2014-15 Course Catalog

The course catalog provides listings for the undergraduate schools of Arts and Sciences, Business and Leadership Studies. It also includes information on such topics as academic procedures, financial aid and academic opportunities and support. The requirements in this catalog apply to students entering the University in the 2014-15 academic year. Please see the catalog archive for earlier entering classes. For academic policies affecting students entering prior to fall 2008, please see Academic Advising.

Prospective students are encouraged to use this online version of the course catalog. Hard copies are not available. Catalogs from previous years and for other schools at the University can be found at the Office of the University Registrar.

Please Note: The contents of this catalog represent the most current information available at the time of publication. However, during the period of time covered by this catalog, it is reasonable to expect changes to be made with respect to this information without prior notice. The course offerings and requirements of the University of Richmond are under continual examination and revision. Thus, the provisions of this catalog are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the University (or any of its colleges or schools) and the student.

Non-Discrimination Policy

The University of Richmond prohibits discrimination and harassment against applicants, students, faculty or staff on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any classification protected by local, state or federal law. Copies of the complete "Harassment and Discrimination Policy (including Sexual Harassment)" are included in student handbooks, faculty handbooks and in the published guidelines for University of Richmond support staff. Copies are also available at the dean’s office of each college and school and the Department of Human Resource Services. For further information, students should contact the dean of their school or residential college; staff should contact the director of Human Resource Services; and faculty should contact the dean of their school. Any inquiries regarding the University’s policies in these areas should be directed to the Office of the Vice President for Student Development, University of Richmond, Virginia 23173. Telephone: (804) 289-8032.

University of Richmond Religious Observance Calendar

Religious Observance Policy

The University is a secular institution that values a diversity of religious expression. The University is also an active community with a wide range of personal commitments and academic and extracurricular activities.

Planning for academic and extracurricular activities should be done with sensitivity to the diverse religious commitments of the community and an awareness of religious holidays. Scheduling large-scale, one-time academic or extra-curricular events on a religious holiday should be avoided whenever possible.

Any student may be excused from class or other assignments because of religious observance. A student who will miss an academic obligation because of religious observance is responsible for contacting his or her professor within the first two weeks of the semester. The student is responsible for completing missed work in a timely manner.

Faculty are expected to be mindful of potential conflicts with religious observances and should make reasonable accommodations when students’ religious practices conflict with their academic responsibilities.

The religious observance calendar is meant to serve as a scheduling guide. It lists significant holidays from the five largest global faith traditions. However, it is not comprehensive and students may choose to observe a holiday not included on the calendar.

The holidays listed are those which occur during the academic year when the University is open.

Mission Statement

The mission of the University of Richmond is to sustain a collaborative learning and research community that supports the personal development of its members and the creation of new knowledge. A Richmond education prepares students to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.

Organization and Accreditation

Five academic schools and two coordinate colleges form the University of Richmond, with authority and responsibility vested legally in the Board of Trustees and the president of the University. The several colleges and schools award no degrees individually, but all degrees for work done in any one of them are conferred by the University of Richmond.

The University enrolls approximately 2,900 full-time undergraduates, 92 percent of whom live on campus; 600 full-time law and graduate students; and 1,300 part-time students, largely from Richmond and the surrounding community.

SACSCOC Accreditation

The University of Richmond is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award associate, baccalaureate, masters, and juris doctor degrees. Contact SACSCOC at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of the University of Richmond.

To request a copy of our letter of accreditation, contact: Office of Institutional Effectiveness, 28 Westhampton Way, University of Richmond, VA 23173; Phone: (804) 484-1595; FAX (804) 484-1396.

AACSB Accreditation

The Robins School of Business is fully accredited at the undergraduate and graduate levels in Business and Accounting by the Association for the Advancement of Collegiate Schools of Business International (AACSB).

ABA Accreditation

The T.C. Williams School of Law is fully accredited by the recognized standardizing agencies in the United States. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools; it is on the approved lists of the American Bar Association and the Virginia State Board of Bar Examiners; and its Juris Doctor degree is fully accredited by the Regents of the University of the State of New York. Although each state has its own requirements for admission to the bar, a law degree from the School of Law qualifies the holder to seek admission to the bar in any state in the nation and in the District of Columbia. Additional information about accreditation may be found at abanet.org/legaled/resources/contactus.html.

Virginia State Board of Education Certification

The University also is approved by the Virginia State Board of Education to offer teacher licensure programs.

Teacher Education Accreditation Council Accreditation

The University of Richmond's undergraduate teacher preparation programs and the graduate certificate in teacher licensure program are accredited by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council.

American Chemical Society Accreditation

The University of Richmond's chemistry program is accredited by the American Chemical Society.

Environment and History

The University of Richmond campus consists of about 50 major buildings of Collegiate Gothic architectural style set amid 350 acres of lawns, lake, and woodlands. The beautiful and harmonious setting has been recognized nationally by college guides. Richmond's history began almost two centuries ago with Richmond College, founded in 1830 by Virginia Baptists as a college of liberal arts and sciences for men. Around this nucleus were established the T.C. Williams School of Law (1870); Westhampton College, a college of liberal arts and sciences for women (1914); the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, for advanced study in the liberal arts and sciences (1921-2009); the E. Claiborne Robins School of Business, for undergraduate and graduate study in business (1949); University College, University College, now known as the School of Professional and Continuing Studies, for evening, summer, and continuing education (1962); and the Jepson School of Leadership Studies, the first school of leadership studies in the United States (1992). In 1992, the academic missions of Richmond College and Westhampton College were combined in a separate school, the School of Arts and Sciences. Richmond College and Westhampton College are the coordinate colleges for men and women respectively, providing special programming and leadership opportunities in student life.

Richmond benefits from a heritage of ethical and religious values, a residential character, and a commitment to liberal and general education through intimate schools and colleges joined into a substantial whole.

Library Resources

Boatwright Memorial Library, facing Westhampton Lake, is the main library. It includes collections and services for the humanities, social sciences, sciences, and business. Boatwright is also home to the Media Resource Center and the Digital Scholarship Lab. The Parsons Music Library is in the Modlin Center for the Arts. The Science Reading Room in the Gottwald Science Center holds a small collection of key science reference books, offers access to online resources, and provides opportunities for consultations with the science librarian. The Muse Law Library in the Richmond School of Law serves the special needs of law students and faculty. The libraries' collections have been developed to meet the needs of students and faculty. Those collections, not including those in the Law Library, consist of more than 500,000 volumes, access to more than 30,000 print and online journals, 65,000 electronic books, more than 230 online databases and a wealth of resources in media such as sheet music, DVD,
Computing Facilities

The University of Richmond has a strong commitment to prepare students to work in technology- and information-centered environments. The University provides computers, software, and specialized equipment for student use in labs, public areas, classrooms, and residence hall lounges. All students in the residence halls have their own wired network connections, and the entire campus is blanketed with a high-speed wireless network that provides students, faculty, staff, and guests with secure access to a wealth of resources.

The University maintains a robust network infrastructure. A wireless network supports mobile computing in every building on campus, and provides coverage in most outdoor locations and public gathering spaces. Information Services maintains University-owned systems loaded with up-to-date versions of the latest software tools and anti-virus software. All users must have an active University computer account to log into any lab machine. To help ensure the security of the University systems and network, the University requires all users to change passwords regularly in order to maintain an active account. Policies regarding the use of technology and information resources are posted on the Information Services Policies website.

The ground floor of Jepson Hall houses many computing resources, including a general purpose computer lab; five PC classrooms with full multimedia capabilities; and two computer classrooms running Windows, Linux, and Unix designated for use by the math and computer science department. When classes are not in session, the Jepson Hall computer classrooms are open for student use. Jepson Hall is also the location of the Computer Help Desk, a resource that provides assistance with computing-related issues for the entire campus. A listing of the current hours of operation for all of these resources may be found on the Information Services website.

The Center for Technology Learning Center (CTLC) is a unique resource located on the third floor of Boatwright Memorial Library. It is devoted to servicing the multimedia needs of students, faculty, and staff. This area offers PC and Mac workstations equipped with high-end Web development, multimedia, animation, 3-D modeling, and audio-video recording and editing software. Scanners, high quality printers, large-format plotters, digitizers, and digital video and still cameras also are available. In addition, the CTLC contains a photography studio and a small recording studio. The CTLC also supports media production in the Media Resource Center on the second floor of Boatwright Library.

Most importantly, the CTLC is staffed by professionals and well-trained student assistants are available to assist students, faculty and staff. Students not only have access to the hardware and software, but also to experts who can help them effectively use the specialized tools.

Technology training for students, faculty, and staff is available in a variety of formats, including books and CDs available in the CTLC and searchable through the Library catalog; online video tutorials; technology training classes offered throughout the school year; and one-on-one training sessions available through appointments at the CTLC. CTLC hours of operation and current technology training classes may be found on the Information Services website.

Undergraduate Colleges

Though Richmond is composed of five academic schools as well as two coordinate colleges, this catalog provides specific program information about only undergraduate study in the School of Arts and Sciences, Robins School of Business, and Jepson School of Leadership Studies. Pertinent information about the coordinate colleges, Richmond College and Westhampton College, is also presented in this catalog. Detailed information about each of the other academic schools is available upon request to the respective dean's office.

Academic Schools

School of Arts and Sciences

All students begin as part of the School of Arts and Sciences. Approximately two-thirds of the University's students (2,300) then continue their study in arts and sciences, pursuing Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in the more than 40 disciplines offered by the school.
The School of Arts and Sciences is a blend of studies from all areas of life - health, fine arts, natural and urban environments, government, technology, cultures, emerging scientific studies, and literature are a few examples. Though the fields of study in the School of Arts and Sciences are diverse, each discipline pursues the common goals of challenging students to think critically and independently, to make decisions based upon their assessments, to communicate effectively, to gather and evaluate information and others' opinions, and to work collaboratively, expanding their understanding of others to better comprehend the systems and situations around them. The programs ask rather than tell. Working together across disciplines, the faculty and students explore how things work, ask why they operate as they do, evaluate what has been successful, and consider possible solutions or advancements. Faculty collaborate with students to research and create data or art, encouraging them to build their own knowledge and skills and demonstrating how to most effectively communicate and apply what they learn.

Robins Schools of Business
The Robins School of Business enrolls about 650 men and women. The school's principal objective is to provide a professional college education that will enable students to meet the challenges of a complex and international business world.

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (B.S.B.A.) is offered with majors in accounting, business administration, and economics. The business administration major has several areas of concentration that students may pursue. Once a student declares his or her major, the Robins School of Business provides a number of internal activities in which students may participate in, including its own student government. The Robins School also has a chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, a national honor society. Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest national recognition a student can receive in an undergraduate or master's program accredited by the AACSB-International.

The School of Business faculty also provides the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree in the Robins School of Business.

Jepson School of Leadership Studies
The Jepson School of Leadership Studies offers the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in leadership studies, as well as a minor in leadership studies. The Jepson School uses multiple disciplinary lenses to educate students for and about leadership. As a result, both the major and the minor are broadly based in the liberal arts but highly integrated with leadership as a unifying theme. By engaging students in the classroom and in the world around them, the Jepson School challenges students intellectually and prepares them for future responsibilities of leadership.

Coordinate Colleges
Undergraduate students at the University of Richmond are members of an academic school: the School of Arts and Sciences, the Robins School of Business, or the Jepson School of Leadership Studies. Depending on their gender, students are also members of a coordinate college: Richmond College for men and Westhampton College for women. The coordinate colleges serve as dean of students offices and manage academic policy matters, thereby providing a holistic approach to students. The college deans report to both the vice president of student development and the dean of arts and sciences.

Each coordinate college has its own staff, residence life program, student government, activities, and traditions. Deans' staff members focus on students' personal development, crisis management, judicial policies, and matters that involve the University's honor code. The deans' offices also oversee popular student traditions that recognize and celebrate the smaller college community and heritage, including Westhampton College's Junior Ring Dance and Richmond College's Investiture. The residence life programs organize gender-focused programming within the residence halls and living/learning initiatives that make important intellectual and personal connections between students and faculty members, e.g., the Richmond College's "Spinning Your Web" program.

The two student governments - the Westhampton College Government Association (WCGA) and the Richmond College Student Government Association (RCSGA)- afford students valuable leadership opportunities and guarantee that men and women students participate equally in the governing process. Meanwhile, students make connections between their curricular and cocurricular experiences in college-based programs such as Westhampton College's Women Involved in Living and Learning (WILL) program. For more information regarding Westhampton College see wc.richmond.edu. For more information regarding Richmond College see rc.richmond.edu.

Spiritual Life
This mission of the Office of the Chaplaincy is Inspiring Generous Faith; Engaging the Heart of the University.

The Office of the Chaplaincy consists of five full-time staff members and eighteen affiliated campus ministers. Together, we focus on five strategic goals to advance our mission:

- Creating structures of inclusion for the diversity of faith traditions present on campus.
- Including our eighteen partner campus ministries more robustly in the mainstream of campus life.
- Providing pastoral care to all members of the university community, particularly students.
- Developing programming for students to pursue spiritual renewal, reflection, and critical engagement with their own experience and that of others.
- Animating conversations of meaning across many lines of difference to cultivate our highest ideals of responsible living and learning.

Some of our yearly highlights include the Pilgrimage program to Israel; our Multifaith Student Council; the Weinstein-Rosenthal Forum on Faith, Ethics, and Global Society; our One Book, One Campus program; our Consider This dinner series; the annual Iftar, Seder, Thanksgiving, and December Candlelight services.
In addition, a wide range of worship and fellowship opportunities are offered such as weekly Catholic Mass; Kairos, a Christian contemplative service; Shabbat services; Muslim prayer; and Zen Meditation. Additional worship and study opportunities are offered through our campus ministry team.

Visit our website for detailed information: chaplaincy.richmond.edu.

The Office of the Chaplaincy is located in the Wilton Center, between Cannon Memorial Chapel and Tyler Hanes Commons. We look forward to meeting you.

Admission

The University of Richmond seeks to enroll men and women who have demonstrated the potential to succeed in a highly rigorous environment and who have shown evidence of their capability to contribute to the University community. Admission to the University is competitive and selective.

Criteria for admission are both objective and subjective. Such qualities as academic ability and achievement combined with personal qualities of leadership, creativity, and independence are sought. For those entering as first-year students, the secondary school experience, the results of standardized tests, and the particular characteristics and personal qualities of each applicant will be considered. Because we know that a family’s financial situation has no relationship to a student's preparation, character, potential, or intellect, the University makes admission decisions in a need-blind manner for all first-year applicants who are U.S. citizens and permanent residents. Students who believe that they would benefit from the University's programs but do not have the resources to attend are encouraged to see the section on Financial Aid for more information.

Successful applicants will have pursued a highly rigorous college preparatory program. Successful applicants represent a wide variety of backgrounds. The prospective student is advised, therefore, to complete the most challenging college preparatory program that can be taken at the secondary school attended. Applicants to the University of Richmond are required to earn a high school diploma or its equivalent, including the G.E.D. (General Education Development battery).

For students who have attended other institutions of higher learning and wish to transfer to the University of Richmond, the academic achievement and courses completed at the prior institution will be important to the admission decision. In short, whether first-year or transfer, those students with the potential to be the most successful in this educational environment will be offered admission.

Transfer Admission

A student who wishes to transfer from another college or university may apply for transfer admission. A student must have completed a minimum of 6.82 units of transferable credit prior to enrollment at the University of Richmond. The transfer credit must have been earned at an institution regionally accredited at the time the work was completed. Transfer candidates must possess a minimum grade point average of 2.0 to be eligible for review. Competitive candidates will have well above this minimum requirement. Interested students may wish to visit the campus and talk with an admission officer; however, a personal interview is not a part of the admission decision. In order to receive a degree from the University of Richmond, a student must complete at least 17.5 units at the University, including the work of the senior year.

The deadline to submit a transfer application for fall enrollment is February 15, with a second-round deadline of April 15; the spring enrollment deadline is November 1. The applicant must file an application form, pay the nonrefundable application fee, submit course descriptions for all college courses taken, and have secondary school and college transcripts forwarded directly to the Office of Admission. Students must have left their previous institution in good standing or having been honorably dismissed.

Credit for work completed at another college or university will be subject to the following conditions:

- courses must be a part of the University of Richmond curriculum and at the level of courses taught at the University of Richmond
- the grade received must be the equivalent of C (2.0) or better
- the decisions of credit transfer and application toward degree requirements are made by the Office of the University Registrar in consultation with the appropriate academic department

Credit for all courses is regarded as provisional at the time of the applicant’s admission and is not considered final until the satisfactory completion of one semester’s work at the University.

International Admission

The University of Richmond encourages international students with diverse cultural heritages and multicultural experiences to apply to the University as both first-year and transfer students.

First-year applicants must complete an academic secondary program which would prepare one for entrance to universities in the country of residence. Secondary study (grades 9, 10, 11, and 12) should include at minimum three or four years of coursework in the native language (or second language), mathematics, social sciences, laboratory sciences, and English language. Refer to the Admission Requirements section.
A student may apply as a transfer candidate after successfully completing at least one year of full-time study at a recognized academic university in the United States or abroad. Refer to the Transfer Admission section above.

In addition to test requirements described in Admission Requirements above, all nonnative English speakers must submit results for Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The University expects nonnative English speakers to possess strong analytical and rhetorical writing skills and highly developed oral communication proficiency in English. Because the University offers only short-term, advanced English as a Second Language (ESL) study during summer and the academic year, applicants must demonstrate English proficiency prior to enrolling. Consideration will be given to candidates with the following minimum scores on the various versions of the TOEFL: 550 on the paper TOEFL, 213 on the computer-based TOEFL, or 80 on the Internet-based TOEFL.

Home-Schooled Students

Students who have been educated in a nontraditional secondary school setting are welcome to apply for admission. In addition to submitting a complete admission application, home-schooled students are required to complete or submit the following items:

1. Standardized testing requirement as defined under Admission Requirements. In addition, students are strongly urged to submit SAT Subject Tests in the subject areas of history and natural science.
2. Participate in an interview conducted by one of the University’s admission officers. The interview is required for students who spend 50 percent or more of their secondary school experience in a home-school setting or are graduating from a home school environment. These interviews are conducted in person or over the phone by appointment.
3. Submit a narrative description of the home-school environment, such as parental instruction, community teaching, etc. Additional items that could be included are syllabi for all courses taken and a list of the textbooks used.
4. Optional letters of recommendation, preferably from individuals who have had academic contact with the student, can be submitted.

The Robins School of Business

The Robins School of Business provides a professional education for students who wish to prepare for the challenges of a complex and international business world. This personalized education is offered primarily during the third and fourth years of college study.

Beginning with the class entering in the fall of 2010, students interested in pursuing a major or minor in the Robins School of Business (Business Administration, Economics or Accounting) must have a 2.7 GPA after completing at least 12 units at the end of three semesters of college coursework, including ECON 101, ACCT 201, and MATH 211 or MATH 231 (or their equivalent).

Jepson School of Leadership Studies

The Jepson School of Leadership Studies uses multiple disciplinary lenses to educate students for and about leadership: economics, history, literature, philosophy, politics, psychology, and religion. In so doing, the school provides students with conceptual tools that support the exercise of leadership in a variety of settings. Curriculum goals are achieved through courses such as Leadership and the Humanities and Leadership and the Social Sciences, the gateways to the academic program. Leadership Ethics serves as the capstone course for the major and minor. The gateway courses are designed to introduce students to the intellectual and historical foundations of leadership, so they are also appropriate for non-majors. Required courses such as Critical Thinking and Theories and Models reflect the Jepson School’s commitment to studying leadership across disciplines. Courses with experiential components—such as, for example, Justice and Civil Society and the internship—help students understand how to use knowledge gained through coursework in the world outside the classroom. Students also have the opportunity to study international leadership and pursue independent research, including a senior thesis or senior honors thesis.

Students interested in the major or minor must submit a formal application in the fall after completing the first academic year of study at Richmond or another accredited college or university. The decision concerning admission to the major or minor rests with the Jepson School of Leadership Studies faculty committee.

Admission Plans

The application deadline for regular decision is January 15; candidates are notified of the admission decisions around April 1.

The early decision plan is designed for well-qualified students who have decided that the University of Richmond is their clear first choice. Two plans are available. Fall early decision has a deadline of November 15. Winter early decision has a deadline of January 15. The applicant must file (prior to the deadline) an application form, an official copy of the academic record through the junior year, first marking period grades from the senior year, and the required standardized test scores. Candidates will be notified around December 15 for fall early decision and February 15 for winter early decision.

Accepted candidates must submit the required nonrefundable deposit to confirm their admission to the University of Richmond. Deferred candidates’ applications will be reconsidered under the regular admission plan. In some cases, early decision applicants may be denied admission as well. Further information may be obtained from the Office of Admission.

The early admission program provides for the admission of exceptional students who have completed their secondary school experience in three years, prior to their college matriculation. Additionally, appropriate candidates must possess unusually strong college preparation, as demonstrated through a challenging and rigorous course of study, while presenting required standardized test scores of a highly competitive nature. The student is required to have an interview with an admission officer in person or by telephone and submit a letter from the secondary school counselor endorsing the student's early admission application.

Visiting Campus

Prospective students are invited to visit the campus, participate in the admission information session, take a tour of the campus, and confer with professors, coaches, or other persons in their fields of interest. The information session consists of a group presentation and discussion about the University of Richmond and is led by an admission officer. When the University is in session, student-conducted campus tours usually follow each information session. The campus visit is encouraged because it provides an opportunity for the prospective student to learn about the University, have questions answered, and see the campus.

Plans to visit the campus may be made by calling the Office of Admission, (804) 289-8640 or (800) 700-1662, or by visiting our website at admission.richmond.edu.

While individual interviews are not required for admission, they may be available during your campus visit or with a Richmond graduate in your home city. Visit admission.richmond.edu for more information.

During the candidate evaluation process in January, February, and March, schedules are abbreviated and times vary.

First-Year Admission Requirements

Candidates for admission must have completed a minimum of 16 units of secondary school work. Minimum requirements include four units in English, three in college preparatory mathematics (including Algebra I, II, and Geometry), and at least two each in history, laboratory science, and foreign language (two units of the same language, not including American Sign Language, which will not satisfy the requirement for foreign language). Competitive candidates for admission typically exceed the minimum requirements and have taken three to four units in science, history, and foreign language at the highest levels available in their school setting.

The applicant must have the secondary school send an official transcript of work completed, courses in progress, and the school's recommendation. Students who have taken work at or under the auspices of a college or university must provide a statement describing the work and an official transcript from the college or university must be sent directly to the Office of Admission, University of Richmond.

First-year applicants must submit the results of either the SAT or ACT for consideration. There is not a preference for either test; instead, the evaluation of those who submit results of both will rely on whichever test is comparatively strongest.

Application for admission is made using the Common Application and a Common Application Supplement including a required essay. All forms are accessible from admission.richmond.edu. The nonrefundable $50 application fee must accompany the application for admission.

As of July 1, 2006, Virginia law requires all public and private two- and four-year institutions of higher education to electronically transmit information about applicants accepted for enrollment at each institution to the State Police for comparison to the Virginia Criminal Information Network and National Crime Information Center Convicted Sexual Offender Registry. In compliance with Virginia law, the University of Richmond will submit the requested information for all admitted students to the State Police for comparison to the registry. If the University is notified that an admitted student has committed a sex offense, the admitted student is subject to the revocation of their admission.

- Textbooks cost approximately $550 per semester; supplies, transportation, and sundries are extra costs.
- Meal plan selection automatically rolls from the previous semester unless the student initiates a change by the given due dates. Late change fee will apply. Please contact One-Card Services at (804) 289-8476 or view their website for details on meal plans and policy at onecard.richmond.edu/spidercard. Meal balances expire each semester and are non-refundable. Dining dollar balances roll from fall to spring, only if a meal plan is purchased.
- Please consult Parking Services, Residence Life, and One Card Services for further information.
- Regardless of the academic school in which a course is taken, the student pays the tuition and fees of the school to which he or she has been admitted and which is considered the school of record. Any special fee associated with a particular course, such as a laboratory fee, is charged based on registration in the course.
- The University reserves the right to increase the fees listed herein and the charges for room and board if conditions should make such changes necessary or advisable. The changes will be announced as far in advance as feasible.
- The University is not liable for students' personal property. Students or parents should verify that their homeowner's insurance will cover their personal property on campus.
- Fees and charges will increase for the 2015-16 school year and will be announced as soon as possible.

Payments

Inquiries concerning payments should be directed to the Office of the Bursar, phone (804) 289-8147 or toll-free (866) 241-8893, or email bursar@richmond.edu.

Fees are invoiced electronically and are to be paid in advance, by the semester. The fall semester payment is due by the first Monday in August, and the spring semester payment is due by the first Monday in December. To avoid incurring a late payment fee and delays in housing, registration, and other areas, please pay by due date.

Students receive a monthly email notification to their University e-mail address with the subject line "University of Richmond Electronic Invoice/Statement" with a link to QuikPAY. The student's University ID number is used for authentication. Students can also access their account through BannerWeb. Upon login, students can view their invoice, set up and store bank account or credit card information, set up authorized payers, pay the invoice electronically, and print paper copies.

The student may authorize others to view the invoice as an authorized payer. Each invoice cycle, the student and the authorized payer(s) will receive an e-mail notification that the electronic invoice has been sent with a link that takes them directly to the QuikPAY login page.

e-Check payment is an optional feature. Checking and savings account information from a bank within the United States can be entered at the QuikPAY website, and payments will be transferred electronically to the University of Richmond. You have the option to have the site retain your bank account information, or you may enter it each time you make an e-Payment.

Authorized payers will only be able to view their own payment and bank information. Each authorized payer is assigned a separate PIN for added security and privacy.

The University of Richmond accepts MasterCard, Visa, Discover and American Express via QuickPAY. A vendor fee of 2.75% (of the amount charged) will be charged to your account for this service. Electronic checks also are accepted at this site for no additional fee.

Electronic payment is the preferred payment method, but is optional. Payment may be mailed or made in person at the Cashier’s Office in Sarah Brunet Hall. To mail a check or money order to the University, please print a copy of the PDF invoice, detach the bottom portion of the statement and mail with the payment (payable to the University of Richmond with your University ID number printed clearly on the check) to the Bursar’s Office:

Satisfactory financial arrangements for room and board must be made before occupancy.

No credit is given for a term’s work or for a degree conferred until all charges have been satisfactorily settled. Failure to make satisfactory financial arrangements can result in delay of graduation, denial of registration privileges, removal from classes, and/or the withholding of transcripts.

If the University deems it necessary to engage the services of a collection agency or attorney to collect or to settle any dispute in connection with an unpaid balance on a student account, the student will be responsible for reimbursing the attorney’s fees that are incurred. Accounts referred to a collection agency are reported to a credit bureau.

Please mail all correspondence regarding your student account to:

Deposits

Upon acceptance for admission at the University of Richmond, a $300 general fee deposit is required, and a $300 housing deposit is required if on-campus housing is requested.

Students planning to continue in the upcoming school year are notified around January 15 to remit the appropriate deposits: a general fee deposit of $100, and if on-campus housing is requested, a housing deposit of $500. These deposits are payable by the mid-February date as specified on the Student Housing website. Deposits are treated as advance payments and are nonrefundable. While a single remittance may cover both amounts, the distinction between the two deposits remains quite clear. The general fee deposit signifies an intention to attend or to continue to attend the University. The housing deposit signifies an earnest request for on-campus housing. If there is a past due balance on your student account any deposits you make for a future term may be transferred to your student account to cover the outstanding balance.

The University always credits the general fee deposit first. If only a single deposit amount is received by the stated deadline, regardless of any accompanying instructions, the deposit will be placed in the general fee category and the presumption made that no housing is requested.

Installment Payments

In recognition of the substantial interest in installment payments, the University offers a 10-month installment payment plan through TuitionPay. This firm represents one of several sound alternatives for financing a student’s education. Information is mailed to students in May.

Further information is available at (877)279-6092, by email at info@tuitionpay.com, or by visiting tuitionpaymentplan.com/richmond

Students are urged to complete whatever arrangements they choose early, so that their accounts with the University may be settled in a timely manner.

Late Payment Fee

A late payment fee will be assessed on any unpaid balance. Students who fail to make satisfactory arrangements for their semester fees by the close of the business on the first day of the term will be charged a late payment fee of up to $70.

Tuition Refund Plan

A medical withdrawal insurance plan (controller.richmond.edu/tuition/refund/policy/plan.html) is available through A.W.G. Dewar Inc. Information is available at (617) 774-1555 or visit tuitionrefundplan.com.

Refunds

Inquiries concerning credit balances on student’s accounts should be directed to the Office of Student Accounts, (804) 289-8147 or toll free (866) 241-8893 or bursar@richmond.edu.

University of Richmond Refund Policy

Advance Deposits - Returning and Readmitted Students

- General Fee Deposit - Nonrefundable.
- Housing Deposit - Nonrefundable once a room has been selected or assigned.
- If there is a past due balance on your student account any deposits you make for a future term may be transferred to your student account to cover the outstanding balance.

Advance Deposits - First-Time Students

- If the accepted applicant fails to matriculate, no refund of advance deposits.
- If the accepted applicant matriculates and therefore becomes a student: general fee deposit and housing deposits are refundable in accordance with the University Refund Policy.

General Fee, Room and Board Refund

- Inquiries concerning refunds should be directed to the Office of Student Accounts, (804) 289-8147 or toll free (866) 241-8893.

Students are matriculated by semester. If a student withdraws from classes or is dropped from the University for whatever cause, a refund of fees for a fall or spring semester shall be made in accordance with the University's refund policy, based on the schedule below. This schedule is adapted for summer terms. Students who withdraw from the University and receive any financial assistance may be required to return such assistance per Public Law 668.22 and institutional policy. The University of Richmond complies with all federal regulations governing recipients of federal Title IV funds. Information regarding financial aid refund policies is available from the Office of Financial Aid.

Any special fee associated with a particular course is nonrefundable after the first day of class.

Appeals Process

The University of Richmond has an appeals process for students and parents who believe individual circumstances warrant exceptions from published policy. A student or parent has six weeks from the time of withdrawal to appeal the University's refund policy.

All appeals must be in writing and directed to Annemarie Weitzel, Bursar, Box R, University of Richmond, VA 23173 or bursar@richmond.edu

Financial Aid

The University of Richmond recognizes that some students and their families are not able to meet the entire cost of their education. To assist them in the process, the Financial Aid Office administers institutional, federal, and state assistance in the form of grants, merit scholarships, loans, and student employment. Applicants for financial aid must be enrolled or accepted for enrollment in a degree program at the University and, for most types of aid, must be working toward their first bachelor's degree.

The Richmond in Reach program is the University of Richmond's need-based financial aid program. It is designed for those families who are unable to pay the full cost of a college education and is available to eligible, full-time undergraduate students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Through this program, Richmond meets 100 percent of demonstrated eligibility for need-based aid for all undergraduate students. Applicants for need-based financial aid must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), the CSS PROFILE and submit copies of student and parent federal tax returns to the College Board's IDOC service. Some aid applicants will also be required to submit the Noncustodial Parent PROFILE. Prospective first year students should submit the FAFSA and CSS PROFILE by the University of Richmond's deadline date of February 15 and copies of tax returns must be submitted to IDOC by March 1. The deadline for transfer student financial aid applications (FAFSA, PROFILE, and tax returns) is the same date as the admission application deadline. The deadline for financial aid applications (FAFSA, PROFILE, and tax returns) for returning students is May 15.
Generally, to be considered for need-based aid, an applicant must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident, must be enrolled or accepted for enrollment on at least a half-time basis in a degree or certificate program, and must demonstrate financial need. Full-time enrollment is required for institutional aid. Financial aid from the University of Richmond is available to students through their eighth semester of enrollment (prorated for transfer students) and students must meet certain standards of satisfactory academic progress as outlined below. A new financial aid application must be filed each year. If a family's financial situation remains about the same each year, then the financial aid eligibility will also remain about the same. However, as a family's financial situation changes, there may also be changes to eligibility for financial assistance.

Students who are eligible for need-based aid, who are enrolled full time, and who meet the application deadline are offered a financial aid package that fully meets their demonstrated need. Part-time students may be considered for loans and the Federal Pell Grant. The University of Richmond's policy is to fully meet the demonstrated need of its students who submit all three required financial aid forms by the stated deadline. Students who demonstrate need but fail to meet the deadline will lose a percentage of their need-based grant and need-based scholarship aid. Therefore, their need will not be fully met. We assess a 5% reduction in need-based grant/scholarship aid for each month that a student's application is late, up to two months after the deadline. Applications received more than two months late will receive consideration only for limited federal need-based grants and Direct Loans, but not for any other need-based aid. For complete information regarding need-based aid, visit financialaid.richmond.edu.

International students are eligible to apply for need-based financial aid. Richmond is need-aware when reviewing admission applications from non-U.S. citizens. However, we will meet 100% of the demonstrated need for international students who are admitted and this aid will be renewed through the student's eighth semester of enrollment. International students who do not receive financial aid when they are admitted may apply for a limited amount of need-based aid in subsequent years. These students' need will not be fully met.

The University of Richmond has a robust merit-based aid program for prospective students. Merit-based scholarships are provided in recognition and support of noteworthy academic achievement. These merit-based scholarships are generally awarded independently of any assessment of need, although it is possible to qualify for a combination of need- and merit-based aid. All applicants for admission are considered for the Richmond Scholars Program provided they have submitted a completed admission application by December 1. These scholarships range from full tuition to full tuition plus room and board. Various other merit scholarships are available. Visit financialaid.richmond.edu/prospective/merit-based/index.html for more information and deadlines. Limited merit scholarships are available to currently enrolled students. Visit financialaid.richmond.edu/undergrad/scholarships.html for more information.

The Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant is for full-time undergraduate students who are residents of Virginia. In 2011-12, grants were awarded in the amount of $2,650. Applications are available on the University of Richmond website at financialaid.richmond.edu/prospective/virginians/grant.html. The deadline is July 31.

Financial aid awards made for an academic year may be used for study abroad if the student enrolls at one of the universities with which the University of Richmond has a direct exchange agreement. Financial aid for enrollment in approved non-Richmond programs is limited to loans and federal grants.

Veterans Benefits

Students eligible to receive tuition benefits administered by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) must apply for benefits through the VA. Students should forward Certificates of Eligibility to the Veterans Certifying Official, Registrar's Office, University of Richmond, VA 23173 to have enrollment certified. In addition to the tuition benefits offered under the Post 9/11 GI Bill program, the University participates in the Yellow Ribbon program. For details regarding eligibility for the Yellow Ribbon program at Richmond, go to financialaid.richmond.edu/yellowribbon.html.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

According to federal regulations and University of Richmond (UR) policy, students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to receive federal financial aid and institutional need-based financial aid. Some private loan programs also require SAP. Evaluation of students' progress for financial aid purposes is made annually at the end of the spring term to determine financial aid eligibility for the following year (summer term, fall term, and spring term).

Institutional Financial Aid

Receipt of institutional financial aid requires full-time enrollment (3.5 units or more) during the fall and spring terms and a minimum UR cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 on units attempted. Students must also be meeting the SAP requirements for federal aid (see below). Institutional aid is generally not awarded for summer term. Institutional aid is available to students through their eighth term of enrollment (prorated for transfer students). Some in institutional aid programs, such as merit scholarships, have higher academic and/or other requirements which are conveyed to recipients when they are selected for such programs.

The following chart provides suggested benchmarks for the minimum number of units earned at the end of the specified term in order to complete degree requirements by the end of the eighth term of enrollment (prorated for transfer students):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<tr>
<td>4</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>

Students not meeting the SAP requirements for institutional financial aid at the end of the spring term will not be eligible for any additional institutional financial aid in subsequent terms of enrollment until the standards are met. Denials of aid under this policy may be appealed by the student, in writing, to the Director of Financial Aid within 30 days of notification that the student is no longer eligible for institutional aid. A student's request must include information regarding why the student is not meeting the SAP requirements for institutional aid and what factors have changed that will allow the student's academic progress to improve by the next evaluation.

Federal Financial Aid

The Higher Education Act requires that colleges and universities establish minimum standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for students receiving federal aid. When assessing SAP, the University will review all terms of enrollment at UR as well as transfer work accepted toward UR degree requirements, whether or not the student received financial aid during those terms.

The standards of academic progress outlined here are solely for the purpose of evaluating eligibility to continue receiving federal financial aid. They do not replace or modify academic standards required for continued enrollment at the University of Richmond. The effect of incomplete coursework, withdrawals, and course repetitions impacts SAP in the following ways:

Incomplete coursework is not included in GPA or in number of credits earned but is counted as attempted credit.

Courses from which a student withdraws are not included in GPA or in number of credits earned but are counted as attempted credit.

Repeated courses are counted only one time as earned credits. However, credits for each course taken, including all repeated courses, are counted as attempted credit. Both grades will be calculated in the cumulative grade point average.

SAP is checked annually at the end of the spring term. Students must meet both of the following requirements:

Have completed 67% of all attempted coursework, (including transfer work and pass/fail courses) AND

Have achieved a cumulative grade point average, depending on the number of units earned, as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Units Earned</th>
<th>UR Grade Point Average</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>.25 to 6.82</td>
<td>1.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<tr>
<td>15.41 to 23.97</td>
<td>1.85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23.98 or more</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In addition, students must complete the requirements for a bachelor's degree within the 150% maximum timeframe allowed. That is, as the undergraduate degree program requires 35 units to complete, the maximum number of units attempted to complete the program cannot exceed 52.5 units, including transfer work and pass/fail courses. Successful completion of a class means receiving one of the following grades for the class: A, B, C, or D.

Students not meeting the SAP requirements for federal financial aid at the end of the spring term will not be eligible for any additional federal financial aid in subsequent terms of enrollment until the standards are met. Denials of aid under this policy may be appealed by the student, in writing, to the Director of Financial Aid within 30 days of notification that the student is no longer eligible for federal aid. Appeals will be considered for the following circumstances: the death of a relative of the student; an injury or illness to the student; or other special circumstances. A student's request must include information regarding why the student is not meeting the SAP requirements for federal aid and what factors have changed that will allow the student's academic progress to improve by the next evaluation.

Successful appeals will lead to one of two SAP statuses: Financial Probation or Eligible for Financial Aid. A student may be placed on 'Financial Probation' for the subsequent term if it is determined that he/she can regain eligibility after one term. A student may be found 'Eligible for Financial Aid' based on an academic plan that outlines future academic progress for the student as established by the Director of Financial Aid. The student will be notified of their SAP status based on the merits of the appeal. If the appeal is not granted, the student will be notified of the decision and will be financially responsible for their educational expenses.

Return of Financial Aid When A Student Withdraws

The 1998 amendments to the Higher Education Act (HEA) of 1965 and subsequent regulations issued by the Department of Education (43 CFR 668.22) establish a policy for the return of Title IV grant and loan funds for a student who withdraws. Title IV grant and loan funds include the following programs: Federal Direct Loans, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Work-Study, and Federal Direct PLUS Loans, and the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant.

Return of Title IV Program Funds Policy

The 1998 amendments to the Higher Education Act (HEA) of 1965 and subsequent regulations issued by the Department of Education (43 CFR 668.22) establish a policy for the return of Title IV grant and loan funds for a student who withdraws. Title IV grant and loan funds include the following programs: Federal Direct Loans, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Work-Study, and Federal Direct PLUS Loans, and the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant.

The amount of Title IV funds the student earns up to the withdrawal date is based on a daily proration determined by dividing the total number of calendar days completed by the total number of calendar days in the semester (excluding breaks of five or more consecutive days). Adjustments must only be made up to and including the 60 percent point in time for the semester. After the 60 percent point in time, the student is considered to have earned all of the Title IV funds awarded for that semester.

Unearned Title IV funds must be returned to the Title IV programs. If the amount earned is greater than the amount that has been disbursed, the difference is treated as a late disbursement to the student. Unearned funds up to the amount of total institutional charges (tuition plus room and board) multiplied by the unearned percentage of funds are returned to the Title IV programs by the University of Richmond. The student must return any portion of unearned funds not returned by the school. For grants, regulations limit the amount a student must repay to the amount by which the original overpayment amount exceeds 50 percent of the total grant funds received by the student. Title IV loan funds that must be returned by the student are repaid per the loan terms. Unearned Title IV funds are returned to the Title IV programs in the following order: Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans, Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans, Perkins Loans, Direct PLUS Loans, Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required, - Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants for which a return of funds is required, and Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant for which a return of funds is required.

Return of Non-Title IV Program Funds Policy

Non-Title IV financial aid will be adjusted for a withdrawing student based upon the University's Refund Policy. Adjustments will be made through the sixth week of classes. The amount to be returned to the non-Title IV financial aid program is the same percentage that will be refunded to the student for tuition and room charges. After the sixth week, the student is considered to have earned all of the non-Title IV aid. Non-Title IV financial aid funds are returned in the following order: institutional grants/ scholarships, nonfederal loans, agency scholarships.

Students who are receiving financial aid and who are planning to withdraw from the University during a semester are strongly encouraged to meet with a financial aid advisor to review the impact that their withdrawal will have on their institutional charges and on their financial aid for the semester.

For further information about the various financial aid programs, contact the Office of Financial Aid at (804) 289-8438 or email finaid@richmond.edu with questions about need-based aid, or check our website at financialaid.richmond.edu.

Student Life and Policies

The University of Richmond, through the Office of Student Development, provides a variety of co-curricular and extracurricular programs and student-support services. These are designed to enrich the quality of the collegiate experience by creating an environment in which the student can grow intellectually, emotionally, physically, socially, and spiritually. The ultimate purpose of this environment is to help each student fulfill his or her potential.

The deans’ offices for Richmond College and Westhampton College, the University's coordinate colleges, are focal points in student life matters. For the University, the offices are centers for closely knit smaller communities within the whole.

On a more personal level, a student may find the dean or staff member serving as a counselor, advisor, mentor, or collaborator. If questions remain after reading the Student Life section of this catalog, a dean’s office usually can provide a more complete explanation or indicate where more information may be found. In all cases, the deans’ offices are contact points to provide assistance. Each student is encouraged to make full use of these excellent resources.

Student Resources

Counseling and Psychological Services

CAPS staff members are licensed doctoral-level mental health professionals who help students derive the greatest benefit from the educational opportunities at UR. Services offered include short-term individual psychotherapy, crisis intervention, outreach, training, consultation, and referral to other on- or off-campus resources as needed. Services are offered from about mid-August to about mid-June and are available to full-time students (except for SPCS students). Common reasons students come to CAPS include stress, anxiety, depression, relationship concerns, academic difficulties, grief, family concerns, traumatic events, eating problems, substance abuse, and sleep disturbance. Appointments can be made by visiting the CAPS office (201
The Weinstein Center for Recreation and Wellness provides a comprehensive facility that includes a two-level fitness and wellness center, three-court gymnasium with an elevated walking and jogging track, two multipurpose rooms, pool, game room, and racquetball and squash courts, as well as locker room and sauna facilities. Participants have the opportunity to experience a full range of cardio and strength equipment, in addition to a wellness resource center and computer lab. Outdoor playing fields and lighted basketball and sand volleyball courts are available for recreational use. Thirteen tennis courts, a 400-meter track, and cross country trails are also available for recreational use when not scheduled for intramurals, intercollegiate athletics, or special events. The campus recently added an 18 hole disc golf course available for recreational use.

The fitness and wellness program offers group exercise, indoor cycling, and other fitness programs throughout the day. In addition, special screenings, assessments, and services are offered to address health and wellness topics. Services often include massage therapy, personal training, cholesterol screenings, blood pressure checks, and fitness assessments.

The intramural sports program offers a wide range of major and minor sports at a variety of skill levels. More than 25 sport clubs provide student leadership opportunities as well as competitive options for students who are not part of the varsity athletic program. The Natural High and Outdoor Adventure programs offer activities and trips throughout the year, often including whitewater tubing and rafting, camping, skiing, rock climbing and hiking. The Odyssey high ropes course is one component of a much larger and long term departmental goal for developing a comprehensive Outdoor Experiential Education program.

For more information about recreation and wellness programs or the Weinstein Center, please visit recreation.richmond.edu or call Member Services at (804) 289-8361.

Student Activities and Organizations

No matter what your interests, you'll be able to pursue them with passion at Richmond. Find your niche within our approximately 275 student clubs and organizations and our unique Greek system. If there is no existing club that meets your interest, you can create a new one (activities.richmond.edu/organizations/start-an-organization.html).

You'll never run out of things to do at Richmond. The Office of Student Activities and other programming entities make sure of that through a wide variety of on-campus entertainment options ranging from concerts to movies to comedians.

Student Government

To as great an extent as possible, the University places the governance of students in the hands of students. The coordinate colleges and the schools of business and leadership studies each have their own elected student government association which responds to the needs and interests of its specific students. In addition, student representatives are chosen to sit and vote on certain committees of the Board of Trustees and of the faculty. Each college has its own honor council and its own judicial council composed entirely of students.
The Student Health Center offers a comprehensive program in health education and health maintenance, as well as treatment for illness and injury. The Health Center staff includes board-certified family practice physicians and registered nurses. Services include acute care for illness and injury, general medical care, women's health, men's health, allergy shots, and immunizations. The telephone number is (804) 289-8064 and FAX is (804) 287-6466. Students and parents are encouraged to visit the Health Center's website for general information and timely messages and the Health Center can be reached by email at healthcenter@richmond.edu.

Rather than walking in without an appointment, students are encouraged to call and speak with a registered nurse about their concerns through the Dial-A-Nurse system (call 804-289-8700 for the Dial-A-Nurse). After evaluating the history and symptoms of the illness, the nurse will advise the most appropriate treatment. If indicated after the Dial-A-Nurse evaluation, an appointment will be made. Appointments may be made for annual gynecological examinations, doctor-requested follow-up visits, allergy shots, immunizations, and PPD tests by calling (804) 289-8064.

All full time students are eligible for the services provided by the Student Health Center. (School of Professional and Continuing Studies students are not eligible.) The cost of prescription drugs, some laboratory tests, hospital emergency room treatment, hospitalization, x-rays, and referral off-campus for consultation with medical specialists are not covered by any student fees. These costs will be billed separately by the provider.

The Student Health Center does not accept insurance assignments. This means we will not bill a patient's insurance company. Any charges incurred at the time of visit will be billed through student accounts or may be paid by check, cash, or Spider Card. The patient will be provided with a medical encounter form itemizing all charges and containing all necessary information to submit for insurance reimbursement.

Information regarding hours of operation, descriptions of services, details of allergy shot procedure, billing and insurance questions, medical information, community facilities, medical referrals, and helpful links can be found on the Health Center's website.

Virginia law mandates that each student submit an immunization record and tuberculosis screening status prior to enrollment. In compliance with this requirement, the immunization record is included in the health history form provided to entering students and is to be returned to the Student Health Center.

All communications between student and Health Center staff are strictly confidential. Information will not be released from the Student Health Center without the patient's prior approval except in an emergency or by court order.

The Modlin Center for the Arts presents more than 40 world-class performing arts events as part of the ModlinArts Presents Series, five productions presented by the Department of Theatre and Dance and the University Players and Dancers, and another 23 music performances as part of the Department of Music's annual free concert series. Many of the events presented at the Modlin Center feature an academic component designed specifically for Richmond students. These activities, which are free and open to the public, include master classes and lecture demonstrations, as well as pre-concert and exhibition lectures.

The Office of Alumni and Career Services assists students in:
- Exploring interests and abilities
- Choosing majors
- Connecting with internships and learning experiences
- Investigating graduate and professional school options
- Landing their first jobs

Programs & Events include:
- Individual career advising
- Industry expos
- Career workshops and panels
- Spider workshops and panels
- Spider Road Trips to explore industries in various metropolitan areas
- "Evening of Etiquette"
- Mock interviews
- On-campus interviews
- Off-campus recruiting events
Richmond students and alumni have access to the University's exclusive job opportunity database, SpiderConnect, which allows them to search for internships and full-time position postings, apply for interviews and register to attend organizational information sessions. Career15 gives Richmond students access to opportunities open to students from Virginia's colleges and universities.

The University Career Action Network (UCAN) allows Richmond students access to internship postings throughout the world.

The UR Career Network allows students to search for and connect with Richmond alumni in varying industries and geographic areas for career networking.

Recruiting Programs & Events

Every year, the Office of Alumni and Career Services hosts organizations for information sessions and on-campus interviews. Organization representatives, professionals and alumni also attend five industry-focused expos held throughout the academic year. In addition to bringing employers on campus to recruit Richmond students, the office works to bring students to major metropolitan areas through Spider Road Trips. The office also assists students in applying for and attending regional and national career fairs.

For more information, visit careerservices@richmond.edu.

Bonner Center for Civic Engagement

The Bonner Center for Civic Engagement (CCE) helps students, faculty, and staff get involved in the Greater Richmond community. The CCE brings together its campus constituents and community members to address social issues in context and to respond to community-identified needs through community-based learning and research, advocacy work, deepened awareness of current events, service, alternative breaks, and city tours. Located in Tyler Haynes Commons, the CCE works with faculty and students to integrate academic learning with the pressing social issues facing the Richmond region and beyond. The CCE also sponsors educational programming on important local, national, and international issues.

