variety of additional services, including nutrition counseling and meals-to-go, are also available through University Dining Services. Additional information is available upon request or can be viewed at dining.richmond.edu.

Special Dietary Needs

With a registered dietician as a member of the University dining services team, every effort is made to support special dietary needs that are medically based. Medical documentation is required, and students with dietary restrictions or special needs are asked to make an appointment to see our nutrition professional. Students will be required to sign an informational release so that their situation can be discussed with their physician or medical professional as needed. In addition, dining services may require that students consult the University's physicians regarding their dietary requests.

The University does not have designated facilities to accommodate religion-based dietary needs on a daily basis. However, we do work closely with the campus ministry to provide kosher meals for Passover selections and carry-out meals during Ramadan. Please contact the associate director of dining services if you have questions regarding available services.

Confidentiality/Privacy Rights/Right to Know

University of Richmond procedures and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) prohibit the unauthorized release of confidential information about individual students. However, directory information is not considered to be confidential and may be published or otherwise released. Directory information includes: name; addresses, including permanent, campus, local (off-campus), email, and campus computer network (IP) address; associated telephone numbers; date and place of birth; school or college; major and/or minor fields of study; degree sought; expected date of completion of degree requirements and graduation; degrees conferred; awards and honors (e.g., dean's list); full- or part-time enrollment status; dates of attendance; previous institutions attended; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of an athletic team; and photograph. A full list of information considered directory information is available on the Office of the University Registrar's web page at registrar.richmond.edu/ferpa/index.html or by contacting the Office of the University Registrar. Students may opt to have their directory information withheld. To exercise this option, the appropriate form must be obtained from the Office of the University Registrar, completed, and returned to that office. Once filed, this form remains in effect until withdrawn by the student in writing to the Office of the University Registrar. For further information, contact the Office of the University Registrar.

Rights with Respect to Education Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. Access to Education Records: students have the right to inspect and review their education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a written request for access. Students should submit their request to the Office of the University Registrar and specify the record(s) they wish to inspect. Arrangements will be made for access and the student notified of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
2. Request for Amendment of Education Records: students have the right to request amendment of their education records if they believe the records are inaccurate. They should write the University Registrar, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. Disclosure of Education Records: students have the right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which your education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records—including your Social Security Number, grades, or other private information—may be accessed without your consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities ("Federal and State Authorities") may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is "principally engaged in the provision of education," such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution. Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when we object to or do not request such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the Authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

Upon request, the University discloses records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. Right to File a Complaint: Students have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University of Richmond to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

The University's complete policy statement can be found on the University Registrar's website at registrar.richmond.edu/ferpa/statement/index.html.

Note: Because of the access afforded by a University ID, this number is not considered directory information and will not be released without a student's consent except in situations as listed above. Students should treat the University ID as confidential; it should be protected and not carelessly shared with others. It will be used for a student's entire time at the University of Richmond, so it should always be treated in a confidential manner.

Right To Know

In accordance with the Student Right To Know and Campus Security Act, the University of Richmond makes graduation rates available to all current and incoming students. These figures can be found at ifx.richmond.edu/research/fact-book.html.

Academic Regulations

Academic Progress for J.D. Students

At the end of the second semester (one year) of law study:

- A student who fails to attain a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 shall be required to withdraw from the law school. If the cumulative grade point average is at least 1.85 but less than 2.00 the student may be allowed to return after an absence of one year.
- At the end of the fourth and each subsequent semester of law study, a student who fails to attain a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.10 shall be required to withdraw from the law school.
- A cumulative grade point average of at least 2.20 is required for graduation.

Conditions

Any student who has failed to attain the requisite cumulative grade point average will be required to withdraw immediately from the law school, even though he or she has enrolled in the next semester's courses (including summer session courses). A student who fails to attain the cumulative grade point average necessary to continue studies in the Law School may petition the Law School Admissions Committee to review the case. The petition must be filed in writing and addressed to the Dean of Admissions not less than sixty days before the beginning of the semester or term in which the student seeks to be readmitted to the Law School.

The point at which a part-time student must attain the requisite grade point average shall be the time at which he or she has completed the substantial equivalent of the second semester of study and the substantial equivalent of the fourth and succeeding semesters of study. Such students will be notified in advance by the associate dean of the times at which the stated cumulative grade point averages must be met.

A student who has been required to withdraw under the 2.00 criterion stated above will not be readmitted to the law school with advanced standing. In the rare event of readmission, it is as an entering first year student with no credit for prior work. Nevertheless, the prior work will continue to be shown on the permanent academic record, but the grade point average will include only the course-work attempted after readmission.

Note: A failed first-year course must be retaken in the semester in which the course is next offered.

Academic Requirements for J.D. Students

The Juris Doctor degree requires the successful completion of at least 87 academic credits, including all required courses, and a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.20. (Students who matriculated before 2013, are required to complete 86 academic credits.) In addition, students must complete at least six full-time semesters in which they are enrolled in a minimum of at least 10 academic credits and pass at least nine of those. Students are prohibited from enrolling in more than 17 credits in any semester. All academic requirements for the Juris Doctor degree must be completed within five calendar years. For more detailed Academic Requirements related to specific required courses, please click here.

Academic Progress for LL.M. Students

At the end of each semester of law study, a student who fails to attain a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 shall be required to withdraw from the law school. If the cumulative grade point average is at least 1.85 but less than 2.00 the student may be allowed to return after an absence of one year. For more detailed Academic Requirements related to specific required courses, please click here.

Academic Requirements for LL.M. Students

The LL.M. degree requires the completion of at least 24 academic credits, including all required courses and a cumulative grade point average of 2.00. In addition, students must complete at least two full-time semesters in which they are enrolled in a minimum of at least 10 academic credits and pass at least nine of those. Students are prohibited from enrolling in more than 17 credits in any one semester.