Office of Common Ground

Common Ground supports the University's priorities of diversity and inclusion by providing campus-wide resources and programs that foster community across lines of difference and an environment of full inclusion.

Common Ground focuses on the connections that students and employees make across differences and creates learning opportunities which foster our ability to understand the experiences of those whose life stories are very different than our own. More specifically, Common Ground:

- Offers students and others on campus opportunities to learn about diversity, inclusion, and social justice issues through focused dialogues, workshops, trainings, retreats and special programs.
- Supports, collaborates with, and offers consultation to groups or campus offices working to foster inclusive diversity.
- Serves as a confidential point of contact and advocate for students, faculty, and staff.
- Publicizes diversity initiatives, events, and other opportunities to the campus community.

Disability Accommodations

The University seeks to comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws regarding the rights of individuals with disabilities. To facilitate such compliance, the vice president for student development serves as the University's disability coordinator. The University does not discriminate on the basis of disability in admission. Therefore, applicants are not required to provide information about their physical condition or disability status prior to admission. Individuals with disabilities are invited to contact the disability coordinator regarding any accommodations they may require in visiting the campus or upon matriculation. The University provides reasonable adjustments or accommodations in its academic programs as necessary for equal opportunity and participation for qualified students with disabilities.

Dining Services

University of Richmond Dining Services is a multi-operation department consisting of dining locations, snack shops, and retail stores. The E. Bruce Heilman Dining Center is a state-of-the-art facility overlooking Westhampton Lake that serves approximately 3,000 students and guests daily. A retail market is located off the main lobby and the upper level of the facility houses the Department of Food and Auxiliary Services and the campus post office.

The centrally located Tyler Haynes Commons (THC) houses Tyler's Grill, an eat-in or carry-out operation with a dining area that faces Westhampton Lake and gazebo. The campus smoothie bar, Freshens, and the Cellar, a late-night gathering space, are also located in THC. For late-night studying at Boatwright Library, gourmet coffee, hot drinks, and snacks are available at Eight Fifteen at Boatwright. Sodas, snacks, and grocery items also are available at the Dean's Den, located in the Whitehurst building near the Richmond Dean's office.

Meal Plans

All students living on campus, except those in University Forest Apartments, are required to participate in a meal plan. University Forest residents can waive meal plan participation, choose from any of the campus meal plans, or purchase a Spider Flex Plan of dining dollars designed for their convenience. An off-campus meal plan also is available for commuting students. Details of the various meal plan options, including the Spider Flex and off-campus plan, are available on the dining services website at dining.richmond.edu.
Meal Plan Selections and Policy of Change Requests

Students are provided the opportunity to make their meal plan selection via BannerWeb each fall and spring for the next semester. For returning students, meal plans roll over from semester to semester. If you are moving to University Forest Apartments or off campus, your plan is not automatically changed or cancelled. It is the student's responsibility to change their plan in Bannerweb before the published deadline. Deadlines by which this selection must be made are sent to students through a SpiderByte email announcement and are posted on the dining services Web site. Once the selection is made, only one additional adjustment is permitted and must be made prior to the published deadlines. To initiate a change, the student must personally contact the One-Card Office. After the deadline, a change can be made only with the approval of the associate director of dining services and will incur a $50.00 processing fee. A student may be permitted to move between the appropriate meal plans, but no refunds will be issued. Any decrease in charges will automatically be credited to a University One-Card account for the student's use on campus. Increased charges will be due at the time of the change or will be billed.

Hours of Operation and Other Services

Students can find something to eat somewhere on campus whenever classes are in session, from 7:15 a.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday, Fridays from 7:15 a.m. until 1 a.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10:30 a.m. until 1 a.m. Dining services maintains an up-to-date schedule of menus and operational hours for all campus locations on its web page. Meal plans follow the undergraduate academic calendar, and service and hours may be limited during academic breaks and holidays.

Catering and a wide variety of additional services, including nutrition counseling and meals-to-go, are also available through University Dining Services. Additional information is available upon request or can be viewed at dining.richmond.edu.

Special Dietary Needs

With a registered dietician as a member of the University dining services team, every effort is made to support special dietary needs that are medically based. Medical documentation is required, and students with dietary restrictions or special needs are asked to make an appointment to see our nutrition professional. Students will be required to sign an informational release so that their situation can be discussed with their physician or medical professional as needed. In addition, dining services may require that students consult the University's physicians regarding their dietary requests.

The University does not have designated facilities to accommodate religion-based dietary needs on a daily basis. However, we do work closely with the campus ministry to provide kosher meals for Passover selections and carry-out meals during Ramadan. Please contact the associate director of dining services if you have questions regarding available services.

Bookstore

The University Bookstore carries textbooks for all courses scheduled for a given term at the University. A comprehensive selection of reference books and general reading materials is also available. The store offers academically priced software, computer and office supplies, greeting cards, gifts, clothing, and health and beauty aids. Services include faxing and UPS shipping. The bookstore's website is urspidershop.com.

Student Identification Number

In an effort to better protect the privacy of each member of the University of Richmond community, the University uses randomly generated ID numbers of each student, employee, faculty member, and alumnus/a.

A student will be assigned a University of Richmond ID number as the primary identification for University records when he/she enters the University. This eight-digit number will be printed on each student's One-Card (unless the student requests that it not be printed). This ID number also will be used in conjunction with a confidential PIN for students to register for classes and access their academic records through the Web using the University of Richmond's Student Information System (BannerWeb). A Social Security number will be printed on each student's One-Card (unless the student requests that it not be printed). This ID number also will be used in conjunction with a confidential PIN for students to register for classes and access their academic records through the Web using the University of Richmond's Student Information System (BannerWeb). A Social Security number will still be required to be on file with the University to fulfill IRS and federal reporting requirements.

Identification Card/One-Card

Each degree- or certificate-seeking student will be issued a picture identification card (One-Card) upon request. This card verifies that the holder is eligible to receive University library and certain other campus privileges. A campus ID is required for check cashing and access to athletic facilities and serves as your meal card if applicable and library card. Neither the card nor its privileges is transferable.

All University students may sign up for the University’s SpiderCard Account, a declining balance program which allows students to access previously deposited funds via their University One-Card. The SpiderCard Account allows students the ability to make purchases without carrying cash and can be used at the bookstore, the Student Health Center, most vending machines, for on-campus pizza delivery, in One Card Services for passport photos, for concessions in Robins Stadium/Robins Center, and all campus dining locations. Students will be mailed information before the fall semester regarding SpiderCard sign up. Complete information on the One-Card is available at onecard.richmond.edu.

Housing and Residence Life

On-campus housing for undergraduate students may be requested by contacting the Office of Undergraduate Student Housing. The University attempts to provide on-campus housing for full-time students who wish to be accommodated. No student is required to live on campus, and some choose to reside off campus in private homes or apartments. The University does not provide married student housing.

Residence hall rooms are available in several styles, including singles, doubles, triples, quads, and suites. Apartments are available for some upper-class students. First-year students are housed in traditional residence halls, which are primarily double rooms. Most residence halls have lounges and laundry areas.

Room reservation procedures are made available at appropriate times during the school year. In general, continuing students request rooms and roommates according to the procedures established by the Office of Undergraduate Student Housing. Incoming students complete a questionnaire. Using expressed lifestyle, mutual interests, and other criteria, the Office of Undergraduate Student Housing assigns rooms and roommates.

General supervision of the residence halls is provided by Master’s level professional staff who are assisted by specially trained upper-class students. University policy is the framework under which all campus residences are governed.

Numerous educational and social programs are planned for residents by the residence life staffs of the colleges, the Office of Living & Learning programs, the Residence Hall Association and the President’s College Associates. These programs make the residence halls and apartments into living and learning environments that promote a sense of community and personal growth.

General Conditions
The Housing Contract sets forth the specific terms and conditions applicable to residence hall rentals, meal plans, telecom services, and data services. Each student approved for housing is referred to the appropriate website where a copy of the Housing Contract is available for preview. In addition, the terms and conditions of the Housing Contract and associated documents must be agreed upon prior to being housed. This is an electronic agreement. Detailed information regarding residence life and housing is available in the college handbooks.

Student Policies
The University of Richmond is governed by policy statements that guide individual members in their actions toward each other and toward the larger community. These policy statements support the University’s educational mission while seeking to ensure that both individual and group rights are appropriately observed and maintained.

Alcoholic Beverages and Other Drugs
The legal age for the consumption and possession of beverage alcohol is 21 in the Commonwealth of Virginia; the law governs all sites within the Commonwealth and all persons including temporary visitors from other places. The University supports the laws of the Commonwealth and has policies to educate and regulate its campus constituencies regarding the consumption of alcohol. Similarly, statutes as well as University policies prohibit the possession, distribution, sale, or use of illegal drugs or narcotics, including marijuana and hallucinogens. Moreover, each person is responsible for his or her destructive, obstructive, or otherwise inappropriate behavior, whether under the influence of any substance or not. Persons in violation of the law are subject to prosecution by law enforcement agencies as well as disciplinary proceedings by the University.

More information about the University’s alcohol and drug policy can be found online at studentdevelopment.richmond.edu/student-concerns/substance-abuse/UR_Alcohol_Policy.pdf

Emergency Information
To report an emergency, call 911 or 289-8911 (cell phone). The non-emergency number is 289-8715

Getting Information
During an emergency, UR will distribute information to the campus community via:
- Audio–Tornado siren and PA system
- Web–This website, alert.richmond.edu
- Email–Blast email to ‘@richmond.edu’ accounts
- Text/voice messages–UR Alert text messages and/or voice messages to faculty, staff, and students who register a cell or home phone through BannerWeb
- Campus phones–Telephone messages to campus telephones
- TV–UR TV channel 16 broadcasts
- People–Resident assistants and area coordinators
- Hotline–UR Emergency Hotline: (804) 289-8760 or toll free at (866) 386-0403

Emergency Terms
Shelter in Place: Choose an interior room or one with as few doors and windows as possible. Remain there until the danger has passed. Examples: Tornado or other severe weather, nuclear alert, or hazardous materials spill.

Seek Secure Shelter: Get into a lockable space, like an office or classroom, and remain there. Lock and barricade doors, turn off lights, and turn cell phones to silent or vibrate mode. Get under a desk or other surface to hide. Wait for further instruction from law enforcement. If the threat is in your building and you can safely flee, then do so. Examples: Active shooter or dangerous person immediately threatening the campus.

Evacuate: Immediately leave the building that you are in, exiting through the nearest and safest exit. If the fire alarm has not been activated, do so. Examples: Fire, smoke.

Avoid Area, Warn Others: In these types of incidents, the emergency is localized on campus. University officials do not want anyone near the area and want you to alert others of the emergency. Examples: Hazardous materials spill, flooded roads, aircraft accident, bomb threat, civil disturbance, fire, gas leak, or power lines down.

What to Do

Tornado
- Listen for the tornado siren. A single siren blast will sound continuously until the danger has passed.
- Seek shelter inside a building until notified by University officials that it is safe to leave.
- Stay away from electrical lines and devices.
- There is no “all-clear.” The danger has passed when the siren silences.

Fire
- Activate the nearest fire alarm and call 289-8911 if possible to report the location and cause of the fire.
- Everyone must leave immediately when a fire alarm is activated, even if there are no obvious signs of an emergency.
- Do not use the elevator.
- Remain calm and assist others in safely getting out.
- Confine the fire by closing all doors and windows if possible. Follow directions given by emergency personnel and go to the location designated by your building coordinator to await further instructions.

Earthquake
- Stay inside the building until the shaking stops. Don't run downstairs or rush outside while the building is shaking.
- Stay away from glass, windows, outside doors and walls, and anything that could fall.
- A sturdy table or desk can provide cover.
- Once the building stops shaking, exit the building calmly and check for others in need.
- Do not use elevators.
- If outdoors, stay in the open until the shaking stops, avoid any falling debris fields such as buildings, power lines, etc.

Active Shooter/Dangerous Person
- Once secured inside, take cover behind concrete walls, thick desks, and filing cabinets that are away from windows and doors.
- Remain quiet, and turn off cell phone ringers.
- Only one person from the room should call police at 289-8911 and tell them where you are, where the dangerous person is, and the condition of others with you. Follow their instructions. If you cannot speak, leave the line open so the dispatcher can hear what is going on.
- Assist others if they are injured.
- Do not respond to any unfamiliar voice commands until you can be sure they are coming from a police officer.

Harassment & Discrimination

Every University employee and student has the right to work and study in an environment free from discrimination and harassment and should be treated with dignity and respect. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment against applicants, students, and employees on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any classification protected by local, state or federal law.

The University's policy against discrimination and harassment (Policy) incorporates protections afforded by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, which prohibits discrimination in educational programs and activities based on gender. This Policy also incorporates all other local, state and federal laws, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Any individual whose conduct violates the Policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination for employees and expulsion for students.

Harassment is the creation of a hostile or intimidating environment, in which verbal or physical conduct, because of its severity and/or persistence, is likely to interfere significantly with an individual's work or education, or affect adversely an individual's living conditions on campus.

Illegal and improper harassment based on any of the classifications in paragraph 1, may include:
- Any suggestion that sexual favors, race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any protected classification would affect one's job, promotion, performance evaluations, grades, working or educational conditions;
- Making unwelcome or offensive comments about a person's clothing, body or personal life;
- Offensive jokes or unwelcome innuendoes;
- Other conduct that creates a work or educational environment that may be considered offensive or hostile, even though some staff or students might not find them objectionable;
- Use of unwelcome or offensive nicknames or terms of endearment.
Sexual harassment, in particular, may consist of unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when one or more of the following occur:

- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic success;
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions;
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creates a hostile, intimidating or offensive work or educational environment.

The University has designated the Associate Vice President for the Department of Human Resource Services (located in Weinstein Hall), as the University's representative to handle issues arising under the Policy, including Title IX. Individuals who need further information or clarification of the Policy should contact the Associate Vice President directly.

The Policy also applies to complaints of harassment or discrimination involving applicants for admission or employment, or persons aggrieved by third parties such as contractors or vendors serving the University.

Complaint Resolution Procedure

For ease in identifying individuals, the person making the complaint is referred to as the Complainant, and the person for whom the complaint is being made is referred to as the Respondent.

The University will endeavor to respond to and resolve all complaints quickly and effectively. Individuals who believe they have been harassed or discriminated against in violation of the Policy are encouraged to take action in any of the ways described in the Complaint Resolution Procedure (Procedure).

Although none of the actions listed under the options for Informal Resolution, below, are required before an individual may file a Formal Complaint, the University favors informal resolution of these claims whenever possible. Except as expressly provided herein, the Procedure is the only grievance practice available to staff, faculty, students or other parties for violations of the Policy. No other grievance practices otherwise available at the University are applicable.

Through the Procedure, the University will take necessary steps to prevent recurrence of any harassment and/or discrimination determined to have occurred, and will take necessary steps to correct the discriminatory effects of the conduct on the Complainant and others, if appropriate. During all stages of the Procedure, every effort will be made to ensure fundamental fairness to all parties involved in the complaint process. The University will make good faith efforts to protect the confidentiality of those involved in the Procedure to the extent permitted by law and to the extent that continued protection does not interfere with the University's ability to investigate allegations or to take corrective action.

The University prohibits retaliation against any individual who files a complaint (informal or formal) in good faith or participates in a harassment or discrimination inquiry. Disciplinary action will be taken against any individual who retaliates against a Complainant or participant in a harassment or discrimination inquiry, or who files a discrimination or harassment complaint in bad faith, or who maliciously or knowingly files false charges.

A. Procedures for Informal Resolution

The Informal Resolution process provides an effective means of resolving most disputes. However, the Complainant may terminate the Informal Resolution process at any time and initiate a Formal Complaint without prejudice.

1. Informal Discussion with Respondent

Prior to the involvement of other parties or University officials, the Complainant may choose to discuss the concerns directly with the Respondent. The Respondent may not realize that his or her conduct is offensive or unwelcome. Many disputes can be resolved quickly and effectively with such direct communication. A complaint brought to the attention of the Respondent shortly after the alleged offensive behavior occurs (e.g.: immediately or in a few days) will usually result in more effective resolution.

2. Informal Discussion with University Officials

Understanding that a Complainant may discuss concerns with a friend, confidant, advisor or counselor in the Counseling and Psychological Services office, etc., it is nonetheless the case that to initiate an informal discussion with University officials, a Complainant should contact one of the following individuals in a timely manner, ordinarily within thirty (30) days of the offending conduct:

Students should contact the dean of their school or residential college as follows:

- Arts and Sciences, Business or Leadership Studies undergraduate students should contact the dean of their residential college
- Graduate School of Business: Senior Associate Dean, Richard Coughlan at (804) 289-8553
- Law School: Dean, Wendy Purdue at (804) 289-8183
- Richmond College: Dean, Joseph Boehman at (804) 289-8061
- School of Professional and Continuing Studies: Dean, James Narduzzi at (804) 287-6684
- Westhampton College: Dean, Juliette Landphair at (804) 289-8468

Staff should contact:

- Executive Assistant to the President: Carolyn Martin at (804) 289-8088
Faculty should contact the dean of their school:

- Arts and Sciences: Dean, Kathleen Skerrett
- Business: Dean, Nancy Bagranoff
- Professional and Continuing Studies: Dean, James Narduzzi
- Law: Dean, Wendy Perdue
- Leadership Studies: Dean, Sandra J Peart

If the complaint is against one of the designated University officials, the Complainant should contact the President of the University, who will designate a representative of the University to handle the matter. If the complaint is against the dean of a student’s residential college, then the Complainant should contact the Associate Vice President for the Department of Human Resource Services.

The Informal Discussion can help with any or all of the following options:

- Assisting the Complainant to determine if the behavior violates the Policy, or to learn more about the Policy;
- Conducting an informal investigation with the effect and goal of ending the alleged behavior in an effective and expeditious manner;
- Contacting the supervisor of the alleged offender and requesting assistance to stop the behavior;
- Meeting with the individual whose behavior is alleged to be offensive or unwelcome, and discussing the situation to make it clear that the behavior is offensive or unwelcome and should cease.

Based on the Informal Discussion, the University official will determine what additional action, if any, is necessary.

The Informal Discussion process will last as long as the Complainant deems it desirable to continue to meet with University officials, but usually the University will try to resolve the problem at this early stage within ten (10) working days. Most complaints can be resolved at this stage. If not satisfied with the resolution from the Informal Discussion, then the Complainant may proceed to the Formal Complaint process described below.

B. Procedures for Formal Resolution

A Complainant may omit the Informal Discussion process entirely and file a Formal Complaint with the Associate Vice President for the Department of Human Resource Services (hereafter the Associate Vice President). Formal Complaints alleging violation of the Policy must be filed in the Associate Vice President’s office in a timely manner, ordinarily within thirty (30) days of the offending conduct, or shortly after the conclusion of the Informal Discussion process, usually within ten (10) working days.

The Formal Complaint must be in writing and must set forth:

1. A statement that the Complainant intends that this document shall constitute a Formal Complaint;
2. Date or approximate date on which the alleged behavior occurred;
3. Identity of the person(s) purportedly responsible;
4. Specific descriptions of the alleged behavior;
5. All witnesses and evidence supporting the complaint, including attaching any tangible evidence or documentation;
6. Complainant’s name and signature.

The Respondent will have ten (10) working days after receiving the Formal Complaint to file a written Response in the Associate Vice President’s office.

The Associate Vice President, or her/his designee, will review the Formal Complaint and Response. An investigation, including relevant interviews, will be conducted. The Associate Vice President, or her/his designee, will prepare a written report of the Formal Complaint Findings (Findings) as expeditiously as possible, usually within forty-five (45) days from the date that the Formal Complaint was filed, and will deliver the Findings to the Complainant and Respondent. The written report will include the Associate Vice President’s or her/his designee’s conclusions with respect to the Formal Complaint and will make a final determination as to what action, if any, is necessary. Either party may appeal from the Findings within the time period and in the method described below.

All provisions in this Grievance Procedure for notifying all parties of Findings and recommendations will be followed so long as the University determines that there are no violations of state or federal privacy laws, including, but not limited to, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

If no appeal is filed within the designated time period, then the Findings will be final. The Associate Vice President will then work with other University officials to enforce the Findings. If no appeal is filed, then no party will have a right to pursue any other University grievance procedures.

C. Appeal from Formal Complaint Decision

Either the Complainant or the Respondent may initiate an appeal from the Formal Complaint Findings. The appeal must be filed with the Associate Vice President’s office within ten (10) working days from the date of the Findings.

The appeal must be in writing and must set forth:

1. Substantive reason(s) for the appeal;
2. The identity of all witnesses;
3. Any new information.

The responding party must file a written response to the appeal with the Associate Vice President’s office within five (5) working days after receiving the appeal, and must set forth:

1. Date or approximate date on which the alleged behavior occurred;
2. Identity of the person(s) purportedly responsible;
3. Specific descriptions of the alleged behavior;
4. All witnesses and evidence supporting the complaint, including attaching any tangible evidence or documentation;
5. Complainant’s name and signature.

The Associate Vice President, or her/his designee, will prepare a written report of the Formal Complaint Findings (Findings) as expeditiously as possible, usually within forty-five (45) days from the date that the Formal Complaint was filed, and will deliver the Findings to the Complainant and Respondent. The written report will include the Associate Vice President’s or her/his designee’s conclusions with respect to the Formal Complaint and will make a final determination as to what action, if any, is necessary. Either party may appeal from the Findings within the time period and in the method described below.

All provisions in this Grievance Procedure for notifying all parties of Findings and recommendations will be followed so long as the University determines that there are no violations of state or federal privacy laws, including, but not limited to, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

If no appeal is filed within the designated time period, then the Findings will be final. The Associate Vice President will then work with other University officials to enforce the Findings. If no appeal is filed, then no party will have a right to pursue any other University grievance procedures.
1. A response to the appeal allegations;

2. The identity of all witnesses.

Within five working days after receiving the appeal, the Associate Vice President will assemble the Resolution Committee, which will be formed solely for the purpose of resolving disputes alleging violations of the Policy. The Resolution Committee members will be chosen by the President, who will select two students, two staff members and two faculty members from the Judicial Pool.

The Judicial Pool is constituted at the beginning of each year to provide a pool of faculty, staff and students to serve on the Resolution Committee (defined in this document for the purpose of this Policy) and Hearing Boards for matters of Policy violations. The faculty members are elected each year by their respective schools, two each from Arts and Sciences, Business, Leadership Studies, Law and Continuing Studies. Five staff members are designated by the Associate Vice President at the beginning of each year as part of the pool. Student members of the pool are the chairs of the Richmond College Judicial Council, the Westhampton College Judicial Council, and the chairs of the Honor Councils for Richmond and Westhampton Colleges, the Business and Law Schools and the School of Professional and Continuing Studies.

The Resolution Committee will be charged with the responsibility of conducting a fair and unbiased hearing within fifteen (15) working days after being assembled. It will have access to all available information pertaining to the complaint. The Resolution Committee will accept and review written statements submitted by the Complainant and Respondent and other relevant individuals. At its discretion, it may also entertain oral testimony from witnesses.

The general outline of the hearing, which will be tape recorded, will be as follows:

1. The Resolution Committee will review the Formal Complaint, if applicable, Response, Written Appeal and all other available information;
2. The Complainant will have the opportunity to present the complaint and any attending circumstances;
3. The Respondent will have the opportunity to present a response and any attending circumstances;
4. The Resolution Committee may request specific individuals to appear before it and may also implement additional procedures as it deems necessary for a fair and equitable process;
5. Other than witnesses, only the Complainant, Respondent, Associate Vice President (or her/his designee) and members of the Resolution Committee may be present during the hearing; except that the Complainant and/or Respondent may be accompanied by a non-participating support person such as a member of the CAPS staff, but neither may be represented by legal counsel in these procedures;
6. The Resolution Committee will deliberate, in private and outside the presence of any other individuals, and render its collective Recommendations in writing within ten (10) working days after the conclusion of the hearing.

The Resolution Committee’s Recommendations will be forwarded to the Associate Vice President, who will notify the Complainant and Respondent of the Recommendations, subject to applicable privacy laws. Each party will have five (5) working days to submit to the Associate Vice President written comments on the Recommendations.

The Associate Vice President will then forward the Recommendations, the investigative materials, including the hearing evidence, and the comments by the Complainant and Respondent, if any, to the following (depending on whether the Resolution Committee recommended action against a student, staff member or faculty member):

- Students: Vice President of Student Affairs, Dr. Stephen Bisee
- Staff: Vice President for Business and Finance, Mr. David B. Hale
- Faculty: President of the University, Dr. Edward Ayers

Determinations as to the action or inaction based on the Recommendations will be made by these University officers, as applicable. These officers may use their discretion in seeking any additional information or advice before rendering a final decision. The decision will be made within thirty (30) days from the date of the Recommendations. The decision made by each of these individuals is final; provided, however, that if the Resolution Committee recommends termination of a faculty member and the Recommendation is accepted by the President, the normal "termination for cause" procedures defined in the Faculty Handbook will be followed.

Hazing

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that students at the University of Richmond are not subjected to any type of hazing when joining a fraternity, sorority, athletic team or any other University of Richmond sponsored student group.

Definition of Hazing

Hazing is defined as any action or situation, created intentionally or unintentionally and with or without the consent of the persons subjected to the action or situation that produces mental or physical harm, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule.

University of Richmond Policy on Hazing

No student or any person affiliated with the University of Richmond shall engage in hazing, as defined above.

If, in the determination of the University’s Code of Conduct and subsequent to a hearing conducted according to University procedure, any student or person affiliated with the University is found to have committed any act prohibited herein, then such student or person affiliated with the University of Richmond shall be subject to penalties in accordance with this policy and the University of Richmond’s Student Code of Conduct.

The penalties set forth below may be imposed for violations of this policy regardless of whether the violation occurred on or off campus, and shall be in addition to any other penalty to which the offending student(s) may be subject for violations of the State of Virginia’s criminal law and any other applicable law rule, or regulation.

1. Individuals subject to the University of Richmond jurisdiction found guilty of hazing violations may be subject to suspension.

2. Organizations subject to the University of Richmond jurisdiction that authorize hazing in disregard of this policy may be penalized by revocation of organization registration, revocation of permission to meet on campus or to use campus facilities, and/or revocation of the right to exist at the University of Richmond.

Examples of Hazing

Examples of forbidden hazing activities include, but are not limited to:

- Intimidation, threats and verbal hostility;
- Rough wrestling matches and football games;
- Hitting an individual with paddles, even in so-called fun exchanges, and other types of beatings;
- Sexually degrading activities, including stripping, simulation of sexual acts, improper touching, or sexually explicit chants and songs;
- Pressuring an individual to get a brand or tattoo or to shave his or her head;
- Dousing an individual with dangerous substances;
- Requiring an individual to eat unpleasant-tasting food;
- Requiring an individual to sleep in uncomfortable places or depriving them of sleep;
- Forcing an individual to do physical exercise;
- Forcing an individual to swim, which can result in drowning;
- Forcing an individual to wear unusual clothing;
- The keeping of pledge books and/or forcing an individual to get member's or alumni's signatures;
- Requiring an individual to memorize non-essential information;
- Isolating an individual from other group members; or an activity that intentionally or unintentionally subjects an individual to mental or physical harm, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule;
- Forcing an individual to do personal errands of any kind.

Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act

University of Richmond is committed to assisting all members of the university community in providing for their own safety and security. The annual security and fire safety compliance document is available on the University of Richmond website at police.richmond.edu/reporting/index.html.

If you would like to receive a copy of the security and fire safety report which contains this information, you can stop by the University Police Department at Special Programs Building, #31 UR Drive, University of Richmond, VA 23173 or you can request a copy be mailed to you by calling (804) 289-8722.

The website and document contain information regarding campus security and personal safety including topics such as: crime prevention, University police law enforcement authority, crime reporting policies, disciplinary procedures and other matters of importance related to security on campus. They also contain information about crime statistics for the three previous calendar years concerning reported crime that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by University of Richmond, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

This information is required by law and is provided by the University of Richmond Police Department.

Official University Communications

The University of Richmond uses email as an official means of communication within the University. Examples include notification of financial aid, tuition bills, academic or disciplinary action, instructor feedback, and correspondence from University offices. Students are required to activate their @richmond.edu email account and to check it regularly. Students are responsible for reading the content of University communications sent to their email account. If students choose to forward their University emails to an external email provider, they are responsible for ensuring that the external email account remains active.

Response to Troubled Students

If immediate assistance is needed because of a threat to someone’s safety, call the police:

On-campus situations: Call UR Police emergency (804-289-8911); or 911 from any campus phone

Off-campus situations: Call 911 to access local police responders

For all other types of mental health or safety concerns, please fill out an Incident Report Form, which will be routed to the appropriate office(s):

- Undergraduate women: Westhampton College Dean’s Office (804) 289-8468

Take these signs seriously

Don't disregard what you've observed. At the very least, convey your observations and concerns to the appropriate dean's office. The dean's office usually has the most holistic picture of each student, and is best able to gather information from a variety of sources. The dean's office can call a student in, express concern and make referrals to appropriate sources of help.

Right of Privacy (FERPA)

Student academic and personnel records are administered under the procedures and requirements of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-380), as amended. This act generally prohibits the unauthorized release of confidential information about individual students; however, directory information usually may be released. For more information, see Confidentiality or contact the Office of the University Registrar, located in Sarah Brunet Memorial Hall.

Sex Offender

In accordance with the Jacob Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act, the Virginia State Police will advise the University of Richmond Police Department if a registered sex offender is employed, carries a vocation, or is a student at the University of Richmond. This information is also available at the Virginia State Police Sex Offender registry.

Sexual Misconduct

As an educational institution, the University of Richmond values a learning community in which all members feel secure, physically and intellectually. Behavior that harms others or threatens campus security challenges the institution's key mission to "sustain a collaborative learning and research community that supports the personal development of its members and the creation of new knowledge." Sexual misconduct is such behavior and is prohibited at the University of Richmond. Sexual misconduct is a broad range of behavior that includes but is not limited to non-consensual sexual intercourse, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, and stalking.
As a recipient of federal funds, the University of Richmond complies with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX). Title IX provides: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

This sexual misconduct policy ("Policy") also applies to sexual misconduct complaints involving applicants for admission, or students aggrieved by third parties such as contractors or vendors serving the University.

For cases involving students, either as the victim or the accused, contact:

Kerry Albright Fankhauser Deputy Title IX Coordinator and Associate Dean for Westhampton College at (804) 287-6646 or Dan Fabian Deputy Title IX Coordinator and Associate Dean for Richmond College at (804) 289-8835.

For cases involving faculty or staff as the victim, contact:

Carl Sorensen Title IX Coordinator and Associate Vice President of Human Resource at (804) 289-8166.

Further information about Title IX and sexual discrimination in education is available from the Office of Civil Rights, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC, 20202-1100; 800-421-3481; OCR@ed.gov. Additional information is located at studentdevelopment.richmond.edu/sexual-misconduct/index.html.

Standards of Conduct

The University of Richmond considers cultivation of self-discipline and resolution of issues through process of reason to be of primary importance in the educational process and essential to the development of responsible citizens. All members of the University community have a responsibility to comply with local, state, and federal laws and with all published University policies and regulations. In a community of learning, individual or group conduct that is unlawful disrupts or interferes with the educational processes, causes destruction of property, or otherwise infringes upon the rights of others or of the University itself cannot be tolerated.

The trustees of the University of Richmond have authorized a policy statement on standards of conduct, penalties, and disciplinary procedures to guide the conduct of students and their guests. This statement sets forth those standards of conduct that the University of Richmond deems essential for fulfilling its educational mission. Any person who violates the standards of conduct and regulations of the University of Richmond shall be subject to disciplinary action and, if need be, legal action. Disciplinary action may range from disciplinary warning up to and including suspension or expulsion from the University. Sanctions will be imposed after proper determination has been made in accordance with established disciplinary procedures of the University, with fair procedures observed and with appropriate appeal procedures available, as outlined in the policy statement and any approved revisions thereof.

A copy of this policy statement and/or any officially approved revisions thereof is readily available in the Student Handbook for each student who matriculates. All members of the University community should familiarize themselves with this policy statement and revisions and with any other official publications, handbooks, or announcements issued on occasion by the University of Richmond or by individual colleges and schools of the University.

University Academic Honor Code Statute

The School of Arts and Sciences, the Jepson School of Leadership Studies, and the Robins School of Business each operate under the University Honor Code Statute. Cheating, plagiarism, lying, academic theft, disclosing honor council information, registration irregularity, and failure to report an Honor Code Statute violation are all considered breaches of the code. Any person who violates these standards shall be subject to disciplinary action ranging from reprimand up to and including expulsion from the University. Guilt or innocence will be determined and sanctions imposed, when necessary, according to established procedures, with procedural fairness observed and with appropriate appeal procedures available. The University Honor Code Statute is available from any dean's office.

University Police

The University of Richmond Police Department, a nationally accredited police department, is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for our students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The University of Richmond Police Department provides 24-hour uniformed response to calls for service, provides routine and directed patrol activities, performs vehicular crash investigation, and investigates criminal offenses. Additionally, all police officers are Red Cross First Responder/CPR-certified. Uniformed security officers also assist with building security and other calls for service as needed. All crimes that occur on campus should be reported to the University Police in person or by calling 911, (804) 289-8911 or (804) 289-8715. More information about the police department, including crime statistics, can be found online at police.richmond.edu.

University of Richmond Honor Councils

The University of Richmond Honor Councils provide information about the Honor System to new students and instructs them as to its meaning and operation. During new student orientation, students are given information about the honor system. Each student is required to pass a test to demonstrate an adequate knowledge of the honor system. The University of Richmond Honor Councils' policies and procedures are described in greater detail in the University's Undergraduate Student Handbook and online at studentdevelopment.richmond.edu/student-handbook/index.html.

Written Complaints and Grievances
Students who wish to lodge a complaint or grievance pertaining to University policies, procedures or conditions may address their complaints in written form to the appropriate department head or official who oversees the area of concern. If in doubt as to whom to direct the complaint, the following officials may be contacted:

Academically related concerns:
- School of Arts and Sciences: Dean of Richmond College (Men) Dean of Westhampton College (Women)
- Robins School of Business: Dean of the Robins School of Business
- Jepson School of Leadership Studies: Dean of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies

Housing Concerns:
- Director, Office of Undergraduate Student Housing

Financial Policy Concerns:
- Vice President for Business and Finance

All other concerns:
- Vice President for Student Development

Academic Opportunities and Support

Academic Advising

An important part of a liberal arts education at the University of Richmond is the relationship between a student and his or her academic advisor. All full-time faculty members in the undergraduate schools and some experienced staff members serve as advisors. While some professors advise only majors in their programs, most advise both majors and students who have not yet declared a major. The ratio of students per advisor is intentionally kept low so students can benefit from personal attention as they plan their academic program.

While the University believes that the responsibility for decisions and actions resides with each individual, advisors are available to answer questions about the curriculum and choosing courses and to help students navigate their years at Richmond. They can assist students along the path to choosing a major, examining career choices, and deciding on research studies or internships. Many graduates report that their advisor was a highly valuable resource to them, and many advisees and advisors remain in touch after the student has left the University.

In addition, the Academic Advising Resource Center (AARC) is available to assist both advisors and advisees with any questions or concerns. For more information about academic advising, contact the AARC at advising.richmond.edu.

Academic Support Centers

Academic Skills Center

The Academic Skills Center, located in the administrative wing of Boatwright Library, provides academic skills support to University of Richmond students. Operating from a holistic vantage point, the Center incorporates counseling and academic skills techniques (e.g., exam preparation, critical reading, critical thinking, note-taking, information processing, concentration, time management, etc.), that address the academic performance of students and their social adjustment to the University environment. The Center offers free tutoring in a variety of subjects (e.g., calculus, chemistry, accounting, etc.) to students through its Peer Academic Skills Tutoring program. Both individual and group tutoring options are available. Call (804) 289-8626, visit asc.richmond.edu or come by the Center for more information.

Weinstein-Jecklin Speech Center

Practice and preparation can make the difference between a satisfactory speech and a memorable one. Video recording, review, and peer consultation are available at the speech center to assist students in the development of their oral presentations. Administrators, faculty, and staff rely on the speech center as well to prepare for workshops and to record small group discussions for classroom purposes. The student consultant staff assists client peers with mock interviews, symposia presentations, brainstorming, or conference panel practice sessions.

Faculty and trained undergraduate students conduct consultations daily at the speech center; practice sessions are available evenings and weekends by appointment. Reservations are made through the speech center's Web site at speech.richmond.edu. The speech center is located on the fourth floor of Weinstein Hall between the departments of rhetoric and communication studies and journalism.

Writing Center

The Writing Center offers assistance to students writing papers and reports as well as to those making applications to graduate and professional schools and preparing résumés. Beginning about the third week of each semester, the Writing Center is open on a regular basis and staffed with student tutors. Students may make an appointment using the center's online calendar. The Writing Center also offers typing instruction and special tutoring for international students. The center is located in the Boatwright Library's Administrative Wing, under the bell tower to the right of the library's main entrance. Many of the center's materials and other information can be found at writing.richmond.edu.
Honor Societies

Many honor and professional societies have chapters at the University of Richmond.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest undergraduate honor society in the United States. The Richmond chapter, Epsilon of Virginia, was founded in 1929. Phi Beta Kappa members are selected from the Schools of Arts and Sciences and Leadership based upon academic achievement.

Beta Gamma Sigma is the national honor society for business students. The University of Richmond chapter was founded in 1965. Faculty members select students for membership based on distinguished academic record.

Omicron Delta Kappa is the national leadership honor society. Chartered in 1921, Richmond's ODK chapter recognizes academic achievement, leadership, and membership positions.

Golden Key National Honour Society recognizes and encourages scholastic achievement. Richmond's chapter was chartered in 1990 and provides academic recognition, leadership and community service opportunities, and educational programs for its members.

Mortar Board is a national honor society that recognizes college seniors for distinguished scholarship, leadership, and service. Membership is open to rising seniors by invitation.

In addition to these campus-wide honor societies, many departments sponsor campus chapters of national honor societies in their disciplines. Information regarding departmental honor societies can be obtained from individual departments.

WILL Program (Women Involved in Living and Learning)

WILL is a four year, nationally recognized program for women interested in exploring gender and diversity issues both in and out of the classroom. Students strengthen their leadership skills as they actively work to create a more equitable world. The first program of its kind, WILL has been replicated by schools around the country.

WILL consists of three complementary components:

1. Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies (WGSS) minor
   a. The WGSS minor serves as the cornerstone of the WILL curriculum, providing a theoretical framework for the examination of gender, societal institutions, individual beliefs and a wide range of social justice struggles and achievements.

2. Leadership
   a. WILL students develop leadership skills and gain real-world experience over the course of the four-year program.
   b. Students apply academic knowledge to social problems in the campus community, the city of Richmond and beyond.
   c. Students are involved in active decision-making through the WILL student leadership organization, which includes an elected board and student committees.

3. Gender and Diversity-Related Events
   a. WILL sponsors events throughout the year, including an annual speaker series, that bring prominent women and men to campus to discuss gender and diversity-related topics.
   b. WILL students meet with scholars and activists in small groups in order to learn more about the speakers' expertise in a more intimate setting.

The WILL program fosters a deeper understanding of gender and its intersections with race, culture, class, sexuality, and other aspects of social identity. By connecting students with one another, and to a strong and supportive network of faculty, staff, students, alumnae, and community mentors, WILL students develop critical thinking, problem-solving, and leadership skills. In addition, WILL provides opportunities for women to explore career and life choices that enable them to excel and realize their full potential.

Applications are accepted during the summer and in the fall of a student's first year at the University of Richmond. Subject to space availability, sophomore women may also apply. For further information, visit WILL's website at will.richmond.edu.

Sophomore Scholars-in-Residence

Beginning August 2009, the University will offer several unique living and learning communities designed to enhance student learning beyond traditional methods. Sophomore students will be invited to live in special learning communities in Lakeview Residence Hall that revolve around a central theme. Residents take a credit-bearing class together that meets in a classroom/kitchen area located on the first floor of Lakeview Hall. Students are actively involved in experiential and social activities outside of class time with the professor. Themes may include politics, foreign language, outdoor adventures, civic engagement, and literature. Questions can be directed to the vice president for student development.
Confidentiality/Privacy/Right to Know

University of Richmond procedures and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) prohibit the unauthorized release of confidential information about individual students. However, directory information is not considered to be confidential and may be published or otherwise released. Directory information includes: name; addresses, including permanent, campus, local (off-campus), email, and campus computer network (IP) address; associated telephone numbers; date and place of birth; school or college; major and/or minor fields of study; degree sought; expected date of completion of degree requirements and graduation; degrees conferred; awards and honors (e.g., dean's list); full- or part-time enrollment status; dates of attendance; previous institutions attended; activities and sports; weight and height of members of an athletic team; and photograph. A full list of information considered directory information is available on the Office of the University Registrar’s web page at registrar.richmond.edu/ferpa/index.html or by contacting the Office of the University Registrar. Students may opt to have their directory information withheld. To exercise this option, the appropriate form must be obtained from the Office of the University Registrar, completed, and returned to that office. Once filed, this form remains in effect until withdrawn by the student in writing to the Office of the University Registrar. For further information, contact the Office of the University Registrar.

Rights with Respect to Education Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. Access to Education Records: students have the right to inspect and review their education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a written request for access. Students should submit their request to the Office of the University Registrar and specify the record(s) they wish to inspect. Arrangements will be made for access and the student notified of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. Request for Amendment of Education Records: students have the right to request amendment of their education records if they believe the records are inaccurate. They should write the University Registrar, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. Disclosure of Education Records: students have the right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interest. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

Upon request, the University discloses records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. Right to File a Complaint: Students have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University of Richmond to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-4605

The University's complete policy statement can be found on the University Registrar's web page at registrar.richmond.edu/ferpa/statement/index.html

Note: Because of the access afforded by a University ID, this number is not considered directory information and will not be released without a student's consent except in situations as listed above. Students should treat the University ID as confidential—it should be protected and not carelessly shared with others. It will be used for a student's entire time at the University of Richmond, so it should always be treated in a confidential manner.

Right To Know

In accordance with the Student Right To Know and Campus Security Act, the University of Richmond makes graduation rates available to all current and incoming students. These figures can be found on the University's website at ifx.richmond.edu/research/fact-book.html.
International Education

The academic programs of the schools of arts and sciences, business, and leadership studies provide opportunities for the study of international subjects within academic fields long associated with such issues as political science, anthropology, and languages and literatures. Importantly, in response to changes in the world and in higher education, the University has committed itself to the internationalization of the curriculum as a whole. There is a large and growing number of courses in all departments that include international components. Interdisciplinary majors such as environmental studies, German studies, American studies, and international studies also examine international and global issues and regional politics that may cross national borders. Students interested in international issues can combine a major in a traditional academic discipline with an interdisciplinary program, for example, international studies and biology. The curricula of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies and the Robins School of Business also offer a significant number of courses that are international in scope and focus, including the concentration in international business in the Robins School of Business.

The University of Richmond places strong emphasis on the integration of international education into the academic and co-curricular experience of all students. To that end, the Office of International Education (OIE) organizes activities and events such as lectures, concerts, discussion groups, study abroad fair, and an annual international film series. The OIE also organizes a biannual faculty seminar abroad program designed to enhance the international experience and expertise of its faculty to further internationalize the curriculum. An International Resource Center with travel, work, and volunteer information is located in the OIE.

Campus Activities

The University of Richmond provides a wide range of on-campus activities and events in support of international education. Courses, lectures, and seminars are offered by resident and visiting international scholars, writers, and artists. Exhibits, concerts, and the annual International Film Series bring to campus arts from around the world. Students are able to participate in a variety of international organizations such as the Asian Students Association, Multicultural Student Union, International Club, Model United Nations, Phi Beta Delta, Amnesty International, and Americans for Informed Democracy. Familiarization with other countries and cultures is enhanced on campus through contacts with a significant and growing number of international students, including exchange students from Richmond’s partner institutions who are fully integrated into the life of the University.

Study Abroad

The University of Richmond has relationships with over 70 distinguished universities and study abroad programs around the world. These study abroad opportunities enhance Richmond’s curriculum by offering students a wide variety of courses and experiences. Students who meet the stated eligibility criteria as stated on the UR study abroad Web page can be considered for study abroad for a semester, year, or summer. With faculty approval, students may earn major, minor, and elective credits toward graduation. Each year a few short faculty led programs abroad related to specific courses are offered during semester break periods.

At the University of Richmond, we believe that study abroad is most effective when students are integrated into the local educational system and culture. Therefore, most Richmond semester programs involve direct enrollment in universities abroad with on-site support provided by the host university’s international office. Professional staff offer guidance, advising, and support throughout the entire study abroad process. The office organizes extensive orientation programs to help prepare students prior to departure. Upon return from study abroad, the OIE organizes a re-entry event to help reintegrate students into the University community and to identify opportunities for continuing international education on campus and in the community.

Direct experience of cultures is the best way to learn to communicate across barriers of language, customs, politics, and geography. An encounter with different values and educational systems, when supported by good will and serious study, broadens students’ understanding of the complexities of our rapidly changing world. Students who study abroad find their experiences both in and out of the classroom to be stimulating and rewarding. They return with a better understanding not only of other cultures, but also of their own.

While study abroad has long been recognized as a significant component of a liberal arts education, today students majoring in the sciences, leadership studies, or business are actively participating in study abroad in growing numbers. Study abroad is possible and encouraged for all students, regardless of their major and financial situation. Students who meet required procedures and standards may transfer up to 5.5 units per semester from study abroad and graduate with their class in four years. It is a common misconception that proficiency in a foreign language is necessary for study abroad. It is, in fact, quite feasible to study in English in non-English-speaking countries where English is widely used and courses in English are offered. It is also possible to combine intensive study of a foreign language with other courses taught in English.

Early planning (http://international.richmond.edu/semester/apply/index.html) is crucial to any successful study abroad experience. The selection of an appropriate program must take into account the student’s academic background and personal interests. Students are encouraged to begin exploring the opportunities for foreign study as early as the first year and to plan their University of Richmond courses accordingly. When deciding when and for how long to study abroad, a variety of options can be considered. Richmond students have opportunities to study abroad for a year, a semester, or a summer, in the second, third, or even the fourth year. Combining summer study after the first year with semester or year study abroad during the third year is among the best choices.
There are a number of study abroad options. During the academic year there are opportunities to study through the University's exchange and affiliate programs worldwide (http://international.richmond.edu/about/partners.html). During the summer, the University of Richmond School of Professional and Continuing Studies (http://spcs.richmond.edu/summer/abroad.html) sponsors a number of summer study abroad programs directed by Richmond faculty. Internships are available in Australia, England, Germany, Ireland, Mexico, and South Africa. The University invests considerable resources to create study abroad programs consistent with the standards and educational objectives of this university and the needs of its students. Richmond students will be expected to enroll in Richmond programs, unless there is a compelling reason why a Richmond program does not meet a student's academic needs. Decisions regarding petitions for non-Richmond semesters abroad are made by a subcommittee of the International Education Committee, in collaboration with the OIE and the departments from which the student is seeking academic credit. See OIE web page for information on deadlines by which such petitions must be submitted. Transfer credits for semester study abroad will be awarded only for preapproved programs.

After an appropriate study abroad program has been selected, each student should meet the established admission criteria as listed on the OIE study abroad Web page. Students are expected to meet deadlines and follow procedures as stated on the study abroad web site. Students are required to indicate a second choice in the study abroad application in case placement in the first choice is not possible due to eligibility concerns or if the program is full.

Maintenance of status as a current student can be assured only if the program is approved and the student maintains a full-time course load abroad. Credit transfer for study abroad can be assured only if the program and courses have been approved and an equivalent grade of C or better is earned. Credit for repeat courses or in disciplines not taught at Richmond will not be granted. Please see the Academic Procedures section (http://undergradutecatalog.richmond.edu/procedures/) for additional administrative information.

For specific information on financial aid (http://financialaid.richmond.edu/undergrad/study-abroad.html) for study abroad, consult the Office of Financial Aid. Almost all financial aid is transferable to University of Richmond academic semester and year programs. See studyabroad.richmond.edu/for more information.

International Student Advising

The Office of International Education is the primary "port of call" for international students, scholars, and visitors before and during their stay at the University. Immigration, employment, health insurance, academic, cultural, and practical matters are addressed by the staff in consultation with relevant academic departments and administrative units of the University. In order to help international students and scholars integrate to the University and the United States, the office organizes orientation sessions as well as cultural and social activities throughout the year.

Academic Procedures

The University of Richmond has, for each academic program, procedures and degree requirements that must be satisfied before the degree can be granted. The student is responsible for knowing the specific requirements and planning appropriately to allow for the completion of these requirements. Depending on the program, the University provides either or both academic advisors and administrative personnel to assist students with their plans. In any case, the final responsibility for following procedures and meeting degree requirements rests solely with the student.

The following sections describe academic policies, regulations, and procedures. If no indication of school is given, that section pertains universally to the School of Arts and Sciences, the Robins School of Business, and the Jepson School of Leadership Studies. When a statement pertains to a particular school or schools, it is listed under the appropriate school heading.