Auditing Courses

With the approval of the student's academic advisor, dean, and the instructor of the course, a student may register for a course on an audit basis. The regular rate of tuition is charged, and the audit course is counted as a part of the student's semester load. A permission form must be obtained from and returned with appropriate signatures to the Office of the University Registrar by the end of the 10th day of classes. Once the form is submitted to the University Registrar, the decision may not be reversed. An audited course cannot subsequently be taken for credit unless approved by the appropriate dean.

Changes in Catalog Information

Caution: The course offerings and requirements of the University of Richmond are under continual examination and revision. This catalog is not a contract; it merely presents the offerings and requirements in effect at the time of publication and in no way guarantees that the offerings and requirements will not change. The University specifically reserves the right to change requirements for any major, minor, and/or program, and to implement them during any particular year.

The student assumes full responsibility for compliance with all academic requirements. Current course offerings may be obtained from the appropriate school or department.

Class Attendance

General Policy on Class Attendance, Punctuality, and Preparation

The classroom experience is an indispensable part of a student's legal education, and every student is accordingly required to come to every class fully prepared and on time. The professor shall be responsible for monitoring compliance with this policy, for determining whether a student's failure to comply is excused, and for determining the consequences of an unexcused failure to comply, and shall advise the class of his or her approach to these matters at the beginning of the semester. Students who need an excused absence due to a religious observance should notify the professor in the first two weeks of the semester, consistent with the University's Religious Observance Policy.

Minimum Attendance Requirement

Any student who fails to attend at least 75 percent of a course's required sessions or their equivalent (as determined by the professor, in consultation with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and in conformance with the University's Religious Observance Policy) will not pass the course. This requirement applies regardless of whether the absences are excused and regardless of any individual professor's attendance policy (although an individual professor may impose a more demanding requirement for his or her course). In appropriate circumstances, students unable to satisfy this requirement may be granted a leave of absence and full reinstatement upon their return. Students should keep track of their own attendance, and a student who is having difficulty meeting this requirement, or who anticipates such difficulty, should meet immediately with the Associate Dean for Student Services and Administration or the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs to discuss the possibility of a course withdrawal or a leave of absence from the law school.

Employment While Attending the Law School

Students may reduce their loan requirements by working on-campus. While there are numerous job opportunities available, those with the highest wage rates are in the Law Library and as Law Research Assistants. If you are interested in the Federal Work-Study program, contact the Financial Aid Office. Students are STRONGLY discouraged from working their first year. The Financial Aid Office will not award work study funding to a first year student without special circumstances.

Encumbrances

The degree will not be conferred unless the student's obligations to the University are satisfactorily resolved. These obligations include financial and administrative matters such as, but not limited to, delinquent payments, parking fines, or overdue library books

Evaluation

Instructors establish grading criteria for their courses and prepare and submit the final course reports (using the grades defined under Grading Policies) to the University Registrar for recording. In the event of a question about the accuracy of the recorded grade, a student should direct inquiries to the instructor.

It is recognized that each class and each student in a class has unique characteristics that the instructor alone is in the best position to evaluate; consequently, except in unusual circumstances, formal appeals to others concerning the evaluation on which a grade is based are not appropriate.

If that informal inquiry is impossible, or if its results are disputed, the student may next bring the matter to the attention of the department chair and the instructor, jointly, or for courses in Jepson School of Leadership Studies or the Law School, to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Examinations

Unless announced otherwise by the instructor, the length of an examination will be one hour for each semester hour of credit carried by the course. A student who finds that he or she will be unavoidably prevented from taking an examination at the time scheduled may receive permission to take the examination at a later date, if such fact is communicated to the dean or associate deans (academic affairs or student affairs) before the time at which the examination is scheduled. Unless excused by the dean or one of the associate deans, a student who fails to take an examination in a course for which he or she has registered will receive a grade of F in that course.

Examination Procedures

A. Honor Code

Students are bound by the Law School's Honor Code by virtue of their matriculation at the Law School. The Honor Code applies to the taking of all examinations. Students observing conduct that might involve a violation of the Honor Code must report the incident to the Honor Court Grievance Committee.

B. Anonymous Grading Number

All students are assigned an anonymous grading number. Grading numbers are updated annually and emailed to each student's @richmond.edu email address in the fall. It is the student's responsibility to know their current grading number and to use it on examinations as requested.

Students with questions regarding their grading number should contact the dean's suite.

C. Exam4 Software

Most examinations require the use of Exam4. Students are required to download and use Exam4 as instructed by university administration and course professors. It is the student's responsibility to ensure their computer complies with Exam4 system requirements. Students are expected to attend, either in-person or remotely, an Exam4 training session before taking their first graded examination. It is the responsibility of the student to know how to use the Exam4 software; failure to understand how to properly use Exam4 is not a situation for which relief will be granted.

Students with questions regarding Exam4 should contact computer services.

D. Final Examinations

1) General

The procedures set forth below should not be varied by individual faculty members. Relief from them in extraordinary cases should be sought from the Associate Dean or the Dean.

No student may deviate from these procedures or the examination schedules without approval in advance from the Associate Dean or the Dean, unless illness or some other emergency makes it impossible to obtain advance approval. In the event of illness or other emergency which makes the taking of a final examination impossible, the Associate Dean or Dean must be notified as soon as possible. The emergency must be a situation or circumstance beyond the student's control.

Failure to take a final examination on the assigned date during the assigned time will result in a grade of "F" for the course, unless relief has been granted by the Associate Dean or Dean, as provided in this section.

Make-up final examinations will be administered only in exceptional circumstances. In order for a make-up examination to be authorized, the student requesting it must demonstrate good cause to the Associate Dean or Dean. Course professors may administer scheduled examinations, flexible examinations, or take-home examinations. All first-year course final examinations are scheduled.