Advanced Standing

Credit by Examination

The University of Richmond accepts several credit-by-examination options. All students at the University may apply for a maximum of seven units of transfer credit from work, including credit by exam, to a University of Richmond degree. The following are guidelines for the most common examinations warranting credit. Specific details regarding each of these options and advanced standing examinations from French, German, and English-based educational systems can be found in the Credit by Exam policy. This policy is available from the Office of the University Registrar and the Office of Admission. Both offices will further serve students with international exams on a case by case basis.

Advanced Placement

The University of Richmond participates in the Advanced Placement program of the College Board. Successful candidates for admission who have taken Advanced Placement examinations and have the official results submitted may be eligible for credit or an exemption. The exams must have been taken prior to the student's initial enrollment at the University. Students who have received appropriate scores on Advanced Placement examinations (as established by the departments concerned) may receive credit for or may be exempt from a general education requirement if the Richmond equivalent courses for which they will receive credit can be used by Richmond students to meet... fields of study requirements. Specific allocations of AP credit for communication skills or fields of study requirements may vary from year to year. Current information is available from the Office of the University Registrar.

CLEP

The University of Richmond awards credit on a limited basis for an acceptable performance on a College Level Examination Program (CLEP) examination recognized by the University academic department concerned. Generally a student may not attempt credit by examination for a course in which a failing grade was received or for a basic course in an area in which acceptable college credit has been earned at a more advanced level. Students who have received appropriate scores on CLEP examinations (as established by the departments concerned) may receive course credit that satisfies fields-of-study requirements of the general education requirements, if the Richmond courses for which they will receive credit can be used by Richmond students to meet fields-of-study requirements. Specific allocations of CLEP credit for communication skills or fields-of-study requirements may vary from year to year. Arrangements to take CLEP examinations may be made with the College Board. Current information is available from the Office of the University Registrar.

Credit By Local Examination

Credit by local examination may be used to satisfy general education requirements in the areas of communication skills and fields of study, as well as to satisfy major requirements or use as elective credit. Students should check with departments for examination dates, fees and related regulations.

International Baccalaureate

The University of Richmond considers only Higher Level exams in the International Baccalaureate (IB) program eligible for credit. The University may award credit or give an exemption for certain general education requirements if the requisite score is achieved and the test has been recognized by the academic department concerned. Specific allocations of IB credit for communication skills or fields-of-study requirements may vary from year to year. Detailed information on current IB policies is available from the Office of the University Registrar.

Credit for U.S. Armed Services Veterans

In accordance with the recommendations of the American Council on Education, the following advanced credit will be allowed veterans:

A veteran may receive credit for specialized training courses and for correspondence courses taken from accredited colleges under the auspices of the U.S. Armed Forces Institute. A veteran desiring such credit should present the record of training to the University Registrar either on the transcript form of the college at which the work was taken, or on the form prepared for such purposes by the U.S. Armed Forces Institute. In cases of question, the appropriate academic council will determine the amount of credit to be granted.

In allowing further advanced credit for educational experience in the armed services, the University is guided largely by recommendations of the American Council on Education.

Transfer Credit

Credit in transfer may be accepted only for courses which are comparable to courses offered in the School of Arts and Sciences, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, and/or Robins School of Business curriculum at the University of Richmond. Moreover, the coursework must have been taken at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting agency or the international equivalent at the time the work was taken, and a grade or equivalent of C (2.0) or better must have been earned.

Approved credit earned at another institution will be converted to the University of Richmond unit (one unit is the equivalent of 3.5 semester hours) and applied to the record accordingly. Up to five 3-semester hour courses will be transferred in as one unit; additional 3-semester hour courses will be transferred in as .86 units. Coursework accepted in transfer shall be applied to specific degree requirements subject to the discretion of the academic department concerned. Units awarded are added into units required for graduation, but grades are not calculated in the grade point average.

Students entering the University of Richmond as first-year students must complete 28 units of University of Richmond-approved work toward the undergraduate degree, which includes approved exchange and study abroad programs, approved visiting away and off-campus programs as well as courses taken through dual degree and cross-registration programs. Students entering as first-year students must complete at least 17.5 units in residence at the University of Richmond.

Students entering the University of Richmond as transfer students (having matriculated after graduation from high school as a degree-seeking student at another post-secondary institution) with at least 6.82 units of transfer work will have the 28-unit requirement prorated.

Transfer students who attended another institution for one year must earn 23 units of University of Richmond-approved work toward the undergraduate degree which includes approved exchange and study abroad programs, approved visiting away and off-campus programs as well as courses taken through dual degree and cross-registration programs.
Transfer students who attended another institution for one year must complete at least 17.5 units in residence at the University of Richmond.

Transfer students who have attended another institution for one and one half years must earn 20.5 units of University of Richmond-approved work toward the undergraduate degree which includes approved exchange and study abroad programs, approved visiting away and off-campus programs as well as courses taken through dual degree and cross-registration programs. Transfer students who attended another institution for one and one half years must complete at least 17.5 units in residency at the University of Richmond with one exception: they may apply up to 1 unit earned on an approved exchange or study abroad program towards the 17.5-unit residency requirement.

Transfer students who attended another institution for two or more years must earn 17.5 units in residence at the University of Richmond with one exception: they may apply up to 4 units earned on an approved exchange or study abroad program towards the 17.5-unit residency requirement.

First Year Students Bringing in Credit

Students who enroll as first-years may bring in no more than seven units of credit, including credit by examination and transfer credit, to be applied toward their University of Richmond degree. Additional transfer work can be entered on the transcript and can be used to fulfill prerequisite requirements (not general education requirements), but only seven units of credit will count toward a degree.

Credit in transfer may be accepted only for courses which are comparable to courses offered in the School of Arts and Sciences, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, and/or Robins School of Business curriculum at the University. Moreover, the coursework must have been taken at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting agency or the international equivalent at the time the work was taken, and a grade or equivalent of C (2.0) or better must have been earned. Work taken through other institutions prior to initial enrollment is evaluated on an individual basis. Not all departments will accept work taken as a part of a high school program even if transcripted by an accredited institution. In order for work taken at another institution to be evaluated for transfer credit, the University must receive an official transcript mailed directly from the institution at which the work was completed. The student and transferring institution must also complete the Transfer Work Certification form available from the Office of the University Registrar.

No transfer credit shall be formally accepted or recorded until the University has received an official transcript directly from the records office of the institution which offered the coursework. If coursework is being transferred from more than one institution, an official transcript must be received from each institution. For applicability of transfer work to general education requirements, see General Education Curriculum.

Transcripts and documents from other institutions are the property of the University of Richmond and, as such, are under the control of the Office of the Registrar. Under federal policy, a student has the right to view the documents in his or her file; the University is not required to provide (or allow the making of) copies of these documents. Transcripts submitted to the University of Richmond for admission or credit transfer become the property of the University of Richmond and cannot be returned to the student or forwarded to other institutions.

Registration Policies

Registration

Registration is limited to admitted, degree-seeking students unless specific approval is granted for unclassified status.

Students shall register by following the policies.

Note: A student is not fully registered for any term until satisfactory arrangements have been made for that term's fees.

Late registrations may be accepted subject to the policies for adding classes, as indicated in the section titled Change of Registration. A special fee is required.

Enrollment

Students are not technically enrolled until the first day of class in a semester. Verification of enrollment cannot be made until that time.

Prerequisites

Students should consult the catalog and/or department for required prerequisites before registering for a course. Successful registration for a course does not mean that prerequisites have been fulfilled. A student registered in a course without the required prerequisites may be unenrolled from the course.

Limits of Work

A student normally enrolls for four or five units per semester. The minimum load for a full-time student is 3.5 units.

No student may enroll for more than 5.5 units or fewer than 3.5 units of work without the permission of the dean of his or her school. (Arts and Sciences - see coordinate college dean; Business and Leadership Studies - see academic dean.) Enrollments in either category are subject to special charges as specified in the Financial Affairs section. Students enrolled for fewer than 3.5 units are classified as part time.

School of Professional and Continuing Studies Courses

Courses taken through the School of Professional and Continuing Studies after students have been admitted may not be used to meet general education requirements and may be used to meet major requirements only with special permission from the department chair. Courses in the School of Professional and Continuing Studies will be granted unit credit that is equivalent to the semester hours granted for the course. In order to apply to the bachelor's degree, courses must taken at the undergraduate level.

Students may take no more than one School of Professional and Continuing Studies course per semester and no more than four courses in cumulative total during their undergraduate degree. School of Professional and Continuing Studies courses are not available to Arts and Sciences,
Business, or Leadership Studies students for registration until the first day of class and only on a space available basis.

Change of Registration

Students are able to register for classes through BannerWeb, a secured Web site that may be accessed over the Internet at bannerweb.richmond.edu or through the University’s website. Through BannerWeb, students can register for classes, add and drop classes through the end of add/drop period, view their class schedules, view grades for a specific term, and view their unofficial University of Richmond transcript. Students are responsible for all activity on their BannerWeb account including PIN maintenance, registration, and security. If a student has questions or needs assistance with any aspect of BannerWeb, he or she should contact the Office of the University Registrar at (804) 289-8639 or registrar@richmond.edu.

Once registered, students may change their registration (add/drop) according to the published schedule. For a regular term, adds and withdrawals without academic record may generally be made during the first two weeks of classes (a change fee of $10 is charged for each change made after the first week of classes). After the end of the first 10 days of classes, but before the end of the seventh week, a withdrawal-with-record period is in effect where students may withdraw from courses provided that they receive the permission of the appropriate course instructor and academic advisor. Students will be required to pay the fee for change in class and will receive an M grade if failing at the time of withdrawal or a W grade if passing at the time of withdrawal. Ordinarily, a student may not withdraw from a course after the end of the seventh week of classes except for medical reasons. The student's dean may, under special circumstances, make an exception to this policy.

Auditing Courses

Auditing a course means that the course instruction is undertaken but not for credit or a grade. With the approval of the student's academic advisor, dean, and the instructor of the course, a student may declare a course to be taken on an audit basis. A permission form must be obtained from and returned with appropriate signatures to the Office of the University Registrar by the end of the 10th day of classes. The student must first register for the course and then file the permission form. The regular rate of tuition is charged, and the audit course is counted as a part of the student's semester load. Once the form is submitted to the University Registrar, the decision may not be reversed. An audited course cannot subsequently be taken for credit unless approved by the appropriate dean.

Pass/Fail Option

School of Arts and Sciences and Jepson School of Leadership Studies (excluding leadership studies courses)
(Not available to business students)

An arts and sciences or leadership studies student who has completed at least 18 units of academic work may opt for one normally standard-graded course per semester to be graded on a pass/fail basis or if more than one course not more than one unit of total credit. The resulting credit may only be used to count as total credit toward a degree, and cannot be used to satisfy any general education requirement or any major or minor requirement. No Jepson School of Leadership Studies or Robins School of Business courses may be taken for pass/fail grading except those in the Department of Economics. No more than four student-opted pass/fail courses are acceptable for degree credit.

Note: Some courses are only available as pass/fail courses, such as internships, student teaching, and some research courses. The restrictions stated above do not apply to such courses.

The level of performance necessary to earn a pass grade in a student-opted pass/fail course is D- or better. A passing grade will be recorded as P on the permanent record. The credit will be added into credit earned toward graduation and will not affect the grade point average. A failing grade will be recorded as F on the permanent record. The credit will affect the grade point average.

To opt for pass/fail grading, a permission form must be obtained from and returned with appropriate signatures to the Office of the University Registrar by the end of the 10th day of classes. The student must first register for the course and then file the permission form. Once the form is submitted to the University Registrar, the decision may not be reversed.

Repeated Courses

Coursework may not be repeated for credit toward graduation except as sanctioned by the University; however, particular coursework may meet more than one requirement for graduation. An example of a sanctioned repeat-for-credit is the subsequent registration for a course in which the content changes from term to term, such as special topics or independent studies. Also, certain courses in a major or program may have to be repeated if the grade earned the first time does not meet requirements; in such a case, the credit will be counted only once but both grades will be calculated in the cumulative grade point average.

Courses taken on an audit basis cannot be repeated for credit unless approved by the appropriate dean.

Except in clear situations, the Office of the University Registrar should be consulted before registration to learn if a proposed repeat is sanctioned for credit or if sanction is possible.

All courses taken at the University of Richmond become a part of the permanent academic record. The grade for a course repeated at the University of Richmond becomes a part of the grade point average if the grade otherwise would be included in the computation.

Registration Holds

The following holds will prevent students from registering (students can access BannerWeb to check holds): Admissions...
Misrepresenting the reason for class absences to a professor is a violation of the University's honor code.

Note: The health center does NOT provide "medical excuse" notes for students.

A student will be held responsible for all work of a class or laboratory missed during any absence.

Note: Students enrolled in business school or School of Continuing Studies courses must attend at least 75 percent of the class meetings--regardless of the reasons for absence--to be eligible to receive credit for the course.

Religious Observance Policy

The University is a secular institution that values a diversity of religious expression. The University is also an active community with a wide range of personal commitments and academic and extracurricular activities.

Planning for academic and extracurricular activities should be done with sensitivity to the diverse religious commitments of the community and an awareness of religious holidays. Scheduling large-scale, one-time academic or extra-curricular events on a religious holiday should be avoided whenever possible.

Any student may be excused from class or other assignments because of religious observance. A student who will miss an academic obligation because of religious observance is responsible for contacting his or her professor within the first two weeks of the semester. The student is responsible for completing missed work in a timely manner.

Faculty are expected to be mindful of potential conflicts with religious observances and should make reasonable accommodations when students' religious practices conflict with their academic responsibilities.

The religious observance calendar is meant to serve as a scheduling guide. It lists significant holidays from the five largest global faith traditions. However, it is not comprehensive and students may choose to observe a holiday not included on the calendar.

The holidays listed are those which occur during the academic year when the University is open.

Examination

Most classes have examinations at the close of each term, according to a published schedule.

Each student is responsible for taking final examinations as scheduled. No rescheduling, excuse for absence, and/or provision for making up final examinations will occur without the written approval of the student's dean. Such approval shall be made only for illness certified by a physician, participation in authorized University activities, and/or personal emergencies such as death in the family.

Appeals of the rulings associated with the administration of these regulations shall be directed to the student's dean and, if necessary, through that dean to the academic council of the faculty concerned.

Evaluation

Instructors establish grading criteria for their courses and prepare and submit the final course reports (using the grades defined under Grading Policies) to the University Registrar for recording. In the event of a question about the accuracy of the recorded grade, a student should direct inquiries to the instructor.

It is recognized that each class and each student in a class has unique characteristics that the instructor alone is in the best position to evaluate; consequently, except in unusual circumstances, formal appeals to others concerning the evaluation on which a grade is based are not appropriate.

If unusual circumstances appear to have existed that could have affected the evaluation, the student should first bring the matter to the attention of the instructor (if available). If that informal inquiry is impossible, or if its results are disputed, the student may next bring the matter to the attention of the department chair and the instructor, jointly or, for courses in Jepson School of Leadership Studies, to the Associate dean for Academic Affairs.

School of Arts and Sciences and Robins School of Business

In the event of continued dispute, students in the School of Arts and Sciences and the Robins School of Business may formally petition the dean of the school the course is taught in. In the School of Arts and Sciences, the dean, in consultation with department faculty, may present the matter to the academic council for a decision. In the Robins School of Business, the dean, in consultation with department faculty, will present the matter to the academic council for a decision.

Jepson School of Leadership Studies

Faculty members are expected to evaluate student performance based on the criteria and requirements outlined in the course syllabi. All students are to be treated impartially and fairly in relation to those requirements. Students have two bases for a grade appeal: 1) the alleged failure of a faculty member to assign the proper weight as stated in the course syllabus to various parts of the assessment elements that contribute to the final grade; 2) alleged prejudicial treatment of a student in relation to the treatment afforded other students in the course. A student should be prepared to demonstrate a direct link between the circumstances of the awarding of his/her grade and one of the bases above. Should a student have reason to appeal the final grade in a course, the student should first bring the matter to the attention of the instructor (if available). If the results of that inquiry are disputed, the student may next bring the matter to the attention of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs no more than three calendar weeks from the first day of classes of the following semester. In the event of continued dispute, the Academic Affairs Committee will review the complaint and report its findings to the dean.

Grading Policies

The level of student's performance in classwork and examinations is indicated by letters. A (excellent), B (good), C (average), and D (poor) indicate that the work has been passed. The foregoing grades may be accompanied by a plus (+) or minus (-) to indicate a relative position within the grade category. P shows credit has been earned in a pass/fail course, and Z shows that a course was audited. S and U indicate satisfactory or unsatisfactory performance in nonacademic courses. W indicates that the student withdrew from a course with a passing average. Marks indicating failure and included as such in the grade point average are F, M (withdrew from a course with a failing average), and V (failure due to excessive absences). The X indicates that the grade is not available from the instructor.

I and Y mean that coursework has not been completed by the end of the term. The I, which provisionally counts as a failing grade, is given when the reasons for incomplete work are deemed unjustifiable by the instructor. The work is to be made up by the date the instructor specifies, but no later than 45 calendar days from the last day of the term in which the I was given. If the work is not made up during the grace period, the I will be converted to F. The Y, which does not count as a failing grade, is given when the reasons for incomplete work are deemed justifiable by the instructor, or at the end of the first term of a course that continues into a succeeding term. There is no deadline for completion of the work unless the instructor so specifies. In the case of an I or Y, once the make-up grade is received, it appears to the right of the incomplete grade on the permanent record. In all cases, it is the student's responsibility to make arrangements for and progress toward the completion of an incomplete course.

Grade Availability

Grades are due to the Registrar's Office from instructors as specified in the academic calendar published annually by the Office of the University Registrar. They will be available to students as soon as possible after they have been received by the registrar's office. Students may access grades via the Internet by using BannerWeb. Students will need their student ID number and student PIN. Grades are deemed correct unless notification to the contrary is received by the University Registrar within three (3) months after the close of the term specified.

Credit and Grade Point Average

The University of Richmond uses the unit credit value. A unit is determined by a combination of factors that include contact time with a faculty member in a formal setting and expectations of independent student work through a nominal 15-week semester. One unit is the equivalent of 3.5 semester hours. Courses worth .25 units are graded pass/fail only and those worth 0 units are graded satisfactory/unsatisfactory.

The grade point average is based on two factors:

Calculation Points

The grade point average is calculated by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of GPA units. The grade point average is represented to two significant decimal figures and truncated, not rounded.

The accumulations and average are shown each term on the permanent academic record and on the transcript. Also shown on these reports is the accumulation of earned units. Earned units are the academic units in which the student has earned passing grades, plus unit credit, if any, for accepted transfer work.

Academic Reports

Reports of the student's progress are prepared each term in the form of the permanent academic record. The information included is the record of the student's registration and grades, with such other information as may be deemed important. All courses taken at the University of Richmond become a part of the permanent academic record.

Work Taken Elsewhere

This section pertains to students who wish to take academic work elsewhere while actively pursuing a degree at the University of Richmond. Only coursework taken at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting agency or the international equivalent at the time the work was taken will be considered, and a grade or equivalent of C (2.0) or better must have been earned. The unit credit or equivalent as awarded at the other institution will be the units transferred. Units awarded are added into units earned for graduation, but grades are not calculated in the grade point average. (Individuals admitted as transfer students, please see the Advanced Standing section.) Students must complete 28 units of University of Richmond-approved work toward the undergraduate degree, which includes approved exchange and study abroad programs, approved visiting away and off-campus programs as well as courses taken through dual degree and cross-registration programs (transfer students will have this requirement prorated-see section on Transfer Credit). Study in the United States

The student is to obtain the approval of each department chair concerned before taking work elsewhere. The approvals ensure that the work is acceptable to the University, its departmental standards and the student's curriculum. The Office of the University Registrar provides a special form for this purpose and will also answer questions about the procedure.

School of Arts and Sciences and Jepson School of Leadership Studies

While students are expected to obtain approval before taking work elsewhere, work taken without prior approval may be accepted subject to transfer credit policies.

Robins School of Business

The Robins School of Business may approve for transfer credit those courses that meet the following criteria: The course is completed at an institution accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB); the student receives a final course grade of at least C as verified by an official transcript; the approval of the appropriate department chair and dean is obtained. Approvals should be obtained prior to taking the coursework elsewhere. Courses completed at nonaccredited institutions generally are not accepted for credit. Grades for courses taken at another institution are not included in the calculation of the University's grade point average.

Study Abroad

Students wishing to study abroad should contact the Office of International Education for information about the range of opportunities and the procedures they must follow. The procedures ensure that academic work abroad will qualify for transfer credits to the University of Richmond. Only work taken through approved programs will be eligible for transfer credit. Further information about study abroad is presented in the chapter on International Education.

Note: Students should contact the Office of International Education regarding summer abroad programs not offered by the University of Richmond.

Visiting Student Status

Under certain circumstances, students, while not enrolled at the University of Richmond, are granted visiting student status. This status is based on attending a University-approved program of study. To determine if a domestic program is approved, contact the Office of the University Registrar; for study abroad programs, contact the Office of International Education.

Acceptance of Credit

Summer Study Abroad Programs

Only programs with a University of Richmond director or faculty that also are administered by the University are included in this category.

For academic record, degree progress, and grade point average purposes, coursework taken in these programs is treated as if the work were completed on campus except where noted in the program description. There are a number of University study abroad programs including programs in Argentina, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Peru, Spain, and Taiwan. All of the programs above are administered through the University of Richmond Summer School office.

Study Abroad – Degree-seeking Students

Richmond offers its students many opportunities for educational experiences abroad throughout the year.

Degree-seeking students wishing to study abroad during the academic year must apply through the University's Office of International Education (OIE) to participate in one of our exchange or affiliate programs (international.richmond.edu/about/partners.html). Admission to any program is dependent on meeting the eligibility criteria as stated on the study abroad web site, academic fit, and places available. Richmond students may not study at Richmond exchange or affiliate programs and transfer credit back to the University without having been accepted into the program through the OIE.
Richmond invests considerable resources in creating study abroad opportunities consistent with the standards and educational objectives of the University and the needs of its students. Richmond students must study on a Richmond semester abroad program unless they can demonstrate, through a petition process, that no Richmond program meets their academic needs. Petitions are reviewed by a subcommittee of the International Education Committee in collaboration with the OIE and the departments from which the student is seeking academic credit. Transfer credit for non-UR semester study abroad experiences will be awarded only for pre-approved petitions. The deadline for filing a petition to take part in a non-UR program abroad is typically one to two weeks prior to the application deadline for Richmond semester abroad programs. See website for details.

During the summer, the University of Richmond School of Professional and Continuing Studies (spcs.richmond.edu/summer/abroad.html) offers a number of summer study abroad programs directed by Richmond faculty, as well as internships offered on a credit or non-credit basis, in many different countries. Note: Students should contact the Office of International Education regarding summer abroad programs not offered by the University of Richmond.

Academic Standing

General Information

Students are expected to achieve in the classroom and make steady progress toward completion of degree requirements. Relevant designations are specified in the following sections.

Class Standings of Students

The class standing is established at first matriculation and is evaluated after grade posting for each subsequent term of enrollment. The standing is based on units passed including, if applicable, acceptable transfer and/or advanced standing credit. The standings are:

- Year 1
  - 0 - 6.82 units
  - 1.50 GPA
- Year 2
  - 6.83 - 15.40 units
  - 1.70 GPA
- Year 3
  - 15.41 - 23.97 units
  - 1.85 GPA
- Year 4
  - 23.98 or more units
  - 2.00 GPA

If at the end of the second consecutive semester* of enrollment after being placed on academic probation, the student fails to meet the minimum standard based on units then passed, the student shall be allowed to enroll for no more than two units of academic work attempted in which to achieve the minimum requirement. Otherwise, he or she will be suspended from the School of Arts and Sciences or the School of Business.

* Work taken during an entire summer, provided 3.5 units or more are attempted, shall count as a regular semester.

Dean’s List

- School of Arts and Sciences
- Robins School of Business
- Jepson School of Leadership Studies

The Dean’s List of Distinguished Students recognizes outstanding scholars for fall and spring semester. The student must complete at least 3.5 earned units for the semester (excluding P/F units), with no grade below a B- (2.7), and a minimum term GPA of 3.60.

Academic Deficiencies

Academic deficiencies are of two types: academic warning and academic probation.

Academic Warning

At any time when a student’s overall grade point average falls below 2.00, the student automatically will be on academic warning. A student on academic warning should take active steps to improve academic performance.

Academic Probation

Academic reports are evaluated at the end of each grade-posting period. Regardless of the specific provisions for each school stated below, if at the end of any term a student’s record reveals such significant deterioration in performance that extraordinary action is deemed appropriate by the dean of the student’s school or college, that student may be placed on probation, limited in units of enrollment, or recommended for suspension from the school or college regardless of grade point average. In addition, such student may be restricted from participation in certain University activities. While suspended, students may not take classes at other institutions and transfer them back to University of Richmond.

Appeals of rulings associated with the administration of these regulations shall be directed to the relevant academic council.

School of Arts and Sciences and Robins School of Business

A student who falls below the following minimum accumulations of semester units and grade point average (GPA) will be placed automatically on academic probation:

- Year 1 (0- 6.82 units passed) 1.50 GPA
- Year 2 (6.83-15.40 units passed) 1.70 GPA
- Year 3 (15.41-23.97 units passed) 1.85 GPA
- Year 4 (23.98 or more units passed) 2.00 GPA

If at the end of the second consecutive semester* of enrollment after being placed on academic probation, the student fails to meet the minimum standard based on units then passed, the student shall be allowed to enroll for no more than two units of academic work per regular semester or during the entire summer. Such a student has a maximum of four units of work attempted in which to achieve the minimum requirement. Otherwise, he or she will be suspended from the School of Arts and Sciences or the School of Business.

The above provisions notwithstanding, the dean of the student’s college, in circumstances which seem to warrant such action, may allow the student to continue as a full-time student on probation for a single additional semester.

* Work taken during an entire summer, provided 3.5 units or more are attempted, shall count as a regular semester.
Jepson School of Leadership Studies

A student will be placed on academic probation when the student’s leadership studies GPA falls below 2.0 or the student earns a grade below C− (1.7) in a leadership studies course. While on academic probation, a student’s participation in athletics, debating, dramatic or musical organizations, as well as their representation of the University in any public capacity, may be restricted.

If the student does not meet academic standards in the following semester, he or she will be dismissed from the program in leadership studies. The student may request a one-semester extension of the probationary status. The appeal should be directed to associate dean for academic affairs of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies. If granted and the student does not meet all standards after the probationary year, he or she will be dismissed from the program in leadership studies. Any further appeals should be directed to the dean of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies. Upon review of the student’s record and any additional information, the dean will render a final decision.

Withdrawal from the University

Students who plan to withdraw from the University of Richmond must submit an official withdrawal letter to their Dean. The Dean's Office will notify the appropriate offices of the student's withdrawal from the University of Richmond including the actual withdrawal date. Readmission to the University

Students who have withdrawn from the University for whatever reason, other than participating in an approved study abroad, exchange, or visiting away program, and wish to return must make their request for readmission in writing to the dean of the appropriate academic school. Students seeking readmission to the School of Arts and Sciences should contact the dean of Richmond College (men) or dean of Westhampton College (women). Students seeking readmission to the Robins School of Business or the Jepson School of Leadership Studies should contact the associate dean of that school.

Graduation

Qualifications

To graduate a student must meet certain qualifications described below.

Curriculum and Achievement

A candidate for the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree must satisfactorily complete all degree requirements (see Summary of Degree Requirements section) and 35 units. Undergraduate degree candidates must earn a grade point average of not less than 2.00 on all coursework attempted and must receive credit for attendance at assemblies and convocations, as required.

Time Limits

School of Arts and Sciences

There is no time limit in regard to the completion of general education requirements. In the event of catalog changes, a student may choose to fulfill admission and general education requirements for graduation from a subsequent catalog provided all of the requirements of the chosen catalog are met.

Robins School of Business and Jepson School of Leadership Studies

A student must complete the requirements for the degree, as stated in the catalog at the time of entrance, within five years from the date of original entry. Reinstatement to a program after five years requires permission of the academic council of the student’s school. If an extension of time is granted, the student may be required to satisfy the degree requirements in effect at the time of reentrance.

Changes in Catalog Information

Caution: The course offerings and requirements of the University of Richmond are under continual examination and revision. This catalog is not a contract; it merely presents the offerings and requirements in effect at the time of publication and in no way guarantees that the offerings and requirements will not change. The University specifically reserves the right to change requirements for any major, minor, and/or program, and to implement them during any particular year.

The student assumes full responsibility for compliance with all academic requirements. Current course offerings may be obtained from the appropriate department. Current major, minor, program, and degree requirements may be obtained from the University Registrar; the deans' offices of the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Business, and Leadership Studies, and Richmond and Westhampton Colleges; or from the department chair of the appropriate department.

In the event the University adopts new general education and/or major, minor, and program requirements, efforts will be made to accommodate hardships during the transition period.

Declaration of Majors/Minors
All undergraduate degrees at the University of Richmond require satisfactory completion of one major. Multiple majors and/or minors for a single degree also may be pursued, and upon completion will be recorded on the permanent academic record. For dual degree requirements, refer to the Dual Bachelor's Degree section. With the exception of leadership studies and majors and minors within the Robins School of Business, students have the option to declare a major as early as the end of the first year. They are encouraged to declare during the second year, and are expected to declare by the end of the second year.

All declarations of majors and minors must be received in the Office of the University Registrar during the two-week add/drop period to be effective for that term. Declarations received after add/drop will not be processed until the end of the term. For procedures on how to declare majors and/or minors both in the home school and between schools, contact the Office of the University Registrar.

Undergraduate Work Taken After Graduation

Students who have graduated from an accredited college or university and who wish to take undergraduate courses in the liberal arts and sciences during the academic year, but not for degree purposes, should apply to the Office of Admission for acceptance as an unclassified student. Permission to take such classes may be granted on a space-available basis and with due regard for prior achievements. Application for such undergraduate work to be taken in the summer will be received by the summer school office.

Additional majors or minors may be completed after graduation and recorded subject to the following: the student must have a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree from the University of Richmond; all work required to complete the additional major or minor subsequent to graduation must be taken at the University in the School of Arts and Sciences, Robins School of Business, or Jepson School of Leadership Studies; the academic department concerned must certify that the major or minor is complete; and the student must complete the work within two years of graduation unless additional time is granted by the major or minor department concerned, and the department notifies the University Registrar.

Work at the University

To earn an undergraduate degree, a student must complete 28 units of University of Richmond approved work which includes approved exchange and study abroad programs, approved visiting away, dual-degree and off-campus programs as well as courses taken through cross-registration (transfer students will have this requirement prorated—see section on Transfer Credit).

A student must have completed at least 17.5 units of acceptable coursework required for the degree in residence at the University of Richmond (transfer students will have this requirement prorated—see section on Transfer Credit). The last eight units are expected to be included within the 17.5 units required in residence.

In no case may a student count more than 17.5 units from a single subject area toward the minimum number of units necessary for graduation. Students may not apply more than four courses from the School of Professional and Continuing Studies towards their degree.

Note: No degree is conferred if the student's responsibilities to the University have not been met. These responsibilities include, but are not limited to, such matters as the payment of fees, parking fines and library fines, and the return of library books.

Robins School of Business

All transfer students, as part of their degree requirements, must complete at least 12 units of coursework in business/economics within the Robins School of Business.

Jepson School of Leadership Studies

At least 10 of the required 17.5 residence units required for a degree must be taken in the Jepson School of Leadership Studies.

Financial/Administrative Responsibilities

No degree is conferred if the student's responsibilities to the University are in an unsatisfactory condition. Responsibilities in this sense include financial and administrative matters such as, but not limited to, delinquent payments, parking fines, or overdue library books.

Degree Application

To graduate a student must file a degree application with the Office of the University Registrar. Degree applications are to be filed by the second Friday in September for the coming May or August commencement. Those enrolled only in the spring file by the first Friday in February. Students enrolled only in the summer culminating in their graduation file by the third Friday in June. Students planning to graduate in December should file a degree application by the first Friday in February.

If degree requirements are not completed prior to the intended graduation date, the student must file a new degree application according to the schedule above.

Degree applications are available online via BannerWeb and in the Office of the University Registrar.

Attendance At Commencement

Students are required to attend the commencement ceremony for the award of the degree in person except by decision of the University not to do so. A student who expects to have a degree awarded at the spring commencement may request absentia status from the graduation ceremony by explaining in writing the circumstance which prevents participation. Students who have a degree application on file and anticipate summer completion of degree requirements are also expected to participate in the spring graduation ceremony. Students who expect to complete degree requirements in December may participate in the spring commencement either prior to or following their December completion. If a winter or summer degree candidate does not intend to participate in the ceremony a written statement requesting absentia must be submitted. The request for absentia must be received by the University Registrar no later than eight working days before the ceremony. The registrar will notify the degree candidate of the status granted by the University. Unless approved for absentia status a candidate for graduation who does not participate in the commencement ceremony does not graduate. Such candidate may graduate by again filing a degree application and by following the appropriate graduation attendance policy. August degrees are conferred as of the date specified in the academic calendar, and diplomas are mailed to those qualified. December degrees are conferred as of the date specified in the academic calendar. Diplomas for December graduates are mailed to students who have previously participated in the commencement ceremony. Those who will be participating in a future ceremony will receive their diploma at that time.

Degree With Honors (Latin Honors)

General academic honors of three ranks are awarded to members of the graduating classes on the basis of their grade point average on work completed at the University of Richmond.

Second Undergraduate Degree

General Information

A student may earn more than one undergraduate degree either consecutively or concurrently in relation to another undergraduate degree provided the degrees are not alike, e.g., not two B.A.s or two B.S.s. For information on completing one degree with multiple majors, see Declaring Majors/Minors above.

The following policies apply to any student seeking a second undergraduate degree.

Consecutive Bachelor's Degree

A consecutive bachelor’s degree is one which is begun after a first degree has been conferred or after the degree requirements for the first degree have been recorded as completed on the student’s permanent academic record.

A student who wishes to pursue the second bachelor's degree consecutively shall apply to the dean of the school concerned. (Arts and Sciences students should contact the dean of the appropriate coordinate college.) The dean shall make a decision for admission based on the quality of prior work, the favorable recommendation of the intended major department, and space availability. Once admitted, the student's grade point average shall be based only on the work taken at the University of Richmond while pursuing the second degree. The student's dean may limit or deny further registration if the quality of the student's work indicates that at least a 2.00 average will not have been achieved by the time the student has attempted 9 units. A student admitted for a consecutive degree shall be considered a member of the senior class for registration purposes.

To earn a consecutive bachelor's degree, a student must achieve at least a 2.00 grade point average on a minimum of nine additional units of resident academic coursework selected from the catalog of courses. Courses in which a student-opted Pass is earned shall not count in the nine units. In addition, general education requirements appropriate to the degree being sought, as well as requirements for the major, must be met satisfactorily. Work taken for the preceding degree may be considered as transfer credit for the purpose of meeting these requirements; however, at least half of the major must be taken at the University of Richmond, and all other degree requirements must be met as outlined under Graduation, including the 17.5-unit residency requirement.

A student who completes the requirements for the consecutive degree is ineligible for Latin honors, and will not be assigned a graduating class rank.

Concurrent (Dual) Bachelor's Degrees

Dual bachelor's degrees are two different bachelor's degrees that are pursued concurrently and completed at the same time.

A student who wishes to pursue two bachelor's degrees concurrently shall notify the dean of his or her school promptly after the decision is reached. (Arts and Sciences students should contact the dean of the appropriate coordinate college.) Students in the Robins School of Business or the Jepson School of Leadership Studies who desire a second undergraduate degree in the arts and sciences must receive the approval of the dean of the appropriate coordinate college as well as the sanction of the dean of their home school. Even when approved for the second degree, such student remains a member of their home school for academic, administrative and extracurricular purposes.

When two degrees are being sought concurrently, the grade point average computation and all academic policies are administered on the basis of the then-accumulated work for both degrees.

To earn concurrent bachelor's degrees, a student must complete 44 units of academic work plus the additional degree requirements with at least 28.5 units taken at the University of Richmond. In addition, the general education requirements appropriate to each degree being sought, as well as requirements for the majors, must be completed satisfactorily. At the proper time, two degree applications must be submitted simultaneously to the University Registrar. Latin honors, if earned, will be shown on both degrees.
Courses and Curriculum

The University of Richmond provides a collaborative learning and research environment unlike any other in higher education, offering students an extraordinary combination of the liberal arts with law, business, leadership studies, and continuing education.

Small class sizes with zero teaching assistants facilitate close interaction between students and faculty. And learning opportunities such as undergraduate research, study abroad and internships give a hands-on perspective to classroom study.

All first-year undergraduate students also enroll in a First-Year Seminar, which encourages exploration across a wide range of fields, from bioethics and math to art history and English. From the start, a Richmond education gives students the communication and critical thinking skills, the curiosity, and the confidence to pursue opportunities with passion.

General Education Curriculum

A liberal arts education is typically characterized by the development of broad intellectual and cultural interests and by the achievement of a significant body of skills and knowledge. It is the particular responsibility of a general education curriculum to address the first of these goals, the broadening of students' interests, while also laying the foundation for the acquisition of advanced skills and deeper knowledge within optional areas of concentration, normally defined as majors.

So it is at the University of Richmond, where a distinctive general education curriculum has been designed:

- To provide a stimulating and challenging introduction to collegiate life through a first-year seminar courses
- To establish the basic prerequisites of productive scholarship through a set of communication skills requirements
- To familiarize students in a meaningful way with some of the major approaches to intellectual and cultural life through a series of fields of study requirements

This curriculum is offered by a faculty that sees general education as fundamental to its mission. Through its various general education courses, the faculty intends to incorporate each and every student into a community of learners who value and practice the life of the mind. Beginning with their general education courses and continuing through the courses in their major, their elective courses, and their various cocurricular and extracurricular learning experiences, University of Richmond students are expected to develop their ability to think critically and independently, to learn to tolerate ambiguity where true ambiguity exists, and to grow in their respect for and their ability to deal with the kinds of multiplicity that characterize our complex world. The common goal of the University's faculty is the education of independent, responsible, and contributing members of society.

Curriculum

First-Year Seminars

First-Year Seminars (FYS) provide entering students the excitement of engaged learning through a diverse array of seminar topics. With small classes, a variety of topics, and close contact with faculty, First-Year Seminars offer a hands-on introduction to academic inquiry. A wide variety of seminars will be offered each year, drawn from every school of the University. Each entering student will take a FYS 100 course in the fall and spring of the first year. Readmitted students must complete the First Year Seminar requirement within a year of their readmission. First-Year Seminars serve as an introduction to academic inquiry and the modes of expression that lie at the heart of a liberal arts education. They foster habits of mind fundamental to students' intellectual and academic development, including critical reading and thinking, sharing ideas and research through discussion, and the ability to write and think clearly and effectively. Integrating explorations of specific questions and topics with the development of skills, seminars aim to foster intellectual curiosity and students' ability to act on it.

Communication Skills

Ideas and experiences must be communicated if they are to be shared, scrutinized, and transformed into effective knowledge. Toward these ends, the faculty expects each student to develop skills in oral communication and a second language.

Oral Communication

Oral communication is another skill that is essential to both education and life. Students should be able to speak so that their ideas are expressed logically, lucidly, and effectively, and they should be able to provide relevant evidence whenever appropriate. In addition, students should be able to analyze the spoken discourse of others. The general education curriculum at the University of Richmond assists students in these regards by immediately immersing them into frequent and intensive oral exchanges and presentations in the First-Year Seminars and by offering relevant courses, such as Rhetoric and Communication Studies 101, through the Department of Rhetoric and Communication Studies. In addition, many faculty and departments have been increasing the oral communication components in their courses and seminars, with the goal of enhancing this fundamental skill. Their efforts are assisted by the University's Weinstein-Jecklin Speech Center. There is no required course that students must take to fulfill this portion of their general education.

Second Language (COM2)
A second language has become more and more important as the world for which students are preparing themselves has placed increasing demands upon them to understand the national and cultural perspectives of other language groups. The knowledge of a second language is critical for achieving such understanding as well as for exposing the learner to other cultures, in ancient or contemporary guise, that he or she may encounter after graduation. For these reasons, the faculty expects all students to demonstrate functional ability in listening, speaking, reading, and writing in a modern second language or in reading and writing in a classical language. These abilities are appraised either at entrance or through introductory and intermediate courses.

Fields of Study Overview

Fields of study courses introduce students to some of the primary fields or sets of related disciplines within which scholars group phenomena for study. These courses are intended to familiarize students with the kinds of questions raised by scholars within each of these groupings and with the methods by which scholars try to answer such questions. Although fields of study courses are typically offered by individual departments, they have nonetheless been designed and approved with general education as their primary objective. Thus, their scope exceeds the boundaries of singular disciplines insofar as they seek to give explicit attention to the perspectives, ways of thinking and methodological approaches of larger fields of inquiry. In order to give students a broad understanding as well as a basic foundation for further study in any of these fields, the faculty requires students to pass specially designated courses in each of six fields of study: historical studies, literary studies, natural science, social analysis, symbolic reasoning, and visual and performing arts.

Field of Study - Historical Studies (FSHT)

Historical studies examine events and actors of the recent or distant past within the context of the ideas, institutions, social norms, cultural practices, and physical environments out of which they arose. Courses with a historical perspective enable us to understand the values and institutions of disparate societies and cultures as they have developed over time. By emphasizing the critical analysis of sources and the interrelationships among ideas, institutions, social structures, and events within one or more interpretive frameworks, these courses foster students’ awareness of the methods and perspectives for understanding past societies and cultures in historical context. Courses that focus narrowly on the history of a discipline, that only use chronology as an organizational structure, or that do not stress the context in which ideas and events occurred fall outside the category of historical studies.

Field of Study - Literary Studies (FSLT)

The field of literary studies concerns itself with verbal texts read as structures of meaning. While language is a practical tool for thought and communication of many sorts, the particular focus of literary studies is on linguistic creations as meaningful in themselves and not purely as documents that record meaning outside themselves.

Courses satisfying the literary studies requirement are centrally concerned with the textual analysis of primary works. They consider a variety of interpretive frameworks and attend to one or more collateral areas of investigation, including the study of the process by which texts are created and received, the historical and cultural contexts in which they are created and received, and their relationships to each other and to other fields of experience and analysis. The field of literary studies brings its perspectives and methods to bear on imaginative and nonimaginative works alike.

Field of Study - Natural Science (FSNB, FSNC, FSNP)

The field of natural science is concerned with the physical universe from subatomic to cosmic levels of organization, including inanimate as well as living systems, their structure, diversity, interaction, and evolution. Based upon the generation and testing of hypotheses, scientific inquiry is restricted to the study of repeatable, measurable, and verifiable phenomena. Within this field, knowledge may be gained either by controlled experiment or diligent observation, depending upon the phenomena being studied. Similarly, some of the field's methodologies rely upon quantitative analysis, while others are primarily qualitative.

The natural science requirement is designed to enhance students' appreciation of the beauty of science as well as their understanding of the challenges of doing science. Students gain experience in the formulation and testing of hypotheses and are introduced to scientific methodology. The natural science requirement consists of a single laboratory course selected from the three areas of science represented at the University of Richmond, namely, chemistry, physics, and the biological sciences.

Field of Study - Social Analysis (FSSA)

Social analysis is the systematic study of individual and social human behavior. This field of study involves a systematic theoretical and empirical examination of the patterns of human behavior within or across various societies and cultures.

Courses satisfying this requirement focus on human behavior. They teach students to analyze individual and group behavior by using a variety of theoretical and empirical frameworks. All courses in this field of study must include the reading of or involve students in research on patterns of human behavior. Courses that employ social contextual analysis for purposes of providing a frame of reference for the study of other phenomena, such as literary texts, works of art, etc., do not fulfill this requirement.

Field of Study - Symbolic Reasoning (FSSR)

As a field of study, symbolic reasoning is distinguished by its attention to internal logical consistency and by its wide external applicability. This field of study emphasizes symbolic problem solving, a process that includes translating problems into terms that are amenable to treatment within a symbolic system; understanding consistent rules by which the information relevant to the problem may be processed in order to obtain a solution; recognizing important underlying principles that govern the application of these rules; and judging both the appropriateness of known solution methods to a particular problem and the quality or reasonableness of the solution obtained.

Courses in this field of study aim to develop in students the skills to obtain valid solutions using one or more symbolic systems, the ingenuity to translate new problems into appropriate terms for such systems, and the persistence to carry a solution method through to completion. The focus of a symbolic reasoning course should be on understanding the symbolic system and how it can be used to develop problem-solving tools rather than on the tools themselves. Applications of these tools, while a welcome addition, should not be the primary objective of the course.

Field of Study - Visual and Performing Arts (FSVP)

The field of visual and performing arts considers questions having to do with the forms, traditions, meaning, and historical contexts of works in visual and performance media and explores issues of method, process, and personal resources in the media.

Courses satisfying this requirement are centrally concerned with the roles of creation and interpretation in the study of art. They develop in students an enhanced understanding of art both by fostering their intellectual appreciation of works of art and by involving them in the creative process. These courses are suffused with the notion that the arts are a powerful and profound influence on human perception and understanding.

Conclusion

In addition to the fundamental educational experiences represented by these requirements, the faculty recognizes that thoughtful reflection upon an even wider range of topics and issues such as those that pertain to gender, race, ethics, international perspectives, and other matters, is an important component in the education of Richmond students. While some of these topics and issues may be addressed in one or another course in the general education curriculum, the faculty feels strongly that they are best treated - sometimes focally, sometimes incidentally - within many different courses, outside as well as inside that curriculum. By addressing them in a variety of ways, from a variety of viewpoints, and with a variety of voices across the entire curriculum, the faculty as a whole will ensure that students are aware of the many complex and serious ways in which these issues touch their lives and the lives of others.

Note: Courses meeting general education requirements are approved by the General Education Committee and denoted with the appropriate code following the course description in this catalog, as well as in the schedule of classes, published each semester on BannerWeb. A course will only meet the general education requirement if approved and the corresponding code is noted on the schedule of classes for the semester in which the class is completed. The codes are as follows:

- FYS - First-Year Seminar
- COM2 - Communication Skills - Second Language
- FSHT - Field of Study: Historical Studies
- FSLT - Field of Study: Literary Studies
- FSNB - Field of Study: Natural Science, Biological Sciences
- FSNC - Field of Study: Natural Science, Chemistry
- FSNP - Field of Study: Natural Science, Physics
- FSSA - Field of Study: Social Analysis
- FSSR - Field of Study: Symbolic Reasoning
- FSVP - Field of Study: Visual and Performing Arts

Summary of General Education Requirements

Summary

Courses used to satisfy the First-Year Seminars and the communication skills requirement of the general education requirements may not be used to meet the fields of study requirements for the degree. The First-Year Seminars must be taken in the first year of matriculation.

First-Year Seminars

A student may satisfy this requirement by passing two FYS 100 seminar courses. The same seminar topic may not be repeated more than once for credit.

First Year Seminar Policy for Students Transferring to Richmond

Students who are admitted to the University of Richmond as transfer students with 6.82 or more transferable units are exempt from the First Year Seminars.

Students transferring with less than 6.82 units*, excluding credit for advanced standing, must meet the following First-Year Seminar requirement(s)

- 1-3.13 transferable units: must take two First Year Seminars during the first two semesters of enrollment.
- 3.14-6.81 transferable units: must take one First Year Seminar during the first semester of enrollment. May take an additional First Year Seminar in the second term of enrollment, if desired.

*Note: Students are only accepted as transfer students with less than 6.82 transferable units on an exception basis. These students must demonstrate exceptional qualifications.

Communication Skills II - Second Language

A student may satisfy this requirement in a modern or classical language by meeting one of the following alternatives:

1. Passing the intermediate (221 or 202) level of one language (credit varies from 1-2 units depending on the intensity of the course).
2. Presenting a score of 3, 4, or 5 on a modern language Advanced Placement exam taken prior to initial enrollment (student would receive an exemption, but no credit, for a score of 3; the credit varies for a score of 4 or 5); presenting a score of 4 or 5 on the Latin Advanced Placement exam (carries 1 unit of credit).

3. Presenting a score of 5, 6, or 7 on an IB Higher Level exam in a modern language (credit varies).

4. Presenting an acceptable score on the SAT-II Subject Test - Language taken prior to initial enrollment (carries no credit).

5. Achieving an acceptable score on a departmental placement exam (carries no credit).

6. For non-native English speakers, submission of TOEFL scores for admission (carries no credit).

Fields of Study

A student may satisfy the fields of study requirements by passing one approved course in each of the areas of historical studies, literary studies, social analysis, symbolic reasoning, visual and performing arts, and the natural sciences. Such courses must have been approved by the General Education Committee and the faculties of the schools of Arts and Sciences, Robins School of Business, and Jepson School of Leadership Studies as meeting these requirements.

Courses meeting general education requirements are designated in this catalog following the course description, as well as in the list of classes on the website. All courses used to meet general education requirements must be passed with a grade of D- (.7) or higher.

a. May be satisfied by a demonstration of proficiency upon entrance to the University without carrying credit (Language courses carry variable credit). For non-native English speakers, students who must submit TOEFL scores for admission are exempt from the COM2 requirement.

Language courses in Arabic and Russian may require additional conversation courses to reach the Intermediate level.

b. Described in General Education section.

Wellness Requirement

In keeping with the University’s objective of fostering knowledge and personal well-being, every undergraduate student will complete a three part wellness series prior to graduation. Before arriving on campus, first year and transfer students will complete Alcohol Edu, an on-line alcohol prevention and education program. Once on campus, students will complete a two-hour alcohol seminar (WELL 085) specific to policies of the University and the Commonwealth of Virginia. Students are also required to complete two WELL 090 health education topics courses. Classes are geared towards topics that will promote academic success and personal health.

Students who have not satisfactorily completed WELL 085 by registration for the spring semester of their second year will have an administrative hold put on their record and will not be able to register until they have made arrangements to take the class. The Plus2 component, Wellness 090, is strongly urged to be taken and satisfactorily completed before or during the third year.

Completion of a Major

All undergraduate degrees at the University of Richmond require satisfactory completion of one major. Multiple majors and/or minors may also be pursued and upon completion will be recorded on the permanent academic record.

The major is a field of academic study chosen as an area of specialization. A major may be in a subject area and will include courses in that subject area along with courses prerequisite to those required courses and may also include designated courses outside the subject area. Interdisciplinary programs will include courses from a number of different subject areas. Majors require between 9 and 18.5 total units, counting all courses both inside and outside the subject area, including all prerequisites for those courses. (See the section for each school for specific major or minor requirements.)

The School of Arts and Sciences offers the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. The Robins School of Business offers the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree. The Jepson School of Leadership Studies offers the Bachelor of Arts degree.

In addition to the degree requirements previously stated under Graduation, a candidate must satisfy major requirements outlined in the following sections.

Major Requirements 9 - 18.5 total units

Curriculum and Achievement

Undergraduate degree candidates must earn a grade point average of not less than 2.00 on all coursework attempted.
Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Science in Business Administration must complete 35 units.

Additional Degree Requirements

- 17.5 unit on-campus residency requirement (transfer students should see section on Transfer Credit)

School of Arts and Sciences

The School of Arts and Sciences offers a majority of the courses taken by undergraduate students at the University. Even students who major in business or leadership studies take up to two-thirds of their courses, elective as well as general education courses, in the School of Arts and Sciences. The school provides a broad range of majors and offers numerous opportunities for interdisciplinary study. Such study takes many forms, from self-designed programs to interdisciplinary concentrations within traditional fields to fully developed interdisciplinary majors. Graduates today live in a world in which the ability to integrate knowledge and skills from a variety of disciplines is increasingly important. The School of Arts and Sciences fully recognizes this fact and is constantly working to create opportunities for students to integrate and apply what they are learning.

Engagement in active and interactive learning is the hallmark of education in the School of Arts and Sciences. Students are involved in guided independent study projects, collaborative research with faculty and other students, internships and other service-learning experiences, and artistic and creative projects. Active engagement enables students to assume increasing responsibility for their own learning and development and prepares them for life-long growth and adaptation to change.

The faculty of the school are committed, first and foremost, to teaching and learning and to the overall education and development of their students. Faculty take the advising and mentoring of students very seriously and meet frequently with their students and advisees to discuss course-related projects as well as career plans and long-term goals.

The school's faculty are also productive scholars and artists who introduce students to the excitement of research and creative activity. As distinguished scholars, scientists, artists and practitioners, they are able to teach by example as well as by precept.

By graduation, arts and sciences students are well-prepared for further study in graduate or professional schools and for employment in a variety of fields, including healthcare, government, business, law, and nonprofit work. The knowledge and skills fostered by a liberal arts education serve students well in the world of work, as well as in their personal lives. In addition, an education in the School of Arts and Sciences prepares students to become well-informed and thoughtful citizens, to be able to contribute to the lives of others, and to help advance the society of which they are a part.

Curriculum Requirements

The School of Arts and Sciences offers the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. In addition to the degree requirements previously stated under Graduation, a candidate must satisfy major requirements outlined in the following pages.

Course limitations- Of the following, no more than the stated units of credit can count toward any degree in a given school:

- 3.5 units - Internship courses of whatever kind, excluding student teaching, legislative internship and Theatre 330-341 Practicum
- 1.5 units - Internship 388 taken in the same academic department

Bachelor of Arts

Degree Requirements

To qualify for a Bachelor of Arts degree, students must complete the degree requirements listed previously, including general education requirements, wellness, curriculum, achievement, and residency requirements, along with completion of the requirements for at least one major.

Requirements for the Major

The major is a field of academic study chosen as an area of specialization. A major will include courses in a subject area*, such other courses outside the subject area as may be designated, and any courses prerequisite to those required courses. Unless a special waiver of the Academic Council has been granted to a department or program and endorsed by the arts and sciences faculty, a major will require 9 to 11 units in a single subject area, including all prerequisites within the subject area. In addition, a major will require no more than 15.5 total units, counting all courses both inside and outside the subject area, including all prerequisites for those courses. Majors in interdisciplinary programs will require a minimum of 9 units and no more than 15.5 total units, including all prerequisites.
A student may not count more than 17.5 units from a single subject area toward the minimum number of units necessary for graduation. In certain rare circumstances, when a student has the written support of the department chair, she or he may petition the Arts and Sciences Academic Council to exceed the limit.

Basic modern second language courses through the intermediate level, and the wellness requirements will not be counted toward the major. Classical languages are exempt from this exclusion.

A student may concurrently fulfill the requirements of more than one major. To initiate more than one major, the student should declare the majors in the manner currently provided. Upon graduation, only one degree will be conferred, but each completed major will be recorded on the student’s permanent academic record, provided the student has listed the major on the degree application and is certified to have completed all of the requirements specified for the given major.

If a student's major(s) and other coursework can be arranged to meet the requirements for either the Bachelor of Arts degree or the Bachelor of Science degree, no more than one degree has been earned; however, the student must specify which degree is desired. Any major associated with a degree not chosen shall be recorded according to the provisions previously stated.

Specific major requirements may be found under the appropriate academic department listing in the Curricula section. In that section, the requirements are presumed to be for the Bachelor of Arts degree unless otherwise stated. For a description of the minor option, see that heading in the Interdisciplinary Programs section of this chapter.

* Subject area refers to coursework listed under a single specified rubric.  Students interested in earning more than one undergraduate degree should refer to the Second Undergraduate Degree section.

Bachelor of Science

Degree Requirements

The requirements are the same as for the B.A., except proficiency in calculus also must be demonstrated by passing Mathematics 212, 232, or 235 (cannot be taken pass/fail) or completing the Advanced Placement test with an acceptable score.

Requirements for the Major

The provisions listed under the B.A. apply. The B.S. is offered only in biochemistry, biology, chemistry, computer science, environmental studies, interdisciplinary studies, mathematics, mathematical economics, physics, interdisciplinary physics, and psychology. For differences in the major requirements for the degrees, consult the appropriate departmental description under Curricula. A major will include courses in a subject area, such other courses outside the subject area as may be designated, and any courses prerequisite to those required courses. (See note under Bachelor of Arts for definition of subject area.) Unless a special waiver by the Academic Council has been granted to a department or program, and endorsed by the faculty, a major will require 9 to 13 units in a single subject area, including all prerequisites within the subject area. In addition, a major will require no more than 18.5 total units, counting all courses both inside and outside the subject area, including all prerequisites for those courses and Calculus II. The interdisciplinary studies program will require a minimum of 9 units and no more than 18.5 total units, including all prerequisites.

A student may not count more than 17.5 units from a single subject area toward the minimum number of units necessary for graduation. In certain rare circumstances, when a student has the written support of the department chair, she or he may petition the Arts and Sciences Academic Council to exceed the limit.

Special Program Opportunities

Honors Program

Outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond standard coursework have the opportunity to broaden and deepen knowledge in selected major fields through the Honors Program. Departmental honors coordinators invite promising qualified majors to apply, but an interested student may contact his or her major department or the faculty committee on the Honors Program to indicate interest and obtain further information. To qualify, a student should have at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average, 18 or more units completed and, excluding coursework primarily for first-year students, 3.5 or more units completed with distinction in the major field. Successful completion of an Honors Program is shown on the student's permanent academic record and on the diploma.

Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum (CLAC)

The Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum program allows students to use their language skills and other cultural perspectives to enhance learning and research in all disciplines. Certain courses in the School of Arts and Sciences, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, and the Robins School of Business are offered in conjunction with a Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum component, an optional quarter unit of work in a second language associated with a regular class. The CLAC component is worth one quarter unit and is graded pass/fail. To find a CLAC section, look for courses marked "CLAC credit available" or go directly to each semester's listings under Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum. The following departments have recently offered courses with CLAC sections: English, history, leadership studies, modern literatures and cultures, music, and philosophy. More CLAC sections are being developed in other departments. For further information, contact the CLAC program coordinator.

Dual-Degree Engineering Programs

In cooperation with selected engineering schools, the University offers the opportunity for students interested in Internships provide students with supervised opportunities to understand by direct experience how skills and theories learned in the classroom are applied in business, industry, community agencies, and government. Each internship must include an academic base, such as an appropriate reading list or other resources, which demonstrates or stresses the interrelatedness of the academic background with the selected workplace.

Any academic department may offer an individual internship under the following general description: 388 Individual Internship. Application of academic skills and theories in a selected work environment, plus related academic work supervised by a member of the faculty. Pass/fail grading may be designated by a department for any or all enrollments. May be repeated; however, no more than 1.5 units in the same department may be counted toward the total number of units required for a degree. Prerequisite: Permission of department concerned. .25-1.5 units. Note: No more than 3.5 units of internship of any kind may count toward the total number of units required for a degree. Prerequisite: Permission of department concerned. .25-1.5 units. Note: No more than 3.5 units of internship of any kind may count toward the total number of units required for a degree. Student Teaching and Theatre Arts Practica are not included in this policy.

Individual departments may have varying limitations on internships. They may be only available to majors and/or minors in the department. Internships usually are limited to junior or senior students who must have the prior approval of the department concerned.

Further information is available from the chair or coordinator of the appropriate department or program.

Visiting Away Programs

Students who wish to study away from the University of Richmond for a semester or year and maintain active status must participate in a program that has been approved for visiting away status. Students leaving the University on any program that does not carry visiting away status must withdraw from the University and apply to the appropriate dean for readmission.

Visiting away programs are approved by the academic council of the appropriate school and the Office of the University Registrar, which maintains a list of approved visiting away programs. This list is subject to change and will be reviewed on a periodic basis. (A program that is approved for one student will not necessarily be approved for another student since the decision is based not only on the academic reputation of the program, but also on the relevancy of the program to the student's individual academic program.)

Students wishing to participate in an approved domestic program must submit a copy of their letter of acceptance to the program, a completed Transfer Approval Form and a completed Visiting Away Approval Application Form to the Office of the University Registrar. Upon receipt of these documents, the student will be enrolled with an off-campus (OF) enrollment status. For study abroad programs, a subcommittee of the International Education Committee will review student petitions. If a student's petition is approved, the Office of International Education will notify the Office of the Registrar to enroll the student in an abroad (AB) enrollment status. (Students seeking "AB" status should consult the Office of International Education for complete instructions.)

Enrollment in OF or AB status entitles the student to remain as an active Richmond student, which entitles him or her to benefits of priority registration, housing, certain types of financial aid (e.g., loans and Pell Grants), library access, mailbox and e-mail account. Students with OF or AB status will not be billed for tuition as Richmond students during the semester(s) away.

Credits from visiting away programs will be treated as transfer credits, requiring transfer approval and affecting units toward graduation. The credits are not calculated in the GPA and require a C or better to transfer. Credits are applied to the student's record only upon receipt of an official transcript from the sponsoring institution. Exceptions to this would be programs in which the decision is made to partner with the sponsoring institution, in which case the courses would be listed as Richmond courses on the transcript and the grades treated as having been earned at Richmond. Approval for such programs would be submitted through the same channels as outlined above.

Marine Studies

The University of Richmond Department of Biology and the Duke University Marine Laboratory (DUML) offer a program supplement in marine science. Instruction is given by DUML and may be accepted as transfer credit in the student's University of Richmond program. Further information about the program can be obtained from the University of Richmond Department of Biology.

Minor Option

A minor is a secondary academic specialization that may be sought in addition to the required academic major. A minor consists of at least 4.5 units and may include certain other requirements as specified by the academic department concerned. A student may elect to complete more than one minor in the degree program. The minor is declared in the same manner as the major. Upon graduation, each completed minor will be recorded on the student's permanent academic record, provided the minor is listed on the degree application form and the requirements have been met. Many academic departments offer a minor. The requirements in the minor, for the departments in which the minor is available, are
Research Grants for Undergraduates

Each year the School of Arts and Sciences offers its students unusual opportunities for research projects. Grants are awarded by the Undergraduate Research Committee to support research projects in a variety of ways such as the purchase of materials and equipment, travel or other such expenses and presenting or publishing the results of the research. The grant may be awarded for a project that is the student's own idea or an idea that has been conceived in cooperation with a faculty member; in any case, there must be a faculty member who is willing to supervise the project. Generally, the project is approved for academic credit, and often the student and the faculty member will coauthor one or more professional papers on the work. Application forms and further information are available from the associate dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, whose office is in the administrative wing of Boatwright Library, or through the departmental chair of the department in which the project is to be supervised.

Interdisciplinary Programs

Self-Designed Interdisciplinary Studies Major

Under the general supervision of two faculty advisors and the coordinator of interdisciplinary studies, the University offers a self-designed interdisciplinary major. The interdisciplinary major provides a student the opportunity to propose and pursue, with faculty supervision, a unique program of study leading to either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in interdisciplinary studies. A senior thesis, which is the culmination of the major and for which the student receives one unit, is required.

Applications and further information are available from the coordinator of interdisciplinary studies. Applications are to be submitted to the coordinator of interdisciplinary studies by April 1 of the second year. At least a 3.00 cumulative grade point average is recommended.

Interdisciplinary Majors

In addition to the self-designed interdisciplinary major, the School of Arts and Sciences offers support for interdisciplinary study through a number of interdisciplinary programs that offer majors within the Bachelor of Arts degree. They are American studies, classical civilization, cognitive science, criminal justice, environmental studies, film studies, geography, international studies, philosophy, politics, economics, and law, and women, gender, and sexuality studies. Environmental studies, interdisciplinary physics, and mathematical economics are the interdisciplinary major options within the Bachelor of Science degree. Further information is available from the program coordinators listed under each program.

International Studies Major

International studies is a cross-cultural, interdisciplinary major composed of six areas of concentration, of which the student selects one. The concentrations are Africa, Asia, international economics, Latin America, Middle East, modern Europe, and world politics and diplomacy. Further information is available from the program coordinator.

Interdisciplinary Concentrations

The School of Arts and Sciences offers a series of curricular configurations known as interdisciplinary concentrations within disciplinary majors or minors. Instead of constituting stand-alone majors or minors, these concentrations are tied closely to selected majors, thus fostering an integrated learning experience that offers depth in a traditional discipline combined with breadth in interdisciplinary study. Current interdisciplinary concentrations include arts management (for art history, studio art, dance, music, and theatre majors or minors); comparative literature (for English majors); medieval and Renaissance studies (for art history or English majors); and neuroscience (for biology or psychology majors). An interdisciplinary concentration within a disciplinary major toward a B.A. will require no more than 21 total units, counting all courses and including all prerequisites for those courses. An interdisciplinary concentration within a disciplinary major toward a B.S. degree will require no more than 22 total units, counting all courses and including all prerequisites for those courses and Calculus II. For specific descriptions and requirements, refer to the Interdisciplinary Concentrations section.

School of Arts & Sciences Departments and Programs

American Studies

Nicole Sackley, Coordinator (History)

American studies is an interdisciplinary program that provides opportunities for students to study American culture, society, identity, and politics by combining coursework in anthropology, art, history, journalism, literature, music, philosophy, politics, religion, and sociology into a single major. Our approach to American studies emphasizes the "local" and the "global." In the program’s Richmond
Seminars, students investigate the American experience through community studies and community-based learning. In its Tocqueville Seminars, students place the study of the United States in comparative and international perspective. A core group of American Studies faculty, who serve as faculty advisors to majors, specialize in American history, religion, and literature; Native American studies, African American studies, and urban studies. The program emphasizes student initiative and hands-on practice and encourages students to craft a distinctive program of study that meets the intellectual interests of each major.

The American studies major consists of nine courses, including AMST 201, a topical survey open primarily to first-year students and sophomores, and AMST 301, a junior/senior seminar that explores theories and methods in the field. In addition, students must complete at least one Richmond Seminar (AMST 381) and one Tocqueville Seminar (AMST 391).

Majors work closely with the program coordinator to determine a specialized course of study for the remaining five electives. These courses must be drawn from at least two affiliated departments; two must be taken at the 300 level or higher. Students may count one approved First-Year Seminar toward their American studies electives. Introductory courses for other majors are ineligible. Students must complete all prerequisites for electives taken in allied departments in addition to the requirements for their American studies major. For a complete list of past, current, and upcoming AMST courses and electives, see the "Planning Your Program" link on the American studies website (american-studies.richmond.edu/).

The discipline of American studies increasingly emphasizes explorations of U.S. culture and society in relation to international politics, the global economy, and population migrations. For this reason, students who study abroad are strongly encouraged to pursue coursework related to their American studies majors. In addition to completing the standard requirements for the major, qualified students may elect to write an honors thesis (AMST 401) during the spring semester of their senior year. Theses are written under the supervision of a sponsoring faculty member and require the prior approval of a formal prospectus submitted to the American studies advisory board before November 15.

Students interested in learning more about the American studies major are encouraged to contact the program coordinator for more information.

The American Studies Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70).

- Five electives in allied departments, chosen in consultation with the faculty advisor, including two at 300 level or higher

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for electives in allied departments. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Courses for American Studies Credit

See the departmental listings for descriptions of the following courses offered for AMST credit. Ordinarily, the electives should be drawn from at least two affiliated departments and two must be taken at the 300-level or higher. Introductory courses for other majors are ineligible. Students may count one approved First-Year Seminar toward their American Studies major. A supplemental listing of courses is published each semester on the American Studies website.

The American Studies Minor

The grade point average of coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70).

5 units, including:

- AMST 201 Introduction to American Studies
- AMST 381 Richmond Seminars
- AMST 391 Tocqueville Seminars
- Two elective courses from the approved list, drawn from two allied departments.

Courses

AMST 201 Introduction to American Studies
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSHT
Description
Surveys multidisciplinary approaches to American studies with specific emphasis on methodologies, sources, themes, and major ideas.

AMST 301 Seminar in American Studies
Units: 1
Description
Advanced seminar that examines the historical, methodological, and theoretical development of American studies as an academic discipline. Offered in alternate years.
Prerequisites
American Studies 201 and junior or senior status.

AMST 381 Community Problem Solving Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Combines community internship with reading and discussion about community problems from multidisciplinary perspectives.

AMST 388 Individual Internship
Units: .25-1
Description
Application of academic skills and theories in a selected work environment, plus related academic work supervised by a member of the faculty. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Departmental approval.

AMST 391 Tocqueville Seminar: Special Topics
Units: 1
Description
Multidisciplinary seminar that encourages students to examine the United States from international perspectives. Uses theory and a variety of forms of texts—music, film, literature, popular culture, and more—to deepen student understanding of the U.S. as they see the country from different points of view.

AMST 398 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Varying interdisciplinary topics related to American studies. Area of study will vary according to instructor and course topic.

AMST 399 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Individually designed reading or research program conducted under faculty supervision.
Prerequisites
American Studies 201 and permission of program coordinator and faculty supervisor.

AMST 401 Thesis
Units: 1
Description
Thesis project designed, researched, and written by students under faculty supervision. Offered spring semester only.
Prerequisites
American Studies 201, senior status, 3.5 grade point average within the major, and a prospectus with bibliography approved by the American studies advisory council.

AMST 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

Anthropology

Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Jennifer Nourse, Chair
Associate Professors Hass, Neff, Nourse, Ohi, Wharton
Assistant Professors French, Ransom, Baykal, Bridgell, Richards
Professionals from the field also are employed as adjunct faculty.

The major in anthropology stresses cultural anthropology, the study of contemporary and historically recent human societies around the world. Specifically, cultural anthropology focuses on the ways in which various individuals and groups (societies) construct their ideas (cultural systems) about the world and the ways in which these ideas influence how various people behave. Courses in anthropology compare diverse cultures to ascertain their similarities as well as their differences. Some courses in cultural anthropology study particular regions of the world and the way in which those peoples construct their realities and find meaning in their lives. Other courses in cultural anthropology select various dimensions of human life - family, gender, religion, politics, art, etc., and examine how one of these subjects relates to all the other dimensions in one particular culture or across cultures in general.

The Anthropology Major

Note: The grade point average of the anthropology coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).
10 units, including
ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
ANTH 211 Field Methods in Ethnography
ANTH 290 Cultural Theory
ANTH 400 Capstone Seminar
Participation in an approved study abroad experience of at least six weeks in duration

Notes:
• Upper-level courses are taught on a rotating basis.
• Students must achieve a grade of C or better in both ANTH 211 and ANTH 290 in order to take the Capstone Seminar and to receive credit toward the major for courses taken that are not on the list below.
• For the anthropology major, no more than three courses (one course for the anthropology minor) may be taken at other institutions, including study abroad institutions, with departmental approval.

The Anthropology Minor

- ANTH 402 Honors Thesis
- ANTH 426-ANTH 427 Directed Independent Study
- ANTH 489 Research Practicum
- SOC 230 Introduction to the Study of Africa
- CLSC 220 Introduction to Archaeology
- MLC 350 Introductory Linguistics
- MUS 229 Critical Studies of Ethnomusicology

Courses

- ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
  Units: 1
  Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
  Description
  Examines how people make cultural meaning out of their lives and explores the way in which anthropologists come to understand other people's construction of culture. Cross-cultural perspective on family, kinship, language, religion, gender and sexuality, and other aspects of social life.

- ANTH 211 Introduction to Ethnographic Field Methods
  Units: 1
  Description
  Introduces the methodologies used in cultural anthropology, as well as the theories behind these methodologies. Issues of objectivity, ethical research and presentation, the political nature of the production of knowledge, positioning the researcher, and the uses to which training in ethnographic methods might be put.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101.

- ANTH 279 Selected Topics in Anthropology
  Units: 1
  Description
  Various topics in the field of anthropology. May be repeated for credit if topics are different.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101.

- ANTH 290 Theoretical Foundations of Cultural Anthropology
  Units: 1
  Description
  History of cultural and social anthropological thought, major theoretical perspectives and contemporary issues as to how humans construct their social worlds.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101.

- ANTH 302 Medicine and Health from a Global/Anthropological Perspective
  Units: 1
  Description
  Examines, through an anthropological lens, ways in which non-western and western cultures conceptualize human bodies, medical practice and the process of healing. Considers ways in which ethnomedical (shamanistic, Ayurvedic, acupunctural, and herbal) practices coincide and/or clash with biomedical practices in the US and globally. Reflects on international policies, pharmaceutical corporations and indigenous movements to nationalize ethnomedicine and reject biomedicine.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101, Sociology 101, or International Studies 290

- ANTH 304 Ritual, Witchcraft & Divination
  Units: 1
  Description
  Examines the ways ritual, witchcraft and divination permeate all societies and cultures throughout the world. Includes discussions of shamanism and drug use for religious purposes, as well as voudou, cults, and New Age healing.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101.

- ANTH 307 Indigenous Peoples of the Americas
  Units: 1
  Description
  Historical development, culture, relations with governments and international organizations, and current issues of indigenous peoples throughout the Americas, including the U.S.
  Prerequisites
  Anthropology 101.

- ANTH 308 Latin America: An Ethnographic Perspective

Archaeology

Elizabeth Baughan, Coordinator (Classical Studies)

Archaeology is the study of the human past through its material remains. The proposed minor in Archaeology draws upon courses in Anthropology, Art History, Classical Studies, and Geography that focus on archaeological evidence, material culture, methods of archaeological inquiry and analysis, and/or the study of human behavior. This minor will give students who are already focusing on archaeology through such courses (and, in some cases, summer fieldwork) the opportunity to declare their interest more officially and the incentive to specialize more closely. It will also encourage interdisciplinary study and build upon UR's affiliation with Bilkent University (Ankara) in archaeological fieldwork in Turkey. The curriculum is designed to prepare students for careers or postgraduate study not only in archaeology, but also in fields such as ancient art history, GIS (geographic information systems), conservation, architectural history, museum studies, and cultural property law.

The Archaeology Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7)

6 units, including

Two courses, chosen from:

- CLSC 220 Introduction to Archaeology
- CLSC 301 Greek Art and Archaeology
- CLSC 302 Roman Art and Archaeology
- CLSC 321 Archaeology of the Middle East

Four additional courses, chosen from:

- ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
- ANTH 290 Theoretical Foundations of Cultural Anthropology
- ARTH 121 Survey I: Prehistory through the Middle Ages
- ARTH 211 Byzantine Art and Architecture
- ARTH 309 Image and Icon in Medieval Art
- ARTH 310 Late Antique and Early Christian Art
- ARTH 312 Medieval Art in Western Europe, 8th-15th Centuries
- ARTH 322 Seminar in Museum Studies
- BIOL 199 Mesoamerican Ethnobotany
- CLSC 212 Dining and Drinking in Classical Antiquity
- CLSC 220 Introduction to Archaeology
- CLSC 301 Greek Art and Archaeology
- CLSC 302 Roman Art and Archaeology
- CLSC 320 Cultural Property: Archaeology, Ethics, and Law
- CLSC 321 Archaeology of the Middle East
- CLSC 398 Special Topics, depending on the subject and approval of the minor program coordinator
- GEOG 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
- GEOG 365 Advanced Spatial Analysis

Up to three units of archaeological field school transfer credit and/or study-abroad archaeology courses, with approval of the minor program coordinator may apply to the archaeology minor. Up to two units of archaeologically-focused independent study (CLSC 498), with approval of the minor program coordinator may apply to the archaeology minor. Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

The Art History Major

Note: A grade of not less than C (2.0) is required in each course comprising the major.

10 units, including

ARTH 121 Survey I: Prehistory through the Middle Ages
ARTH 122 Survey II: Renaissance to the Present
Four 200 or 300-level electives in Art History from each of the following areas. One of the electives must be ARTH 319 Advanced Seminar:
- Late Antique and Medieval Art
- Renaissance and Baroque Art
- The History of Art after 1700
- Non-western Art History
  (Note: ARTH 282 World Film Values may not meet one of these electives)
- One studio art course
  ARTH 365 Art Theories and Methodologies
  ARTH 465 Thesis: Research Seminar
  ARTH 466 Thesis: Research Project

Students propose their thesis topics in the spring of their junior year, completing their thesis research and preliminary research writings in ARTH 465 and the final text of their thesis and associated oral presentation in ARTH 466.

Majors should take ARTH 121-ARTH 122 before enrolling in 300-level art history courses. Independent studies cannot be substituted for required courses in the art history major.

In addition to the above, the following are strongly recommended to supplement the major:

- ARTH 388 Individual Internship
- CLSC 220 Introduction to Archaeology
- CLSC 301 Greek Art and Archeology
- CLSC 302 Roman Art and Archaeology
- CLSC 321 Archaeology of the Middle East

Associate Professors Cabrillo, Denton, Drummond, Perry, Růžička, Sjovold

University Museums Curator and Deputy Director Schlatter

Visual Resources Librarian Kefer

Professionals from the fields in art are also employed as adjunct faculty members.

The Department of Art and Art History offers programs in the studio arts, Western and non-Western art history, and museum studies. In the Modlin Center for the Arts, students work in an environment where they can develop their intellectual and creative abilities to the fullest potential. In addition to a rigorous and stimulating curriculum, students also participate in the activities of the University Museums. The museums present exhibitions of both historical and contemporary art with related lectures, workshops, and symposia with visiting artists, critics, and art historians. A study abroad program allows students to study art and art history in approved programs under the direction of the Office of International Education. Because majors are required to develop a senior project, it is recommended that prospective majors consult with the department early to allow adequate time for planning.

Note: A grade of not less than C (2.0) is required in each course comprising the minor.

6 units, including
2-3 foundation courses chosen from
- ARTS 105 Foundation Color and Composition
- ARTS 108 Foundation 3-D Design
- ARTS 109 Foundation Film and Video

One unit, chosen from
- ARTH 121 Survey I: Prehistory through the Middle Ages
- ARTH 122 Survey II: Renaissance to the Present

Three studio art electives

Honors Program in Studio Art
Majors are encouraged to apply for and pursue the honors program in studio art. To earn honors in studio art a student must complete three units of honors credit with distinction through a combination of upper-level courses with thesis development and honors thesis exhibition. The program must be planned in consultation with the student's major advisor and the department. Honors students also must maintain an overall GPA of no less than 3.30 while in the program.

Related Field
Interdisciplinary concentration in arts management for studio art, art history, music, theatre, and dance majors or minors.

Courses

ARTS 105 Foundation Color and Composition
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Provides students with a basic understanding of drawing skills, elements and principles of two-dimensional design, color theory, and pictorial composition. Explores the relationship of visual form and content through drawing, collage and color projects.

ARTS 108 Foundation 3-D Design
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to basic three-dimensional design practice within the context of art historical and contemporary theory. Along with Foundation Color and Composition and Foundation Film and Video, it will provide students with fundamental skills and knowledge which will equip them well for further study and give them insight into the realm of design at a general and theoretical level, applicable to art, architecture, and all other forms of 3-D design. Employs hands-on studio exercises, slide lectures, reading, and museum visits for a basic approach to design.

ARTS 109 Foundation Film and Video
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to film and video production within the context of contemporary art. Includes readings, screenings, workshops, and hands-on assignments, students to gain the technical and conceptual skills required to produce resolved independent projects. Illustrates the many similarities and differences between film and video - from the technical and perceptual to the historical, cultural, and socio-political.

ARTS 201 Drawing
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Explores materials, methods and concepts in drawing, with emphasis on observational drawing skills. Studio work will be supplemented by other activities, such as critiques, lectures and exhibition visits.

ARTS 202 Design
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Explores basic elements and principles of two-dimensional design and color theory through exercises in drawing, collage, painting, and digital imaging. Studio work will be supplemented by other activities, such as critiques, lectures, and exhibition visits.

ARTS 204 Darkroom Photography
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to fundamental, technical, and aesthetic issues of black and white photography with emphasis on using medium for personal expression. Includes series of problems designed to increase understanding of basic camera operation, darkroom techniques, and artmaking strategies. Explore different styles of photography through lectures, slides, critiques, and assignments. History of photography will be included through study of past and contemporary photography. Camera with manually adjustable aperture and shutter speeds provided.

ARTS 205 Observational Painting
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to the practice of painting with emphasis on observational skills. Emphasizes working understanding of methods and materials of oil painting while investigating basic aspects of visual perception and how to assess subject, form, and content in a work of art.

ARTS 206 Explorations in Printmaking and Drawing
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Explores formal and conceptual problems through simultaneous or combined drawing and printmaking exercises. Develops understanding of potential of graphic media, introduces new image-making techniques and concepts, including scale and sequence experiments and multi-technique works.

ARTS 207 The Human Figure
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Advances understanding and skill in drawing the human figure with emphasis on interpreting skeleton and large muscle masses. Students draw from nude and clothed male and female models using a variety of drawing media such as graphite, charcoal, ink, and color pastels.

ARTS 208 Sculpture Methods
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to sculptural practice within the context of art historical and contemporary theory. Exposure to several major approaches to sculpture through hands-on studio exercises, slide lectures, reading and museum visits. Includes additive approaches, reductive approaches, and constructed approaches to object making and installation. Also addresses basic problems dealing with perception and conceptualization of space and objects in space. This course serves as a prerequisite for upper level sculpture courses.

ARTS 210 Sculpting the Human Figure
Units: 1
Description
Techniques and perceptual and conceptual means needed to sculpt the human figure.

ARTS 219 Alternative Photographic Processes
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Explores historical and experimental film photography in order to achieve a working knowledge of various darkroom methods and processing techniques. Provides understanding of photography as art through creation and interpretation.

ARTS 220 Drawing From Nature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Develops skills in drawing directly from natural objects, live plants and animals. The course will examine how fine artists, botanists, and scientists utilize forms taken from natural flora and fauna in their work, introducing a variety of media, including ink, watercolor, and graphite. Consists of studio work supplemented with museum and library research on history and contemporary practice of naturalist drawing, as well as lectures, class critiques and discussions. Field trips will include studying the collections of minerals, shells, and natural objects at the University Museums' Lora Robins Gallery of Design from Nature.

ARTS 225 Screenprint
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
An introduction to the medium of serigraphy (screenprint, silkscreen). Topics include working with handmade and photographic stencils, color and registration, editioning, and extended uses of the medium. Students will work with hand-drawn, photographic, and digital images.

ARTS 265 Digital Photography
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the field of digital photography and digital imaging within the context of contemporary art. Students will produce original works of art while studying the impact of technology upon human perception, visual art, and contemporary culture. Emphasis will be placed upon the ways in which digital technologies have transformed our understanding of traditional photographic media.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 105 or 108 or 109

ARTS 269 Thematic Explorations in Film and Video
Units: 1
Description
Study and production of single-channel film and video. Each year, the thematic focus of this course will change based upon current trends in contemporary art. Possible topics may include nature, history, protest, failure, or other themes that are open to a wide variety of interdisciplinary research and individual interpretation. Includes production and post-production techniques, seminar discussions, and presentations that seek to expand understandings of the theme in question.
Prerequisites
ARTS 109 or FMST 202 or 203

ARTS 275 Drawing Studio
Units: 1
Description
Explores advanced concepts in drawing, such as abstract, conceptual, and process-based drawing. May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 105, 201, 202, 205, 206, or 207 or permission of instructor.

ARTS 276 Artist Book
Units: 1
Description
Introduces basic skills of bookbinding (Western and non-Western), printing, and typesetting skills through work on individual and collaborative studio projects. Explores concepts such as sequencing, text and image, and content and structure relationships. Students research evolution of the artists' book and contemporary practice in this medium.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 201, 202, 206, or 208.

ARTS 279 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Examples of past courses include: printmaking and cross-cultural communication, figure and narrative, and comic books and zines. May be repeated for credit if topics differ.

ARTS 291 Printmaking Studio
Units: 1
Description
Studio-intensive exploration of advanced media and concepts in printmaking. Depending on instructor's expertise and student need and interest, etching, engraving, phototetching, woodcut, lithography, monotype or screenprint may be taught and used in the class. Assignments may include individual or group portfolio development, installation or collaborative projects.
Prerequisites
ARTS 105, 201, 202, 206, 207 or 225.

ARTS 292 Photography Studio
Units: 1
Description
An advanced-level course on photography within the context of contemporary art. Areas of focus include black and white archival fiber-base printing processes, experimentation with different films, filters, papers, developers, presentation techniques, and digital production and post-production. May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites
ARTS 105 or 109 or 204 or 219 or 265
ARTS 293 Sculpture Studio
Units: 1
Description
Individualized in-depth training in specific sculptural approaches, techniques, media, and concepts. Students choose to work from stone carving, wood carving, wood fabrication, metal fabrication, claywork, plaster carving and fabrication, metal and plaster casting, and mixed media objects and installation. May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites
ARTS 108

ARTS 295 Painting Studio
Units: 1
Description
Explores advanced concepts in painting, such as abstract, conceptual, and process-based painting. Students investigate historical and experimental methods of paintings not covered in Observational Painting (ARTS 205). May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 105, 201, 202, 204, 205 or 206 or permission of instructor.

ARTS 297 Figure Painting
Units: 1
Description
Advances the student's skill in painting and understanding in interpreting the human figure as a subject. Begins with an introduction to traditional academic methods for representing the figure before exploring a series of individualized approaches to the figure. Historical and contemporary contexts for understanding the human figure will be covered.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 105, 201, 202, 204, 205, or 206.

ARTS 299 Advanced Film and Video
Units: 1
Description
Advanced-level investigation into the areas of film, video and extended media. Designed to further develop individual interests in time-based media. Emphasis on developing individually conceived projects that are informed by original research and/or dedicated, prolonged experimentations with audio/visual media.
Prerequisites
ARTS 109 or FMST 202 or 203

ARTS 351 Contemporary Theory and Practice for Artists
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to international contemporary art, theory and criticism. Major trends in contemporary art will be studied in relation to formalist theory, structuralism, poststructuralism, Marxist theory, feminist theory, and postcolonial theory.
Prerequisites
ARTS 105 or 108 or 09 and ART 121 or ART 122

ARTS 375 Interdisciplinary Arts Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Study, research, and practice of art that crosses the boundaries of what is commonly considered "visual art". Topics will vary according to the instructor's expertise and creative interests. Junior seminar for Studio Art majors, but also appropriate for non-majors with broad creative interests. May be co-taught with a faculty or a guest artist from another artistic discipline. Emphasis will be placed on collaborative artistic work.
Prerequisites
ARTS 105, 108 and 109

ARTS 388 Individual Internship
Units: .25-1
Description
Supervised work experience at approved artist's studio, museum, or gallery. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Departmental approval.

ARTS 395 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
Individually designed program under faculty supervision. Independent studies cannot be substituted for required courses in the Studio Art major.
Prerequisites
Departmental approval.

ARTS 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

ARTS 465 Advanced Studio Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Senior studio art majors create focused body of work and begin to clarify and establish future directions and resources for personal research and artmaking. Students prepare for midterm application for the Senior Thesis Exhibition course for a spring exhibition.
Prerequisites
Studio art major, senior level, and ARTH 121 or ARTH 122.

ARTS 466 Senior Thesis Exhibition
Units: 1
Description
Graduating studio art majors are invited, based on a successful review during the Thesis Development course, to enroll in the honors thesis to organize and present an exhibition of their art in the University Art Museums and in the community. Students complete a focused body of work for exhibitions and participate in all aspects of their organization. The course also will cover the business of being an artist, including writing about and presenting one's art, resume writing, exhibiting, and selling of work.
Prerequisites
Studio Art 465 and permission of the department.

Biochemistry and Molecular Biology
Jonathan Dattelbaum, Co-Coordinator (Chemistry)
Krista Stenger, Co-Coordinator (Biology)

The biochemistry and molecular biology program is an interdisciplinary program based in the biology and chemistry departments, and is jointly administered by a coordinating committee consisting of several faculty from each department. The program is designed to offer a flexible route to either the B.A. or B.S. degree and actively encourages student participation in research, which may be conducted with faculty in either department. The flexibility of the program lends itself to combination with study abroad and outreach opportunities. The major is designed to prepare students for future study in any area of the biological sciences, the health professions, or for employment in the biotechnology industry.

The Biochemistry and Molecular Biology Major

Note: A grade of C- (1.7) or better is required in each chemistry and biology course applied toward the major.

For the Bachelor of Arts degree
14 units, including

BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking or BIOL 192 Science, Math and Research Training I
BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I
BIOL 202 Integrated Biological Principles I
BMB 300 Junior Seminar
CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis
CHEM 205-CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 309 Physical Chemistry
CHEM 314 Physical Chemistry Laboratory I
CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Laboratory
CHEM 329 Protein Structure, Function and Biophysics

One course, chosen from:

- BIOL 307 Advanced Cell and Molecular Biology
- BIOL 313 Bacterial Pathogenesis
- BIOL 314 Molecular Genetics
- BIOL 324 Molecural Virology
- BIOL 340 Introduction to Immunology
- BIOL 343 Neurobiology
- BIOL 345 Cellular Neurophysiology
- BIOL 352 Evolutionary Developmental Biology
- BIOL 354 Biological Basis of Neurodegenerative Diseases with Laboratory

Two senior seminars, to include the presentation of a research topic, chosen from:

- BMB 310 Biochemistry Senior Seminar I
- BMB 311 Biochemistry Senior Seminar II

MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II
PHYS 127 or PHYS 131 General Physics I

One unit in physics, chosen from:

- PHYS 132 General Physics II
- PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics
- PHYS 134 Biological Physics

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

For the Bachelor of Science degree
The above courses plus one additional approved upper level biology or chemistry elective and an approved research experience (BIOL 406 or CHEM 406 or 1 unit in BIOL 350 or BIOL 395 or CHEM 320 or CHEM 321) that culminates in a written report or poster presentation to give a total of 15-16 units.

For either of the above degrees
Additional upper-level elective courses in chemistry and biology are highly recommended. Students wishing to double major in biochemistry and molecular biology and either chemistry or biology are required to use upper-level electives for only one degree program or the other. Similarly, upper-level electives cannot be counted for both a major and a minor in either department. In addition, starting with the class of 2018, double majors in biochemistry and molecular biology and chemistry will not be able to double count seminar courses and will be restricted to presenting their research project only once between the two seminar programs.

Honors Program

Students are invited to participate in the biochemistry and molecular biology honors program by the program co-coordinators. A student graduating with an honors degree in biochemistry and molecular biology must complete two units total of preapproved upper-level elective work in chemistry, biology, or courses approved by the BCMB committee. The student also must fulfill the following research requirements:

- A research proposal to the student's research advisor
- 1.5 units of independent research total
- A written thesis upon completion of their research that is approved by at least two BCMB program committee members or their designees (one of which must be a BCMB program committee member)
- An oral defense of the thesis

Additionally, students must have a GPA of 3.30 or better in 200-level and above courses towards the major and 3.30 or better overall. The total number of units for honors course work (including formal courses and research) is three and a half. Courses used for Honors credit may also apply towards Bachelor of Science degree requirements.
Courses

BMB 300 Biochemistry Junior Seminar
Units: .25
Description
Regular attendance at Biology and Chemistry Departments invited speaker series as well as students presentations of selected topics in the natural sciences. Normally taken in the junior year.
Prerequisites
CHEM 206.

BMB 310 Biochemistry Senior Seminar I
Units: .25
Description
Regular attendance at Biology and Chemistry Departments invited speaker series, student presentations of selected topics in the natural sciences, and one presentation given during one of the two semesters. Presentations will encompass selected topics in the natural sciences. One class hour per week.
Prerequisites
BMB 300, CHEM 322, or BIOL 387.

BMB 311 Biochemistry Senior Seminar II
Units: .25
Description
Regular attendance at Biology and Chemistry Departments invited speaker series, student presentations of selected topics in the natural sciences, and one presentation given during one of the two semesters. Presentations will encompass selected topics in the natural sciences. One class hour per week.
Prerequisites
BMB 300, CHEM 322, or BIOL 387.

Biology
Linda M. Boland, Chair
Professors de Sá, Hayden, A. Hill, M. Hill
Associate Professors Boland, Kingsley, Radice, Ruwyn-Janecky, Smallwood, Stenger, Treonis, Warrick
Assistant Professors Brinkerhoff, Grayson, Hilliker, Quintero, C. Wu, E. Wu
Directors of Biology Laboratories Boone, Reiner
Director of Biological Imaging Davis
Director of Pre-Health Education Vaughan
Manager of Biology Laboratories O'Donnell
Stockroom Manager Joseph

The Biology Major
Note: The grade point average of the coursework in biology and chemistry must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

For the Bachelor of Science Degree
14 units, including
• BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking or BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Laboratory or BIOL 192 Science Math and Research Training with Laboratory
• BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I
• BIOL 202 Integrated Biological Principles II
• Five additional units in biology, including at least four approved courses at the 300 level and four with a lab
• MATH 212 Calculus II or MATH 232 Scientific Calculus II
• CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry or CHEM 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or CHEM 192 Science, Math and Research Training with Laboratory
• CHEM 205 Organic Chemistry I
• CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry II

Quantitative-physical science, two units chosen from:
• BUAD 301 Statistics for Business and Economics II
• CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing
• CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
• CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
• CMSC 222 Discrete Structures for Computing with Lab
• MATH 119 Statistics for Social and Life Sciences
• MATH 219 Introduction to the Design of Experiments
• MATH 330 Mathematical Statistics
• PHYS 127 General Physics 1 or PHYS 131 General Physics with Calculus I or PHYS 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 2 with lab
• PHYS 128 General Physics 2 or PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus II or PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics or PHYS 134 Biological Physics
• PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
• BIOL 320 Experimental Design and Biostatistics (may count only for quantitative—physical science requirement or 300 level additional unit in biology, but not both)

Completion of the 2 semester IQS course meets the quantitative-physical science requirement for the BS in Biology

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major/minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the major/minor unless otherwise noted.

For the Bachelor of Arts Degree
11 units, including
• BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking or BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Laboratory or BIOL 192 Science Math and Research Training with Laboratory
• BIOL 200 Integrated Principles of Biology I
• BIOL 202 Integrated Principles of Biology II
• Five additional units in biology, including at least four approved courses at the 300 level and four with a lab
• CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry or CHEM 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or CHEM 192 Science, Math and Research Training II with Laboratory
• CHEM 205 Organic Chemistry I
• CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry II

For both the B.A. and the B.S. degree
Credit may not be earned toward the Biology major for the following combinations of courses due to significant overlap:

- BIOL 200 in combination with BIOL 201, BIOL 205, or BIOL 217
- BIOL 202 in combination with BIOL 207, BIOL 217, or BIOL 225

Approved Courses for the Biology Major and Minor

All 200- and 300-level courses may be used to meet major or minor requirements with the following exceptions:

- BIOL 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
- BIOL 350 Undergraduate Research
- BIOL 370 Women In Science
- BIOL 387 Biology Seminar
- BIOL 388 Individual Internship
- BIOL 389 Independent Study
- BIOL 391 Honors Seminar I
- BIOL 392 Honors Seminar II
- BIOL 395 Honors Research

Biochemistry (CHEM 326) may count toward the major or minor as a non-lab 300-level biology course.

Biochemistry with lab (CHEM 327) may count toward the major or minor as a lab-based 300-level biology course.

The Biology Minor

6 units, including:

- BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking or BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Laboratory or BIOL 192 Science Math and Research Training with Laboratory I
- BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I
- BIOL 202 Integrated Biological Principles II
- Two additional units in Biology, at least one with lab, and at least one at the 300 level elected from approved 300-level courses
- CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry or CHEM 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or CHEM 192 Science, Math, and Research Training II

Credit may not be earned toward the Biology minor for the following combinations of courses due to significant overlap:

- BIOL 200 in combination with BIOL 201, BIOL 205, or BIOL 217
- BIOL 202 in combination with BIOL 207, BIOL 217, or BIOL 225

Approved Courses for the Biology Major and Minor

All 200- and 300-level courses may be used to meet major or minor requirements with the following exceptions:

- BIOL 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
- BIOL 350 Undergraduate Research
- BIOL 370 Women In Science
- BIOL 387 Biology Seminar
- BIOL 388 Individual Internship
- BIOL 389 Independent Study
- BIOL 391 Honors Seminar I
- BIOL 392 Honors Seminar II
- BIOL 395 Honors Research

Biochemistry (CHEM 326) may count toward the major or minor as a non-lab 300-level biology course.

Biochemistry with lab (CHEM 327) may count toward the major or minor as a lab-based 300-level biology course.

Honors Program

Students are eligible for the honors program after completing at least 18.5 units of course work (with at least 3.5 units in Biology at the 200 level or higher) and GPAs of 3.3 higher overall and in Biology. A student may earn honors in biology by completing the following requirements:

1. a minimum GPA of 3.30 in biology and overall;
2. two units BIOL 395 Honors Research (taken for two semesters at 1 unit per semester);
3. one unit of biology in addition to those already required for the major. A grade of B or above in this course would allow it to count towards the honors degree;
4. BIOL 391 Honors Seminar;
5. BIOL 392 Honors Seminar II; and
6. honors thesis written under the supervision of a research advisor and presented to the department in an oral presentation.

Students may contact Laura Runyen-Janecky, Associate Professor of Biology, for more information.

Marine and Ecosystem Studies

Opportunities are available to study marine biology or marine and other ecosystems through cooperative agreements with the Duke University Marine Sciences Laboratory (DUML), Beaufort, N.C., and the Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass., Semester in Environmental Science (MBL-SES). Work taken in the program may be included in the student’s University of Richmond curriculum only with the prior approval and under the direction of the Department of Biology. Students interested in this option are encouraged to apply to the department for further information.

Courses

BIOL 108 Environmental Biology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Basic ecological principles and selected topics in environmental science, including worldwide impact of growing human population, patterns of energy consumption, and issues of water quality, water management, land use, and biological resources. Application of the scientific method will be incorporated in laboratory component. Will not serve as basis of further work in science nor meet entrance requirements for any health profession. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

BIOL 109 Introduction to Ecology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Introduction to causes and consequences of ecological patterns at all scales: individuals, species, communities, and ecosystems. Terrestrial, aquatic, and marine systems are studied, as well as theories and the mathematical and graphical models used to understand them. Some labs require work outside. Will not serve as basis for further work in science nor meet entrance requirements for any health profession. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Same as Environmental Studies 109.

BIOL 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Introduction to the ecology and biological diversity of the Chesapeake Bay and its watershed. Environmental issues facing the bay will be explored through direct data collection, observation, and hands-on activities. This is a service-learning course and students will join local 5th-grade classrooms to help teach elementary students about the bay. Will not serve as basis for further work in science nor meet entrance requirements for any health profession. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Same as Environmental Studies 111.