2) Scheduled Final Examinations

The following procedures govern the taking of scheduled final examinations. Scheduled final examinations are proctored on a designated date, at a designated time, and distributed from a specific location. The Examination Schedule indicates those examinations administered on a scheduled basis. All first-year course examinations are scheduled examinations.

a) Scheduled Examination Schedule

Examination dates, starting times, and rooms will be specified on the examination schedule provided by the Dean's Office (the "Examination Schedule").

b) Place of Scheduled Examinations

Unless otherwise specified by the professor, scheduled examinations may be taken at the student's library carrel or in a classroom specified for taking the scheduled examination. Students must take scheduled examinations inside of the law school building. Scheduled examinations may not be taken in library study rooms or organizational offices.

c) Collection of Completed Scheduled Examinations

When the time allowed for completion of a scheduled examination has expired, students must immediately stop writing or typing, upload their exam answer, and turn in the paper examination as directed by the exam proctor.

3) Flexible Examinations

All examinations not indicated as scheduled examinations on the Examination Schedule posted by the Dean's office are administered as flexible examinations, unless the professor has indicated that the examination will be a take-home examination.

a) Procedure for Distribution and Collection of Flexible Examinations

Flexible examinations must be taken on one of the ten flexible examination days listed on the Examination Schedule. Flexible examinations will be distributed in the Dean's Conference Room (201) on flexible examination days by the flexible examination room proctors during the following times:

- between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. for examinations to be taken during a morning flexible examination period;
- and between 1:00 and 1:30 p.m. for examinations to be taken during an afternoon flexible examination period, excepting any weekend examination days.
- Flexible examinations may only be picked up between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. on weekend flexible examination days.

The time period for picking up flexible examinations will not be extended, however; if there is a line of students to pick up examinations at the end of the stated time period, the time period will be extended to allow all students in line to pick up an examination.

There will be an automatic time/date stamping clock in the Dean's Conference Room (201). Students must stamp the examination taken with the time and date upon leaving the room, and with the time and date of return when they return the examination to the flexible exam room proctors in 201. Students are responsible for ascertaining the completion time allowed for each examination they are taking. Students are responsible for insuring that both time stamps (pick-up and return) are clearly visible. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in a grade penalty.

b) Place of Flexible Examinations

Unless otherwise specified by the professor, flexible examinations may be taken at the student's library carrel or in a classroom specified for taking flexible examinations. Students must take flexible examinations inside of the law school building. Flexible examinations may not be taken in library study rooms or organizational offices.

c) Late Examinations and Five Minute Grace Period

All students are afforded a five minute grace period in which to return their exam. The five-minute grace period is intended to give students time to go to and from the Dean's Conference Room.

Flexible examinations returned to one of the flexible examination room proctors in the Dean's Conference Room that are stamped with a distribution and collection time within the completion time allowed for the examination, plus a single five-minute grace period, are not late (e.g., a three hour exam with a pick-up time stamp of 9:05 a.m. would be considered late after 12:10 p.m.).

A flexible examination is late if it is not returned to the flexible examination room proctors within the completion time plus the five-minute grace period. Whether or not an examination is late will be determined solely by reference to the times stamped on the examination by the time/date clock. It is the student's responsibility to be sure both time stamps are legible.

If an examination is less than five minutes late beyond the allowed completion time and five-minute grace period, the grade assigned by the professor for the examination will be reduced by one gradation (e.g., an A will be reduced to an A-; and an A- to a B+; etc.). If an examination is five minutes, but less than ten minutes late, the grade assigned by the professor will be reduced by two gradations. If the examination is ten minutes but less than fifteen minutes late, the grade assigned by the professor will be reduced three gradations. If the examination is fifteen minutes or more late the grade will automatically be reduced to an F.

d) Discussion of Examination

Students may not discuss a flexibly administered examination during the two-week period, even with other persons who have completed that particular examination. Any discussion of examinations is a potential violation of the Honor Code and should be reported to the Honor Court grievance committee.

e) Relief Due to Illness or Other Emergency

Relief will not be granted on account of sickness or emergency unless the student will actually have been deprived of a sufficient number of examination blocks to take all of his or her examinations on an every-other-day basis.

4) Take Home Examinations

Take home examinations must be specifically designated as such by the course professor. If a professor does not specify that the course examination is a take-home examination, and the examination is not scheduled, the examination is a flexible examination. No take home examinations utilize the Exam4 software. If Exam4 is utilized, the examination is either scheduled or flexible.

a) Procedure for Distribution and Collection of Take-Home Examinations

Take-home examinations may be picked up or returned on any flexible examination day between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., with the exception of a weekend examination day when examinations may only be picked up or returned between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. It is the student's responsibility to ascertain the amount of time they have to take a take-home examination and to ensure they are able to return their take-home exam during the appropriate hours on a flexible examination day.

For example, a student should not pick up a 48 hour take-home exam on a Friday, because the following Sunday when the exam is due is not a flexible examination day and hence the exam cannot be returned at that time. Failure to turn in a take-home examination within the examination's designated time frame will result in a grade penalty.

b) Place of Take-Home Examinations

Unless otherwise specified by the professor, take-home examinations may be taken anywhere other than in rooms designated to be used for scheduled or flexible examinations.

Students should complete take-home examinations inside the law school building to ensure access to computer services and the dean's office in case of a technological or other issue.

c) Late Examinations, Discussion of Examination, and Relief Due to Illness or Injury

The same procedures and penalties applied to flexible examinations are applied to take-home examinations. See 3) Flexible Examinations, c) Late Examinations, d) Discussion of Examination, and e) Relief Due to Illness or Other Injury.

E. Midterm Examinations

Examination procedures for midterm examinations are set by the course professor. In the absence of instruction from the course professor, procedures default to those stated in this document as they relate to final examinations.

F. Computer Breakdown

If a breakdown or other crisis arises in the operation of a computer during the course of an examination, a student is to notify the Dean's Office immediately. In that way, the time and nature of the problem can be noted and appropriate relief may be made for the problem at that time.

G. Student Seeking Accommodation for a Disability

Students with a disability or a possible disability should contact the Associate Dean of Students as soon as possible.