BIOL 120 Modern Concepts in Biology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Scientific reasoning as applied in biology. Different sections may address different topics, but each one will study the nature of evidence and how knowledge is gained in biology through diligent observation or controlled experimentation. Assumes completion of high school chemistry and biology. Designed for students not majoring in the sciences. Does not satisfy biology requirements for graduate school or the health professions. Repeatable for credit if topics differ. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Laboratory
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
One of two courses taught fall semester as part of Integrated Quantitative Science program. Will integrate topics from Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Math and Computer Science and will include instructors from all five disciplines. Each semester of the course will be organized around a guiding principle that integrates several concepts. Along with co-requisite, will include ten hours for lecture and lab combination.
Prerequisites

BIOL 192 Science, Math and Research Training I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Year-long course provides an, interdisciplinary, integrated introduction to biology and chemistry, with an accompanying integrated lab. Based on the material in the first course of the major in each of these disciplines, this course will focus on current scientific problems facing today's world such as HIV/AIDS or antibiotic resistance. The course is taught by two faculty members, one from each discipline. Teaching will be integrated so that links between concepts are readily apparent and students are stimulated to think beyond traditional science methodology. The laboratory will be comprised of hands-on and investigation based experiences using both experimental and computer simulation approaches. The SMART course is designed for students considering a major in either biology or chemistry and also meets requirements for students who go on to study medicine or other health sciences fields. To be taken in consecutive semesters in the first year and with an accompanying year-long calculus course. Completion of the fall year of SMART (CHEM 192) will substitute for CHEM 141 and BIOL 199. Three lecture and 3 laboratory hours per week.

BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
An introduction to how biologists pose questions, design experiments, analyze data, evaluate evidence, and communicate scientific information. Individual sections will have different topics and formats, but all sections will involve intensive student-directed investigation and include a laboratory component. Required for prospective biology majors and biochemistry and molecular biology majors. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I
Units: 1
Description
First of two-part series on the fundamental principles of biology. Examines genetics, cellular and molecular biology, and physiology within the context of biological evolution. Builds upon the competencies and skills learned in BIOL 199. Serves as preparation for upper level biology courses and beyond. Intended for majors in biology and biochemistry and molecular biology. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and [CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192 (CHEM may be taken concurrently)]

BIOL 201 Genetics
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Introductory course addressing theory and use of genetics in the biological sciences. Topics include 1) gene organization and transmission through generations, including Mendelian inheritance, linkage, and mapping; 2) gene function at the molecular level, including physical nature of DNA, transcription, translation, and regulation of gene expression; and 3) genetic analysis of biological processes such as development. Emphasis is on modern genetic techniques and applications. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192)

BIOL 202 Integrated Biological Principles II
Units: 1
Description
Second of two-part series on the fundamental principles of biology. Examines organismal physiology and ecology within the context of biological evolution. Builds upon the competencies and skills learned in BIOL 199 and 200. Serves as preparation for upper level biology courses and beyond. Intended for majors in biology and biochemistry and molecular biology. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 200

BIOL 205 Cell Biology
Units: 1
Description
Introductory course addressing cell structure and function at the molecular level. Major topics include 1) the chemical composition of cells, including the structure and function of proteins, carbohydrates, and lipids; 2) the organization of cells, including organelles and their functions; 3) cellular metabolism, including respiration, fermentation, and photosynthesis; 4) cell-cell interactions and communication, including signaling in nerve and muscle; 5) mitosis, the cell cycle, and cell death. Emphasis on modern cellular and molecular techniques and applications. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192)

BIOL 206 Cell Structure and Function SA
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to general aspects of animal cell structure and associated physiology. Overview of cell shape and form, and cell and tissue types, along with intracellular organelles. Investigates the function cell membranes in maintaining homeostasis. Investigates in more detail the cellular function of nerve, muscle, and blood cells, and signaling by endocrine and immune system cells. Taught at the University of St. Andrews, Scotland. Fall semester only.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192)

BIOL 207 Ecology
Units: 1
Description
Examines forces that shape the patterns of species interactions, abundance and distribution. Three lecture and three laboratory hours a week plus overnight field trips.

Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112 or CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192 or ENVR 201

BIOL 216 Botany
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Diversity, structure, growth, physiology, and reproduction of photosynthetic organisms. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112 or ENVR 201 or permission of instructor

BIOL 217 Integrative Physiology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Examines the integration of physiological processes in plants and animals, from the level of the genes, cells, organs, systems, whole organisms, and environment. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192)

BIOL 220 Human Physiology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
A study of the human nervous, sensory, skeletal muscle, cardiovascular, respiratory, renal, gastrointestinal, endocrine, and reproductive systems. Emphasis will be placed on forging conceptual links between biology at the molecular, cellular, tissue, and organ levels and the function (and dysfunction) of the human body. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192 or BIOL 200 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206) and permission of instructor.

BIOL 225 Evolution
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to biological evolution, including history of field and mechanisms of evolution that result in biological diversification, speciation, extinction, and the fossil record. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192).

BIOL 229 Microbiology
Units: 1
Description
Microorganisms are everywhere and an integral part of our world. This course introduces a broad range of topics in the field, including microbial cell structure and function, microbial growth and nutrition, unique aspects of microbial metabolism, viruses, microbial ecology, and microbial pathogenesis. The contributions of microbes to the world, both positive and negative, will be highlighted throughout the course. Laboratory investigations will allow students to explore microbiological-based questions. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
(BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199)

BIOL 250 Earth Systems and Physical Geography
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
(See Geography 250; same as Environmental Studies 250.)

BIOL 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
Units: 1
Description
(See GEOG 260; same as ENVR 260.)

BIOL 303 Plant Morphology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Structure, life histories, and phylogeny of major divisions of algae, fungi, and terrestrial plants. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206 or BIOL 207, or BIOL 216, or BIOL 217, or BIOL 225, or BIOL 229, or permission of instructor.

BIOL 305 Plant Anatomy with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Microscopic structure of vascular plants with emphasis on function, development, and evolution. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112 or permission of instructor.

BIOL 306 Systematic Botany with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Identification and classification of vascular plants; emphasis on local flora, principles of systematics. Two lecture and four laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206 or BIOL 207, or BIOL 216, or BIOL 217, or BIOL 225, or BIOL 229, or permission of instructor.

BIOL 307 Advanced Cell and Molecular Biology
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of molecular mechanisms by which cells interact with each other and the environment. Topics include signal transduction, cell cycle regulation, and molecular models of cancer and microbial pathogenesis. Three lecture hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206

BIOL 308 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Comparative anatomy and biology of several systems of organs of representative vertebrates in an evolutionary context. Two lecture and four laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112

BIOL 309 Invertebrate Zoology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Comprehensive study of systematics, morphology, physiology, development, behavior, and ecology of invertebrates, the most abundant animals on the planet. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week plus field trips.

Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112

BIOL 311 Microanatomy with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Microscopic structures and functions of vertebrate tissues and organs. Laboratory emphasizes quantitative light and electron microscopy and computer-assisted image analysis. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
[(BIOL 205 or BIOL 206) and (BIOL 216 or BIOL 217)] or BIOL 202

BIOL 312 Developmental Biology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Development of animals, concentrating on fertilization and early embryonic development. Emphasizes mechanisms of cell differentiation and pattern formation. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
[Biol 201 and (BIOL 205 or BIOL 206)] or BIOL 202

BIOL 313 Microbial Pathogenesis with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the general mechanisms used by pathogens to cause disease. Topics include entry into the host, attachment to and invasion of host cells, cell and tissue damage, and microbial elimination/dissemination, as well as the techniques used to study these processes. Students will examine these topics in detail in context of several specific pathogens to more thoroughly appreciate the clinical disease that results from infection. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206 or BIOL 229

BIOL 314 Molecular Genetics with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Examination of experimental underpinnings of knowledge about gene transmission and function through critical analysis of key papers. Lab projects focus on developing skill in posing problems that can be addressed experimentally. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202

BIOL 315 Landscape Ecology
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 315.)
Prerequisites
GEOG 250 or ENVR 201 or BIOL 202 or BIOL 207, or permission of instructor

BIOL 316 Biological Imaging with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Laboratory based course in the theory and practice of techniques used to study biological structures. Combines instruction in specimen preparation, light and electron microscopy, and digital image analysis. Will be useful to students who plan to do independent research in cell, molecular, or organismal biology. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112

BIOL 317 Mechnochemical Cell Biology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Focuses on the chemical and physical nature of cellular function, and the approaches used to study cells. Topics include biophysical principles, kinetics, macromolecular self-assembly, and the impact of regulatory mechanisms on cellular properties. Laboratory component includes an active research project studying the machinery of cell division, including quantitative microscopy approaches. Three lecture hours and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
(BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206) and (CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192)

BIOL 320 Experimental Design and Biostatistics
Units: 1
Description
Introductory course in designing, analyzing, and interpreting biological experiments. This course is structured to develop students' understanding of when to apply different quantitative methods, how to implement those methods using statistical software, and how to effectively communicate the analyses. Topics include summary statistics, distributions, randomization, replication, parametric and nonparametric tests. Additional topics may include multivariate methods, randomization tests, and Bayesian statistics.
Prerequisites
[BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 and (BIOL 207 or BIOL 225)] OR BIOL 202

BIOL 324 Molecular Virology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the molecular biology of viruses. Topics include virus entry, viral gene expression, genome replication, assembly, and exit. Each step of the viral life cycle will be illustrated through examples of well-studied viruses, accompanied by primary literature readings. Laboratory involves development of a virologist skill set and designing and carrying out self-directed experiments. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
[BIOL 201 and (BIOL 205 or BIOL 206)] or BIOL 202.
CHEM 326 or CHEM 327 are recommended.

BIOL 325 Molecular Evolution with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to molecular evolution with focus on genome structure, mutation selection and random genetic drift at molecular level. Evolution by gene duplication, exon shuffling and transposition. Lab focuses on cloning and recombinant DNA techniques. Strong lab component, two lecture and four laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112

BIOL 326 Biochemistry
Units: 1
Description
(See Chemistry 326.)
Prerequisites
CHEM 206.

BIOL 328 Vertebrate Zoology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Comprehensive survey of vertebrate classes emphasizing phylogenetic theory, natural history, behavior, and ecology. Two lecture and four laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or BIOL 202 or CHEM 112

BIOL 331 Molecular Ecology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Examines how molecular genetic techniques are used to study ecological and evolutionary processes in natural populations. Relying heavily on the primary literature, explores methods for evaluating population genetic structure, studying the adaptation of organisms to changing environments, and assessing quantitative predictions from ecological and evolutionary theory. Applied topics covered include molecular identification, hybridization, conservation genetics, transgene escape, the evolution of invasive species, and environmental genomics. The laboratory will emphasize experimental design and training in molecular techniques commonly used in molecular ecology. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or [BIOL 207 or BIOL 225]. BIOL 201 is recommended.

BIOL 332 Tropical Marine Biology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to marine biology and other oceanographic disciplines using tropical marine habitats as specific examples. Three lecture hours per week and laboratory portion composed of field trips and exercises including spring break field experience in Caribbean (extra fee required).
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 207 or BIOL 225.

BIOL 333 Microbial Ecology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Community dynamics play an important role in organismal interactions. Examines the role of microorganisms in terrestrial, freshwater, and marine habitats, as well as animal-plant systems. The laboratory will emphasize molecular techniques used to study microorganisms in situ and includes independent research project. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202, or BIOL 205, or BIOL 206, or BIOL 207, or BIOL 216, or BIOL 217, or BIOL 225, or BIOL 229

BIOL 334 Oceanography with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Integrated introduction to biological, geological, chemical, and physical oceanography. Multidisciplinary approach to ocean processes. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week, plus field trips.
Prerequisites
BIOL 201, or BIOL 202, or BIOL 205, or BIOL 206, or BIOL 207, or BIOL 216, or BIOL 217, or BIOL 225, or BIOL 229

BIOL 335 Structural Biology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the study of molecular structures of macromolecules using techniques such as X-ray crystallography, nuclear magnetic resonance, and electron microscopy. Mathematical theory behind X-ray and electron diffraction phenomena and computational modeling of macromolecules. Protein expression and crystallization, X-ray diffraction data collection and analysis, and computational visualization of models in the laboratory. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
(CHEM 326 or CHEM 327), and PHYS 132. CMSC 150 recommended.

BIOL 336 Eco-epidemiology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Explores various ways environmental heterogeneity influences disease risk in humans, with specific emphasis on diseases harbored by wildlife species and transmitted by arthropod vectors. Molecular, field-based, computational, and geospatial approaches to characterizing and studying infectious disease dynamics. Readings draw heavily from primary scientific literature. Development of research ideas and implementation of group investigations. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
[BIOL (201 or 205 or 206) and BIOL (207 or 225)] or BIOL 202

BIOL 338 Comparative Animal Physiology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to major characteristics of animal function at level of whole organism and component structures and organ systems. Emphasis on physiological function and processes related to survival in natural environment. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
[BIOL (201 or 205 or 206)] and (BIOL 217)] or BIOL 202

BIOL 339 Physiology of Marine Organisms
Units: 1
Description
Physiological adaptations, including osmoregulation, respiration, diving physiology, and temperature regulation of organisms to marine environments, such as estuaries, the open ocean, and deep sea. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 217

BIOL 340 Introduction to Immunology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Overview of immunology. Current theories and their explanation of pertinent contemporary issues included. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206.

BIOL 341 Animal Physiological Ecology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to animal physiological adaptation to the natural environment. Emphasis will be on physiological responses of animals to both biotic and abiotic factors and interaction with ecology and population dynamics of species. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 217

BIOL 343 Neurobiology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Broad course focusing on study of neurons and neuronal systems. Topics to be explored include the neuron and its mechanisms for the transmission of signals, neuronal organization, sensory perception, integration, behavioral output, development, and basic neurogenetics. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 217

BIOL 344 Behavioral Ecology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to analysis of behavior of organisms, including humans, by study of how behavior affects survival and reproduction. Behaviors studied include foraging, aggression, cooperation, and reproduction. Verbal, graphical, and mathematical models to describe and predict behavior are studied and tested. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week; may include overnight field trips.
Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206 or BIOL 207 or BIOL 216 or BIOL 217 or BIOL 225 or BIOL 229
BIOL 345 Cellular Neurophysiology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
The study of how nerve cells generate electrical excitability and use changes in excitability to communicate information in the nervous system. The basic principles of how ion channels and receptors operate will be studied and applied to their physiological function in nerve cells including networks of nerve cells and nerve-muscle communication. The key principles of channel and receptor function will be determined by students in laboratory exercises using contemporary electrophysiological instrumentation. Advanced topics such as the modulation of channel and receptor function, disease-causing mutations, and the molecular mechanisms of synaptic plasticity will also be studied. The course culminates in student-led investigations of a special topic, designed and completed by research teams. Two lecture and four laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206.

BIOL 346 Medical Entomology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Introduces students to biology of medically important arthropods, life cycles of transmitted pathogens, disease symptoms and epidemiology. Discusses the economic and social impact of these arthropods and strategies for their control; covers unorthodox points of intersection between entomology and medical sciences, including psychiatry, surgery and forensic medicine.
Prerequisites
[BIOL (205 or 206) and (BIOL 217)] or BIOL 202

BIOL 350 Undergraduate Research
Units: 0.5
Description
Independent research conducted with faculty supervision. May be repeated eight times for credit.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

BIOL 351 Special Topics with Lab
Units: .5-1
Description
Special course areas covered when sufficient interest exists. Considers subject matter not covered in other biology courses. Three lecture hours per week. Some topics will include three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112 or BIOL 202

BIOL 352 Evolutionary Developmental Biology with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Study of how evolution occurs through inherited changes during the embryonic development of organisms. The genetic basis of animal diversity will be studied by examining conserved molecular, cellular, and developmental processes. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202

BIOL 354 Biological Basis of Neurodegenerative Diseases with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Examines the biological mechanisms that underlie human neurodegenerative diseases. Also examines the genetic, molecular, and cellular mechanisms of diseases like Alzheimer, Huntington, and Parkinson diseases by discovering how normal biological processes fail and lead to neuronal death. Also examines the biological basis of potential cures. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202 or BIOL 205 or BIOL 206.

BIOL 360 Environmental Remote Sensing
Units: 1
Description
(See Environmental Studies 360.)

BIOL 370 Women in Science
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Critical analysis of involvement of women in science, including the history of participation of women in science; trends and barriers to full participation in science, including real and perceived differences in the biology of the scientist; objectivity/subjectivity in science; and feminist analyses of science. Continuing dialogue on how science is done and impact that feminist scholarship has had on this dialogue. Class research project will be conducted. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
Students must have fulfilled their Fields of Study-Natural Science requirement or have permission from the instructor.

BIOL 380 Philosophical Issues in Evolutionary Biology
Units: 1
Description
Philosophical problems within evolutionary biology and its influence on society. Issues studied include how natural selection works, evolution and human behaviors, and the influence of evolutionary theory on our ethical and legal codes. Lecture/seminar format, with student presentations and term paper. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 202 or BIOL 207 or BIOL 225

BIOL 383 Tropical Biology and Conservation
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to principles of tropical biology and conservation, including historical and economic components. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
BIOL 190 or BIOL 192 or BIOL 199 or CHEM 112 or BIOL 202

BIOL 384 Eukaryotic Genetics
Units: 1
Description
Principles underlying gene expression in higher eukaryotes, examined through selected genetic pathologies. The course seeks to increase students' facility in making creative use of the primary scientific literature. Three lecture hours per week.

Prerequisites
BIOL 201 or BIOL 202.

BIOL 387 Biology Seminar
Units: .25
Description
Regular attendance in program seminars and written analysis of presentations. May be repeated for credit, normally taken in junior year. Meets one hour per week.
Prerequisites
Instructor approval

BIOL 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5
Description
Supervised independent work under field conditions. Designed to give student applied experience in biological specialty. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Biology, biochemistry and molecular biology, or environmental studies major at junior or senior rank and instructor approval.

BIOL 389 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
An in-depth study of biological topics not included in other courses. Students work independently, but under the supervision of a faculty member. Must be approved by department chair and instructor.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

BIOL 391 Honors Seminar I
Units: .25
Description
Special topics for junior and senior students with emphasis on topics presented in the Biology Seminar Series. One lecture hour per week.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

BIOL 392 Honors Seminar II
Units: .25
Description
Special topics for junior and senior honors candidates. One lecture hour per week.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

BIOL 395 Honors Research
Units: 1
Description
Laboratory or field-centered independent study. May be taken twice for credit.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

BIOL 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

The Chemistry Major

Note: A grade of not less than C- (1.7) is required in each chemistry course applied to the major.

For the Bachelor of Arts degree

12 units, including

CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192, Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis or Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or Science, Math and Research Training II
CHEM 205-CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 300 Measurement Statistics
CHEM 301 Quantitative Methods of Chemical Analysis
CHEM 309 and CHEM 314 or CHEM 310 and CHEM 315 Physical Chemistry
CHEM 317 Inorganic Chemistry
CHEM 322 Junior Seminar
CHEM 421-CHEM 422 Senior Seminar
One additional 1-unit upper-level course in chemistry (other than CHEM 320 or CHEM 321)
MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II or Scientific Calculus II
PHYS 127 or PHYS 131 General Physics I
One unit in physics, chosen from

PHYS 132 General Physics II
PHYS 133 Atomic and Subatomic Physics
PHYS 134 Biological Physics
Participation in undergraduate research is encouraged as an important part of the program.

For the Bachelor of Science degree

13.5-14.5 units, including

CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192, Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis or Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or Science, Math and Research Training II
CHEM 205-CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 300 Measurement Statistics
CHEM 301 Quantitative Methods of Chemical Analysis
CHEM 309 and CHEM 314 Physical Chemistry I and Laboratory
CHEM 310 and CHEM 315 Physical Chemistry II and Laboratory
CHEM 317 Inorganic Chemistry
CHEM 322 Junior Seminar
CHEM 421-CHEM 422 Senior Seminar

One additional 1-unit upper-level course in chemistry (other than CHEM 320 or CHEM 321)

An approved research experience (CHEM 406 or 1 unit of CHEM 320 or CHEM 321) that culminates in a written report or in a formal presentation outside the Chemistry Department.

MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II or Scientific Calculus II
PHYS 127 or PHYS 131 General Physics I

One unit in physics, chosen from

PHYS 132 General Physics II
PHYS 133 Atomic and Subatomic Physics
PHYS 134 Biological Physics

And for either of the above degrees

Additional upper-level elective courses in chemistry and two full years of either biology or physics are highly recommended.

Students may only receive credit for one of the following: CHEM 141, CHEM 191, or CHEM 192

The Chemistry Minor

Note: A grade of not less than C- (1.7) is required in each course in the minor.

6.5 units, including

CHEM 141 or CHEM 191 or CHEM 192, Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis or Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Laboratory or Science, Math and Research Training II
CHEM 205-CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 317 Inorganic Chemistry

At least 2.5 units of additional course work at the 300 or 400 level. Please note that CHEM 300, research (CHEM 320 or CHEM 321), and seminar (CHEM 322, CHEM 421 and CHEM 422) cannot be used to satisfy coursework for the minor.

Students may only receive credit for one of the following: CHEM 141, CHEM 191, or CHEM 192

ACS Certified Degree in Chemistry

Certifications by the department, based on American Chemical Society specifications, require:

For Chemistry Majors

The Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry with the addition of CHEM 326 or CHEM 327. Note that CHEM 326 or CHEM 327 is in addition to, not in place of, the upper-level elective required for the Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry. In addition, a written research report must be submitted to the chemistry department and approved by at least two chemistry faculty members or their designees.

For Biochemistry and Molecular Biology Majors

The completion of the Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry and molecular biology and CHEM 317, as well as either CHEM 300/ CHEM 301 or CHEM 302 also meets the certification requirements. Note that CHEM 317, as well as either CHEM 300/CHEM 301 or CHEM 302 are in place of, not in addition to, the upper-level elective required for the Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry and molecular biology. In addition, a written research report must be submitted to the chemistry department and approved by at least two chemistry faculty members or their designees.

Honors Program

Departmental honors in chemistry requires 1) a GPA of 3.3 overall and in the major; 2) completion of the Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry with the addition of CHEM 326 (or CHEM 327) and 2 units total of an approved research experience; and 3) a research thesis turned in to the honors coordinator and approved by at least two chemistry faculty members or their designees. (Note that CHEM 326 (or CHEM 327) is in addition to, not in place of, the upper-level elective required for the Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry.)

To obtain honors in chemistry, a student must apply to the University honors program. An application can be submitted through the chemistry honors coordinator after a student has completed 18.5 units total coursework and 3.5 units in chemistry past CHEM 141.

Cooperative Program

Engineering Opportunities for University of Richmond students at Virginia Commonwealth University

A fundamental understanding of chemistry, physics, and biology coupled with problem-solving and analytical skills in chemical and life science engineering represents a unique opportunity to position students for broad employment opportunities in chemical process technology and in the rapidly growing areas of biotechnology, biotechnology, and nanoscience. Toward this end, opportunities have been created for University of Richmond students who seek the advantages of a liberal arts education coupled with a strong background in the fundamentals of engineering.

A sequence of four courses offered in the School of Engineering at Virginia Commonwealth University has been approved for University of Richmond students. The requisite math background for this core and for easy transfer into the VCU M.S. program upon graduation is three semesters of calculus and one semester each of differential equations and statistics (which may be satisfied with CHEM 300). A course in computer programming is also required.

The core courses taken at VCU are
- CLSE 201 Material Balances (3 semester hours)
- CLSE 202 Energy Balances and Engineering Thermodynamics (3 semester hours)
- CLSE 301 Transport Phenomena I (3 semester hours)
- CLSE 305 Thermodynamics of Phase Equilibria and Chemical Reactions (3 semester hours)

The core courses listed above will be accepted as transfer credit. Up to one unit will count as required elective credit within the chemistry major. For a Richmond student to qualify, the following criteria would have to be met:

- Junior or senior standing at Richmond
- Enrollment in at least 3.5 units at Richmond during each term coursework is taken at VCU
- Minimum GPA of 3.00 at Richmond
- Enrollment in no more than one course at VCU in any given semester
- Prerequisites for elective courses must be completed
- Payment of any lab fees required by VCU
- Acceptance by the School of Engineering at VCU
- Student's registration must be approved in advance by VCU registrar (case-by-case approval)

Courses

CHEM 110 Pollutants in the Environment
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNC)
Description
Sources, behavior, and effects of chemical pollutants in the air, water, and soil. Topics include global warming, ozone depletion, acid rain, pesticides, and radioactive waste. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Does not count toward the chemistry major or minor. Same as Environmental Studies 110.
Prerequisites
None (high school chemistry desirable).

CHEM 111 Chemistry Detectives: Solving Real-World Puzzles
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNC)
Description
A laboratory-based course in which students learn the language and techniques used in industrial and forensic laboratories to conduct organic chemical analysis. Students become "chemistry detectives," able to solve the types of "chemistry puzzles" that are characteristic of the fun part of doing chemistry (e.g., how chemists, such as forensic and pharmaceutical chemists, determine the structure of real-world unknown compounds). A range of applications of this chemistry is discussed, including such topics as environmental, medicinal, polymer, forensic and industrial chemistries, government regulations, natural products, pheromones, and information retrieval. In the process, students will gain hands-on experience using modern instrumentation, including IR, NMR, GC-Mass Spec, and UV-Visible spectroscopy. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Does not count toward the chemistry major or minor.
Prerequisites
High school chemistry or permission of instructor.

CHEM 112 Biochemistry in the Real World
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNC)
Description
The genomics revolution of the last 10 years has given birth to the "proteome," emphasizing the central role that proteins play in virtually all life and death processes. This course will explore central features of what proteins look like and how they perform their varied functions in a variety of biological and chemical processes. These will include aspects of cell differentiation, cell death, and disease states such as cancer, Alzheimer's, and viral infections by Epstein-Barr virus, papillomavirus, and AIDS. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Does not count toward the chemistry major or minor.

CHEM 113 Catching Criminals with Chemistry
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNC)
Description
Investigation of how chemistry can be applied to solving crimes. The nature of physical evidence will be discussed, along with the chemical techniques used to gather and analyze that evidence. The course will also introduce students to the legal aspects surrounding the introduction of evidence into a court of law, thus providing an interdisciplinary focus for those interested in science and law. By combining case studies with applicable technology, students will gain a heightened understanding of the important roles that chemistry plays in forensic science. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. This course does not count toward the chem major or minor.

Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNC)
Description
Fundamental principles of chemistry, including atomic and molecular structure, bonding, periodicity; chemical reactions, including stoichiometry, acid base chemistry, oxidation-reduction; and an introduction to kinetics and thermodynamics, chemical reactions and, equilibria. Introductory course for science majors and those pursuing degrees in the health sciences. It is a prerequisite for upper-level courses. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Previous knowledge of chemistry is helpful but not
CHEM 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3

Description
One of two courses taught spring semester as part of Integrated Quantitative Science program. Will integrate topics from Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Math and Computer Science and will include instructors from all five disciplines. Each semester of the course will be organized around a guiding principle that integrates several concepts. Along with co-requisite, will include ten hours for lecture and lab combination. Students may only receive credit for one of the following: CHEM 141, CHEM 191, or CHEM 192.

Prerequisites

CHEM 192 Science, Math and Research Training II

Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement FSNC

Description
Year-long course provides an, interdisciplinary, integrated introduction to biology and chemistry, with an accompanying integrated lab. Based on the material in the first course of the major in each of these disciplines, this course will focus on current scientific problems facing today’s world such as HIV/AIDS or antibiotic resistance. The course is team taught by two faculty members, one from each discipline. Teaching will be integrated so that links between concepts are readily apparent and students are stimulated to think beyond traditional science methodology. The laboratory will be comprised of hands-on and investigation based experiences using both experimental and computer simulation approaches. The SMART course is designed for students considering a major in either biology or chemistry and also meets requirements for students who go on to study medicine or other health sciences fields. To be taken in consecutive semesters in the first year and with an accompanying year-long calculus course. Completion of the full year of SMART (CHEM 192) will substitute for CHEM 141 and BIOL 199. 3 lecture and 3 laboratory hours per week. Students may only receive credit for one of the following: CHEM 141, CHEM 191, or CHEM 192.

Prerequisites
BIOL 192

CHEM 205 Organic Chemistry I

Units: 1

Description
Chemistry of compounds of carbon, which is fundamental to understanding of both chemistry and biology. Nomenclature, structure-physical property relationships, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy and introduction to macromolecules, including those of biological significance. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 or 191 or 192 with a grade of C- or better.

Units: 1

Description
Chemistry of compounds of carbon, which is fundamental to understanding of both chemistry and biology. Nomenclature, structure-physical property relationships, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy and introduction to macromolecules, including those of biological significance. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 or 191 or 192 with a grade of C- or better.
used for compound separation and purification, as well as factors important to industrial scalability versus nanoscale applications. Focus on modern theories and implementations of instrumental methods for compound separations and principles underlying instrumentation. Three to four hours of lecture and/or laboratory per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 301 or 302.

CHEM 308 Statistical Mechanics
Units: 1

Description
(See Physics 308.)

CHEM 309 Physical Chemistry I
Units: 1

Description
Study of the principal laws and theories of chemistry: gas laws and kinetic molecular theory, classical and statistical thermodynamics, wave mechanics and molecular structure, and chemical kinetics. Principles and properties of liquids, solids and solutions, and phase equilibria are also examined along with electrochemistry. Three lecture hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 or 191 or 192; Physics 132, 133, or 134; and Mathematics 212 or 232; or permission of instructor. Chemistry 317 is highly recommended.

CHEM 310 Physical Chemistry II
Units: 1

Description
Study of the principal laws and theories of chemistry: gas laws and kinetic molecular theory, classical and statistical thermodynamics, wave mechanics and molecular structure, and chemical kinetics. Principles and properties of liquids, solids and solutions, and phase equilibria are also examined along with electrochemistry. Three lecture hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 or 191 or 192; Physics 132, 133, or 134; and Mathematics 212 or 232; or permission of instructor. Chemistry 317 is highly recommended.

CHEM 311 Theoretical and Computational Chemistry
Units: 1

Description
Involves the fundamental study of the structure, energetics, and behavior of molecular systems using tools from mathematics, physics, chemistry, and biology as implemented on a computer. Will cover the basics of the field including, but not limited to, molecular mechanics, quantum mechanics, hybrid methods, and docking. These tools can be applied to problems in drug design, protein folding, reaction mechanisms, and prediction of molecular phenomenon, to name a few.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 or 191 or 192 and Mathematics 212 or 232

CHEM 313 The Natures of the Chemical Bond
Units: 1

Description
Builds on the bonding ideas introduced in the general and introductory chemistry curriculum. Enables meaningful access to the chemical literature on experimental and computational studies of bonding in molecules and solids for systems spanning the entire periodic table. Spans orbital and atoms-in-molecules models of bonding (with perspectives on functional group), phenomena such as halogen, aurophilic (metalophilic) interactions, aromaticity (organic and inorganic), thermodynamic vs. kinetic stability of compounds, and chemical views on extended solids.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 141, 191 or 192 and Mathematics 212 or 232.

CHEM 314 Physical Chemistry Laboratory I
Units: .5

Description
Experimental course corresponding to Chemistry 309. Covers critical experiments related to the theoretical treatments of gas laws, thermodynamics, and chemical kinetics. Introduction to scientific writing and basic error propagation.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 309

CHEM 315 Physical Chemistry Laboratory II
Units: .5

Description
Experimental course corresponding to Chemistry 310. Covers critical experiments related to the theoretical treatments of quantum mechanics, spectroscopy and to a lesser extent, statistical mechanics.

Prerequisites
CHEM 310 is a co-requisite for CHEM 315.

CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
Units: 1

Description
Study of the fate, transport, and distribution of chemicals in the environment. The chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere, and geosphere will be covered, highlighting effects of inorganic and organic pollutants. Topics such as global warming, stratospheric ozone depletion, acid rain, photochemical smog, and groundwater contamination will be discussed in detail. Three lecture hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 205 or permission of instructor.

CHEM 317 Inorganic Chemistry
Units: 1

Description
Inorganic chemistry embraces the chemistry of all of the elements. This course will focus on the synthesis and behavior of inorganic materials. As such, it will include certain aspects of thermodynamics, atomic and molecular bonding theories, kinetics, and electrochemical processes as they pertain to inorganic compounds and materials. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week.

Prerequisites
Chemistry 206.

CHEM 320 Introduction to Research
Units: .5-1

Description
Laboratory research experience with a faculty member. Please note that students are not allowed to take both CHEM 320 and CHEM 321 in the same term.

CHEM 321 Advanced Independent Research
Units: .5-1
CHEM 326 Biochemistry
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture hours and an extra experience per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Laboratory
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 329 Protein Structure, Function and Biophysics
Description
Advanced topics in protein structure, function, and biophysics. Commences with brief treatment of essential elements of kinetics, thermodynamics, and quantum mechanics necessary for a thorough understanding of topics to be presented later and continues with detailed coverage of enzyme kinetics and ligand binding, chemical modification, site-directed mutagenesis, x-ray crystallography, spectroscopic techniques used to investigate conformation, and the folding of proteins, including Circular Dichroism, Fluorescence and NMR; and computational approaches used to compute and visualize both structure and reaction. Second half of course focuses on three classes of proteins and associated themes: 1) kinases, phosphatases, and regulation, 2) proteases and processes and 3) oligomeric enzymes and allosteric models. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 321.

CHEM 406 or 2 semesters of CHEM 320.

Units: 0
Description
Regular attendance in departmental seminar program. Normally taken in the junior year. One class hour per week.

CHEM 323 Lipid Biochemistry
Units: 1
Description
Three lecture hours per week. Topics may include lipid structure, chemistry, and function. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 324 Enzyme Catalysis and Mechanism
Units: 1
Description
Topics include enzyme kinetics, catalysis, and enzyme mechanisms. Prerequisites Chemistry 327.

CHEM 325 Biochemical Principles
Units: 1
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture hours and an extra experience per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Laboratory
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 329 Protein Structure, Function and Biophysics
Description
Advanced topics in protein structure, function, and biophysics. Commences with brief treatment of essential elements of kinetics, thermodynamics, and quantum mechanics necessary for a thorough understanding of topics to be presented later and continues with detailed coverage of enzyme kinetics and ligand binding, chemical modification, site-directed mutagenesis, x-ray crystallography, spectroscopic techniques used to investigate conformation, and the folding of proteins, including Circular Dichroism, Fluorescence and NMR; and computational approaches used to compute and visualize both structure and reaction. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 321.

CHEM 406 or 2 semesters of CHEM 320.

Units: 0
Description
Regular attendance in departmental seminar program. Normally taken in the junior year. One class hour per week.

CHEM 323 Lipid Biochemistry
Units: 1
Description
Three lecture hours per week. Topics may include lipid structure, chemistry, and function. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 324 Enzyme Catalysis and Mechanism
Units: 1
Description
Topics include enzyme kinetics, catalysis, and enzyme mechanisms. Prerequisites Chemistry 327.

CHEM 325 Biochemical Principles
Units: 1
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture hours and an extra experience per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Laboratory
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 322 Junior Seminar
Units: 0
Description
Regular attendance in departmental seminar program. Normally taken in the junior year. One class hour per week.

CHEM 323 Lipid Biochemistry
Units: 1
Description
Three lecture hours per week. Topics may include lipid structure, chemistry, and function. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 324 Enzyme Catalysis and Mechanism
Units: 1
Description
Topics include enzyme kinetics, catalysis, and enzyme mechanisms. Prerequisites Chemistry 327.

CHEM 325 Biochemical Principles
Units: 1
Description
Structure and chemistry of biologically important macromolecules and chemical processes involved in cellular synthesis degradation, and assembly of these macromolecules. Three lecture hours and an extra experience per week. Prerequisites Chemistry 206.

CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Laboratory

CHEM 406 or 2 semesters of CHEM 320.

CHEM 322 Junior Seminar
Units: 0
Description
Regular attendance in departmental seminar program. Normally taken in the junior year. One class hour per week.
Chemistry 206.

CHEM 401 Quantum Mechanics
Units: 1
Description
(See PHYS 309-PHYS 310.) Please note that CHEM 401 (PHYS 309) may be used to satisfy program requirements in only one department. For example, it cannot count toward both a Physics major (or minor) and a Chemistry major (or minor).

CHEM 402 Quantum Mechanics
Units: 1
Description
(See PHYS 309-PHYS 310.) Please note that CHEM 402 (PHYS 310) may be used to satisfy program requirements in only one department. For example, it cannot count toward both a Physics major (or minor) and a Chemistry major (or minor).

CHEM 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research or produce a creative arts project in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

CHEM 417 Organometallic Chemistry
Units: 1
Description
Overview of the structure, reactivity, and applications of organometallic compounds. Topics include main group and transition metal complexes, catalysis, applications to organic synthesis, and bioorganometallic chemistry. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
Chemistry 317 or permission of instructor.

CHEM 419 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry
Units: 1
Description
Study of principles of chemistry involved in bonding, structure, properties and reactions of main group transition metal, coordination and organometallic compounds with emphasis on periodic trends, thermodynamic, and kinetic factors and symmetry. Three lecture hours per week.
Prerequisites
Chemistry 309 and 317 (309 may be taken concurrently).

CHEM 421 Senior Seminar
Units: 0
Description
Participation in departmental seminar program, to include regular attendance and one presentation during one of the two semesters. Presentation will include both written and oral component, each prepared on specific topic in chemistry. One class hour per week.
Prerequisites
Chemistry 322 or Biology 387.

CHEM 422 Senior Seminar
Units: .5
Description
Participation in departmental seminar program, to include regular attendance and one presentation during one of the two semesters. Presentation will include both written and oral component, each prepared on specific topic in chemistry. One class hour per week.
Prerequisites
Chemistry 421.

CHEM 427 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
In-depth exploration of subjects not included in other courses, done independently but under faculty member's supervision.
Prerequisites
Four semesters of chemistry and permission of instructor.

CHEM 433 Special Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Special course areas covered when sufficient interest exists. Considers subject matter not covered in other chemistry courses. See chemistry department home page (chemistry.richmond.edu) for special topics currently scheduled.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

Chinese Studies Program

Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures
Jessica Chan, Section Coordinator
Affiliated Faculty: Greaney (Religion), Loo (History), Wang (Political Science)

This section contains information specific to the degree program in Chinese Studies. For full information regarding departmental policies relevant to all the modern literatures and cultures (MLC) degree programs, study abroad, and course sequencing, see the main page of the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures.

The Chinese Studies Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

9 courses including:

Five courses chosen from the following, one of which must be a 400-level course:

- CHIN 301 Advanced Intermediate Chinese
- CHIN 302 Conversational Chinese
- CHIN 311 Insights into Chinese Culture (summer only)
- CHIN 401 Advanced Chinese I
CHIN 402 Advanced Chinese II
CHIN 410 Business Chinese
CHIN 497 Selected Topics

Four courses chosen from the list below with CLAC in Chinese

- HIST 250 Modern East Asia 1600-1960
- HIST 251 Chinese Revolutions
- HIST 252 China Modern: 1900-1940
- HIST 341 History and Memory: WWII in East Asia
- MLC 225 Chinese Culture and Civilization
- MLC 227 The Action Genre in East Asian Cinema
- MLC 323 Hero, Talent, and Beauty: Classical Chinese Narrative
- MLC 325 Revolution and Modernity in Chinese Literature
- MLC 355 Chinese Cinema
- PLSC 345 Politics of China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan
- PLSC 357 International Relations of East Asia
- PLSC 358 The U.S. and Asia's Great Powers

Students MUST complete an approved study abroad experience as part of the Chinese Studies major. The study abroad experience can be fulfilled through a summer study abroad program associated with the University of Richmond, or other summer or semester programs in Chinese universities approved by the Chinese Studies faculty.

Students must take one 400-level course in Chinese at the University of Richmond after they return from abroad.

Students can transfer up to three courses to fulfill their Chinese Studies major requirements.

Cross-School Major in Chinese Studies and International Business

(Earned in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)

9 courses and an interdisciplinary research project (IDST 379), in addition to completing all requirements of the international business concentration for the business administration major, including

CHIN 410: Business Chinese, and FOUR courses at the 300-level or above, chosen from

CHIN 301 Advanced Intermediate Chinese
CHIN 302 Conversational Chinese
CHIN 311 Insights into Chinese Culture
CHIN 401 Advanced Chinese I
CHIN 402 Advanced Chinese II
CHIN 497 Selected Topics

One semester full-time study in China or Taiwan at an approved university

The cross-school major in Chinese Studies and International Business represents a collaborative project between the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures and the International Business Program in the Robins School of Business. Designated faculty members from each program will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major. The curriculum includes a semester abroad at one of the University’s partner institutions (for example, Tsinghua University in Beijing or National Chengchi University in Taiwan). There, students will continue their course work in Chinese Studies and business in classes with both local and other international students.

To prepare for the experience abroad, students must have taken CHIN 202 or the equivalent. Upon returning to the University of Richmond, they will broaden their knowledge of literary and cultural studies through advanced seminars as well as additional Robins School of Business coursework. The Chinese component of this program thus consists of five courses at the 300-level or above taken on campus plus four courses taken abroad, or the equivalent of a nine-course major in MLC.

The Chinese Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

5 courses including

3-4 courses in Chinese at the 300 level or above
1-2 electives from the list below with CLAC in Chinese or a 400-level course in Chinese:

- HIST 250 Modern East Asia 1600-1960
- HIST 251 Chinese Revolutions
- HIST 252 China Modern: 1900-1940
- HIST 341 History and Memory: WWII in East Asia
- MLC 225 Chinese Culture and Civilization
- MLC 227 The Action Genre in East Asian Cinema
- MLC 323 Hero, Talent, and Beauty: Classical Chinese Narrative
- MLC 325 Revolution and Modernity in Chinese Literature
- MLC 355 Chinese Cinema
- PLSC 345 Politics of China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan
- PLSC 357 International Relations of East Asia
- PLSC 358 The U.S. and Asia's Great Powers
- RELG 355 Selected Asian Religions

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted. Minors must take at least one 400-level class on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the minor requirements.

Study Abroad

For students of Chinese, the department offers a summer study program in China. Semester or year study abroad at our partner institutions in Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Beijing is
Courses

CHIN 101 Elementary Chinese
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to standard Mandarin in cultural context; development of skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing.
Prerequisites
101 is prerequisite to 102.

CHIN 102 Elementary Chinese
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to standard Mandarin in cultural context; development of skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing.
Prerequisites
101 is prerequisite to 102.

CHIN 201 Intermediate Chinese
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (202 only, COM2)
Description
Reinforcement and expansion of skills in speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Appreciation of Chinese culture.
Prerequisites
Chinese 102 is prerequisite to 201; 201 is prerequisite to 202.

CHIN 202 Intermediate Chinese
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (202 only, COM2)
Description
Reinforcement and expansion of skills in speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Appreciation of Chinese culture.
Prerequisites
Chinese 102 is prerequisite to 201; 201 is prerequisite to 202.

CHIN 301 Advanced Intermediate Chinese
Units: 1
Description
A continuation of Chinese 202. Focuses on the further development of the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
Prerequisites
Chinese 202.

CHIN 302 Conversational Chinese
Units: 1
Description
A continuation of Advanced Intermediate Chinese. Focuses on the further development of the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
Prerequisites
Chinese 202.

CHIN 311 Insights into Chinese Culture
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to major current issues and influential figures on political, social and, in particular, cultural scenes of China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan, with reference to relevant historical background.
Prerequisites
Chinese 202.

CHIN 312 Insights into Chinese Culture
Units: 1
Description
(Summer only; taught in China). Reinforcement of communicative language skills, reading, and writing. Emphasis on major current issues and cultural scenes of China and Hong Kong, with reference to relevant historical background. Students will participate in various field trips.
Prerequisites
Chinese 202.

CHIN 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
Internship experiences outside of the department in fields related to Chinese studies. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

CHIN 389 Practice Assistantship
Units: .25
Description
Students lead practice sessions associated with the elementary and intermediate language sequence in Chinese. The practice assistantship does not count as credit toward the major or minor. Up to one unit can be applied toward graduation credit.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

CHIN 401 Advanced Chinese I
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of themes and issues in contemporary Chinese culture including social issues, popular culture, traditions, politics, and history providing a range of views across culture boundaries.
Prerequisites
One 300-level course in Chinese or permission of instructor

CHIN 402 Advanced Chinese II
Units: 1
Description
Further refines Chinese syntax and develops academic writing skills sufficient to complete a research project in Chinese.
Prerequisites
CHIN 401 or permission of instructor

CHIN 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

CHIN 410 Business Chinese
Units: 1
Description
Designed for students who are interested in learning business Chinese. Focusing on topics of international business and foreign trade, the course offers advanced training in vocabulary, grammar, and rhetoric. The aim is to equip students with necessary language skills to function in the business world related to China.
Prerequisites
Chinese 402 or permission of instructor.

CHIN 495 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Special projects individually pursued under supervision of faculty member.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

CHIN 497 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Special interest topics offered at department's discretion. Recent topics include contemporary readings in culture, literature and history; and romance.
Prerequisites
Chinese 301 or permission of instructor.

Classical Studies
Walter Stevenson, Chair
Professor Simpson
Associate Professors Bangham, Laskaris, Stevenson
Assistant Professor Damer

The Department of Classical Studies offers majors and minors in classical civilization, Greek language and literature and Latin language and literature.

The Department of Classical Studies also offers three combined majors with the English department. The combined programs in classics and English, Greek and English, and Latin and English are intended for students who wish to pursue in-depth work in both the classical and the English literary traditions.

The Classical Civilization Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

9 units, including
CLSC 305 Greek and Roman Values or CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition

CLCV 498 Major Seminar
Seven units selected from courses offered by the Department of Classical Studies or approved courses in related fields

The Classical Civilization Minor

Note: No course grade below C- (1.7) will count toward the minor.

Five units selected from courses offered by the Department of Classical Studies (excluding courses in Greek and Latin) or approved courses in related fields, of which three must be in the Department of Classical Studies.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major or minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the major or minor unless otherwise noted.

Approved Courses in Related Fields for the Classical Civilization Major or Minor

ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology

Required Course for the Classical Civilization Major

CLCV 498 Major Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Methodologies appropriate to the study of classical civilization and the writing of a research paper.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

Courses Offered in English for Classical Civilization Major and Minor

CLSC 101 Classical Mythology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduces students to the myths of the ancient Greeks and Romans and to some of the modern theoretical and interpretive approaches (e.g., historical, religious, psychoanalytic, anthropological) to the study of myths in ancient literature.

CLSC 201 Classical Elements in the English Language
Units: 1
Description
A study of how Latin and Greek have contributed to English vocabulary -- basic, learned, and technical. In addition to developing the skill of seeing within English words meaningful prefixes, roots, and suffixes, topics of interest include the history of English, the expansion of English vocabulary via borrowing and neologism, and the ways words' meanings may change over time.

CLSC 205 Greek and Roman Mythology: Epic
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Selected mythic themes in Greek and Roman epic literature from Homer to Ovid. Emphasis on myths prominent in Western literature.

CLSC 207 Greek Magic
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Exploration of magic as a means to understanding and affecting the natural world. Major topics include erotic magic, dreams and divination, ritual purification, sacred plants, and healing.

CLSC 208 Mythology: Greek Drama
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Study of myths preserved in Greek dramas, and historical and literary analysis of these plays.

CLSC 210 A History of Early Medicine
Units: 1
Description
Medical concepts and practices of several ancient peoples of the Aegean and Mediterranean, with a focus on the Greeks and Romans. The development of medicine in Western, Byzantine, Islamic, and Arabic traditions is traced into modern times.

CLSC 212 Dining and Drinking in Classical Antiquity
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSSA
Description
A social history of eating and drinking in the ancient Mediterranean world, from communal religious feasts to private banquets. Using primary ancient sources (literary texts, artistic representations, and archaeological finds), examines the roles of dining and drinking in ancient societies and social ideologies.

CLSC 220 Introduction to Archaeology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSSA
Description
What can we learn about people and societies, past and present, from their material remains? Introduces archaeological method and theory, with special focus on sites of the ancient Mediterranean basin.

CLSC 301 Greek Art and Archaeology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSVP
Description
A survey of architecture, sculpture, ceramics, and painting in the Greek world, from the Bronze Age through the Classical period, and an exploration of how art and buildings functioned in Greek society. Introduces students to basic methods of analyzing and interpreting archaeological remains.

CLSC 302 Roman Art and Archaeology
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSVP
Description
A survey of Roman art and architecture from the early republic through the late empire, and throughout the Roman world, from Spain to Syria. Explores the meanings of 'style' in Roman art and the social and political significance of Roman sculpture, painting, and architecture.

CLSC 304 The Feminine in Greco-Roman Literature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSLT
Description
Concept of the feminine as seen in major works of Greek and Roman poetry, prose, and drama.

CLSC 305 Greek and Roman Values
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSHT
Description
Investigation of ancient Greco-Roman values -- artistic, religious, political, and personal -- as found in an eclectic survey of primary texts.

CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSHT
Description
Legacy of classical Greece and Rome in Medieval, Renaissance, and modern worlds.

CLSC 308 Women in Greece and Rome
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Structure of Greek and Roman societies based on analysis of the position of women within them. Comparison with other disenfranchised groups, particularly ethnic minorities.

CLSC 312 The Land of Hellas: Ancient Topography-Modern Legacy
Units: 1
Description
(Summer only; taught abroad.) Study of ancient remains of Bronze Age and Classical Greece and their role as a binding force for the ethnic and national identity of the modern country.