Rev. 10/26/2018

Grading System and Reports

The following grades with grade point values are in effect at the University:

A+	--	B+	3.3	C+	2.3	D+	1.3
A	4.0	B	3.0	C	2.0	D	1.0
A-	3.7	B-	2.7	C-	1.7	D-	--
F	0.0	I	0.0	M	0.0	V	0.0

Other grades which may be given are P, which shows credit has been earned in a pass/fail course; S and U indicate satisfactory or unsatisfactory performance in a pass/no-credit course; and W, which indicates that the student withdrew from a course without academic penalty. Marks indicating failure, and counted as such in the grade point average, are F, M (withdrew from a course with a failing average), and V (failure because of excessive absences). The X indicates that the grade has not been received from the instructor.

Z shows that the course was audited. A student auditing a course is expected to meet all requirements for the course, except the final examination or papers. No grade or hour credit is earned for audited courses.

I and Y grades mean that coursework has not been completed by the end of the term. The I grade provisionally counts as a failing grade. It is given when the reasons for the incomplete involve student culpability, but the instructor and associate dean determine that an F is not warranted. The work is to be made up by the student's graduation date or at such earlier time as specified by the instructor and associate dean. If the work is not made up during this grace period, the I will be converted to an F. The Y grade, which does not count as a failing grade, is given when the instructor and associate dean determine that the reasons for the incomplete do not warrant an I grade. In the case of an I or Y, once the make-up grade is received, it appears to the right of the incomplete grade on the permanent record. In any case, it is the student's responsibility to complete the coursework for a course in which an I or Y has been assigned.

Performance in the Clinical Placement Program is evaluated on a pass/fail basis. Performance in the In-House Clinics (Disabilities Law Clinic and the Delinquency Clinic) is evaluated using the letter-grade scale above.

Grades for courses taken under the various cooperative programs are recorded by the law school as a pass if, based on the above grading scale, a grade of C (2.0) or better is earned; otherwise they will be recorded as a failure. The grade point average is determined by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of academic hours attempted in law school courses that have grades to which grade point values are assigned. Each of these totals is accumulated term by term. The grade point average is represented to two significant decimal figures and truncated, not rounded.

If a failed course is repeated, the grade earned in the repeat and the failure are both included in the grade point average. When the final grade for a course in which an I was given is recorded, the occurrence will be shown on the permanent record, and the grade point average will be recomputed to remove the effect of the I and to include the final grade. For purposes of computing grade point averages, the credit hours earned for work recorded on a pass/fail basis are not included in the hours attempted, if a pass is received. The credit hours for any such work recorded as a failure are included in the hours attempted. Consequently the credit hours for work recorded as a pass have no effect on the grade point average, but a failure in such work would adversely affect the grade point average.

Note: A cumulative grade point average of at least 2.20 is required for graduation. Students admitted with advanced standing must consult the associate dean to determine the manner by which their cumulative grade point averages will be calculated for class standing purposes. Students may review their status and progress with the associate dean or in the Office of the University Registrar. Grades are available after the close of each term via the Internet by using BannerWeb (<https://bannerweb.richmond.edu>). Students will need their student ID and PIN.

Grades are deemed correct unless notification to the contrary is received by the University Registrar within three (3) months after the close of the term specified.

Grading Policy

1. The mean (average) grade point for each course will be 3.30 +/- .10;
2. The following grade distribution shall apply:
 1. 25-35% A or A-
 2. 30-40% B+
 3. 15-25% B
 4. 10-20% B- and below
3. The above mean and distribution requirements will apply to all classes except:
 1. For classes with enrollments of 16 students or less, there is no required distribution, only a mean grade point of 3.30 +/- .10
 2. For clinics, there is no required distribution, and the mean grade point of 3.30 shall be within a range of +/- .30.
 3. For classes of one student (including Independent Research classes and graded Research Assistant credit) there is neither a mean grade point nor a grade distribution requirement.
4. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will have limited discretion to allow faculty to deviate from the above policy.

Graduation Policies

Graduation with Honors

At the end of law school study, students who attain in the range of the following cumulative grade point averages are eligible to graduate with the designated honors:

Cum Laude: 3.40-3.59

Magna Cum Laude: 3.60-3.79

Summa Cum Laude: 3.80-4.0

Filing of Application

To graduate, a student must file a degree application and comply with the graduation attendance policy. Degree applications must be filed in the Office of the University Registrar by the second Friday in September for anticipated completion in the coming May or August or by the second Friday in February for anticipated completion the following January.

Attendance at Graduation

Students are required to attend the commencement ceremony for the award of the degree in person except by decision of the University not to do so. A student who expects to have a degree awarded at the spring commencement may request absentia status from the graduation ceremony by explaining in writing the circumstance which prevents participation. Students who have a degree application on file and anticipate summer completion of degree requirements are also expected to participate in the spring graduation ceremony. Students who expect to complete degree requirements in January will participate in the spring commencement following their January completion. If a winter or summer degree candidate does not intend to participate in the ceremony a written statement requesting absentia must be submitted. The request for absentia must be received by the University Registrar no later than eight working days before the ceremony. The registrar will notify the degree candidate of the status granted by the University. Unless approved for absentia status a candidate for graduation who does not participate in the commencement ceremony does not graduate. Such candidate may graduate by again filing a degree application and by following the appropriate graduation attendance policy.

Honor Code

View the law school honor code.

Leave of Absence

Students who have completed at least one semester in the School of Law and who are in good standing academically and financially may request a leave of absence. Requests must be in writing and submitted to the Associate Dean for Student Services and Administration, and must state an adequate reason for the request. In determining whether to grant the request, the Dean's Office may require adequate documentation. Leaves are ordinarily granted for one academic semester and rarely granted for longer than two academic semesters.

The grant of a leave of absence does not extend the time limits for completion of the J.D. degree and students requesting leave must demonstrate that they will be able to complete their degree within the allowed period of study. The law school will not accept academic credit for work completed at another school during a leave of absence without the prior written approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Because a leave of absence can impact a student's financial aid for the term in which they take a Leave of Absence as well as eligibility for financial aid when they return, we strongly urge students to consult with the Financial Aid Office before requesting a leave of absence.

Students who have been awarded scholarships who wish to retain their scholarships upon their return must specifically request this in their written leave request. Such requests are ordinarily granted.

Any student who has been absent for longer than an approved leave of absence or who interrupts his or her course of study without an approved leave of absence will be involuntarily withdrawn and must reapply through the regular admissions process.

A student's Leave of Absence will not preclude the initiation or continuation of any School of Law Honor Code or University Standards of Conduct investigation or proceeding.

A law student who takes a leave of absence during a semester may be entitled to a refund of certain charges as outlined in the Refund Policy. A leave of absence may also affect a student's financial aid eligibility for the semester as outlined in the federal Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy and the Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy.

Letters of Good Standing

You may obtain a letter of good standing from the Law School's Dean's Office. Once you have spoken with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, a form requesting a letter of good standing will be provided to you.

Order of the Coif Honors

The purpose of the Order of the Coif is to encourage excellence in legal education by fostering a spirit of careful study, recognizing those who as law students attained a high grade of scholarship, and honoring those who as lawyers, judges and teachers attained high distinction for their scholarly or professional accomplishments.

Students are eligible for election to the Order of the Coif if (1) they have completed at least 75 percent of their law studies in graded courses at the University of Richmond School of Law and (2) their grade record ranks them in the top 10 percent of all graduating students.

Registration

Students shall register according to the instructions that are provided for each term. A student will not be permitted to attend class until his or her name has been entered on the official roster of that class by the University Registrar and arrangements satisfactory to the University have been made for that term's fees.

A student may register late, add courses, or opt for audit status in a course through the 10th class day of the semester provided that the specified approvals are obtained and fees, if any, are paid.

A student may withdraw from courses without academic record through the 10th class day of the semester. Withdrawals after this time will be shown on the academic record, and the student must present an adequate reason, receive the approval of the associate dean, and follow any specified administrative procedures including the payment of fees, if any.

Second- or third-year students may not register for more than 17 semester hours in any semester.

Registration Holds

The following holds will prevent students from registering (students can access BannerWeb to check holds): Admissions Office, Cashier, Dean's Office, Library, Long-Distance (Student Account Hold), Parking Services (Student Account Hold), Student Credit Service, Perkins Loan in Repayment, Registrar's Office, Student Health, and Student Accounts. For further information on these types of holds, contact the office from which the hold originated.

Religious Observance Policy

The University is a secular institution that values a diversity of religious expression. The University is also an active community with a wide range of personal commitments and academic and extracurricular activities.

Planning for academic and extracurricular activities should be done with sensitivity to the diverse religious commitments of the community and an awareness of religious holidays. Scheduling large-scale, one-time academic or extra-curricular events on a religious holiday should be avoided whenever possible.

Any student may be excused from class or other assignments because of religious observance. A student who will miss an academic obligation because of religious observance is responsible for contacting his or her professor within the first two weeks of the semester. The student is responsible for completing missed work in a timely manner.

Faculty are expected to be mindful of potential conflicts with religious observances and should make reasonable accommodations when students' religious practices conflict with their academic responsibilities.

The religious observance calendar is meant to serve as a scheduling guide. It lists significant holidays from the five largest global faith traditions. However, it is not comprehensive and students may choose to observe a holiday not included on the calendar.

The holidays listed are those which occur during the academic year when the University is open.

Repeated Courses

Coursework may not be repeated for credit toward graduation except as sanctioned by the University; however, particular coursework may meet more than one requirement for graduation. An example of a sanctioned repeat-for-credit is the subsequent registration for a course in which the content changes from term to term, such as special topics or independent studies. Also, certain courses in a major or program may have to be repeated if the grade earned the first time does not meet requirements; in such a case, the credit will be counted only once but both grades will be calculated in the cumulative grade point average.

Courses taken on an audit basis cannot be repeated for credit unless approved by the appropriate dean.

Except in clear situations, the Office of the University Registrar should be consulted before registration to learn if a proposed repeat is sanctioned for credit or if sanction is possible.

All courses taken at the University of Richmond become a part of the permanent academic record. The grade for a course repeated at the University of Richmond becomes a part of the grade point average if the grade otherwise would be included in the computation.

Transfer Work

Transfer students or students who academically visit another law school (with permission) may apply no more than 31 hours of coursework done at another law school toward satisfaction of the J.D. degree. (Transferring credits toward the LL.M. degree is not permitted.) In order for work to transfer, courses must be taken at an institution accredited as degree-granting by a recognized regional accrediting body for higher education and accredited by the American Bar Association at the time the coursework is completed. The coursework must be taken for a grade and, in order for the work to be transferred, a student must receive a C (2.0) or better in each course.

Credits earned while a student is enrolled in the LL.M. program may not be transferred to the J.D. degree program and do not count towards a J.D. degree. Students who are enrolled in the LL.M. degree program may apply for admission to the J.D. program and the requirements for admission to the J.D. program are the same for LL.M. students as they are for any applicant. Applications from current LL.M. degree students will ordinarily be considered in the spring semester after fall grades have been released.

Transfer students will not be ranked within their respective classes. Instead, transfer students will receive a number corresponding to their position in the class if they had been ranked.

Visiting Another Law School

Students who wish to earn credit towards the J.D. degree while visiting away at another ABA accredited law school must first receive special permission to do so from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Permission to visit at another law school will not be granted as a routine matter. Requests for such permission must be supported by a demonstration of compelling circumstances. An administrative fee will be charged to the student by the University of Richmond for each semester in which the student visits away at another law school.

Students choosing to visit must also, of course, apply to the law school they wish to visit. Most law schools will require a letter indicating that the student is in good standing and that the University of Richmond will accept transfer of credits. Upon approval of a visit, this letter may be obtained from the Associate Dean (Academic Affairs). Upon acceptance as a visiting student at another school, the Richmond student must immediately inform the Associate Dean (Academic Affairs) of the acceptance so that University and Law School records will indicate the change in status. Failure to notify of acceptance may result in the University of Richmond billing the student for the coming year's tuition.