CLSC 320 Cultural Property: Archaeology, Ethics, and Law
Units: 1
Description
Who owns the past? Exploration of current issues of archaeological ethics and cultural heritage management. Topics may range from the ancient history of looting and appropriation to the illicit antiquities market and site preservation today, and how local and international property and tax laws affect collecting practices. Class presentations and research papers explore these legal and ethical issues through specific case studies, primarily from the Mediterranean region.

CLSC 321 Archaeology of the Middle East
Units: 1
Description
Art and cultures of the ancient Middle East, from the dawn of civilization to the age of Alexander, with a primary focus on Mesopotamia, Anatolia, and Syro-Palestine. While surveying the ancient sites and monuments of these regions of the Middle East, we will also consider how cultural heritage has played a role in the history of archaeology and the creation of modern identities, and how it may be used in varying ways today as 'cultural capital.'

CLSC 329 The Ancient World in Cinema
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Examines cinematic representations of the ancient Greek and Roman Mediterranean, viewed through a variety of literary and cinematic genres in European and American cinema of the 20th Century. The films offer an opportunity to reflect on how our various modern visions of (and desires for) the ancient world illuminate the present as much as they animate the past. Students will read selections from Greek and Roman history and poetry (in translation) in conjunction with weekly viewings and written assignments; secondary readings will be drawn from contemporary film criticism and theory.

CLSC 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
Supervised independent work. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

CLSC 395 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
In-depth study of a health care topic under the supervision of a faculty member.

CLSC 398 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Topics or themes in Classics.

CLSC 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

CLSC 499 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Content suited to the requirements and interests of student, chosen by student and faculty director in advance of the semester in which the independent study is to be done.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

Cognitive Science
L. Elizabeth Crawford, Coordinator (Psychology)

Cognitive science is the interdisciplinary study of the structures and functions of the human mind. Cognitive science investigates such topics as our sensory/perceptual apparatus, including vision, audition, olfaction; internal mental processes such as language, thinking, reasoning, and problem solving; motor control and the organization of skilled behavior such as speech and musical performance; memory; consciousness; attention; and many other aspects of the human mind. Cognitive science requires a multi-disciplinary approach and includes such fields as psychology, biology, neuroscience, philosophy, anthropology, linguistics, sociology, and computer science.

The cognitive science major is offered as a Bachelor of Arts degree only.

The Cognitive Science Major
Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70).

12 units, including

- PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
- PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
- PSYC 331 Neuroscience
- PSYC 333 Cognitive Science
- PSYC 341 Cognitive Neuroscience

Two additional foundation courses chosen from:

- MLC 350 Linguistics
- CMSC 101 Minds and Machines
- CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing or CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
- PHIL 370 Philosophy of Mind

One advanced senior-level course chosen from:

- BIOL 391 Senior Seminar
- CMSC 395 Artificial Intelligence
- PSYC course in the 433-449 range

Four electives chosen from:

- ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
- BIOL 343 Neurobiology
- BIOL 350 Independent Research
- CMSC 221 Data Structures
- CMSC 301 Computer Organizations
- CMSC 340 Independent Research
- PHIL 251 Symbolic Logic
- PHIL 390 Independent Research
- PSYC 361 Independent Research
- PSYC 449 Advanced Seminar

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Combined Majors

Designated faculty members from each department will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major.

The combined majors offer options for students who want to combine in-depth study in two different areas and conduct independent research.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

English/Classical Studies

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

15.5 units, including

Eight courses in Classics, to include

- CLSC 205 Greek and Roman Mythology: Epic
- CLSC 208 Mythology: Greek Drama
- CLSC 305 Greek and Roman Values or CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition
- Two other literature classes in classics (may include language classes at the 200 level or higher)
- A minimum of three other classics department courses

Seven courses in English, to include

- ENGL 297 Literature in Context: Genre and Mode
- ENGL 298 Literature in Context: Texts in History
- One 300-level course from Group A (literature before the early to mid-19th century)
- One 300-level course from Group B (literature after the early to mid-19th century)
- Two additional courses at the 300 level
- ENGL 400 Junior/Senior Seminar

IDST 379 Combined Major Project/Portfolio

A senior writing project (taken for one half unit as IDST 379) on a comparative topic dealing with literatures in Latin or Greek and English will be required. The paper must be 20-30 pages long and will make significant use of primary and secondary sources, and will be conducted through independent study. Students should select a focus for the writing project no later than spring of the junior year, and will have two supervisors, one from the English department and one from the classical studies department. By the beginning of senior year, the student should designate one of the supervisors as the primary supervisor, and this supervisor will have primary responsibility for determining the student's grade on the writing project after considering an evaluation and a suggested grade supplied by the second supervisor. If there is sharp disagreement between the two supervisors over the final grade, the primary supervisor's departmental chairperson will appoint a third reader/ grader, whose decision will break the deadlock between the first and second supervisors.

English/French Major

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

14 courses and a senior project to be distributed as follows:

Seven courses in French, to include

- FREN 305 Writing in French through Culture and Literature
- Three courses selected from:
  - FREN 320 Literature in Context;
  - FREN 324 Francophone Cultures and Literatures;
  - FREN 325 Medieval and Early Modern Society;

Designated faculty members from each department will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major. Study abroad in a German-speaking country is very strongly recommended.

English/Greek

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

15.5 units, including

- Eight courses in Greek, to include
  - CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition
  - Seven courses in Greek language and literature

- Seven courses in English, to include
  - ENGL 297 Literature in Context: Genre and Mode
  - ENGL 298 Literature in Context: Texts in History
  - One 300-level course from Group A (literature before the early to mid-19th century)
  - One 300-level course from Group B (literature after the early to mid-19th century)

English/Latin

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

15.5 units, including

Eight courses in Latin, to include

- CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition
- Seven courses in Latin language and literature

English/Theatre

Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

14.5 units, including

Seven courses in theatre, to include

- THTR 205 Production Studies I
- THTR 203 Introduction to Lighting and Sound, or THTR 206 Introduction to Costume, or THTR 301 Scene Design
- THTR 212 Basics of Acting or THTR 308 Basics of Directing
- THTR 306 Production Studies II
- THTR 309 Theatre History I or THTR 319 Theatre History II
- THTR 370 Staging Gender, THTR 210 Performing Diversity, or THTR 229 Going Solo: The Politics of Identity in Contemporary Solo Performance, or THTR 239 Latina/os On Stage: From the Barrios to Broadway, or THTR 320 Twentieth-Century Acting Styles and Theory
- THTR 407 Production Studies III

English/Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies

Please note the following caveats:

- No single course can count in two categories.
- Students in the combined major cannot also minor in Theatre or English.
Note: A grade of C (2.0) is required in all coursework comprising the major.

13.5 units, including

Six courses in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies, to include

- WGSS 200 Introduction to Women, Gender & Sexuality Studies
- WGSS 489 Research Methods and Capstone Preparation
- Four additional WGSS electives (not from the English Department) at least two of which must be above the 200-level

Seven courses in English, to include

- ENGL 297 Literature in Context: Genre and Mode
- ENGL 298 Literature in Context: Texts in History
- One 300-level course from Group A (literature before the early to mid-19th century)
- One 300-level course from Group B (literature after the early to mid-19th century)
- Two additional courses at the 300-level
- ENGL 400 Junior/Senior Seminar

IDST 379 Combined Major Project/Portfolio

A senior writing project (taken for one half unit as IDST 379) on a topic related to both English and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies will be required. The paper must be 20-30 pages long and will make significant use of primary and secondary sources, and will be conducted through independent study. Students should select a focus for the writing project no later than spring of the junior year, and will have two supervisors, one from the English department and one approved by the Women's Studies board, who is not from the English department. By the beginning of senior year, the student should designate one of the supervisors as the primary supervisor, and this supervisor will have primary responsibility for determining the student's grade on the writing project after considering an evaluation and a suggested grade supplied by the second supervisor. If there is sharp disagreement between the two supervisors over the final grade, the primary supervisor's departmental chairperson will appoint a third reader/ grader, whose decision will break the deadlock between the first and second supervisors.

No more than one unit of internship credit in women, gender, and sexuality studies will be counted towards the combined major.

Computer Science

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

William Ross, Chair
Professors: Charlesworth, Davis, Fenster, J. Hubbard, Nall, Ross
Associate Professors: Barnett, Cain, Candill, K. Hoke, Kerckhove, Lawson, Owen, Shaw, Szajda
Assistant Professors: Wares

Director of Developmental Mathematics: H. Hoke

The Computer Science Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no computer science course grade below C- (1.70). Students are strongly advised to consult with faculty in planning their major curriculum.

For the Bachelor of Arts degree

11.5 units, including

- CMSC 150 or CMSC 155 Introduction to Computing or Scientific Computing
- CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
- CMSC 222 Discrete Structures for Computing
- CMSC 240 Software Systems Development
- CMSC 301 Computer Organization
- CMSC 315 Algorithms
- CMSC 323 Design and Implementation of Programming Languages
- Three additional 1-unit CMSC electives at the 300 level.

No more than one unit of CMSC electives at the 300 level. Without departmental approval, no more than one of these courses can be an Independent Study course.

MATH 211 Calculus I

For the Bachelor of Science degree

14.5 units, including

- CMSC 150 or CMSC 155 Introduction to Computing or Scientific Computing
- CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
- CMSC 222 Discrete Structures for Computing
- CMSC 240 Software Systems Development
- CMSC 301 Computer Organization
- CMSC 315 Algorithms
- CMSC 323 Design and Implementation of Programming Languages
- Three additional 1-unit CMSC electives at the 300 level.

Without departmental approval, no more than one of these courses can be an Independent Study course.

MATH 211 Calculus I

The Computer Science Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no computer science course grade below C- (1.70). Students are strongly advised to consult with faculty in planning their minor curriculum.

5.5 units, including

- CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing or CMSC 155 Scientific Computing
CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
CMSC 222 Discrete Structures for Computing
CMSC 240 Software Systems Development
CMSC 301 Computer Organization or CMSC 315 Algorithms
One elective unit chosen from:
- A 1-unit 300-level Computer Science elective or
- A 1-unit computationally intensive upper level course from another department approved by the computer science faculty.

Honors Program

Students invited into the honors program may earn honors in computer science by completing the following requirements:
1. Two 300-level courses for honors credit (one of which has a 300-level prereq: 321, 322, 323, 326, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335);
2. Two semesters of directed independent study (CMSC 340);
3. Honors paper

Courses

CMSC 101 Minds and Machines
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Formal deduction in propositional logic. The fundamentals of computer architecture. An elementary exploration of the extent to which symbolic reasoning can be automated, including a consideration of related results in fields such as neuroscience and artificial intelligence. Three hours lecture and one hour lab per week.

CMSC 105 Elementary Programming with Lab
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Solving problems by writing computer programs. Introduction to computer architecture. Emphasis on symbolic reasoning using examples from a particular computing context. For non-majors. Not open to students who have completed any computer science course that fulfills major requirements. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Techniques for writing computer programs to solve problems. Topics include elementary computer organization, object-oriented programming, control structures, arrays, methods and parameter passing, recursion, searching, sorting, and file I/O. Three lecture and two laboratory hours per week. A student may not receive credit for both Computer Science 150 and 155. Students who have received credit for courses numbered 221 or higher may not take 150 for credit.

CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Note: Knowledge of the topics of Computer Science 150, 155, or Physics 191 (IQS) is a prerequisite to all higher numbered Computer Science Courses. Same course as Computer Science 150 but with greater emphasis on programming applications in the sciences. A student may not receive credit for both Computer Science 150 and 155.

Prerequisites
Math 211

CMSC 195 Special Topics
Units: .25-1
Description
Special topics satisfying neither major nor minor requirements.

CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Introduction to data structures, including stacks, queues, linked lists, and binary trees. Topics include abstraction, object-oriented programming, recursion, and computational complexity. Three lecture and two laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Computer Science 150 or 155 or MATH 190.

CMSC 222 Discrete Structures for Computing with Lab
Units: 1
Description
Sets, functions, elementary propositional and predicate logic, elementary graph theory, recurrence relations, proof techniques (including mathematical induction and proof by contradiction), combinatorics, probability, and random numbers, with applications to computing. Three hours lecture and one hour lab per week.
Prerequisites
CMSC 150 or 155 or MATH 190.

CMSC 240 Software Systems Development
Units: 5
Description
Introduction to techniques necessary for development of large-scale software systems, including design of software systems, adapting to legacy code, testing, debugging, and group work. Introduction to the C++ programming language, including pointers, dynamic memory allocation, and the C++ Standard Template Library (STL).
Prerequisites
Computer Science 221.

CMSC 288 Computer Science Apprenticeship
Units: .25-.5
Description
Participation in development of software, with supervision of computer science faculty. Does not count for computer science major or minor. No more than a total of 1.5 units of Computer Science 288 may count toward the total number of units required for a degree.

CMSC 301 Computer Organization
Units: 1
Description
Fundamentals of computer organization. Topics include instruction and data representations, assembly language, processor data path design, memory systems and I/O. Also includes examination of how software characteristics impact hardware design and optimization. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
CMSC 221 and CMSC 240 (CMSC 240 may be taken concurrently)

CMSC 315 Algorithms
Units: 1
Description
Design, analysis, and implementation of advanced computer algorithms. Emphasis is given to problem-solving techniques, including the greedy method, divide-and-conquer, and dynamic programming. Specific problem domains vary. Topics may include sorting, graphs, networks, computational geometry, NP-completeness, approximation algorithms, text processing, distributed systems, and numerical algorithms. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
CMCS 221 and 222.

CMSC 321 Operating Systems
Units: 1
Description
Structure of operating systems, process management, memory management, file systems, and case studies. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 222 and 301.

CMSC 322 Software Engineering Practicum
Units: 1
Description
Project-oriented course. Principles of software engineering will be emphasized throughout. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Senior standing or two courses at the 300 level that have Computer Science 301 or 315 as a prerequisite.

CMSC 332 Design and Implementation of Programming Languages
Units: 1
Description
Concepts in design and implementation of programming languages, including compile-time and run-time issues. Support for block-structured procedural languages, object-oriented languages, and functional languages. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 301 and 315.

CMSC 325 Database Systems
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to systematic management of data: design and implementation of relational databases, data modeling, normalization, indexing, relational algebra, query processing, and transaction management. Programming projects include substantial use of SQL and its extensions. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 221 and 222.

CMSC 326 Simulation
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to simulation. Discrete-event simulation, Monte Carlo simulation, simulation of queuing and inventory systems, random number generation, discrete and continuous stochastic models, elementary statistics, point and interval parameter estimation, and input modeling techniques. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 222 and 301.

CMSC 328 Numerical Analysis
Units: 1
Description
(See Mathematics 328.)

CMSC 330 Theory of Computation
Units: 1
Description
Finite state machines, regular languages, push-down automata, and context-free languages. Turing machines, recursive functions, and related topics. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 315.

CMSC 331 Introduction to Compiler Construction
Units: 1
Description
Regular languages, context-free languages, finite automata, push-down automata, lexical analysis, parsing, intermediate representation, and code generation. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 222 and 301.

CMSC 332 Computer Networks
Units: 1
Description
Principles and techniques for data communication between computers. Topics include design and analysis of communication protocols, routing, congestion control, network-centric applications, and recent advances. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 301.

CMSC 333 Parallel Programming
Units: 1
Description
Principles and techniques for programming computers that have multiple processors. Writing programs for parallel computers that enhance run-time efficiency, portability, correctness, and software modifiability. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 222 and 301.

CMSC 334 Computer Security
Units: 1
Description
Theory, mechanisms, and implementation of computer security and data protection. Topics include encryption and authentication, program and language security, operating system security, and network security. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
CMSC 301 OR permission of instructor

CMSC 335 Computer Graphics
Units: 1
Description
Device independent two- and three-dimensional computer graphics, interactive graphics, user interfaces, and human factors. Consideration of advanced modeling and rendering. Three lecture and one laboratory hour per week.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 245 and Computer Science 222 and 301.

CMSC 344 Advanced Computer Architecture
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to different computer architecture types and the resource demands created by their respective application domains. Discussion of superscalar processors, cache-coherence multiprocessor systems, graphics processing units, embedded systems, and network processors. Material includes reading and discussion of technical papers as well as programming projects on several different architectures.

Prerequisites
Computer Science 301

CMSC 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.

Prerequisites
Permission of department.

CMSC 395 Selected Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Selected topics in Computer Science

Prerequisites
Permission of Instructor

CMSC 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research (or produce a creative arts project) in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.

Criminal Justice
Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Joan L. Neff, Coordinator (Sociology)
Associate Professor Neff
Assistant Professor Bridgell
Professors from the field are employed as adjunct faculty.

The criminal justice major is an interdisciplinary program designed to provide students with a basic understanding of significant issues in the criminal justice system. Students majoring in criminal justice select courses together with their advisor. Upon completion of the major, students are prepared to enter a variety of fields, such as law enforcement, correctional counseling, probation and parole counseling, and criminal justice administration. In addition, many students elect to continue their education by pursuing graduate degrees in criminal justice, public administration, social work, sociology, or law.

Upper-level courses are taught on a rotating basis.

The Criminal Justice Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

10 units, including

SOC 207 Crime and Justice in a Post-Modern Society

CJ 450 Research Practicum
Units: .5-1
Description
Student-designed research project. Not available for minor credit.
Prerequisites
Permission of program coordinator.

CJ 490 Criminal Justice Senior Seminar
Units: 1
Description
In-depth discussion and analysis of major components of the criminal justice system: police, courts, and corrections.
Prerequisites
Senior status in the criminal justice major or permission of program coordinator.

Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum
Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum (C-LAC) offers quarter unit, pass/fail courses in a variety of languages. C-LAC sections are small discussion groups taught by a faculty member well versed in a second language or by selected international or bilingual students called C-LAC Assistants. All C-LAC sections are offered in conjunction with primary courses throughout the curriculum, including FYS, political science/social sciences, arts/literatures, science/health, business administration, professional and continuing studies, and leadership studies. The purpose of C-LAC sections is to ensure that Richmond students acquire cross-cultural competency through the use of their language skills in the context of another discipline. C-LAC students will generally meet once a week for a roundtable discussion of assignments in the target language, accommodating the range of fluency present among the students. Some faculty might choose to provide students with the opportunity to complete research projects instead of the weekly meetings. A C-LAC course will not count toward a major or minor. No more than one unit of C-LAC credit may count toward the total number of units required for a degree.

Courses
CLAC 250 Spanish: Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum

Courses

DANC 218 Capoeira Angola
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to the movements, music and history of capoeira, an Afro-Brazilian self-defense hidden in dance. Capoeira is thought to have developed in part by African slaves as a form of cultural resistance towards liberation. Later, it was made illegal and associated with criminals, and now has become the unofficial 'sport' of Brazil. It is an art form for self-expression from the African-Diaspora that uses Portuguese in its songs and is a truly unique fusion of music, dance, and self-defense. Capoeira will be looked at in a contemporary context as a tool towards building a multicultural community founded on respect.

DANC 238 Introduction to Contact Improvisation
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
The practice and exploration of contact improvisation, an improvised movement form that relies on partners in constant physical dialog and connection. Class is devoted to developing balance, strength, flexibility, trust, support, weight-sharing, risk-taking, play, and body awareness. The class is ideal for students pursuing dance, theater, biology, psychology, or anyone wanting a physical challenge.

DANC 248 Movement Improvisation
Units: 1
Description
Focus on unraveling habitual ways of moving to discover impromptu motion and new patterns in groups, duets, and alone. A range of contemporary theoretical, artistic, and ethnographic techniques from American and international improvisers will be explored for strategies, techniques, motivations, and process.

DANC 251 Contemporary Dance I
Units: 1
Description
Explores organic ways of moving while maximizing circular forces, coordinating breath and movement, and working with gravity and momentum. Incorporates elements of Authentic Movement, Yoga, Bartenieff Fundamentals, Developmental Movement Technique, Flying Low, and Capoeira. Particular attention will be given to dynamic alignment imagery to facilitate efficient movement patterns. Students will be expected to learn choreographed exercises and phrases, to improvise, to create original material, and to work with partners. Includes "lab time" where students will investigate movement independently.

DANC 255 Choreography I
Units: 1
Description
Study of choreographic process covering fundamentals of movement composition. Studio time includes improvisation and choreography.
Prerequisites
DANC 248

DANC 256 Jazz Dance I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to jazz dance as an eclectic form of artistic expression with emphasis on rhythm and technique. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.

DANC 257 Ballet I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introductory course in ballet as a theatrical art form. Study of basic ballet terminology, understanding of correct body placement, and a general knowledge of performing elementary ballet technique. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.

DANC 258 Writing from the Body: Words and Movement
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Reflection on how one moves through the world and how experience gets articulated. Class is devoted to exercises that generate movement and writing, both used as gateways to the other.

DANC 259 Tap Dance I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to tap dance, a theatrical form of artistic expression with development of a movement vocabulary based on rhythms made with taps. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.

DANC 260 Modern Dance I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to modern dance as a diverse form of expression with development of language of movement. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.

DANC 261 Jazz Dance II
Units: 1
Description
Continuation of beginning jazz, emphasizing intermediate technique, vocabulary, and style. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.
Prerequisites
Previous jazz technique.

DANC 262 Tap Dance II
Units: 1
Description
Continuation of beginning tap dance, emphasizing intermediate technique using movement to build strength and coordination. Syncopated rhythms are explored with the sounds of the taps. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.
Prerequisites
Previous tap dance technique.

DANC 263 Modern Dance II
Units: 1
Description
Continuation of beginning modern dance, emphasizing intermediate technique and development of an aesthetic vocabulary of contemporary modern dance. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.
Prerequisites
Previous modern dance technique.

DANC 265 Contemporary Dance II
Units: 1
Description
Continuation of Contemporary Dance I. Students will deepen their knowledge of organic ways of moving while maximizing circular forces, coordinating breath and movement, and moving with an awareness of gravity and momentum. Students will engage in more complex movement patterns and will be expected to learn choreographed exercises and phrases, to improvise, to create original material, to work with partners and to investigate movement independently. Readings, written assignments, and videos will be assigned to enhance the understanding of principles of alignment, movement, and performance. Students will study key contemporary artists in the field.
Prerequisites
DANC 251 or DANC 306

DANC 266 Ballet II
Units: 1
Description
Continuation of beginning ballet, emphasizing intermediate technique and vocabulary. Students are required to critique live dance concerts as well as conduct research on a relevant topic.
Prerequisites
Previous ballet technique.

DANC 301 Global Dance Forms
Units: 1
Course offerings drawn from a variety of global dance traditions and techniques from Africa, South America, the Caribbean, Asia, South Asia and the Middle East.

DANC 306 University Dancers
Units: .5
Description
Technique, rehearsal, and performance of dance works choreographed by dance faculty, students, and visiting choreographers. May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites
Audition or invitation of director.

DANC 312 Special Topics in Dance Techniques
Units: 1
Description
Offered as-needed. Representative topics may include a range of non-traditional dance forms and practices: Improvisation, Release Technique, Flying Low, Hip-Hop, Breaking, Fusion, Physical Theatre, Viewpoints, Suzuki, or other contemporary movement techniques.

The Economics Major for the Bachelor of Arts Degree
Note: A grade point average of C (2.00) is required in the major with no course grade below a C- (1.7) in an economics course required for the major.

11 units, including
BUAD 202 Statistics for Business and Economics
ECON 101 Principles of Microeconomics
ECON 102 Principles of Macroeconomics
ECON 270 Introductory Econometrics
ECON 271 Microeconomic Theory
ECON 272 Macroeconomic Theory
Four units of economics electives (at least two of which must be at the 300 level)
ECON 480 Senior Capstone Seminar or ECON 491 Honors Thesis in Economics

Note: Majors are encouraged to take ECON 101 and ECON 102 and BUAD 202 during their first year, and ECON 271 and ECON 272 during their second year. A basic foundation in calculus (e.g., MATH 190, MATH 211) is required for ECON 271.

Students may plan their course load to pursue a general major in economics or to study a specific area in economics. Voluntary elective fields have been developed in the areas of business economics, international economics, economic history, public policy, and quantitative economics. Students are encouraged to speak with their academic advisor about the options available to them. Students interested in pursuing a graduate degree in economics are encouraged to seek advice concerning the honors program in economics, the combined major in mathematical economics, and/or taking MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus, MATH 312 Differential Equations, and MATH 245 Linear Algebra.

The Economics Minor
Note: A grade point average of C (2.00) is required in the minor with no grade less than C- (1.7).

ECON 271 Microeconomic Theory
ECON 272 Macroeconomic Theory
Two units of economics electives (at least one of which must be at the 300 level)
A basic foundation in calculus (e.g., MATH 211) is required for ECON 271
Related Majors
Mathematical Economics
International Studies: International Economics
Economics (B.S.B.A. degree)
Business Administration

Honors Program
Students invited into the honors program may earn honors in economics by completing the following requirements:

ECON 490;
ECON 491;
Two 300-level electives taken for honors credit

Courses
ECON 101 Principles of Microeconomics
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Provides students with the analytical perspective to think critically about the market system and social objectives it may serve. Topics include supply and demand, market structure, production, market failure (e.g., pollution), and benefits and costs of government intervention.

ECON 102 Principles of Macroeconomics
Units: 1
Description
The study of national income determination within a global economy. Topics include inflation, unemployment, GDP determination, money supply, balance of payments, currency markets and role of fiscal and monetary policies.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 (may be taken concurrently).

ECON 105 Introduction to Global Economics
Units: 1
Description
Survey of international economic issues for nonmajors. The U.S.'s role in the global economy is covered analytically, historically, and institutionally, with special attention given to balance of payments analysis, exchange rate determination, gains from trade, trade policy, the IMF, GATT, and other topics. Note: This course has no prerequisites and fulfills no prerequisites for other economics or business courses. Cannot be used as an elective toward the arts and sciences or business school economics major or toward the business administration major. Students with majors in the School of Business may not register for ECON 105.

ECON 200 The Economics of Money, Banking and Financial Markets
Units: 1
Description
Role and functions of money, operation of financial institutions; structure and influence of Federal Reserve System; effects of money and credit on economic activity.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 201 Games and Experiments in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to game theory. Based on a scientific metaphor that many interactions that we do not usually think of as games such as market competition, collusion, auctions, elections, bargaining can be treated and analyzed as games. Study of how to recognize and model strategic situations, how and when their actions will affect the decisions of others, and how to gain advantage in strategic situations.
Prerequisites
ECON 101

ECON 210 The Economics of the European Union
Units: 1
Description
Comparative analysis of European and United States' economics systems, including a review of the evolution of the European Union. Although the scope of the course is primarily European, Japan and China also are studied.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 211 Economic Development in Asia, Africa and Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Comparative analysis of economic growth, income and wealth distribution, trade and finance, population, agriculture, and industrialization in Latin America, Africa, and Asia.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 220 History of Economic Thought
Units: 1
Description
Survey of development of economic analysis with emphasis on contributions from Adam Smith through J.M. Keynes.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 221 American Economic History
Units: 1
Description
Use of economic theory and methods to study American history with special emphasis on economic growth. Topics include Native American development up to the arrival of Europeans, transportation revolutions, slavery, agriculture and monetary controversies in the late 19th century, health and nutrition, immigration, technological change, the Great Depression and New Deal, and civil rights.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 230 Environmental Economics
Units: 1
Description
Development and application of economic principles to understand and evaluate causes and solutions to environmental problems such as pollution and conservation. Topics include economics of biodiversity protection, global warming, natural resource damage assessment, measurement of environmental values, and alternative strategies for pollution control. Special attention given to optimal use of exhaustible and renewable natural resources. (Same as Environmental Studies 230).
Prerequisites
Economics 101.

ECON 231 Law and Economics
Units: 1
Description
Application of economic analysis to legal concepts. Using goals of efficiency and wealth maximization, shows how economic theory can unify property law, contract law, tort law, criminal law, and family/sex law, as well as offer new insights to old problems.

Prerequisites
Economics 101.

ECON 232 The Economics of Gender
Units: 1
Description
Uses economic methods to explore how gender differences lead to different economic outcomes for men and women, both within families and in the marketplace. Topics include allocation of time between the household and the labor market, consequences of employment for family structure, theories of discrimination, and occupational segregation. Historical trends and cross-cultural comparisons are discussed at length. Policy areas include antipoverty programs, comparable worth, affirmative action, antidiscrimination legislation, parental leave, and provision of child care. While the focus of the analysis of gender and economics is on the U.S., such findings are not universal and the semester concludes with international comparisons that demonstrate important differences.

Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 233 Ethics and Economics
Units: 1
Description
Explores ethical considerations that arise in economic analyses. In positive economics, how are choices informed by considerations of duty or virtue (in addition to utility)? In normative economics, how do concepts of welfare and efficiency derive from ethical theories, and how have these changed over time? What competing ethical theories add to our understanding of public policy issues? Preparation for a complex world when economic analysis is viewed as complementary to a critical-thinking process about ethical frameworks. Addresses additional questions such as: What is the moral philosophy behind capitalism? What are the moral limits to markets? Do businesses create and rely upon moral capital?

Prerequisites
Economics 101.

ECON 260 Selected Economic Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Major areas in economics, application of economic principles, and analysis of policy issues.

Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 269 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Specialized study or directed research in an area of economics.

Prerequisites
A written outline worthy of academic credit and permission of department chair.

ECON 270 Introductory Econometrics
Units: 1
Description
Techniques for rigorously testing economic theory and preparation for basic empirical work in economics. Topics will include basic data analysis, a review of comparisons of means, regression analysis (including estimation, functional form, dummy variables, inference, assumptions, violations of assumptions, corrections for violations), and forecasting. Students will be provided with the opportunity to use actual economic data to test economic theories.

Prerequisites
ECON 101, 102, BUAD 202 or MATH 330.

ECON 271 Microeconomic Theory
Units: 1
Description
Theory of price determination in both output and input markets; in-depth analysis of behavior of individual consumers, firms, and industries under various market structures; theories of exchange and distribution.

Prerequisites
ECON 101 and ECON 102 and either MATH 190 or MATH 211.

ECON 272 Macroeconomic Theory
Units: 1
Description
Theory of national income determination; short/medium-run monetary and fiscal policy issues are examined using Keynesian and New Classical models; long-run analysis focuses on recent extensions of the neoclassical growth model.

Prerequisites
Economics 102 and 271.

ECON 300 Industrial Organization and Public Policy
Units: 1
Description
Designed to identify features of industries with various degrees of competition. Issues to be explored include: identifying dominant firm, tight or loose oligopoly, competitive, and monopoly industries; product vs. geographic markets; technological innovations; collusion, product differentiation; mergers; advertising; efficiency; price discrimination; etc. In addition, antitrust policies will be reviewed as they pertain to these issues.

Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ECON 310 International Trade: Causes, Consequences, and Controversies
Units: 1
Description
Through both theoretical and empirical approaches, students will study international trade in goods and services and develop a framework for analysis of trade policy issues. Major themes include the causes and patterns of trade, the gains from trade and their distribution, the consequences of trade policies such as tariffs and voluntary export restraints, and the institutions of the world trading system including regional trade agreements. The course also considers many of the current issues related to trade such as dumping, trade-related intellectual property rights, trade and the environment, and the decisions of multinational firms.

Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ECON 330 Environmental and Resource Economic Theory

Units: 1

Description
A rigorous treatment of environmental and resource issues, with particular emphasis on problem of designing appropriate institutions and regulations under uncertainty. Topics include emission fees and marketable permits; enforcement, risk regulation, the economics and regulation of the fishery; depletion of nonrenewable resources; and forest use. (Same as Environmental Studies 330.)

Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ECON 331 Labor Economics

Units: 1

Description
Economic analysis of labor markets including labor supply, investment in human capital, labor demand, and wage determination. Policy issues include labor unions, discrimination, and analysis of government programs affecting labor markets.

Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ECON 332 Public Economics

Units: 1

Description
Economic analysis of government spending and taxation with particular emphasis on current public policy issues (e.g., social security, health care and fundamental income tax reform).

Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ECON 333 Federal Reserve Challenge Preparation

Units: .25

Description
Analysis of current macroeconomic events and how they affect monetary policy decisions. Students prepare for the Fed Challenge, competing for a position on the team based on their knowledge of current events, the determinants of monetary policy, and communication skills. The team also is responsible for economic conditions reports and presentations that support the activities of the RSB Student-Managed Investment Fund.

Prerequisites
Economics 200 or 272 and permission of instructor.

ECON 334 Federal Reserve Challenge Competition

Units: .25

Description
Analysis of current macroeconomic events and how they affect monetary policy decisions. Select students prepare and present a mock policy briefing in the Fed Challenge competition at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. The team also is responsible for economic conditions reports and presentations that support the activities of the RSB Student-Managed Investment Fund.

Prerequisites
Economics 200 or 272 and permission of instructor.

ECON 341 Mathematical Economics

Units: 1

Description
Examines various economic concepts by means of mathematical analysis.

Prerequisites
Economics 271, and Mathematics 212 or 232.

ECON 360 Selected Economic Topics

Units: .5-1

Description
Major areas in economics, application of economic principles, and analysis of policy issues.

Prerequisites
A core course to be announced.

ECON 369 Independent Study

Units: .5-1

Description
Specialized study or directed research in an area of economics.

Prerequisites
Economics 271 or 272, a written outline worthy of advanced credit and permission of department chair.

ECON 370 Advanced Econometrics

Units: 1

Description
Techniques for rigorously testing economic theory. Reinforces and extends the econometric techniques developed in Economics 270. Topics include a review of the classical linear regression model as well as model extensions including dummy and limited dependent variables, panel data estimation, instrumental variables, simultaneous equation systems, time-series analysis, and forecasting. Excel, SPSS, and SAS are used in weekly computer lab sessions.

Prerequisites
ECON 270.

ECON 372 Advanced Macroeconomics

Units: 1

Description
Examination of selected topics in macroeconomics beyond the basic theory level covered in Economics 272. Topics may include forecasting, time-series econometrics, growth theory, analysis of dynamic, stochastic general-equilibrium models, and open-economy macroeconomics.

Prerequisites
Economics 272 and Business Administration 301.

ECON 480 Senior Capstone Seminar

Units: 1

Description
Utilizes theoretical and applied economic models from previous economics courses. Semester assignments guide students through a major research project of one of the following forms: contemporary economic analysis, historical economic analysis, viewpoints in economic analysis, or quantitative economic analysis. Students develop an economic question; gain access to existing knowledge; demonstrate command of existing knowledge; use existing knowledge to explore an issue of interest; understand the steps to complete a substantial research project; and sharpen written communication skills. Note: Participation in the honors program fulfills the capstone requirement.

Prerequisites
Economics 271 and 272, Economics 270 or Business Administration 301, and senior standing.

ECON 490 Honors Seminar in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Honors seminar.
Prerequisites
Departmental invitation.

ECON 491 Honors Thesis in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Capstone independent research project and honors paper.
Note: Participation in the honors program fulfills the capstone requirement.
Prerequisites
Departmental invitation.

Mission and Goals

Undergraduate teacher education at the University of Richmond is a campus-wide responsibility, designed to ensure that all of our students are knowledgeable professionals who possess both a theoretical and practical knowledge base. Students acquire a broad undergraduate background of essential intellectual skills through the liberal arts and sciences based on the University's general education requirements, upon which students then build concentrated study in their major field of study.

The mission of the Teacher Preparation Program at the University of Richmond is to improve the understanding and practice of teaching and learning in preK-12 environments through reflective thought. Graduates are prepared to apply deep and broad content knowledge through multiple pedagogies in diverse settings while demonstrating a commitment to professionalism.

Based on this mission, the goals for the education minor are:

Goal 1
Develop candidates who are knowledgeable about learners and are able to employ instructional strategies that meet the needs of all students, including students with disabilities, gifted students, students with limited proficiency in English, and students with diverse cultural needs.

Goal 2
Develop candidates who have a rich understanding of the subject(s) they teach and appreciate how knowledge in their subject is created, organized, linked to other disciplines, and applied to real-world settings.

Goal 3
Develop candidates who are able to employ best practices in the planning, delivery, and assessment of instruction so that they may transform content for teaching purposes in ways that make it accessible and meaningful to students.

Goal 4
Develop candidates who have the knowledge and skills to bring the highest levels of professionalism to their practice as instructional leaders and have the disposition to reflect upon and change that practice as necessary.

State-Approved Programs at the University of Richmond

The Teacher Preparation Program at the University of Richmond prepares teachers for licensure in Elementary Education (preK-6), Secondary Education (6-12) or Comprehensive Education (preK-12). The University of Richmond was first granted an Approved Teacher Education Program by the Virginia State Board of Education in 1972. Since that time the University's Department of Education has maintained approved program status and, as such, participates in reciprocity of licensure with states that have interstate agreements with Virginia. Currently Virginia has licensure reciprocity with 48 states, territories and the District of Columbia.

In order for programs to remain current with licensure regulations as mandated by the Virginia State Department of Education, the requirements as stated may be subject to change. Please check with the department for the most recent version of licensure and endorsement requirements.

Title II Results

In October 1998, the U.S. Congress enacted amendments to the Higher Education Act (HEA). As amended, Title II of the HEA included new accountability measures and reporting requirements for institutions and states on teacher preparation and licensing. Each year the University of Richmond is required to submit an Institutional Report that contains:

- Program completer pass rates
- Basic features of the teacher preparation program
- Whether the teacher preparation program has been classified as "low performing"
- Supplemental information the institution believes is important to providing necessary context

For the most current copies of the University Institutional Report, visit our website.

Teacher Education Minors Requirements
Teacher Education minors are designed for students who wish to pursue preparation in teaching, and consists of three different areas. The level and subject of teaching endorsement students seek define these areas. Please note that students completing a teacher education minor are NOT automatically eligible for a teaching license. Students who wish to be licensed must be formally admitted to the Teacher Preparation Program and successfully complete student teaching and the student teaching seminar. It should also be noted that even though the units required for the teacher education minor rises to the level of most majors, licensure regulations in the state of Virginia do not allow students to major in education, therefore, teacher education is not approved as an academic major at the University of Richmond.

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.50 with no course grade below C (2.0). A maximum of one course may be taken at another institution or through an approved study abroad program, with departmental approval.

Teacher Education: Elementary (preK-6)

8 units, including

- EDUC 217 Foundations of Education
- EDUC 218 Diverse Learners
- EDUC 306 Content and Pedagogy for Elementary Science and Social Studies
- EDUC 324 Reading Foundations for Early Literacy Instruction
- EDUC 326 Assessment, Intervention, and Literacy Strategies for Elementary Readers
- EDUC 327 Content and Pedagogy for Elementary Mathematics
- EDUC 338 Instructional Technology Applications for the Classroom
- EDUC 356 Elementary Classroom and Behavior Management

Teacher Education: Secondary (6-12)

6 units, including

- EDUC 217 Foundations of Education
- EDUC 218 Diverse Learners
- EDUC 338 Instructional Technology Applications for the Classroom
- EDUC 342 Teaching in Middle and Secondary Schools
- EDUC 350 Content Area Literacy
- EDUC 357 Secondary Classroom and Behavior Management

Teacher Education: Comprehensive (preK-12)

6 units, including

- EDUC 217 Foundations of Education
- EDUC 218 Diverse Learners
- EDUC 338 Instructional Technology Applications for the Classroom
- EDUC 342 Teaching in Middle and Secondary Schools
- EDUC 350 Content Area Literacy
- EDUC 357 Secondary Classroom and Behavior Management

Education and Society Minor Requirements

The Education and Society minor seeks to examine the institution of education and its role in society. It is designed specifically for students concerned with the interpretation, evaluation and reform of the American system of public education. The minor encourages students to reflect on questions of central importance in education such as:

- What is the purpose of education?
- How has the history of the system of public education in the United States contributed to its present state?
- Does our current system of education provide equitable opportunities for all?

The Education and Society minor is NOT designed to prepare teachers or other school personnel and does NOT lead to certification.

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C (2.0). A maximum of one course may be taken at another institution or through an approved study abroad program, with departmental approval.

6 units, including

- EDUC 220 Education in America

Four electives chosen from the following list. At least two of these selections must be courses where community-based learning pedagogy for exploring current conditions and issues in education is a significant component. Courses using such pedagogy are indicated with a *.

- EDUC 333 Alternate Approaches to K-12 Education*
- EDUC 334 American Educational History
- EDUC 335 Education and Globalization
- EDUC 337 Education and Public Policy*
- EDUC 339 Education of Minority Groups in America*
- EDUC 340 Gender and Education*
- EDUC 341 Leadership in Education*
- EDUC 344 School Law for the Layman
- EDUC 345 Urban Education*
- EDUC 346 Philosophy of Education
- EDUC 440 Contemporary Issues in Education

Becoming a Licensed Teacher

Students interested in becoming teachers should contact the Department of Education to meet with the Chair to discuss program requirements. All students seeking licensure must be formally admitted to the Teacher Preparation Program. Admission requires:

- A completed application form
- A Statement of Intent
- An official score report for Praxis I or its equivalent
- Evidence of a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.70
Upon admission, students engage in a series of professional courses and field experiences that serve as the foundation of their program. These include:

- Professional Courses: Foundations of Education, Diverse Learners and Environments, Introduction to Instructional Technology and Classroom and Behavior Management
- Field Experience: Integrated course-related practica and observation experiences
- Program-Specific Courses: Courses vary depending on the level and area of endorsement
- Student Teaching: Fifteen weeks of full-time experience in local school divisions
- Student Teaching Seminar

All formally accepted students must maintain a grade point average of 3.00 in education and a cumulative grade point average of 2.70 to remain in the program and be eligible for student teaching. No more than one grade of C is allowed in education coursework. Therefore, students who earn more than one grade of C in education courses must repeat those courses and earn higher grades or they will not be permitted to remain in the program.

Students wishing to apply for licensure must complete the requirements for the minor, student teaching, the student teaching seminar, and any additional courses required for subject area endorsements.

Teacher Licensure Chronology

With careful planning, most students can complete all degree and licensure requirements in four years. In some cases, students may choose to return for the student teaching semester after graduation.

Year One

Students interested in becoming licensed to teach should contact the Department of Education to meet with the Chair to discuss program requirements. Students may begin courses in the education sequence. If necessary, students should arrange to take the Praxis I exam before the end of their first year.

Year Two

Students must submit a formal application to the program and return the completed forms to the Department of Education no later than October 15 of the fall semester or March 15 of the spring semester. Students continue with courses in the education sequence appropriate to the minor they have declared. Students must register to take the Virginia Communication and Literacy Assessment (VCLA) exam by the end of the academic year.

Year Three

Students continue with courses in the education sequence appropriate to the minor they have declared. Students planning to student teach during the fall semester of their senior year must:

- Attend a spring orientation session and submit the student teaching application
- Complete all testing requirements for licensure
- Maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.70, and a grade point average of 3.00 in education

Year Four

Students complete the semester-long student teaching experience and accompanying seminar in either the fall or spring semester. Students must also complete a Career Development Center placement file and licensure application forms. Students planning to student teach during the spring semester of their senior year must:

- Attend a fall orientation session and submit the student teaching application
- Complete all testing requirements for licensure
- Maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.70, and a grade point average of 3.00 in education.

Please note that the Department of Education will forward applications and recommendations for licensure only for those students who complete the student teaching experience through the University of Richmond.

Requirements for Endorsement Areas

For all endorsement areas, students seeking a particular endorsement must meet the requirements of that major. For some endorsement areas, additional courses are required outside of the subject major and education minor to meet endorsement competencies. Requirements for each endorsement area are listed below.

Dance Arts Endorsement (preK-12)

Students seeking the dance arts endorsement must meet the requirements of the dance major.

Elementary Endorsement (preK-6)

Students seeking the elementary endorsement MUST complete the requirements for ANY liberal arts major. Students majoring only in business or leadership studies are NOT eligible for an elementary teaching license in Virginia. It is highly recommended, though not required, that students seeking the elementary endorsement complete the following additional course.

- ENGL 203 Children’s Literature

English Endorsement (6-12)

Students seeking the English endorsement must meet the requirements of the English major or one of the following combined majors: English/Classical Studies, English/French, English/German, English/Greek, English/Latin, English/Russian, English/Theatre, English/Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies. Additionally, the following course is required:

- One Shakespeare course selected from ENGL 234 or ENGL 304

Foreign Language Endorsements (preK-12)

Students seeking a language endorsement must meet the requirements of the major in French, German Studies, Latin, or Latin American and Iberian Studies. Additionally, the following courses are required:
French, German, and Latin American and Iberian Studies
  • MLC 410 The Teaching of a Modern Second Language
Latin
  • LATN 411 The Teaching of High School Latin

History and Social Sciences Endorsement (6-12)

Students seeking the history and social science endorsement must meet the requirements of the history major. Additionally, the following courses and/or experiences are required:
  • PLSC 220 Introduction to American Government
  • One course in Economics (ECON)
  • Completion of one of the following: 1) teaching of geography tutorials; or 2) one course in geography

Mathematics Endorsement (6-12)

Students seeking the mathematics endorsement must meet the requirements of the major in mathematics or mathematical economics.

Science Endorsements (6-12)

Biology
Students seeking the biology endorsement must meet the requirements of the biology major. The biochemistry major does NOT meet the standard for this endorsement.

Chemistry
Students seeking the chemistry endorsement must meet the requirements of the chemistry major.

Physics
Students seeking the physics endorsement must meet the requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree in physics. In addition, we highly recommend PHYS 215 Computational Methods in Physics as part of the major.

Theater Arts Endorsement (preK-12)

Students seeking the theater arts endorsement must meet the requirements of the theatre major.

Visual Arts Endorsement (preK-12)

Students seeking the visual arts endorsement must meet the requirements of the studio art major.

Add-On Endorsement Requirements

Students who meet the endorsement requirements for ANY teaching area may apply for an add-on endorsement if they meet the requirements for a minor that is compatible with one of the following licensure (endorsement) areas:
  • Journalism
  • Mathematics - Algebra I
  • Speech Communication

Adding Endorsements Through Testing

Students who meet the elementary endorsement requirements may add any endorsement for which they take and submit passing scores on the appropriate Praxis II examination.

Students who meet the endorsement requirements for all other areas may add any endorsement for which they take and submit passing scores on the appropriate Praxis II examination WITH THE EXCEPTION OF elementary education.

Courses

EDUC 217 Foundations of Education
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the American educational system. Explores the philosophical, sociological, historical, and political roots of schools today. Attention also given to the legal status of teachers and students, including federal and state laws and regulations, school as an organization/culture, and contemporary issues in education including the use of relevant data in instructional decision-making.

EDUC 218 Diverse Learners
Units: 1
Description
Introduces students to the developmental stages experienced by students between the ages of birth through adolescence with an examination of speech/language, social, physical, intellectual, and emotional development. Explores diverse cultures, communities, and family values. Provides a historical and contemporary perspective on critical issues, professional practices, and state and federal laws influencing the teaching of students with diverse learning needs.

EDUC 220 Education in America
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of contemporary public education and its impact on American society and citizenship. Includes an examination of the history of education in creating responsible citizens in the United States and the interaction of policy and reform in contemporary education.

EDUC 306 Content and Pedagogy for Elementary Science and Social Studies
Units: 1
Description
In-depth examination of core elementary science and social studies concepts and subject-specific pedagogy. Course content emphasizes and integrates state and national standards, problem-solving approaches, curriculum integration strategies, content area literacy, and current research.

Prerequisites
Education 217 or 218.

EDUC 312 Independent Study in Education
Units: 25-1
Description
Special projects and practical experience in educational programs.

Prerequisites
EDUC 313 Independent Study in Education
Units: .25-1
Description
Special projects and practical experience in educational programs.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

EDUC 314 Independent Study in Education
Units: .25-1
Description
Special projects and practical experience in educational programs.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

EDUC 324 Reading Foundations for Early Literacy Instruction
Units: 1
Description
In-depth examination of the teaching methods, literacy concepts and development, and materials which are utilized to support and scaffold children's literacy acquisition from birth to the primary grades. Addresses a foundational understanding of the components of reading including phonemic awareness, concepts of print, phonics, fluency, comprehension, vocabulary, and writing. Examines early literacy assessment tools and how to implement interventions for diverse learners. Investigates language development, children's literature, and classroom strategies for early literacy instruction.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 218.

EDUC 326 Assessment, Intervention, and Literacy Strategies for Elementary Readers
Units: 1
Description
In-depth examination of reading comprehension, vocabulary development, critical thinking, word study, and writing instruction within elementary classrooms. Exploration across the components of reading of the methods, materials, and assessment tools associated with elementary literacy instruction. Examines assessment tools and learn techniques for meeting the needs of struggling readers. A supervised practical experience will be incorporated into the course. Emphasis is placed on making decisions based upon students' individual needs and critical reflection to improve instructional effectiveness. Analysis of assessment data and use of this information to inform instructional practices including developing reading and writing interventions. Studies effective literacy techniques designed to support diverse learners.
Prerequisites
EDUC 324.

EDUC 327 Content and Pedagogy for Elementary Mathematics
Units: 1
Description
In-depth examination of fundamental mathematical concepts and subject-specific pedagogy. Course content emphasizes and integrates state and national standards, problem-solving approaches, use of manipulatives and technology, current research, and learning theory.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 218.