Any student who visits at another law school must have all courses approved by the Associate Dean (Academic Affairs) prior to enrollment. Students who visit must also provide the Associate Dean (Academic Affairs) with an official transcript following completion of each semester of work.

Visiting students are expected to return to Richmond and attend graduation as required of all students. The Dean's office should be contacted to arrange to pick up the cap and gown. Visiting students should also be aware that if their transcript does not arrive in time to be certified as a May graduate (generally the third week in May), the student's graduation will be delayed until August.

Withdrawal

Students may voluntarily withdraw from the Law School at any time. Students who wish to withdraw voluntarily should notify the Associate Dean for Student Services and Administration in writing of their decision. A student who wishes to return to the Law School after withdrawing must apply for readmission through the regular admission process. A student will not automatically retain any scholarships awarded prior to withdrawal.

Because a withdrawal can impact a student's financial aid for the term in which they withdraw as well as eligibility for financial aid in future terms should they be readmitted, we strongly urge students to consult with the Financial Aid Office before withdrawing from the Law School.

A student's withdrawal will not preclude the initiation or continuation of any School of Law Honor Code or University Standards of Conduct investigation or proceeding.

A law student who withdraws during a semester may be entitled to a refund of certain charges as outlined in the Refund Policy set forth below. Withdrawal may also affect a student's financial aid eligibility for the semester as outlined in the federal Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy and the Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy.

Dual-Degree Programs

Law/Business Administration

The University offers a dual degree program designed to provide its graduates with two degrees - Juris Doctor and Master of Business Administration. This program reflects the interrelationships between law and business management. Its graduates will be better able to function as managers because of their familiarity with the legal framework within which business must operate. Alternatively, as attorneys, they can better serve the needs of business clients because of their appreciation of the business milieu. Students accepted into this program will be permitted to count 12 semester hours of work in the law school toward satisfaction of the degree requirements of the M.B.A. program and 12 semester hours of work in the M.B.A. program toward satisfaction of the degree requirements of the law school. Accordingly, successful participants will be able to complete the requirements for both degrees in four years. Applicants for this program must meet the admission standards of the law school and the graduate business school.

For information on the M.B.A. program, contact:

Director, M.B.A. Program,
Richard S. Reynolds Graduate School of Business,
E. Claiborne Robins School of Business,
University of Richmond, VA 23173.

Law/Health Administration

The delivery of health care services poses some of the most critical social, economic, and moral issues of our time. Lawyers representing individuals or health care providers confront myriad regulatory systems and issues fairly unique to this area. Health care policy makers and administrators are likewise concerned with the effective operation of entities within these regulatory confines and with the utility of these systems.

The dual degree program leads to the award of the Juris Doctor and Master of Health Administration degrees. The program integrates these two professional curricula. Participants are thus provided with the necessary expertise either to represent clients effectively within the health care industry or to function as policy makers or administrators who appreciate fully the legal environment within which they operate. Applicants for this program are required to meet the admission standards of both the law school and the Department of Health Administration. Typically, one semester's worth of dual degree work will be accepted.

For information regarding admission to the Department of Health Administration, contact:

M.H.A. Program Director
Department of Health Administration,
Virginia Commonwealth University
MCV Campus, P.O. Box 203,
Richmond, VA 23298.

When this four-year program is successfully completed, the Master of Health Administration degree is awarded by Virginia Commonwealth University, and the J.D. is awarded by the University of Richmond.

Law/Social Work

The dual degree program is designed to provide its graduates with two degrees--the Juris Doctor and the Master of Social Work--attesting to competency in both law and social work. It is expected that this program will bring together persons sensitive to both the legal and human elements in social and personal dysfunctions.

This program is designed to bring together two fields that call for knowledge and skills directed toward resolving human problems. This effort to integrate education in law and social work will draw on the contributions each can make to practice in both fields. A student who is accepted into the dual degree program will be permitted to count one semester's work in the law school toward meeting the graduation requirements in the School of Social Work at VCU, and one semester's work in the VCU School of Social Work toward meeting the graduation requirements of the law school. This will enable participants in the dual degree program to complete the requirements for the J.D. and the M.S.W. in four years. Applicants for this program are required to meet admission standards of both the law school and the VCU School of Social Work.

For information on admission to the School of Social Work, contact:

Director of Admissions,
School of Social Work,
Virginia Commonwealth University,
Richmond, VA 23284.

When this four-year program is successfully completed, the Master of Social Work is awarded by Virginia Commonwealth University, and the Juris Doctor is awarded by the University of Richmond.

Law/Public Administration

The dual degree program is designed to provide its graduates with two degrees--Juris Doctor and Master of Public Administration--attesting to competency in both law and public administration. The program recognizes the role of law in public policy and public affairs, and prepares professionals versed in the values, knowledge, and skills of both fields, to bring an integrated base of competency to the work of government.

A student who is accepted into the dual degree program will be permitted to count one semester's work in the law school toward meeting the master's degree requirements in the Department of Public Administration at VCU and one semester's work in the VCU Department of Public Administration will be counted toward meeting the graduation requirements of the law school. This will enable participants in the dual degree program to complete the requirements for the J.D. and the M.P.A. degrees in four years. Applicants for this program are required to meet admission standards of both the law school and the VCU Department of Public Administration.

For information on admission to the Department of Public Administration, contact:

Director, Department of Public Administration,
Virginia Commonwealth University,
Suite 301, 923 W. Franklin St.,
Richmond, VA 23284-2028.

When this four-year program is successfully completed, the Master of Public Administration degree is awarded by Virginia Commonwealth University and the Juris Doctor is awarded by the University of Richmond.