EDUC 333 Alternate Approaches to K-12 Education
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the multiple alternatives to traditional PK-12 public schools currently available across the United States, including the increasing variety of public, private, parochial, charter, and virtual opportunities available to families seeking choices beyond traditional public education.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 220

EDUC 334 American Educational History
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the development of American education from the Colonial Period through today. Includes an examination of how political change, economic growth, immigration, social movements, and related factors influenced the content of the American curriculum and the nature of the educational experience. Emphasis placed on the period since 1945, examining how integration, changes in special education law, the growth of English-language learners, the accountability movement, educational technology, and economic conditions have shaped today's public schools.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 220

EDUC 335 Education and Globalization
Units: 1
Description
Investigation of the influence of globalization and technology on America's school systems. Globalization is characterized by the power of individuals living around the world to communicate, collaborate, and compete. The death of distance resulting from technological advances has resulted in a new "global village" or "flat world". Examination of how today's global world is transforming education and the role of America's schools in preparing students for this interconnected, global world.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 220

EDUC 337 Education and Public Policy
Units: 1
Description
Survey of contemporary issues and examination of legislation affecting educational policy at both the state and local level. In-depth examination of current and emerging policy issues, strategies for influencing policy, and techniques for adapting new policy into current school culture and processes.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 220

EDUC 338 Instructional Technology Applications for the Classroom
Units: 1
Description
EDUC 339 Education of Minority Groups in America
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the educational histories of minority groups in the United States with a primary focus on Native Americans, African Americans, Mexican American, and Asian/Pacific Americans. Perspectives will be primarily explored from the late eighteenth century to the early twenty-first century. Includes an in-depth examination of issues of equity and opportunity as it pertains to these minority groups, particularly as it relates to funding. Also includes an examination of how education can serve as an effective means to increase social tolerance and improve relations between various groups in society.
Prerequisites
Education 217 or 220

Honors Program

To earn honors in English, a major must complete ENGL 498, Honors Thesis Research, and ENGL 499, Honors Thesis Writing. Units earned for ENGL 498 and ENGL 499 are in addition to the 10 units required in the English major. Honors students also designate two of the courses from their major program as Honors Courses. In each case, the instructor, in consultation with the student and the honors coordinator, determines an appropriate honors component for the course. Students must have attained a departmental GPA of 3.50 by the beginning of the fall semester of the senior year. They also must maintain that GPA through the completion of the program and an overall GPA of no less than 3.30 while in the program. The thesis must be submitted to a faculty committee in the spring of the student's senior year. Honors will be granted only to those students whose theses meet departmental standards. Students should declare their intention to seek honors and meet with the honors coordinator in the spring of their sophomore year or fall of their junior year. Students who have not declared by the second semester of their junior year are disqualified from further honors consideration. Those who have declared that they are seeking honors will be considered candidates until they fail to meet one of the program's requirements. For further information and advice on standards and curriculum, see the honors coordinator.

Related Majors

Combined majors in
- English/Classics
- English/French
- English/German
- English/Greek
- English/Latin
- English/Theatre
- English/Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies

Interdisciplinary concentrations in
- Comparative Literature

Allied Fields

To enrich the value of the major in English by doing focused work in an allied field, students have the option of taking four courses in one of the following fields: art history, classics (literature in the original language or in translation), history, philosophy, religion, theatre, and the modern literatures (Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Russian, or Spanish). Students are expected to select four courses that seem relevant to, or that promise to complement, the study of English. In making the selections, a student must consult both with the major advisor in English and with a secondary advisor in the allied field. Students who successfully complete an allied field option will receive a certificate and a letter of recognition at the time of Commencement.

English 220, 297, or 298, American Studies 201, or Film Studies 201 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 370 Selected Topics in Literature after the Early to Mid-19th Century
Units: 1
Description
Topics will vary from semester to semester. Recently offered topics include Victorian Fantasy, Modernisms, and Blackface! May be repeated for credit as topic varies.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

Group C Other Advanced Courses in Literature, Language and Writing

ENGL 371 Versions of Tragedy
Units: 1
Description
An exploration of the nature and function of tragedy in the West, based on a study of the theory of tragic drama and of representative works from the Greeks to the moderns.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 372 Theater and Society
Units: 1
Description
Study of theater with regard to its social relevance. Examination of the ways in which theater not only reflects but also seeks to intervene in cultural and political debates relevant to a given society. Attention to the politics of form and production as well as to the politics of reception.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 374 Film Theory
Units: 1
Description
Surveys the various ways in which thinkers have conceived of cinema since before its inception—what André Bazin referred to as "the film idea"—to contemporary debates about the "end" of film and the advent of New Media.
Prerequisites
English 220, 297, or 298 or Film Studies 201 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 375 Critics Since Plato
Units: 1
Description
Ways of looking at art and literature in their philosophical context. Theories applied to a variety of literary texts.
Prerequisites
One unit of 300-level English with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 376 Modern Literary Theory
Units: 1
Description
Developments in literary theory from Formalism to the present. Schools and approaches include New Criticism, Feminism, Marxism, Structuralism, Deconstruction, Psychoanalytic Criticism, New Historicism, and Cultural Studies.
Prerequisites
One unit of 300-level English with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 377 Poetics
Units: 1
Description
How creative tools available to poets shape and influence presentation of theme.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 378 The Novel in Theory and Practice
Units: 1
Description
Considers novels in the context of a variety of theoretical approaches, asking what theory can tell us about the novel and, equally important, what the novel can tell us about theory.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 379 Film Directors
Units: 1
Description
Examines the work of individual or a small group of film directors. The directors considered will vary and include figures such as Alfred Hitchcock, Stanley Kubrick, and the Coen Brothers. Special attention will be paid to theories of film authorship, the concept of film style and film aesthetics, and various critical approaches.
Prerequisites
English 220, 297 or 298 or Film Studies 201 with a C or better

ENGL 380 Special Topics: Film Genres
Units: 1
Description
The close consideration of single or small numbers of film genres: their inception, evolution, aesthetic and stylistic properties, and interaction with other cultural forms and institutions. The genres under consideration will vary and include Film Noir, Melodrama, and the Western, among others. May be repeated for credit as topic varies.
Prerequisites
Film Studies 201, English 220, English 297, or English 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 381 Modern Grammar
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to linguistics, including theories and practices of structuralists and transformationalists. (Meets state licensure requirements for teaching.)
Prerequisites
First Year Seminar 100.

ENGL 383 Introduction to Composition Theory and Pedagogy
Units: 1
Description
Serves as practicum for writing consultants - and students seeking teacher licensure.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor.

ENGL 385 Fiction Writing
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of literary models. Discussion and evaluation of students' own fiction. May be taken up to three times for credit.
Prerequisites
English 200 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 386 Poetry Writing
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of literary models. Discussion and evaluation of students' own poetry. May be taken up to three times for credit.
Prerequisites
ENGL 200 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 387 Writing for Stage and Screen
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of literary models. Discussion and evaluation of students' own dramatic work. May be taken up to three times for credit.
Prerequisites
ENGL 200 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 390 Literary Translation
Units: 1
Description
Introduces students to the history, theory, and practice of translation, with a particular emphasis on translation after 1900.
Prerequisites
One 200-level English course or 300-level MLC or LAIS course with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 391 Themes and Methods in Comparative Literature
Units: 1
Description
Interdisciplinary approach to selected themes or topics in comparative literature. While theme may vary from year to year, it will provide basis for the study of literary relations as they exist across various boundaries: generic, historical, disciplinary, and linguistic. Will also contain component on history and theory of comparative literature as a discipline, as well as brief unit on journals, bibliographies, and resources particular to the discipline.
Prerequisites
English 297 or 298 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 392 Creative Nonfiction Writing
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of literary models. Discussion and evaluation of students' own creative nonfiction. May be taken up to three times for credit.
Prerequisites
English 200 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 393 Literary Editing and Publishing
Units: 1
Description
Provides students the opportunity to learn about literary editing and publishing from both editors' and writers' perspectives.
Prerequisites
One 200-level English course or JOUR 202 or JOUR 314.

ENGL 397 Selected Topics in Writing
Units: 1
Description
Topics in creative writing. These will vary from semester to semester at the discretion of the instructor. Recently offered topics include Mixed-Media Writing and Micro Narratives. May be repeated for credit as topic varies.
Prerequisites
English 200 with a grade of C or better.

ENGL 398 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
Individually designed course of study conducted under supervision of faculty member.
Prerequisites
Approval of directing faculty member.

ENGL 399 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Topics will vary from semester to semester.
ENGL 400 Junior/Senior Seminar
Units: 1
Description
In-depth treatment of topics in genre, historical periods, critical theory, single authors such as Milton, Faulkner, or Woolf, and other areas of literary study. Topics vary from semester to semester. Recently offered topics include the African American Novel, Children's Literature and Theology, Civil War Literature, New York School Poets, Self as Performance in the Renaissance, Women and Creativity, and Medicine, Mortality and Meaning. English majors usually take one seminar in the junior year and one in the senior year although if necessary both may be taken in the senior year. May be repeated for credit, provided topics are different.
Prerequisites
English 297 and 298, and two 300-level English courses with grades of C or better.

ENGL 401 Creative Writing Portfolio
Units: 1
Description
An advanced creative writing course in which students pursue a semester-long project or portfolio in any genre (poetry, fiction, drama, creative nonfiction, screenwriting, multimedia, etc.) and workshop their works in progress. Appropriate for students working in traditional forms (e.g. short-story, poetry, memoir, etc.) or students working in forms not typically covered by other writing courses (e.g. graphic novel, screenplay, multimedia, etc.). May be repeated once for credit, but only one may count towards the minor in Creative Writing.
Prerequisites
One of the following: English 385, 386, 387, 392, or 397.

ENGL 388 Individual Internship
Units: .25-1
Description
Application of academic skills and theories in placement approved by department. Includes academic work. Supervised by member of the English faculty. No more than one unit of credit may be earned in English 388.
Prerequisites
One unit of 300-level English with a grade of C or better, written application in advance of internship, and recommendation of the English faculty member who will supervise the internship.

ENGL 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

ENGL 498 Honors Thesis Research
Units: .5
Description
Research for the honors thesis in English under the direction of a faculty advisor.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

ENGL 499 Honors Thesis Writing
Units: 1
Description
Writing of the honors thesis in English under the direction of a faculty advisor.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

Environmental Studies

Note: The grade point average of all the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70) in all courses other than Calculus II.

For the Bachelor of Arts degree

12 units, including:

ENVR 201 Introduction to Environmental Studies
ENVR 230 Environmental Economics
ENVR 269 Topics in Environmental Ethics
ENVR 362 Environmental Law and Policy
ENVR 391 Environmental Senior Seminar

One course in environmental life science chosen from:
- BIOL 109*/ENVR 109 Introduction to Ecology
- BIOL 111/ENVR 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
- BIOL 207* Ecology

One course in physical environmental science chosen from:
- CHEM 110/ENVR 110 Pollutants in the Environment
- CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
- ENVR 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography

Introductory statistics requirement, chosen from:
- MATH 119 (preferred) Statistics for Social and Life Sciences
- BUAD 202 Statistics for Business and Economics
- CHEM 300 Measurement Statistics
- PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
• Or equivalent course approved by the environmental studies coordinator

One course in environmental research methods, chosen from:
• ANTH 211 Introduction to Ethnographic Field Methods
• CHEM 301 Quantitative Chemical Analysis
• CHEM 302 Instrumentation and Spectroscopy
• CHEM 303 Chemical Separations
• ECON 340 Econometrics
• ENVR 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
• MATH 219 Introduction to the Design of Experiments
• MATH 304* Math Models in Biology and Medicine
• MATH 324* Continuous Math Methods
• PLSC 270 Social Science Inquiry
• SOC 211 Sociological Research Methods and Data Analysis

Three units of electives approved for environmental studies, at least one-half unit of which must be an experiential learning course (ENVR 320, ENVR 388, ENVR 406, GEOG 406, or equivalent)

For the Bachelor of Science degree

15 units, including:

ENVR 201 Introduction to Environmental Studies
ENVR 230 Environmental Economics
ENVR 269 Topics in Environmental Ethics
ENVR 362 Environmental Law and Policy
ENVR 391 Environmental Senior Seminar

One course in environmental life science chosen from:
• BIOL 109*/ENVR 109 Introduction to Ecology
• BIOL 111/ENVR 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
• BIOL 207* Ecology

One course in physical environmental science chosen from:
• CHEM 110/ENVR 110 Pollutants in the Environment
• CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
• ENVR 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography

Introductory statistics requirement: MATH 119 (preferred), BUAD 202, CHEM 300, PSYC 200, or equivalent course approved by the ES coordinator

One course in environmental research methods, chosen from:
• ANTH 211 Introduction to Ethnographic Field Methods
• CHEM 301 Quantitative Chemical Analysis
• CHEM 302 Instrumentation and Spectroscopy
• CHEM 303 Chemical Separations
• ECON 370 Advanced Econometrics
• ENVR 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
• MATH 219 Introduction to the Design of Experiments

Three units of electives approved for environmental studies, at least one-half unit of which must be an experiential learning course (ENVR 320, ENVR 388, ENVR 406, GEOG 406, or equivalent)

MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II

Two units in biology, chemistry, or physics at or above the 300 level*

The following courses involve significant overlap in content: BIOL 109/BIOL 207; and MATH 304/MATH 324. Credit toward the major can be given for only one course in each pair; for example, credit can be given for either BIOL 109 or BIOL 207 but not both.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

The Environmental Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average of all the coursework comprising the minor in environmental studies must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70).

6 units, including:

ENVR 201 Introduction to Environmental Studies
ENVR 269 Topics in Environmental Ethics

Either ENVR 230 Environmental Economics or ENVR 362 Environmental Law and Policy

One course in environmental life science chosen from
• BIOL 109*/ENVR 109 Introduction to Ecology
• BIOL 207 Ecology

One course in physical environmental science chosen from
• CHEM 110/ENVR 110 Pollutants in the Environment
• CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
• ENVR 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography

One approved elective in environmental studies

*Credit toward the Environmental Studies minor will be given for either BIOL 109 or BIOL 207, but not both. Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

Concentrations in Environmental Studies
Note: A student does not have to choose a concentration in order to receive a degree in environmental studies. Students may satisfy the elective units requirement of the degree by pursuing one of the following concentrations:

Environmental Science Concentration

Three units of electives, chosen from:

- BIOL 111/ENVR 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
- BIOL 225 Evolution
- BIOL 306 Systematic Botany
- BIOL 331 Molecular Ecology
- BIOL 332 Tropical Marine Biology
- BIOL 333 Microbial Ecology
- BIOL 334 Oceanography
- BIOL 335 Tropical Biology and Conservation
- CHEM 110/ENVR 110 Pollutants in the Environment
- CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
- ENVR 250 Earth Systems and Physical Biology
- ENVR 350 Environmental Gradents
- GEOG 315 Landscape Ecology

Environment and Society Concentration

Three units of electives, chosen from:

- ECON 211 Economic Development in Asia, Africa and Latin America
- ENVR 330 Environmental and Resource Economic Theory
- GEOG 220 Ecotourism
- GEOG 320 Power, Space, and Territory: Geographies of Political Change
- GEOG 333 Geographies of Amazonia
- GEOG 370 Geographies of Economic Development and Globalization
- GEOG 345 Society, Economy, and Nature: Global Perspectives on Sustainable Development
- HIST 390 Food and Power in Africa and Asia
- JOUR 304 Reporting on the Environment
- MGMT 348 Environmental Management
- PLSC 260 Introduction to Public Policy
- PLSC 360 International Development Policy

Experiential learning (ENVR 388, ENVR 320, or equivalent) and Special Topics (ENVR 300) may be counted towards a concentration with approval of the environmental studies coordinator.

Environmental Studies Electives

- ANTH 211 Introduction to Ethnographic Field Methods
- BIOL 108 Environmental Biology
- BIOL 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
- BIOL 225 Evolution
- BIOL 306 Systematic Botany
- BIOL 331 Molecular Ecology
- BIOL 332 Tropical Marine Biology
- BIOL 333 Microbial Ecology
- BIOL 334 Oceanography
- BIOL 344 Behavioral Ecology
- BIOL 351 Conservation Biology
- BIOL 383 Tropical Biology & Conservation
- CHEM 110 Pollutants in the Environment
- CHEM 301 Quantitative Chemical Analysis
- CHEM 302 Instrumentation and Spectroscopy
- CHEM 303 Chemical Separations
- CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
- ECON 211 Economic Development in Asia, Africa & Latin America
- ECON 230 Environmental Economics
- ECON 370 Advanced Econometrics

- MATH 304 Math Models in Biology and Medicine
- PLSC 260 Introduction to Public Policy
- PLSC 360 International Development Policy
- RELG 269 Ethics, Religion and the Environment
- RELG 374 Religion and the American Environment
- SOC 211 Sociological Research Methods

Courses

- ENVR 109 Introduction to Ecology
  Units: 1
  Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
  Description
  See BIOL 109.
- ENVR 110 Pollutants in the Environment
ENVR 111 Marine Biology of the Chesapeake Bay
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
See BIOL 111.

ENVR 201 Introduction to Environmental Studies
Units: 1
Description
Overview of contemporary environmental issues, including species extinction, resource depletion, and pollution. Students examine behavior leading to environmental degradation, the scientific, ethical, and economic aspects of the resulting problems, and study policies intended to provide solutions.

ENVR 215 Geography of the James River Watershed
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 215)

ENVR 220 Ecotourism
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 220)

ENVR 230 Environmental Economics
Units: 1
Description
(See Economics 230)
Prerequisites
Economics 101.

ENVR 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
(See Geography 250; same as Biology 250.)

ENVR 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 260; same as Biology 260.)

ENVR 269 Topics in Environmental Ethics
Units: 1
Description
Introduces students to the moral issues and ethical approaches that characterize interaction with our natural environment. Topics will vary but will typically include issues such as our moral obligation to nonhuman species and to future human generations, and ethical analysis of contemporary environmental issues such as climate change and species extinction.

ENVR 300 Special Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Selected topics about the environment.

ENVR 315 Landscape Ecology
Units: 1
Description
Applied science that focuses on the development, consequences, and management of environmental patterns. These patterns include the spatial distributions of species and the environment resources upon which they depend. Attention is paid to the importance of scale in natural resource management. Landscape ecology also emphasizes the role of humans in the environment.
Prerequisites
Geography/Environmental Studies 250, Environmental Studies 201, Biology 207, or permission of instructor

ENVR 320 Directed Research
Units: .5
Description
Research with a faculty member in an environmental area.

ENVR 321 Land Use Law
Units: .86
Description
A study of comprehensive plans and the planning process of land. Topics will include land use control by zoning, including history, power and purposes of zoning, types of zoning and uses. Types of zoning relief, historic and agricultural preservation, private land use controls and eminent domain will also be discussed. Particular emphasis will be placed on Virginia law and procedure and field trips to local Planning Commission and Board of Zoning hearings may be included.

ENVR 322 The Global Impact of Climate Change
Units: .86
Description
Rapid climate change is causing an increase in the temperature of the atmosphere and oceans. This is a truly global problem that requires international research and collaboration to resolve. The USA is a major producer of the atmospheric "greenhouse" gases that make a significant contribution to this global anthropogenic warming. The aim of this course is to introduce students to the global environmental impact of anthropogenic climate change, and to challenge students to think about the possible impact of the way we live in the USA on poor, marginalized and at risk communities around the world. Same as Geology 322U.

ENVR 323 The Geology of Disaster
Units: .86
Description
Basic geological principles as applied to help predict the occurrence and impact of natural disasters. Application of basic scientific principles to earth science. Exploration of the impact of the earth's varied internal processes on environmental change and human evolution. Same as Geology 320U.

ENVR 324 Environmental Law
Units: .86
Description
Survey of issues involved in the field through examination of major cases that have shaped the implementation of major federal environmental statutes since their passage beginning in the 1960s. Topics covered include the common law basis for environmental protection, constitutional and statutory authority to protect the environment, standing to bring environmental cases, the rules of judicial review, and substantive issues involving major environmental statutes and their implementing regulations. The cases are predominantly federal, but Virginia cases are used where appropriate. Same as LA 320U.

ENVR 325 Global Sustainability
Units: .86
Description
Examines the twenty-five global issues that the United Nations Commission on Sustainable Development has identified as the most critical global social, economic, and environmental challenges that are driving global change. Development of approaches to address the challenges. Same as BIOL 302U.

ENVR 330 Environmental and Resource Economic Theory
Units: 1
Description
(See Economics 330)
Prerequisites
Economics 271.

ENVR 350 Environmental Gradients
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 350.)
Prerequisites
Geography/Environmental Studies 250, Environmental Studies 201, Biology 207, Chemistry 110, or permission of instructor

ENVR 360 Environmental Remote Sensing
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 360; same as Biology 360.)
Prerequisites
Environmental Studies/Biology/Geography 260 or permission of instructor.

ENVR 362 Environmental Law and Policy
Units: 1
Description
(See Political Science 362.)
Prerequisites
Environmental Studies 201 or Political Science 260.

ENVR 365 Advanced Spatial Analysis
Units: 1
Description
(See Geography 365.)
Prerequisites
Environmental Studies/Geography/Biology 260.

ENVR 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5
Description
Supervised independent field work. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Permission of environmental studies coordinator.
ENVR 390 Independent Studies
Units: .5-1
Description
Topics independently pursued under supervision of a faculty member.
Prerequisites
Permission of instructor

ENVR 391 Environmental Senior Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Close study of a current environmental problem. Student develops a project to address the problem using approaches and skills from the environmental studies core and elective courses.
Prerequisites
Permission of environmental studies coordinator.

ENVR 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

Film Studies

Abigail Cheever, Coordinator (English)

Professor Ravaux-Kirkpatrick (Modern Literatures and Cultures)

Associate Professors Bauer (Modern Literatures and Cultures), Cheever (English), Ferman (Latin American and Iberian Studies), Lurie (English), Riehl (Music), Siebert (English)

Assistant Professor Chan (Modern Literatures and Cultures), Damer (Classical Studies)

The film studies major is designed to furnish an integrated, interdisciplinary approach to the academic study of cinema, providing work in film history, theory, aesthetics, and production and considering U.S., international, and indigenous/ethnic films. Students choose among courses offered in a number of different departments and programs at the University to explore how individual movies, particular genres and forms, and different regional, ethnic, and national film traditions reflect and influence the worlds of which they are a part. In so doing, students develop crucial skills in critical thinking, visual and textual analysis, and written and verbal communication that are vital for success in the majority of today’s careers.

The major consists of nine courses. Three are required: the introduction to film studies, the film theory course, and a capstone research seminar to be taken in the senior year. The remaining courses are electives offered by departments such as art and art history, English, journalism, Latin American and Iberian studies, modern literatures and cultures, and theatre and dance. This range of courses provides students with the opportunity to construct a program of study that is targeted to their particular interests. In keeping with the international nature of the medium, two of these electives must examine films outside of the mainstream U.S. This latter requirement makes film studies a terrific major for students considering study abroad.

More detailed descriptions of the courses listed below may be found on the individual department websites and catalog pages. New courses are continually being developed and offered, so check the film studies website and BannerWeb for the most up to date schedule of recent and upcoming courses.

The Film Studies Major

Note: A grade of C (2.0) or better is required in all coursework comprising the Film Studies major. No more than three courses taken at the 200-level can count towards the Film Studies major.

9 units, including

FMST 201/ENGL 220 Introduction to Film Studies
FMST 374/ENGL 374 Film Theory
FMST 400 Research Seminar

Six electives chosen from the list of Film Studies electives, at least two of which must be in international film or indigenous/ethnic U.S. cinema.

The Film Studies Minor

Note: A grade of C (2.0) or higher is required in any course that is to count towards the minor.

6 units, including

FMST 201/ENGL 220 Introduction to Film Studies

Five additional courses selected from the list of Film Studies electives, at least two of which must be in international film or indigenous/ethnic U.S. cinema.

Courses

FMST 201 Introduction to Film Studies
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduces the methodology of film studies through close textual analysis of narrative film. Special attention paid to the international history of the medium, the language of production, and major critical approaches.

FMST 202 Introduction to Film Production
Units: 1
Description
The art and technique of film production, including the fundamental principles of shot composition, lighting, sound, and editing and development of critical and aesthetic sensibilities.

FMST 203 With Images and Sound: Introduction to the Language of Film
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSVP
Description
A study of the film medium by a systematic discussion of the ways in which meaning is constructed by viewers, and how images are used to communicate. The discussion of the mechanisms at work in contemporary visual culture will be undertaken through complementary activities, both analytical and creative, emphasizing a direct experience with the medium. Additionally, students will view and discuss significant films, from various film traditions, which exemplify the theoretical questions discussed.

FMST 265 German Cinema
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Survey of German cinema from the 1930s to the present emphasizing the historical and cultural context in which the films were produced.

FMST 302 Intermediate Film Production
Units: 1
Description

FMST 364 Banlieue Cinema
Units: 1
Description
Cinema de banlieue has been identified as a new cinematic genre that addresses one of France's current major social preoccupations: the explosive and uncontrollable outskirts of France's larger cities which have seen a number of violent riots between youth and police in the past twenty years. Issues of separation and exclusion, ethnicity, and identity, as well as ethnic minority contributions to the representation of contemporary France as multicultural society will be examined. Attention will also be given to cinematographic techniques specific to this new genre. LAC option in French.
Prerequisites
Sophomore Standing

FMST 367 Culture in the Making: Conception and Actualization of a Film Festival
Units: 1
Description
Experience in the creation and preparation of a major annual cultural event, the French Film Festival presented by the University of Richmond and VCU, leading to significant enhancement of knowledge of contemporary cinema and culture, exposure to production and distribution models, and to cultural management.
Prerequisites
Either FMST 201 or 202.

FMST 374 Film Theory
Units: 1
Description
The course examines several different approaches to understanding what is unique the film medium as both an expressive art and a social and critical discourse. Models include the classic theories of realism of André Bazin and Siegfried Kracauer; the social and material history of Walter Benjamin, Theodor Adorno, and the Frankfurt School; feminism and gender studies; phenomenology; sound in cinema; critical race theory and whiteness studies; and digital media, among others. (Same as English 374)
Prerequisites
Film Studies 201 or English 220, 297, or 298 with a grade of C or better.

FMST 388 Individual Internship
Units: 1
Description
Application of skills outside of the department in areas related to film studies. Possibilities might include working for a film festival or film series, on a film under production, or in associated fields. No more than one unit may apply towards the degree.
Prerequisites
Departmental approval

FMST 397 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Selected topics in film studies (such as various national cinemas; the significance of particular directors, schools, or movements; period designations, or thematic approaches) for students pursuing a Film Studies major.

FMST 399 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Individually designed course of study supervised by a faculty member.
Prerequisites
Department Approval

FMST 400 Research Seminar
Units: 1

Prerequisites
LAIS 321, 331, or 332 or FMST 201 or 203.

First-Year Seminar

Sydney Watts (History), Coordinator

First-Year Seminars (FYS) provide entering students the excitement of engaged learning through a diverse array of seminar topics. With small classes, a variety of topics, and close contact with faculty, First-Year Seminars offer a hands-on introduction to academic inquiry.
A wide variety of seminars will be offered each year, drawn from every school of the University. Each entering student will take a FYS in the fall and spring of the first year.

First-Year Seminars serve as an introduction to academic inquiry and the modes of expression that lie at the heart of a liberal arts education. They foster habits of mind fundamental to students' intellectual and academic development, including critical reading and thinking, sharing ideas and research through discussion, and the ability to write and think clearly and effectively. Integrating explorations of specific questions and topics with the development of skills, seminars aim to foster intellectual curiosity and students' ability to act on it.

All First-Year Seminars have the same five common goals:
1. expand and deepen students' understanding of the world and of themselves
2. enhance their ability to read and think critically
3. enhance their ability to communicate effectively, in writing, speech, and other appropriate forms
4. develop the fundamentals of information literacy and library research
5. provide the opportunity for students to work closely with a faculty mentor

Course
FYS 100 First Year Seminar
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement First Year Seminar
Description
Allows students to choose from a list of special topics courses while they pursue a shared set of educational goals. All seminars are designed to expand the students' understanding of the world, enhance their ability to read and think critically, enhance their ability to communicate effectively in writing, speech, and other appropriate forms, develop fundamentals of information literacy and library research, and provide the opportunity for students to work closely with a faculty mentor. Topics descriptions for each term can be found on the FYS website. Students must take two different FYS 100 courses to meet the First Year Seminar degree requirement.
Prerequisites
First-year standing.

French Program
Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures
Française Ravasse-Kirkpatrick, Section Coordinator
Professor Ravasse-Kirkpatrick
Associate Professors Delers Kapanga, Pappas, Rudi
Director of Intensive Language Program Baker
Director of Global Studio Scinicariello

This section contains information specific to the degree programs in French. For full information regarding departmental policies relevant to all the MLC degree programs, study abroad, and course sequencing, see the main page of the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures.

The French Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70). Majors must take at least one 400-level course on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the major requirements.

9 courses including
FREN 305 Writing in French through Culture and Literature
One course, chosen from:
• FREN 301 French Conversation through Cinema
• FREN 304 French Grammar Review
• FREN 306 French at Work
• FREN 311 French and Francophone Cultures

Two courses, chosen from:
• FREN 320 Literature in Context
• FREN 324 Francophone Literatures and Cultures
• FREN 325 Medieval and Early Modern Society
• FREN 326 Revolution in France
• FREN 327 The Question of Modernity

Four 400-level courses, at least three of which are numbered 411 or higher
One unit elective at the 300 or 400 level (may be an MLC course with CLAC component)

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

The French Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70). Minors must take at least one 400-level course on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the minor requirements.

5 courses, including
FREN 305 Writing in French through Culture and Literature
One course, chosen from
• FREN 301 French Conversation through Cinema
• FREN 304 French Grammar Review
• FREN 306 French at Work
• FREN 311 French and Francophone Cultures

Two courses, chosen from
• FREN 320 Literature in Context
• FREN 324 Francophone Literatures and Cultures
• FREN 325 Medieval and Early Modern Society
• FREN 326 Revolution in France
• FREN 327 The Question of Modernity

One 400-level course
Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

The Residency Requirement

For all French majors, at least 5 of the 9 courses required for the major must be taken on the University of Richmond campus. French majors and minors must take at least one 400-level class on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the major or minor requirements.

Study Abroad

Study and travel abroad are strongly encouraged for all students. For students of French, the department offers a summer study program in La Rochelle, France. In addition, there are exchange agreements for study during the academic year in France, Switzerland, and West and North Africa. For a complete list, contact the Office of International Education. Students majoring and minoring in French are strongly encouraged to complete one course in the French 320 series before studying abroad; minimally students should have completed French 305. For information on transferring courses for the French major and minor, contact Dr. Kapanga or Dr. Pappas.

The French Major/International Business Option

(Earned in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)

9 courses and an interdisciplinary research project in addition to completing all requirements of the international business concentration for the business administration major including:

- Three 300-level courses (at least one FSLT), normally taken prior to study abroad
- Two 400-level seminars following required study abroad
- One semester full-time study at an approved business school (with all-French curriculum) in a French-speaking country (four courses)
- IDST 379 Interdisciplinary Research Project

The French major/international business option represents a collaborative project between the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures in the School of Arts and Sciences and the International Business Program in the Robins School of Business. Designated faculty members from each program will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major. The curriculum includes a semester abroad at one of the University's partner institutions with all-French curriculum (for example, EPSCL-Groupe ESSEC, Rouen Business School, or Université Catholique de Lille). There, students will continue their business concentrations in classes with both local and other international students.

To prepare for the experience abroad, students will have a solid base of 300-level French courses taken on the Richmond campus. Upon return, they will broaden their knowledge of literary and cultural studies through advanced seminars as well as additional Robins School of Business coursework. The French component of this program thus consists of five courses taken on campus plus four or five courses taken abroad, or the equivalent of a nine-course major in MLC.

Honors Program

The French Honors Program is designed for outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond the level of standard course work. Students will engage in independent research and work closely with a faculty advisor on an Honors Thesis during their senior year.

Eligibility and Admission

To qualify for the Honors Program in French, a student should have:

- At least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average for all courses
- At least 5 of the 9 courses required for the French major
- FREN 491 (Honor Thesis I, 0.5 unit, fall of senior year) and FREN 492 (Honors Thesis 2, 1 unit, spring of senior year)

A student who does not meet these qualifications may be admitted to the Program with the special recommendation of the faculty of the French section of the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures and the approval of the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program. To enter the Honors Program, students must submit to the Honors coordinator of the French program a letter of intent, with nominating support from one faculty member, by March 15 of their junior year. Each student will be assigned an Honors research advisor with whom he or she will design a program of study that indicates how the student's Honors Program will be accomplished.

Program Requirements

To receive credit for the Honors Program, the student must:

- Fulfill the normal requirements for the B.A. in French.
- Take two 400-level French courses on campus for Honors credit. These courses will require extra work (supplementary readings and/or assignments, independent research on a topic related to the course, for instance). The extra work will be decided by the course instructor and vetted by the French Honors coordinator to ensure consistency.
- Take FREN 491 (Honors Thesis I, 0.5 unit, fall of senior year) and FREN 492 (Honors Thesis 2, 1 unit, spring of senior year) in order to complete a 25-30 page Honors Thesis written in French. This thesis will be based on extensive research and make an original contribution to French and Francophone studies. The student and his or her advisor should develop a schedule to meetings and assessment that they find appropriate and meet at least once a month. Honors students must present their thesis at the French Studies symposium at the end of their senior year. They are also strongly encouraged to apply for a Summer Research Fellowship during their junior year. The thesis will be graded by at least two readers, including the student’s thesis advisor.

Students may withdraw at any time. If they do not complete required additional work or maintain an overall 3.3 grade point average and a 3.5 grade point average for French coursework, students will not receive credit for the Honors Program, and the department will submit a request for withdrawal to the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

Note: No grade below a C- (1.70) will be allowed for credit within the major.

9 units, including

- GEOG 210 Geographic Dimensions of Human Development
- GEOG 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography
- GEOG 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
- MATH 119 Statistics for Social and Life Sciences (or equivalent research methods course, with approval of department)
- GEOG 401 Geography Capstone

Four units in electives, which must include an approved experiential learning component (internship, field work, study abroad). Three of the electives must be at the 300 level or higher.
The Geography Minor

Note: No grade below a C- (1.70) will be allowed for credit within the minor.

6 units, including

GEOG 210 Geographic Dimensions of Human Development
GEOG 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography
GEOG 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems

Three units of electives in geography, to include no more than 1.0 unit of GEOG 390 nor more than 0.5 units of GEOG 388.

Courses

GEOG 206 World Regional Geography-Developed Regions
Units: 1
Description
World's economically developed areas (Europe, North America, Australia, CIS [former Soviet Union], Japan).

GEOG 207 World Regional Geography-Developing Regions
Units: 1
Description
World's economically developing areas (Middle America, South America, Southwest Asia, Southeast Asia, India, China, Africa, Middle East).

GEOG 210 Geographic Dimensions of Human Development
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Introduction to geographic approaches to study of cultural, societal, economic, political, and environmental change. Topics include: spatial analysis techniques and theories; population distributions and migration; cultural geographies; global economic development and its distribution; urbanization; political geography; and human-environment relations. (Same as International Studies 210.)

GEOG 215 Geography of the James River Watershed
Units: 1
Description
Study of the local environments and protected areas within the James River watershed. Explores the natural and human connections that define the resource challenges and opportunities within this urban watershed. (Same as Environmental Studies 215)

GEOG 220 Ecotourism
Units: 1
Description
Ecotourism integrates environmental protection, education, empowerment, local livelihoods, and responsible travel. The study of ecotourism allows students to document and analyze complex interactions between society and nature. (Same as Environmental Studies 220)

GEOG 250 Introduction to Earth Systems and Physical Geography
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNB)
Description
Basic concepts of earth systems science and physical geography. Includes earth-sun relationships, weather and climate, environmental hydrology, landforms and geomorphology, climate change, and human-environment interactions. (Same as Biology 250 and Environmental Studies 250.)

GEOG 260 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
Units: 1
Description
Concepts of mapping and spatial analysis using the ArcGIS software package and ArcGIS Online. Includes map analysis, vector and raster data creation and presentation, cartography, and analysis of spatial relationships. In-depth look at concepts including scale, coordinate systems, projections, and metadata. Practice with data acquisition using mobile GPS technology. Demonstration of real-world applications of GIS technology. (Same Environmental Studies 260).

GEOG 279 Middle Eastern Geographies: Patterns of Space and Place
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to geography of the Middle East, increasing understanding of this exciting, dynamic region. Explores the physical and historical geographies of the region, and patterns of language, ethnicity, religion, settlement, and conflict. Includes Orientalism, Post-Colonial theory, identity, and urbanization. The discipline of Geography provides a unique perspective on the Middle East by integrating an understanding of the people with an understanding of the land.

GEOG 315 Landscape Ecology
Units: 1
Description
Applied science that focuses on the development, consequences, and management of environmental patterns. These patterns include the spatial distributions of species and the environment resources upon which they depend. Attention is paid to the importance of scale in natural resource management. Landscape ecology also emphasizes the role of humans in the environment.
Prerequisites
Geography/Environmental Studies 250, Environmental Studies 201, Biology 207, or permission of instructor

GEOG 320 Power, Space, and Territory: Geographies of Political Change
Units: 1
Description
Analyses of and explorations into the spatial dimensions and geographic characteristics of global, regional, and local political change; and the political economy and ecology of globalization. Topics include: imperialism; world systems theory; nationalism; regionalism; electoral geography; race, class and gender; political economy of trade and foreign aid; and political ecology. (Same as Political Science 320)
Prerequisites
Geography 210 or Political Science 240 or 250.

GEOG 325 Latin American Geographies: Transnational and Local Connections
Units: 1
Description
Latin America is a culturally and ecologically diverse region with historical and contemporary connections to locations around the world, including Richmond, Virginia. Documenting the movement of people and flows of ideas, goods, and services, this course analyzes the political economy and ecology of transnational networks in areas such as immigration, security, transportation, communication, energy, and commerce while examining place-based consequences in local communities. (Same as International Studies 325)
Prerequisites
Geography/International Studies 210 or International Studies 290

GEOG 333 Geographies of Amazonia
Units: 1
Description
Explores the contradictions and connections of Amazonia. Considers the region's importance and relevance to the rest of the world through a study of the ecologies, histories, and geographies of Amazonia. Looks at the Amazon basin as much more than the world's greatest rainforest, richest reserve of biological and cultural diversity, and largest source of fresh water flow.
Prerequisites
IS/GEOG 210 or IS 290 or ENVR 201

GEOG 345 Society, Economy and Nature: Global Perspectives on Sustainable Development
Units: 1
Description
Applies geography's human-environment tradition to examine social, cultural, and economic dimensions of sustainability and sustainable development. Examinations into foundations and theories behind the concept of sustainable development, discussions and debates about its real-world applicability, and explorations into case studies addressing relationships and contradictions between human desires for material well-being, environmental protection, and maintenance of cultural and/or social traditions.
Prerequisites
ENVR 201, GEOG 210, or IS 210.

GEOG 350 Environmental Gradients
Units: 1
Description
Investigation of the approaches, key concepts, and methods of studying environmental gradients. Explores quantitative methods for describing different aspects of climate, water, nutrient, and biotic systems and their interactions. A modeling approach is introduced and different types of conceptual, statistical, and simulation models are used to explore the different systems.
Prerequisites

The Residency Requirement

For all German Studies majors, at least 5 of the 9 courses required for the major must be taken on the University of Richmond campus. Majors must take at least one 400-level class on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the major or minor requirements.

Cross-School Major in German Studies and International Business

((Earned in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)

9 courses and an interdisciplinary research project in addition to completing all requirements of the international business concentration for the business administration major, including

- Five units in German at the 300 or 400 level
- One semester full-time study at the Universität Münster School of Business and Economics or at the Universität Mannheim Business School (four courses)
- IDST 379 Interdisciplinary Research Project

The German major/international business option represents a collaborative project between the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures in the School of Arts and Sciences and the International Business Program in the Robins School of Business. Designated faculty members from each program will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major. The curriculum includes a semester abroad at one of the University's partner institutions. There, students will continue their Robins School concentrations and German Studies courses in classes with both local and other international students.

In order to prepare for the experience abroad, students in German will need to have completed at least GERM 202 on the Richmond campus. Students must take at least two courses in German at the Universität Münster.

Students are required to take one 400-level course in German upon their return.

Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Introduction to the history of women in Europe from ancient times through the 19th century. Focus on continuities and changes in the female experience in such historical moments as Ancient Greece, Reformation Germany, and the French Revolution. Source material includes women’s diaries, letters, speeches, and philosophical treatises.

HIST 225 Medieval Italy
Units: 1
Description
Study of Italy from the formation of the communes to the first stirrings of the Renaissance. Emphasis on the development of the commercial economy, differential development between North and South, the emergence of a strong Papal State, and the causes and effects of the Great Plague.

HIST 226 The Early Middle Ages
Units: 1
Description
Survey of social and intellectual developments in Europe from Late Antiquity to the 11th century. Emphasis on the birth and development of the political and institutional successors to the Roman Empire.

HIST 227 The High Middle Ages
Units: 1
Description
Overview of some of the principal social, political, and cultural developments in Europe c. 1000-1300 with special attention to the increasing vitality of urban culture, the varying position of women, the formation of bureaucratic “states,” and the emergence of such concepts as romantic love and individualism.

HIST 228 The Medieval Economy: Pre-Industrial Europe, 500-1500
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the evolution of the European pattern of economic life and organization from the decline of Rome through the close of the Middle Ages. The contributions of all social and economic strata -- from peasant to townsman to clergy to aristocrat to monarch -- to the economy will be considered. Topics include the agricultural revolution, the emergence of urban life, technological advances, the trends in population including the impact of famine and pestilence, the evolution of commercial and manufacturing techniques, economic roles of women, Jewish communities within the Medieval economy, Medieval economic mentality and doctrine, the underground economy, and the merchant as adventurer.

HIST 229 Anglo-Saxon England
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Britain’s history from its earliest inhabitants through the Norman Conquest. Topics addressed include Celtic Britain, Roman Britain, the historical Arthur, forging of the Anglo-Saxon kingdoms and church, Celtic and Anglo-Saxon women, and the Viking incursions.

HIST 230 The Renaissance
Units: 1
Description
Overview of the culture, politics, economics, modern science, and overseas expansion of the Renaissance, especially in Italy.

HIST 231 Norman and Plantagenet England
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Britain's history from the Norman Conquest through the close of the Wars of the Roses and the eve of the Reformation. Topics include the development of Common Law, the evolution of parliamentary government, English medieval women, Anglo-Celtic and Anglo-French relations, the Black Death, and the Hundred Years War.

HIST 232 The Late Middle Ages
Units: 1
Description
Survey of the unraveling of Europe's medieval institutions and the transition to early modernity during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. Topics addressed include the Great Famine and the Black Death, popular uprisings, late medieval warfare, crises in the church, popular heresy, and the medieval understanding of dying and death.

HIST 233 Reformation Europe
Units: 1
Description
Survey of the Protestant and Catholic reformations with emphasis on the social, political, and cultural implications of church reform.

HIST 234 Modern European Thought, 1650-1850
Units: 1
Description
Examination of developments in philosophy and letters, focusing on nature and role of science, art, politics, religion, sex, emotion, and history.

HIST 235 Modern European Thought since 1850
Units: 1
Description
Examination of developments in philosophy and letters, focusing on liberalism, Marxism, Freudianism, existentialism, behaviorism, and post-modernism.

HIST 236 Russian Empire, Soviet Union, and After
Units: 1
Description
Political, social, diplomatic, and cultural overview of the fate of the Russian Empire and Soviet Union from the Napoleonic Wars through the end of the Cold War with special focus on nationalism, socialism, Stalinism, and the fall of the USSR.

HIST 237 The Last Soviet Generation
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the world of the last generation to live under Soviet communism. What sort of people made up the last Soviet generation? Where did its sense of public conformity and private independence come from? What can explain its "apoliticism" against a background of ubiquitous propaganda? What can explain its intense individualism within a society ostensibly organized along collectivist lines? Why are terms like loyalist, timeserver, and dissident inadequate for describing members of this social cohort?

HIST 238 France: The Age of Absolutism, 1610-1780
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the growth of the French state under the Bourbon monarchy and the centralizing policies of ministers Richelieu, Colbert and Fleury that saw the expansion of venal office holders and robe nobles as well as the critical counter voices of Enlightenment thinkers and the protests of unruly commoners. How did Louis XIV help to make France a world power? What contributed to its vibrant culture emulated throughout Europe? How did the claims of absolute rule give way to liberal ideas of equality and liberty?

HIST 239 The French Revolution
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the social, political, economic and cultural aspects of the Revolution of 1789 in France with particular attention to ideas of liberty and equality and their implementation in the early and later, more radical, phases of revolution, ending with the rule of Napoleon as child of the Revolution and Emperor of France.

HIST 240 Modern European Thought, 1650-1850
Units: 1
Description
Examination of developments in philosophy and letters, focusing on nature and role of science, art, politics, religion, sex, emotion, and history.

HIST 241 Modern European Thought since 1850
Units: 1
Description
Examination of developments in philosophy and letters, focusing on liberalism, Marxism, Freudianism, existentialism, behaviorism, and post-modernism.

HIST 242 Modern Germany
Units: 1
Description
Study of Prussia and Germany from 1848 to present. Emphasis on unification, political movements, Nazism, and origins and effects of World Wars I and II.

HIST 243 Modern Britain
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Constitutional, political, economic, and social developments in the United Kingdom during the Victorian era and 20th century.

HIST 244 The Hapsburg Empire and After
Units: 1
Description
Survey of rise and fall of Hapsburg Empire beginning with development of lands of the house of Hapsburg from Middle Ages to Napoleonic era; political, military, diplomatic, economic, social and cultural issues in Austrian (Austro-Hungarian) Empire from Congress of Vienna to end of World War I, and in the empire's successor states in Central Europe.

HIST 245 Modern Balkans
Units: 1
Description
Survey of Balkan history in modern times, focusing on the development of Bulgaria, Romania, Albania, the Yugoslav lands, and Greece.

HIST 246 Russia in Revolution, 1905-1934
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Russia in revolution from the attempts at reform in 1905, through the Bolshevik seizure of power in 1917 and the subsequent consolidation of power under Lenin and Stalin. Special emphasis on the nature of "revolution" and questions of agency and contingency.

HIST 247 Modern Ireland
Units: 1
Description
Topical examination of the history of Ireland from late 17th century to present. Attention will be given to Ireland's society, economy, politics, international position, and special, often tortuous, relationship with its more powerful neighbor, the United Kingdom.

HIST 248 European Diplomacy from Bismarck to Hitler
Units: 1
Description
Studies in European diplomatic history from mid-19th century to World War II.

HIST 249 Twentieth-Century Europe
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Overview of European political, diplomatic, military, social, economic, and cultural history since 1900.

HIST 250 Modern East Asia: 1600-1960
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the journeys that China, Korea, and Japan took that have resulted in the shape of East Asia as we know it today, examining their long history of interconnection and philosophical, cultural, and political traditions and the different ways they respond to similar issues at the same time.

HIST 251 Chinese Revolutions
Units: 1
Description
Study of the several Chinese revolutions that together spanned the better part of the twentieth century and changed China in fundamental ways, with particular focus on the life and work of the main instigator of those revolutions, Mao Zedong.

HIST 252 Modern China: 1900-1940
Units: 1
Description
Investigation of the period 1900-1940, during which many aspects of the modern Chinese state and society were established. Includes the emergence of Chinese national identity, Chinese vernacular, and the political ideologies that continue to define China today. Also studies the emergence of a sophisticated urban culture in cities like Shanghai, and radical transformations in the social fabric of Chinese society.

HIST 253 Empires and Nations in Modern East Asia
Units: 1
Description
Examination, using East Asia as a case, of ideologies and logics of modern empire and nation formations, and their dynamic interactions in the modern world. Topics include the collapse of the Chinese Qing Empire, the arrival of Western imperialism, the rise of the Japanese empire, and the emergence of East Asian nationalism as reactions to these developments.

HIST 254 Modern Japan
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Japan's response to Western pressures and rise to world power in 19th and 20th centuries.

HIST 255 Meiji Japan: An Emperor and The World Named for Him
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the reign of the Meiji emperor (1868-1912), considered to be the period in which modern Japan emerges, as a loose unifying metaphor for the many radical shifts in Japanese society, politics, and culture that occurred in his time.

HIST 260 Colonial Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the multiple meanings and impacts of the complex, cataclysmic and often times bloody encounter between conquering Iberians (people from Spain and Portugal), Africans and the indigenous people of the Americas and the development of Latin America colonial societies until their national independence in the early nineteenth century.

HIST 261 Modern Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Introductory survey of Latin American history from independence; focus on the quest for political stability, economic development, and social change.

HIST 262 The Making of Modern Brazil
Units: 1
Description
Study of how modern Brazil came to be with special attention to comparative issues in the study of slavery, race, gender, and ethnicity.

HIST 263 Latin America in the Cold War Years
Units: 1
Description
Examination of internal and external forces behind the conflicts across Latin America during the Cold War (1948-1989): revolutionary regimes, guerrilla warfare, military repression, counterinsurgency and "dirty wars," Liberation Theology, evangelical movements, land reforms, economic development, genocide, and proxy wars.