Law/Urban Studies and Planning

The professions of planning and law address the concerns of social and economic equity through the institutions which help shape the direction of urban change. While lawyers often are concerned with the impact of legislation and judicial decisions on groups and individuals, planners concentrate on social, economic, and political impacts of land use with the aid of legal strategies to guide community growth and development. The Master of Urban and Regional Planning and Juris Doctor dual degree program integrates these two professional curricula to provide the necessary expertise to apply legal and planning analysis to the resolution of urban and regional policy issues and problems. Some areas of cooperation include the development and enforcement of land use and growth management controls, environmental protection strategies, housing and community development, and numerous health and welfare programs. The dual degree is a four-year program of study designed to equip graduates for a variety of professional positions including staff or legislative committees, government agencies and commissions, private consulting, neighborhood advocacy, directorships of planning and related agencies, and executive or legal aids to elected officials. Applicants for this program are required to meet the admission standards of both the law school and the Department of Urban Studies and Planning at VCU. Typically, one semester's worth of dual degree work will be accepted toward the J.D. degree.

For information on admission to the Department of Urban Studies and Planning, contact:

Chair, Department of Urban Studies and Planning,

Virginia Commonwealth University,
812 West Franklin Street,
Richmond, VA 23284.

When the four-year program is successfully completed, the Master of Urban Studies and Regional Planning degree is awarded by Virginia Commonwealth University and the Juris Doctor is awarded by the University of Richmond.

Upper-Level Writing Requirement (ULWR)

During either the second or third year of law school, each J.D. student must satisfactorily complete a substantial paper requiring in-depth research of a specific area of law. The paper must evidence a sophisticated knowledge of the law and provide a rigorous, thoughtful analysis of an unsettled area of the law, issue of first impression, or other legal topic requiring substantial original thinking. A paper meeting this requirement will be at least 5,000 words in length, not including citations. Any paper approved by the professor may satisfy this requirement, as long as above criteria are met, but examples of a qualifying paper include:

1. A scholarly paper.
2. An appellate brief (including an amicus brief).
3. A policy memorandum.

The paper must be written as part of a letter-graded course or letter-graded independent study of at least two credits, designated as ULWR, and the paper must constitute a major part of the assessment in course. In addition, faculty must require certain input measures of student performance, including:

1. Predrafting requirements (e.g., topic proposal and detailed outline).
2. At least one full draft, on which the professor provides individualized feedback (e.g., one-on-one conferences, extensive written comments, etc.) that addresses both student writing and analysis.
3. A final draft.

Second- or Third-Year Elective Courses

Note: A course in professional responsibility and the elective course Evidence must be satisfactorily completed by the end of the second year if the student wishes to qualify to appear in a Virginia court as a third-year student under the Third-Year Practice Rule. Students may obtain a Third-year Practice certificate after they have completed 56 credits, plus courses in Civil Procedure, Criminal Law, Evidence, and Professional Responsibility. This certificate allows a student to appear in some courts under the supervision of a licensed attorney..

Certificates of Concentration

Certificate of Concentration in Family Law

Overview

The National Center for Family Law offers law students at the University of Richmond the opportunity to earn a Certificate of Concentration in Family Law to be awarded at graduation along with the J.D. diploma. Transcripts will also reflect completion of the concentration program.

Earning the Certificate of Concentration in Family Law is similar to completing a major as an undergraduate. A student must take a basic Family Law course and a certain number of credits from other Family Law-related courses. Students seeking the Certificate of Concentration in Family Law will meet their upper-level writing requirement by writing on a family law-related subject.

Certificates will be awarded only to those who achieve a grade point average of at least 3.0 in all family law concentration classes taken. Students whose GPA is 3.5 or higher in concentration courses will earn the certificate "with distinction."

Total Family Law Credits Required

Each student must take a total of 24 credits from family law concentration courses or those identified as related.

Required Courses

Each student must take the following courses:

LAW707, Family Law	3 sem. hrs.
An approved clinic*	5-7 sem. hrs.
An upper-level writing requirement	2 sem. hrs.

Target Courses

Each student must take at least one of the following courses:

LAW610, Alternative Dispute Resolution	2 sem. hrs.
LAW672, Negotiations	2 sem. hrs.
LAW670, Interviewing & Counseling	2 sem. hrs.
LAW706, Role of Lawyer in Mediation	2 sem. hrs.

LAW600, Federal Income Taxation	4 sem. hrs.
LAW699, Marriage, Money, and the Law	3 sem. hrs.
LAW699, Regulating Reproduction	3 sem. hrs.
LAW699, Wills Drafting	2 sem. hrs.
LAW723, Collaborative Law	2 sem. hrs.
LAW778, Family Law Clinic	6 sem. hrs.
LAW755, Disability Law Clinic	6 sem. hrs.
LAW753, Delinquency Clinic	6 sem. hrs.
LAW773, Advanced Children's Law Clinic	2-6 sem. hrs.
Clinical Placement Program	5-7 sem. hrs.(Selected approved placements only)

Credit for independent studies, research assistance, family law moot court competitions, and courses taught outside the University of Richmond School of Law may be approved as sufficiently related to family law by the director of the National Center for Family Law in consultation with the associate dean for academic affairs.

*Students can apply no more than 7 clinic credits toward meeting the requirements for the Certificate of Concentration. (Only 12 clinic credits may be credited toward the 86 needed for graduation)

All concentration students must complete their upper-level writing requirement on a family law-related topic. The topic for any paper submitted to satisfy the family law upper-level writing requirement must be approved by the director of the National Center for Family Law in consultation with the associate dean of academic affairs and must satisfy the standards applicable for the upper-level writing requirement as set forth in the Student Handbook. This paper must be written in conjunction with either an upper-level writing seminar or an independent research project of at least 2 credits.

Certificate of Concentration in Intellectual Property

Overview

The Intellectual Property Institute offers Richmond Law students the opportunity to obtain a Certificate in Intellectual Property ("IP") in the course of earning the J.D. degree.

Earning the IP Certificate is similar to completing a major as an undergraduate student. The student must (1) take the Intellectual Property Fundamentals course and a certain number of additional credits from a designated group of other IP-related courses, (2) write his or her upper-level writing requirement on an IP-related subject, and (3) achieve a minimum grade point average in the Certificate courses. Students who satisfy the requirements receive the IP Certificate at graduation and Intellectual Property is recorded as a concentration on their academic transcript.

Required Course

Intellectual Property Fundamentals (LAW641): This three-credit course will serve as an introduction to the core subject matters within the field of IP and therefore must be taken in order to earn the Certificate.

Core IP Courses

Fifteen Total IP Credits: Each Certificate student must take a total of fifteen credits from the IP curriculum. These credits can come from three sources. First, as already discussed, three of the credits must come from the Intellectual Property Fundamentals course. Second, each student must take at least eight credits from the following "Core" IP courses (and may count more than eight credits from "Core" courses if he or she wishes).

Computer Law (LAW759)

Copyright Law (LAW788)

Entertainment Law (LAW700)
Information Privacy Law (LAW699)
Intellectual Property and Transactional Law Clinic
(LAW790)
Intellectual Property Litigation (LAW776)
Intellectual Property Law and Policy (LAW655)
International Intellectual Property (LAW722)
Intellectual Property Licensing (LAW673)
Patent Law (LAW744)
Patent Preparation and Prosecution (LAW787)
Intellectual Property Drafting (LAW710)
Trademark and Unfair Competition (LAW768)

Satellite IP Courses

Up to four credits from other sources may be counted toward the total of fifteen. This includes credits from the following "Satellite" courses.

Administrative Law (LAW607)
Antitrust (LAW613)
Bioethics (LAW717)
First Amendment Law (LAW676)
Law and Economics (LAW749)
Remedies (LAW656)
Scientific Evidence (LAW657)
Sports and the Law (LAW690)

The four credits from other sources can also include credits from Independent Studies, Research Assistance, clinical placements, IP moot court competitions, and courses taught outside of the University of Richmond School of Law but all such credits must be approved as sufficiently IP-related by the Director of the IP Institute, in consultation with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

LL.M. for International Lawyers

Richmond Law's LL.M. is a one-year, full-time, master's level law program for lawyers whose first degree in law is from outside the United States. It offers an opportunity for lawyers to gain a strong grounding in U.S. law and the common law system while polishing their communication and legal English skills. Richmond is known for its outstanding faculty and the personalized attention that professors give each student.

LL.M. students are fully integrated into the J.D. program. They must complete 24 credits of academic coursework, including The U.S. Legal System and U.S. Legal Research and Writing. All other courses are elective, and LL.M. students may enroll in first year J.D. courses as well as upper-level courses and seminars.

LAW E683 Voting Rights

Semester hours: 3

Fulfills General Education Requirement Meets upper-level writing requirement

Description

Study of contemporary American voting rights law. Traces the history of voting rights law in the United States, considers how the passage of various Amendments to the United States Constitution and the passage and reauthorizations of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 have affected how voting rights are defined and provided by states, analyzes how those laws have affected how states distribute political power through redistricting, and studies how the development of voting rights law will likely affect the future of voting rights in America.

LAW E661 WTO Dispute Resolution

Semester hours: 1

Description

Framework for understanding the WTO dispute settlement system. Examines the formation of the WTO, the types of obligations undertaken through the relevant agreements, and the role played by the dispute settlement system. Detailed look at the Dispute Settlement Understanding ("DSU"), the agreement governing WTO dispute settlement. Assessment of the system's strengths and weaknesses.

LAW E687 White Collar Crime

Semester hours: 3

Description

Study of what are generally considered to be business or organizational crimes. Topics to be explored may include: mail and wire fraud, conspiracy, public corruption, perjury (including false statements and false claims liability), money laundering, federal sentencing guidelines, the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act, grand jury practice and internal investigations.

LAW E609 Wills Drafting

Semester hours: 2

Fulfills General Education Requirement Meets Lawyering Skills IV requirement

Description

Provides students with the substantive law background necessary for the drafting of wills and trusts. Students will have an opportunity to draft dispositive provisions of wills, including bequests, marital deduction provisions, exemption trusts, and trusts for the benefit of minors and beneficiaries with special needs. They will also draft administrative provisions of wills, including tax allocation clauses. Drafting exercises include the drafting of inter vivos trust provisions, such as revocable living trusts, life insurance trusts, and charitable trusts. Previous coursework in tax or wills and trusts suggested but not required.

Prerequisites

LAW E 606

LAW E606 Wills and Trusts

Semester hours: 3-4

Description

Considers the transmission of property when an owner dies: laws of intestate distribution that are applied where there is no will; the use of wills, including rules of execution, change and interpretation; and the intention and use of trusts, with emphasis on the role of trusts in estate planning.

LAW E711 Workers Compensation

Semester hours: 2

Fulfills General Education Requirement Meets Lawyering Skills IV requirement

Description

A practical survey of workers' compensation in Virginia. Focuses on providing a substantive overview of the law, combined with projects geared toward teaching students to handle actual workers' compensation cases, from the investigation and filing of a claim through hearing and appeal.

LAW E774 Wrongful Conviction Clinic

Semester hours: 2

Description

With supervision from the director of the Institute of Actual Innocence, students will screen, investigate and, when possible, help prepare cases for post-conviction litigation under Virginia's Writs of Actual Innocence. Litigation work is only possible when a case has matured to that level. Students will work in teams. The cases selected for investigation and litigation are those where there is substantial evidence of innocence. Prerequisite: First priority for enrollment goes to students who have completed the Wrongful Conviction Seminar (770). Students who have not completed the seminar must obtain approval to enroll in the clinic.

Prerequisites

First priority for enrollment goes to students who have completed the Wrongful Conviction Seminar (770). Students who have not completed the seminar must obtain approval to enroll in the clinic. This course requires special approval for registration; contact the professor for details.

LAW E770 Wrongful Conviction Seminar

Semester hours: 2

Fulfills General Education Requirement Meets upper-level writing requirement

Description

A topical introductory course addressing the causes of wrongful convictions. The readings are multi-disciplinary and heavily drawn from law review articles. Class participation is an important piece. The class has several guest speakers who address public policy issues in the area of wrongful convictions. Those who take this course have priority for the spring clinic, but students not planning on the clinic are also encouraged to enroll. There is no final exam.