HIST 264 Beyond Samba, Futebol, and Favelas: The History of Afro-Brazil
Units: 1
Description
Examination of race as a significant aspect of Brazilian history and Brazilian nationhood from the colonial era to the contemporary period. Ideological constructs of the state and elites will be considered alongside the political projects and social experiences of the popular classes. Ideas about race and being "Brazilian" will be traced from early cultural and scientific debates to modern political projects and conflicts involving labor relations, immigration policies, and education programs.

HIST 265 Gender and Sexuality in Latin American History
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the socio-political, cultural and economic processes through which gender, sexuality, class, and ethnic/cultural dynamics are interconnected and constructed in Latin America from the colonial era to the contemporary period. Focus will be on the complicated relationships between historically specific ideologies and socio-economic systems of production and domination, and the respective privileged or unprivileged positions of women and men under the colonialist, capitalist, socialist, and neoliberal states of Latin America.

HIST 270 Early Islamic World
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the major institutions that evolved under the aegis of Islamic Civilization from the advent of Islam in the early seventh century C.E. through the Mongol invasion in 1258. Since "Islam" in this context encompasses an entire cultural complex, the course will examine religious, political, economic, and social institutions.

HIST 271 The Modern Middle East
Units: 1
Description
Survey of Middle East from last years of Ottoman Empire to the present. Emphasis on culture, Zionism, Arab nationalism, diplomacy, and the Arab-Israeli conflict.

HIST 272 The Ottoman Empire
Units: 1
Description
Survey of the history of Ottoman Turkish power from its origins as an obscure band of frontier warriors (ghazis), to its emergence as a world-empire and its eventual collapse in the aftermath of World War I.

HIST 281 Africa, c. 1500 to c. 1900
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to economic, social, political, and intellectual history of Africa from time of trans-Atlantic slave trade to colonial conquest.

HIST 282 Africa in the Twentieth Century
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to economic, social, political, and intellectual history of Africa from colonial period to present.

HIST 283 South Africa since 1500
Units: 1
Description
Topical overview of South Africa from precolonial period to present, with special attention to conquest, economic development, establishment of the migrant labor system, segregation, and rise and fall of formal apartheid.

HIST 290 British Empire and Commonwealth
Units: 1
Description
Survey of British imperialism from the end of American Revolution through development of the modern Commonwealth. Emphasizes Canada, India, Africa, and Australia.

HIST 299 Special Topics: Periods and Regions
Units: 1
Description
First-time or one-time courses in regions and periods not covered or not yet covered in the history program.

HIST 301 The Civil War in Film and Literature
Units: 1
Description
Comparison of historians' treatments of the Civil War with its portrayal in documentaries, feature films, and literature.

HIST 303 Psychology in American Society and Culture
Units: 1
Description
(See Psychology 437.)

HIST 306 American Identities
Units: 1
Description
Thematic exploration of historical issues of identity development and construction in the twentieth-century United States, focusing on such questions as: What do historians mean by "identity"? How do they use categories like race, class, and gender to understand the American experience? How have they approached issues of status, power, and individuality?

HIST 321 History of Work in Europe
Units: 1
Description
Historical study of the world of work in early modern and modern Europe. Focus on the nature of work itself, how it framed mentalities, created social classifications, informed economic thought, and shaped the political process. Topics include history of wage labor and guilds, early industry from countryside to cities, working class formation, division of labor in industry, and policing labor.

HIST 322 Conquest and Coexistence: Medieval Frontier Society
Units: 1
Description
Examination of Medieval frontier societies in a comparative perspective, considering such themes as political organization and allegiances, and social, economic and religious life. Consideration given to both geographic and cultural frontiers—places where movement, confrontation, and intersection among peoples occurred. Particular emphasis on the dynamic of contact and separation, cultural exchange, and resistance in Southern Italy, Spain, the Crusader States, and the British Isles.
HIST 324 Text and Context: Anna Karenina and Her World
Units: 1
Description
Interdisciplinary investigation of the Russian Great Reforms (1861-1881) through the lens of L.N. Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina." Examines issues connected to imperial Russian literary, social, cultural, and political history, as well as the subject of gender relations.

HIST 325 The Enlightenment
Units: 1
Description
An exploration of approaches to and conceptions of what historians have come to call the "Enlightenment." What do they mean by "The Enlightenment?" In what ways do they seek fuller understanding of it? How and why do they disagree about its features? Although the main focus will be on secondary literature, primary texts will be read and discussed as examples of the kind of evidence scholars are trying to interpret.

HIST 340 Imagining the Other: China and the West
Units: 1
Description
Examination of selected images China and "the West" constructed of each other in the past two and a half centuries and of the driving forces and mechanisms behind their production.

HIST 341 History and Memory: WWII in East Asia
Units: 1
Description
Examination of the lingering controversies surrounding the history of WWII in East Asia. The focus is on the intersections of history and memory, and the politics of remembering and representing difficult historical events associated with the war. Issues include the Nanjing Massacre, comfort women, the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and the Battle of Okinawa.

HIST 361 Madness and Society in the Modern Era
Units: 1
Description
Historiographical examination of such questions as: What is insanity? How do we define the normal and the pathological? Who in society is best suited to determine psychological health and sickness? Can there be sciences of the emotions and sexuality? How do class, race, religion, and gender influence our views of human mental functioning? Can the human mind know itself? How did the sciences of the mind (i.e. psychiatry, psychoanalysis, clinical psychology, psychopharmacology, and the cognitive neurosciences) claim tremendous scientific authority and exert enormous cultural influence at the turn of the twentieth century? A variety of settings will be considered, including continental Europe, North America, Latin America, and Africa from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth centuries.

HIST 370 Contending Visions of the Middle East
Units: 1
Description
Examination of major debates in the field of Modern Middle Eastern and Islamic History, exploring what the main approaches and their critiques are, how the field (especially recently) came to be polarized and politicized, and where more fruitful middle ground might be found between these hardened categories. Topics will include Orientalism and its discontents, the rise of political Islam, nationalism, and "civilizational identifications."

HIST 380 Women and Gender in African History
Units: 1
Description
Examination of women's roles in and perspectives on some of the major issues in African history, including slavery, colonialism, and development.

HIST 390 Food and Power in Africa and Asia
Units: 1
Description
Comparative exploration of the connection between food (cultivation, processing, distribution, consumption, and denial) and political legitimacy, social institutions, and individuals' identities and values in Asia and Africa from antiquity to present.

HIST 391 Transnational Social Reform
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the ideas, institutions, and social networks around which movements for transnational reform have been built. Students will examine the history of four movements for transnational social reform since the early 19th century: abolitionism, women's rights, anticolonialism, and environmentalism.

HIST 392 Nations and Nationalisms
Units: 1
Description
Investigation of the confusing theoretical terrain of nation, nationalism, and national identity through a survey of major 19th and 20th century schools of thought, culminating in students' own case studies of specific national movements.

HIST 394 Historical Research Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Investigation of a topic of limited focus culminating in a substantial paper based on common reading and individual research in primary and secondary materials. Topics and instructors vary. See departmental Web site for seminar topics. Enrollment limited to 12 students.

HIST 395 The Historian's Workshop
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to various tools used by historians in their work. Topics covered might include digital methods, the nature of the archive, quantitative methods, paleography, oral history, genealogy, cartographic investigation, and exhibition design.

HIST 398 Special Topics: Focused Themes
Units: 1
Description
First-time or one-time colloquia on focused topics not covered or not yet covered in the history program.

HIST 400 Research Seminar for Majors
Units: 1
Description
Required seminar for majors taken in junior or senior year. Investigation of a topic of limited focus culminating in a substantial paper based on common reading and individual research in primary and secondary materials. Topics and instructors vary. See departmental Web site for seminar topics. Enrollment limited to 12 students.

HIST 401 Directed Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Individually designed reading or research program conducted under faculty supervision.
Prerequisites
Five courses in history and permission of department.

HIST 402 Individual Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
Practical history-related work combined with some academic study.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

HIST 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research (or produce a creative arts project) in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

HIST 410 Historiography
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to principles and practices of historical writing. Although some attention is paid to the history of historical writing since classical times, focus will be on contemporary modes of historical writing.

HIST 411 Honors Thesis Prospectus
Units: .5
Description
Preparation of research prospectus for honors research seminar under direction of appropriate faculty.
Prerequisites
History 410 and admission to departmental honors program.

HIST 412 Honors Research Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Research and writing of honors thesis in history.
Prerequisites
History 410 and 411 and admission to departmental honors program. History 412 is a prerequisite to 413.

HIST 413 Honors Research Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Research and writing of honors thesis in history.
Prerequisites
History 410 and 411 and admission to departmental honors program. History 412 is a prerequisite to 413.

Integrated Quantitative Science Program

Professor A. Hill (Biology)
Associate Professors Caudill (Mathematics and Computer Science), Kerckhove (Mathematics and Computer Science), Lawson (Mathematics and Computer Science), Stenger (Biology), Szajda (Mathematics and Computer Science)
Assistant Professor Lipan (Physics)

The integrated quantitative (IQ) science course is a first-year course for prospective science majors that provides an integrated introduction to biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics and computer science, with an accompanying integrated lab. It will approach scientific inquiry from multiple perspectives to develop the kinds of cross-disciplinary problem-solving skills that will lead to significant advances in human understanding. Each semester of the course will be organized around a guiding principle that integrates several concepts.

Instruction will be wholly integrated. An instructor from each of the five disciplines will be present for each lecture and presentation of the material will flow between disciplines. Topics for the course will be organized around broad conceptual areas, allowing each of the disciplines to be integrated into the discussion. Lab work will require skills from each of the disciplines and will take place in collaborative teams.

Purpose
The yearlong course is designed for high-achieving high school students who enjoy the challenges of solving tough problems, have completed high school calculus and are planning to major in any of the sciences or mathematics. For students planning to enroll in the pre-med program, IQ science meets three of the program’s course requirements.

Students are required to apply for the course. The application asks for a listing of high school science and mathematics courses with grades and level (honors, AP, IB, etc.) as well as a short statement indicating the applicant's interest in interdisciplinary science and motivation for taking the course.

The Course
The IQ Science course has a fall component and a spring component; each component consists of two 1-unit courses. Students who successfully complete one semester of the course will satisfy both the Field of Study requirement in the Natural Sciences (FSNS) and the Field of Study requirement in Symbolic Reasoning (F SSR). Students who successfully complete both semesters of the course will earn four units toward graduation. The IQS courses may substitute for any of the following requirements: BIOL 199, CHEM 141, CMSC 150, and PHYS 131.

BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Lab - (See Biology section). Co-requisite: Math 190. 1 unit. (FSNB)

MATH 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 2 with Lab - (See Math section.) Co-requisite: Biology 190. 1 unit. (FSSR)
Integrated Science

Michael Kerckhove, Coordinator (Math)

The Integrated Sciences minor is designed for the student interested in an interdisciplinary approach to science. The over-arching theme is exploring the richness of types of problems that may be approached using a combination of sciences rather than one alone. Research experience is the cornerstone of the minor. Coursework for the minor falls chronologically into three categories. In their first two years, students will typically take the introductory Integrated Quantitative Science (IQS) courses and the IQS Research Training Seminar (IDST 284). The introductory IQS classes are structured around common themes that allow students to study topics in depth from the perspective of material in the five introductory math/science courses. Students not enrolled in IQS during the freshman year may qualify for the minor by taking the first course in the major in each of the five core disciplines as listed below or by completing the SMART course series and PHYS 191 and then enrolling in the Research Training Seminar (IDST 284). This seminar focuses on how interdisciplinary research programs are constructed and the types of problems that can be addressed using this approach.

During their junior and senior years, students will take two interdisciplinary courses that focus on a topic from at least 2 different disciplinary perspectives. A list of approved courses appears below, though students are encouraged to check with the coordinator for updates. The third component of the minor is the Senior Research Seminar (IDST 484). This is a literature-based course, for seniors only, that allows students to knit together their own research experiences with an in depth study of scientific papers on current interdisciplinary research or an independent project of their design that integrates a study of primary literature with some aspect of interdisciplinary research.

The Integrated Science Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade in the minor below C- (1.7). Students are strongly advised to consult with faculty in planning their minor curriculum.

6.75-7.75 units, including

Introductory IQS Sequence (Students who do not complete the Introductory IQS sequence may substitute the introductory courses in the five disciplines comprizing the major: BIOL 199, CHEM 141, PHYS 131, CMSC 150, and MATH 211.)

PHYS 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 4 with Lab - (See Physics section.). Prerequisites: Biology 190 and Math 190. Co-requisite: Chemistry 191. 1 unit.

CHEM 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3 with Lab - (See Chemistry section.) Prerequisites: Biology 190 and Math 190. Co-requisite: Physics 191. 1 unit.

BIOL 190 / MATH 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1-2 with Laboratory

CHEM 191 / PHYS 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 3-4 with Laboratory

IDST 284 IQS Research Training Seminar

IDST 484 Senior Integrated Science Seminar

Two units, (one of which must be in addition to courses completed for a major or other minor), chosen from:

- BIOL 316 Biological Imaging
- BIOL 317 Mechanochemical Cell Biology
- BIOL 320 Experimental Design and Biostatistics
- BIOL 335 Structural Biology
- BIOL 336 Eco-epidemiology
- BIOL 351 Special Topics: Bioinformatics
- BIOL 351 Special Topics: Epigenetics
- BIOL 351 Special Topics: Genomics
- CHEM 311 Theoretical and Computational Chemistry
- CHEM 316 Environmental Chemistry
- MATH 304 Mathematical Models in Biology and Medicine
- PHYS 203 Systems Biology
- PHYS 215 Computational Methods in Physics
- or another approved elective

An undergraduate research project in any science, math, or computer science area of significant length that culminates in a written report or poster presentation, chosen from:

1 unit in

- BIOL 350 Undergraduate Research
- CHEM 320 Introduction to Research
- CMSC 340 Directed Independent Study
- MATH 340 Directed Independent Study
- or a fulltime summer research experience of at least 8 weeks.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

Interdisciplinary Concentrations

Interdisciplinary Concentrations within Disciplinary Majors or Minors

Interdisciplinary Concentration in Arts Management

Approachable by studio art, art history, music, theatre, and dance majors or minors and provides curricular links for students interested in further practical and academic experiences in the area of arts management. Faculty coordinators are the director of the Modlin Center for the Arts and the director of University Museums.

5 units, including

- MUS 345/THTHR 345/ARTH 345 Philanthropy in the Arts
- MUS 388/THTHR 388/ARTH 388 Internship
One unit, chosen from:
- ARTH 322 Seminar in Museum Studies
- MUS 310 / THTR 310 Managing Performing Arts Organizations

One unit in accounting, chosen from:
- ACCT 201 Fundamentals of Financial Accounting
- ACCT 202 Fundamentals of Managerial Accounting

One unit in marketing, chosen from:
- MKT 320 Principles of Marketing
- MKT 321U Principles of Marketing

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted. Courses in accounting and marketing may be taken in the School of Business, the School of Professional and Continuing Studies, or by transfer in consultation with one of the concentration's coordinators. A concentration coordinator should be consulted for approval of the internship, subject to approval of concentration coordinator.

Interdisciplinary Concentration in Comparative Literature for English Majors

The basic assumption behind this concentration is that literary studies can be unduly limited by restricting the context and parameters of scholarly inquiry to the literary works of one particular literary tradition, usually defined in fairly narrow geographical and linguistic terms. Comparative literature in the broadest sense may be defined as the text-based investigation of themes, issues, and works of art, free from the fetters of artificial geographical, cultural, political, or disciplinary demarcations. Students of comparative literature achieve a greater awareness of certain boundaries involved in the traditional study of literature—national, linguistic, generic, disciplinary, etc.—and of the issues and advantages involved in crossing those boundaries. In this concentration, students will develop the habits and tools necessary to address problems or topics of interest from a number of literary and disciplinary perspectives.

7 units, including

One upper level English or Modern Literatures and Cultures course (approved by the Concentration Coordinator) which focuses on the comparative and/or interdisciplinary study of a particular genre, theme, or historical period.

Three upper-level literature courses from the modern literatures and cultures, Latin American and Iberian studies, or classical studies departments, in the original language.

A one unit independent study culminating in a substantial research project; honors students can use this research project as their honors thesis.

Interdisciplinary Concentration in Medieval and Renaissance Studies for English and Art History Majors

English Majors

This concentration was created for English majors interested in deepening their knowledge of the cultures of the Middle Ages and Renaissance through interdisciplinary study. It thus requires that in addition to taking upper-level courses in Medieval and Renaissance English literature, majors also explore these periods from the perspective of other academic disciplines including, but not limited to, the history of art and architecture, foreign literatures, philosophy, religious studies, and history. It is hoped that the breadth of knowledge and intellectual flexibility that interdisciplinary study fosters will enable students in this concentration to undertake more complex kinds of research projects and achieve more sophisticated levels of critical thinking and writing than might otherwise have been possible.

7 units, including

ENGL 308 / IDST 390 Interdisciplinary Studies in the Middle Ages and Renaissance

One 300- or 400-level course in Medieval literature and one 300- or 400-level course in Renaissance literature, chosen from:
- ENGL 301 Literature of the Middle Ages
- ENGL 302 Literature of the English Renaissance
- ENGL 304 Shakespeare
- ENGL 309 Desire and Identity in the Renaissance: The Lyric Tradition
- ENGL 330 Selected Topics in Literature Before the Early to Mid-19th Century
- ENGL 400 Junior/Senior Seminar (depending on topic)

Three units from at least two different departments outside of English, chosen from below. Special topics courses in medieval and renaissance may be substituted with prior approval from the departmental coordinator.
- ARTH 211 Medieval Byzantine Art 600-1453
- ARTH 309 Image and Icon in Medieval Art
- ARTH 310 Late Antinque and Early Christian Art
- ARTH 312 Medieval Art in Western Europe 8th-15th Centuries
- ARTH 314 Northern Renaissance Art
- ARTH 315 Art of the Italian Renaissance
- ARTH 316 Art in the Age of Reform
- CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition
- FREN 325 Medieval and Early Modern Society
- FREN 411 The French Middle Ages
- FREN 421 Renaissance
- HIST 225 Medieval Italy
• HIST 226 The Early Middle Ages
• HIST 227 High Middle Ages

This concentration is intended to encourage art history majors to develop an interdisciplinary approach to the study of Medieval and Renaissance visual cultures. The concentration aims to expose students to a variety of disciplines, approaches, and methodologies by supplementing their upper-level courses in Medieval and Renaissance art with those covering aspects of these historical periods in other academic disciplines. The selection of courses offered through the concentration allows students with a specific interest in Medieval and Renaissance art to broaden their knowledge of the periods, and provides them with opportunities to comprehensively examine topics of interest.

Students will meet with their Medieval and Renaissance studies advisor in art history to outline a track of study from among the broad range of interdepartmental courses listed below.

6 units, including

Three 300- or 400-level Department of Art and Art History courses in the areas of early Christian, Medieval or Renaissance art

Three approved courses from at least two different departments outside art and art history, chosen from:
• CLSC 205 Greek and Roman Mythology: Epic
• CLSC 207 Greek Magic
• CLSC 301 Greek Art and Archaeology
• CLSC 302 Roman Art and Archaeology
• CLSC 305 Greek and Roman Values
• CLSC 306 The Classical Tradition

Interdisciplinary Concentration in Neuroscience for Biology and Psychology Majors

Majors in biology or psychology with a special interest in neurobiology or behavioral neuroscience may apply to pursue an interdisciplinary concentration in neuroscience. Because of the scheduling demands of the concentration, students are strongly encouraged to apply during the fall semester of the sophomore year.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Students may contact Dr. Linda Boland or Dr. John Warrick, Associate Professors of Biology, for more information about the Neuroscience Concentration within the Biology major.

Designated Courses for Biology Majors

18.5 units, including

- BIOL 199 Introduction to Biological Thinking
- BIOL 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 1 with Laboratory
- BIOL 192 Science, Math and Research Training I

- BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I

- BIOL 202 Integrated Biological Principles II

Five additional units of biology approved for the major, four of which are at the 300 level, with at least three chosen from:

- BIOL 308 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy
- BIOL 311 Microanatomy
- BIOL 312 Developmental Biology
- BIOL 317 Mechanochemical Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 338 Comparative Animal Physiology
- BIOL 343 Neurobiology
- BIOL 344 Behavioral Ecology
- BIOL 345 Cellular Neurophysiology

- BIOL 351 Special Topics (requires Neuroscience program approval)
- BIOL 352 Evolutionary Developmental Biology
- BIOL 354 Biological Basis of Neurodegenerative Diseases with Laboratory

Designated Courses for Psychology Majors

18 units, including

- PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
- PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
- PSYC 331 Behavioral Neuroscience
- PSYC 333 Cognitive Science
- PSYC 341 Cognitive Neuroscience
- PSYC 441 Clinical Neuroscience
- PSYC 442 The Neurobiology of Relationships
- Approved 400-level seminar

One half unit research project in neuroscience, chosen from:

- BIOL 350 Undergraduate Research
- BIOL 395 Honors Research

Designated Courses for Psychology Majors

18 units, including

- PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
- PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
- PSYC 331 Behavioral Neuroscience
- PSYC 341 Cognitive Neuroscience
- PSYC 361 Independent Research
- PSYC 362 Psychology of Religion
- PSYC 363 Biological Basis of Neurodegenerative Diseases with Laboratory
- PSYC 364 Philosophy of Art
- PSYC 365 Philosophy of Religion
- PSYC 366 Religion and the Arts
- PSYC 367 Le Siècle Classique
- PSYC 368 Ideas and Institutions of Western Civilization I
- PSYC 369 Philosophy of Art
- PSYC 370 Philosophy of Religion
- PSYC 371 Religion and the Arts

Completion of the 2 semester IQS course meets the quantitative-physical science requirement for the BS degree.
Interdisciplinary Studies

Scott Davis, Coordinator (Religion)

Interdisciplinary studies offers two distinct programs: interdisciplinary colloquia and the self-designed interdisciplinary studies major (see below).

The Interdisciplinary Studies Major

Note: A grade of not less than C (2.0) is required in each course comprising the major.

10 units of coursework including the senior thesis, noting

- The nature of the approved program will determine whether the degree is a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The interdisciplinary studies major provides a student the opportunity to propose and pursue, with faculty supervision, a unique program of study.
- The specific program of study is developed by the student in consultation with two faculty advisors, cohering to a central student-determined theme, involving two or more departments, culminating in a significant senior thesis. The program must be approved by two faculty advisors, the interdisciplinary studies coordinator, and the dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.
- Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Interdisciplinary Studies Honors Program

Because all Interdisciplinary Studies majors are unique to the individual student, there are no general requirements for honors beyond those established by the Arts and Sciences Honors Committee. Thus, to write for honors in Interdisciplinary Studies, the student must approach the Interdisciplinary Studies coordinator, be invited to write for honors, and submit the Honors program as required by the Honors Committee. Upon approval of the honors program, IDST 401-402 will be substituted for IDST 398-399 in the student's curriculum. The two thesis advisors will be the readers for honors and the coordinator will be bound by their judgment.

Courses

IDST 281 Principles of the Natural Sciences
Units: 0
Description
Explores foundational principles of biology, chemistry and physics. Students gain experience with using these principles in an applied context that fosters critical thought. The course is designed for pre-medical students who are preparing to take the medical college admissions test (MCAT).
Prerequisites
BIOL 205, CHEM 206, and PHYS 127 or 131.

IDST 284 Integrated Quantitative Science (IQS) Research Training Seminar
Units: .25
Description
Continuation of the appreciation of, and facility with, integrated, interdisciplinary research in science, math, and computer science. Through discussion and hands-on activities students will gain a greater perspective and will develop skills in research that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries.
Prerequisites
Biology 190, Math 190, Physics 191, and Chemistry 191 or permission of the instructor.

IDST 285 Developing Interdisciplinary Research
Units: .5
Description
Focuses on development of an interdisciplinary research project from inception through writing of grant proposal. Begins with discussion of scientific question being addressed, followed by discussions of broad concepts of a research proposal and, finally, the development and completion of a final proposal. Involves literature search, discussions concerning design and execution of experiments, as well as interpretation of data (both quantitative and qualitative). Experimentation will involve a variety of techniques and approaches; expose students to interdisciplinary nature of modern biomedically related research and how collaboration leads to enhancement of a project; and promote students' ability to think critically, write a proposal, and discuss and present their ideas to others in an effective manner. The faculty/research student teams will work to develop a final research proposal for NSF or another suitable funding agency.
Prerequisites
Chemistry 141 and Biology 201 or 205.
IDST 290 Selected Projects
Units: .5
Description
Follow-up research project for participants in the Sophomore Scholars in Residence program.

IDST 299 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
One semester elective. Explores a variety of topics that do not typically fall within disciplinary boundaries.

IDST 379 Combined Major Project/Portfolio
Units: .5
Description
Working with faculty mentors, students will write a 20-30 page research paper on an interdisciplinary topic. For students in combined majors with French and German, this paper will become part of a portfolio representing significant achievements in the major and emphasizing the interdisciplinary and/or cross-cultural aspects of the major.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

IDST 388 Individual Internship
Units: .25-1
Description
No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.
Prerequisites
Departmental approval

IDST 390 Interdisciplinary Studies in the Middle Ages and Renaissance
Units: 1
Description
(See English 308.)

IDST 395 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
Specialized study to provide maximum freedom in research and investigation.

IDST 397 Special Topics
Units: 1
Description
Topics will vary from semester to semester.

IDST 398 Senior Thesis
Units: .5
Description
For students in the interdisciplinary studies major.

IDST 399 Senior Thesis
Units: .5
Description
For students in the interdisciplinary studies major.

IDST 401 Honors Thesis
Units: 1
Description
Thesis course for students invited into departmental honors program. The honors thesis requires an oral defense, which is to include both the thesis advisors and a third party, to be determined by the coordinator in conjunction with the thesis advisors.
Prerequisites
Admission to departmental honors program.

IDST 402 Honors Thesis
Units: 1
Description
Thesis course for students invited into departmental honors program. The honors thesis requires an oral defense, which is to include both the thesis advisors and a third party, to be determined by the coordinator in conjunction with the thesis advisors.
Prerequisites
Admission to departmental honors program.

IDST 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research or produce a creative arts project in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

IDST 484 Integrated Science Senior Seminar
Units: .5
Description
Designed for students to pull together earlier interdisciplinary course experiences; discussions of recently published journal articles and talks by faculty doing interdisciplinary research will allow students to build on their appreciation of, and facility with, integrated, interdisciplinary research in science, math, and computer science. Restricted to seniors.
Prerequisites
Interdisciplinary Studies 284 and Math 212, 232, or 235

International Studies
Sheila Carapico, Coordinator (Political Science)

International Studies is a rigorous but flexible interdisciplinary major with a cross-cultural emphasis. The major offers the opportunity to take courses across departments and schools at the University of Richmond and requires at least a semester of study abroad. Students majoring in International Studies select one of seven concentrations, each coordinated by advisors with special expertise in the areas.

All students majoring in International Studies take the gateway course, IS290: Perspectives in International Studies, usually in the freshman or sophomore year; and at least one of two other introductory courses, Geography 210, Geographic Dimensions of Human Development or Political Science 250, Introduction to International Relations. At least two advanced courses in a second language are also required. During the final year, after study abroad, all IS majors complete a topical capstone Senior Seminar, IS 400, during which they will research and write an original scholarly paper. Successful completion of IS 290 is a prerequisite for IS 400.

Students work with faculty advisors to choose additional electives, including courses taken abroad, within each concentration. Course selections should comprise an interdisciplinary mix of courses from anthropology, art history, classics, communications, economics, environmental studies, geography, history, law, leadership, literature, music, political science, religion, sociology, theater, and women’s studies. Within each concentration, eight units must be selected from three or more departments with no more than four units from a single department. While studying abroad students are encouraged to work with faculty advisors to identify courses not listed in the Richmond catalog that complement their academic program.

The International Studies Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade less than C- (1.7).

13 units, including

A. Foundational Study in Language and Culture
At least two units of 300- or 400-level courses in the Department of modern literatures and cultures or department of Latin American and Iberian studies, excluding courses taught in English. For students whose first language is not English, at least two units chosen from: 300- or 400-level courses in the department of modern literatures and cultures or department of Latin American and Iberian studies, or two units of 200- or 300-level courses in the department of English.

B. Approved Experience Abroad
In order to provide for a significant degree of cultural immersion, the experience abroad will be related to the student's concentration and will be at least one semester in length. Any program which does not meet these requirements must be approved by the concentration advisor in consultation with the program coordinator.

C. International Studies Coursework (three core units and an IS concentration)
One unit, chosen from:

• PLSC 250 Introduction to International Relations
• GEOG 210/IS 210 Geographic Dimensions of Human Development
• IS 290 Perspectives in International Studies
• IS 400 Senior Seminar

An international studies concentration (within the concentration: eight units selected from three or more departments with no more than four units from a single department)

Note: With prior approval, study abroad courses may be applied toward the major.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

International Studies: Africa
Carol Summers (History), Advisor

Note: Within the concentration, the eight units must be selected from three or more departments with no more than four units from a single department. It is expected that students will undertake their study abroad in Africa or at an international university noted for excellence in African studies.

8 units, chosen from the following (may include up to two courses dealing with the African diaspora, marked with an *).

For eligibility of other relevant courses for inclusion in the major, see the concentration advisor.

In addition to the regularly offered courses there will be others offered occasionally that may count towards an Italian studies major. All courses outside MLC that can be taken for credit towards the major will be announced by the section coordinator at the beginning of each registration period. Students should always check with the section coordinator to make sure that courses outside of MLC will count towards the major. Students are strongly encouraged to satisfy some of the requirements of the major by studying abroad. Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Study Abroad

Study and travel abroad are strongly encouraged for all students. For students of Italian, the department offers summer study programs in Italy. In addition, there are exchange agreements for study during the academic year in Verona, Ferrara, and Milano. For a complete list, contact the Office of International Education.

The Residency Requirement

For all Italian majors, at least 5 of the 9 courses required for the major must be taken on the University of Richmond campus. Majors must take at least one 400-level class on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the major or minor requirements.

The Italian Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.70). Up to three classes in transfer may be used toward minor requirements. Minors must take at least one 400-level class on campus after studying abroad, regardless of whether or not they have sufficient credits to fulfill the minor requirements.

Cross-School Major in Italian Studies and International Business

(Earned in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)

9 courses and a senior project (498-499), in addition to completing all requirements of the international business concentration for the business administration major, including
• Five units in Italian at the 300 or 400 level
• IDST 379 Interdisciplinary Research Project
• One semester full-time study at Bocconi University of Economics and Business Administration (four courses)

The Italian major/international business option represents a collaborative project between the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures in the School of Arts and Sciences and the International Business Program in the Robins School of Business. Designated faculty members from each program will advise students upon declaration and as they progress through the major. The curriculum includes a semester abroad at one of the University's partner institutions. There, students will continue work on their Robins School and Italian Studies requirements in classes with both local and other international students.

In order to prepare for the experience abroad, students in Italian will need to have completed at least Italian 221 on the Richmond campus; they must take at least one concurrent course in Italian while at Bocconi. Students are required to take one 400-level course in Italian upon their return.

Honors Program

The Italian Honors Program is designed for outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond the level of standard course work. Students will engage in independent research and work closely with a faculty advisor on an Honors Thesis during their senior year.

Eligibility and Admission

To qualify for the Honors Program in Italian, a student should have:
1. 18.5 or more units completed overall
2. At least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average for all courses, and a 3.50 cumulative grade point average for Italian courses.

A student who does not meet these qualifications may be admitted to the program with the special recommendation of the faculty of the Italian section of the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures and the approval of the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program. To enter the Honors Program, students must submit to the Honors coordinator of the Italian program a letter of intent, with support from one faculty member, by March 15 of their junior year. Each student will be assigned an Honors research advisor with whom he or she will design a program of study that indicates how the student's Honors Program will be accomplished.

Program Requirements

To receive credit for the Honors Program, the student must:
• Fulfill the normal requirements for the B.A. in Italian.
• Take two 400-level Italian courses on campus for Honors credit. These courses will require extra work (supplementary readings and/or assignments, independent research on a topic related to the course, for instance). The extra work will be decided by the course instructor and vetted by the Italian Honors coordinator to ensure consistency.

• Take ITAL 491 (Honor Thesis I, 0.5 unit, fall of senior year) and ITAL 492 (Honor Thesis 2, 1 unit, spring of senior year) in order to complete a 25-30 page Honors Thesis written in Italian. This thesis will be based on extensive research and make an original contribution to Italian and Francophone studies. The student and his or her advisor should develop a schedule to meetings and assessment that they find appropriate and meet at least once a month. Honors students must present their thesis at the Italian Studies symposium at the end of their senior year. They are also strongly encouraged to apply for a Summer Research Fellowship during their junior year. The thesis will be graded by at least two readers, including the student's thesis advisor.

Students may withdraw at any time. If they do not complete required additional work or maintain an overall 3.3 grade point average and a 3.5 grade point average for Italian coursework, students will not receive credit for the Honors Program, and the department will submit a request for withdrawal to the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

Introduction to literary analysis within the cultural context of Spain. Critical tools for approaching specific literary genres: short story, novel, poetry, and drama. Readings are selected for their literary, cultural, and historical significance.
Prerequisites
Two of Latin American and Iberian Studies 301, 302, 303, 304, 305 or 306.

LAIS 331 Introduction to Spanish-American Literature, I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduction to Spanish-American literature and critical literary analysis. Focus on primary texts dating from the 15th through 19th centuries (331); 20th century (332).
Prerequisites
Two of Latin American and Iberian Studies 301, 302, 303, 304, 305 or 306.

LAIS 332 Introduction to Spanish-American Literature, II
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduction to Spanish-American literature and critical literary analysis. Focus on primary texts dating from the 15th through 19th centuries (331); 20th century (332).
Prerequisites
Two of Latin American and Iberian Studies 301, 302, 303, 304, 305 or 306.

LAIS 333 Portuguese for Spanish Speakers
Units: 1
Description
Accelerated introduction to Brazilian Portuguese language and culture for students already proficient in Spanish. Focus on developing listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills through the study of grammar and selected readings.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332

LAIS 343 Mapping Luso-Brazilian Cultures
Units: 1
Description
Advanced Portuguese grammar; continued expansion of oral, reading and writing skills; introduction to social and historical development of Lusophone cultures.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 231 or 333

LAIS 353 Introduction to Luso-Brazilian Literatures
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduction to literary movements and tendencies, along with representative authors, within the context of the Portuguese-speaking world. Critical tools for approaching specific literary genres: narrative fiction, poetry, and drama.
Readings are selected for their literary, cultural, and historical significance. Taught in Portuguese.

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 343

LAIS 357 Seville in History and Fantasy
Units: 1
Description
An introduction to Seville as one of the most important cities in the history and culture of Spain, from its ascendancy during the Roman Empire to its decline in the 18th century. The course focuses on Seville as [1] an ideal entry point to learn about both the Mediterranean and the Atlantic history of Europe up until the eighteenth century, and [2] one of the major fantasy sites of European and North-American Romantic orientalism in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Most readings for this course will be in Spanish.

Prerequisites
LAIS 301, LAIS 302, LAIS 303, LAIS 304, LAIS 305, LAIS 306, LAIS 307, LAIS 309

LAIS 361 Spanish Misfits
Units: 1
Description
Study of the character of "the outsider" in the short fiction of 19th and early 20th century Spain, with special emphasis on the cultural and political history of the Iberian Peninsula.

Prerequisites
LAIS 309

LAIS 388 Individual Internship
Units: .25-1
Description
Not to be counted as credit toward the major or minor. No more than 1.5 units of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units.

Prerequisites
Admission by audition/permission of department.

LAIS 397 Practice Assistantship
Units: .25
Description
Students lead practice sessions associated with the elementary and intermediate language sequences in Spanish. The practice assistantship does not count as course credit toward the major or minor.

Prerequisites
Permission of department.

LAIS 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.

Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

LAIS 421 Arabs, Jews and Christians from Frontier to Empire: Medieval Spanish Literature
Units: 1
Description
Analysis of the interaction between Christians, Jews, and Muslims in the Spanish Peninsula from the establishment of Al-Andalus to the consolidation of the Spanish Empire. An analysis of this cultural period in light of the attention given (or not given) to it in contemporary historiography, either as an exemplary moment of religious tolerance or "convivencia," or as early proof of what is now called "the clash of civilizations" or "clash of cultures."

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 431 Imperial Spain: The Age of Conflict
Units: 1
Description
Study of literary responses to the new constitution of Spain as Empire and new definitions of Spanish identity.

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 432 True Lies: Fiction and Truth in Don Quijote
Units: 1
Description
Study of Cervantes' successful formula for the novel. Analyzes conflict between fiction and truth as the basis for a new realist novel proposed by Cervantes.

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 451 Literature of Exile
Units: 1
Description
Study of Spanish exile literature and multiple constructions of the exilic imagination in relation to Spanish cultural and political history.

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 452 Spanish-American Poetic Texts
Units: 1
Description
Study of the communicative power of poetic language with special emphasis given to identification of basic tools for interpreting poetic texts in relation to individual and general contexts.

Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 453 Romantic Spain
Units: 1
Description
An examination of Spanish romanticism, a cultural movement that was as artistically rich as it was intellectually contentious. Our perspective will be enhanced by the work of writers, painters, and composers from beyond Iberian borders (i.e., England, the United States, France, and Italy), whose fascination with the exotic lands of southern Europe inspired them to create their own portrayals of romantic Spain.

Prerequisites
LAIS 321, LAIS 331, or LAIS 332

LAIS 454 Modern Literature of Galicia
Units: 1
Description
An interdisciplinary approach to the study of modern Galician literature and culture (Galician traditions, visual art, film) and their relevance within a global context.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 455 Barcelona: Text and City
Units: 1
Description
The cultural, intellectual, and urban history of the city of Barcelona from the mid 19th century to the present, with special attention to how the city is portrayed in literature and other works of art.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 462 Visions of Contemporary Spain
Units: 1
Description
Study of the cultures of contemporary Spain since the transition to democracy with special attention given to literature, film, theatre, art, popular culture, and mass media.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 463 Modern Spanish Narrative
Units: 1
Description
Study of representative narrative texts from the 19th to the 21st century. Emphasis on the technical and thematic innovations of the novel and short story as well as the social and historical contexts that have shaped literary production.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 464 Modern Theatre in Spain
Units: 1
Description
Study of written dramatic texts and performance traditions from Spain. Selections may include works from the 18th century to the present.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 465 Spanish Cinema
Units: 1
Description
Study of significant Spanish films with special attention to their relationship to politics, culture, society, and history.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 471 Introduction to Latin American Film
Units: 1
Description
Study of prominent examples of Latin American film production with special attention paid to aesthetic aspects of cinematographic language and cultural questions embodied in the films examined. (Same as Film Studies 471)
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 472 Contemporary Spanish-American Theater
Units: 1
Description
Study of leading contemporary theatrical movements in Spanish America with focus on universal aspects of language of the theater and uniqueness of Spanish-American themes and trends.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 473 Political Action and Latin American Indigenous Film
Units: 1
Description
Examines the main cinematic movements in Latin America, in which political action and the vindication of indigenous peoples and their land coalesce with a concern for a new film aesthetic. (Same as Film Studies 473)
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 474 Sex, Drugs and Rock 'n' Roll: Contemporary Writing in Latin America
Units: 1
Description
An interdisciplinary approach to the study of the literary movements currently taking place in Latin America. Special attention devoted to the literature published during the last decade of the 20th century as a defining period in which new trends become consolidated. Covers the entire region, focusing on works published in the Southern Cone, Colombia, Central America, Mexico, and Cuba.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 475 Women and Writing in Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Question of representation and self-representation of women in selected Spanish-American texts. Attention given to recently developed theories relevant to women's writing and concerns.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 476 Literary Journalism in Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Explores the intersections between journalism and literature through the reading and analysis of crónicas, a very popular genre in Latin America since the end of the nineteenth century. Discussion, readings, and assignments will focus on: 1) the chronicle as a flexible genre and an opportunity for writers to become cultural, literary, social and political critics; 2) the chronicle as a privileged site for the analysis of the social, political, and historical context and its connection with fields of cultural production.

Prerequisites
LAIS 321, LAIS 331, or LAIS 332

LAIS 477 Literature of the Spanish-Speaking Caribbean
Units: 1
Description
Study of texts representative of multiple ethnic and cultural influences (indigenous, European, and African) at play in the Caribbean basin.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 484 The Latin American Essay
Units: 1
Description
Examines the cultural history of Latin America and the construction of its intellectual traditions through the study of the essay. Special attention given to the definition of the genre within Spanish-American literature and its role in public debates from colonial to contemporary Latin America.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 485 Spanish-American Narrative
Units: 1
Description
Study of representative Spanish-American novels and/or short stories from the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries. Attention given to technical aspects of literary narrative as well as cultural contexts.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 486 U.S. Latino/a Literature
Units: 1
Description
Comprehensive study of Hispanic-Americans’ struggle for identity in light of their historical, ethnic, economic, and cultural positions in the United States.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 487 Latin America: Encounter and Conflict
Units: 1
Description
Thematic study of representative Spanish-American texts, focusing on the search for identity and confrontation occurring between different societies, systems of thought, and cultures.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

LAIS 495 Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
Special research projects pursued individually under faculty supervision. Project proposal must be fully developed in conjunction with a faculty member prior to presentation for department approval.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

LAIS 496 Senior Symposium
Units: .5
Description
Presentation at the Latin American and Iberian Studies Spring Symposium of research project carried out within the context of an LAIS seminar. Offered in spring semester only.
Prerequisites
Senior standing.

LAIS 497 Selected Topics
Units: 1
Description
Special interest topics offered at discretion of the department.
Prerequisites
Latin American and Iberian Studies 321, 331, or 332.

Law and the Liberal Arts

Nancy Schauber, Coordinator (Philosophy)

Law and the liberal arts is an interdisciplinary minor that consists of courses from across the curriculum. The courses that count toward the minor are those that are generally recommended by law schools for students thinking about going to law school. The purpose of the courses within the minor is to prepare one to think critically and analytically as a well-rounded liberal artist. The courses are divided into eight areas: law, American history, economics, ethics, legal system, logical reasoning, public speaking and debate, and writing.

The Law and the Liberal Arts Minor

Note: Students must receive a C (2.0) or above for these courses to count toward the minor. No course taken for less than .5 units will count towards the minor.

6 units, including

One unit in Area 1
Five units from at least five of the remaining areas

No more than three of the courses to be applied toward the minor may be from any one department. At least two courses must be at the 300-level or higher to count toward the minor. No more than two courses at the 100-level may count toward the minor.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

Area 1: Law

• CJ 320 Fundamentals of Criminal Law
• ECON 231 Law and Economics
• PHIL 260 Philosophical Problems in Law and Society
• PHIL 364 Philosophy of Law
• PLSC 331 Constitutional Law
• PLSC 333 Civil Rights and Civil Liberties
• PLSC 352 International Law
• PLSC 379 Selected Topics (appropriate when the subject relates primarily to law and the course is approved by the law and the liberal arts advisory council
• RHCS 353 Rhetoric and Law
• WGS 302 Women and the Law

Area 2: American History
• HIST 199 The Tokyo Trials
• HIST 199 Church and State in Early America
• HIST 199 Liberty vs Security: Free Speech from Jefferson to Lincoln
• HIST 200 Colonial America
• HIST 217 State and Society in the United States, 1890-1945
• HIST 218 State and Society in the United States since 1945
• HIST 299 ST: Transnational Abolitionism
• HIST 391 Transnational Social Reform
• HIST 400 Senior Seminar: The Alien and Sedition Acts
• PLSC 336 American Constitutional History

Area 3: Economics
• ECON 101 Principles of Microeconomics
• ECON 102 Principles of Macroeconomics
• ECON 105 Introduction to Global Economics

Area 4: Ethics
• ECON 233 Ethics and Economics
• LDST 205 Justice and Civil Society
• LDST 377 Ethical Decision Making - Health Care
• PHIL 265 Bioethics
• PHIL 360 Ethics
• PHIL 365 Action, Responsibility, and Free Will
• PHIL 375 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
• RELG 267 Varieties of Christian Ethics
• BUAD 392 Ethical, Social and Legal Responsibilities

Area 5: Legal System
• ANTH 335 Law and Order: the Anthropology of Justice
• CJ 321 Fundamentals of Criminal Procedure
• CLSC 320 Cultural Property: Archaeology, Ethics, and Law
• PLSC 337 Legal System
• SOC 207 Crime and Justice in a Post-Modern Society
• SOC 324 Law and Society

Area 6: Logical Reasoning
• CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing
• CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
• MATH 300 Fundamentals of Abstract Mathematics
• PHIL 251 Elementary Symbolic Logic

Area 7: Public Speaking and Debate
• RHCS 201 Argumentation and Debate
• RHCS 325 Medieval to Modern Rhetorics
• RHCS 332 Practicum/Debate (.25-1 unit)
• RHCS 343 Rhetoric and Politics
• PLSC 290 Mock Trial (.5 units)
• Area 8: Writing

• ENGL 383 Introduction to Composition Theory and Pedagogy

Linguistics

Thomas Bonfiglio, Coordinator (Modern Literatures and Cultures)

Linguistics at Richmond is an interdisciplinary minor that studies the system of language as a medium of cognition and perception and as a social institution; it enables students to view human culture through the lens of human language. It focuses on such issues as phonetics; word formation; historical linguistics; syntax; semantics; cultural assumptions coded in texts; variation based on region, gender, class, race/ethnicity; how language determines cultural and social categories; and the relationship between language and thought. The linguistics minor combines the study of phenomena from such disciplines as anthropology, modern and ancient literatures and cultures, psychology, and rhetoric and communication.

The Linguistics Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00.

8 units, including

MLC 350: Introductory Linguistics
One full-year sequence chosen from the following non-Indo-European languages:

• ARAB 101-ARAB 102 Elementary Arabic
• CHIN 101-CHIN 102 Elementary Chinese
• JAPN 101-JAPN 102 Elementary Japanese
• SWAH 110-SWAH 111 Mentored Self-Directed Swahili
• SDLC 110-SDLC 111: Self-Directed Language Learning I and II: Hebrew, Turkish, or another self-directed language chosen in consultation with the advisor

One advanced (300 or 400 level) course in a language other than English
Four units of elective chosen from the following (no more than two of the 100-level and no more than two in the same department):

• ANTH 101 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
• ANTH 211 Ethnographic Field Methods
• ANTH 290 Theoretical Foundations of Cultural Anthropology
• ANTH 300 Sexuality and Gender across Cultures
• CLSC 201 Classical Elements in the English Language
• ENGL 381 Modern Grammar
• FREN 481 Traduction
• MLC 198 Teaching English as a Second Language through Literature and Film
• MLC 352 Language, Race, and Ethnicity
• MLC 362 History of the Romance Languages
• MLC 410 Teaching of a Modern Second Language
• PSYC 333 Cognitive Science
• PSYC 341 Cognitive Neuroscience
• RHCS 103 Rhetorical Theory

Area 8: Writing
Luso-Brazilian Studies

Dixon Abreu, Coordinator (Latin American and Iberian Studies)

Portuguese is the official language of eight countries situated on four continents (including territories in India, China, and Japan), spanning several cultural thresholds that are essential to any interdisciplinary curriculum in international studies. Portuguese, furthermore, is the first language of one of the largest immigrant populations in the United States. From the politics of the European and African Unions, to the economic blossoming of Asia and Brazil, the study of Portuguese language and cultures can be highly advantageous for students preparing to work in a broad range of professional contexts in the twenty-first century.

The Luso-Brazilian Studies Minor

Note: Students must receive a C (2.0) or above for these courses to count toward the minor. No course taken for less than .5 units will count toward the minor.

5 - 5.75 units, including

LAIS 343 Mapping Luso-Brazilian Cultures
LAIS 353 Introduction to Luso-Brazilian Literatures
Three electives chosen from the list below taken with CLAC in Portuguese (CLAC not required for courses completed abroad).

Note: In order to receive credit toward the minor for each of the 3 interdisciplinary classes and ensure sufficient coverage of Lusophone topics, students will need to make their selections in consultation with the coordinator, Professor Dixon Abreu.

Mathematical Economics

William Ross, Mathematics Program Coordinator
Robert Schmidt, Economics Program Coordinator

The mathematical economics (MATH-ECON) major includes courses taught by faculty in both the mathematics and economics departments. Faculty members, graduate students, and recent Ph.D.s ranked analytical skills and mathematics as the most important skills necessary for success in the graduate study of economics. The MATH-ECON major is designed to develop those skills. Additionally, the combined major provides a stronger, more coordinated curriculum for students who would otherwise major in economics or business and minor in mathematics. The MATH-ECON major is available as a Bachelor of Science degree.

The Mathematical Economics Major

Note: A grade point average of C (2.00) is required in the major, with no course grade below a C- (1.70) in courses counting toward the major.

16 units, including

Required Core

- CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing or CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
- ECON 101 Principles of Microeconomics
- ECON 102 Principles of Macroeconomics
- ECON 270 Introductory Econometrics
- ECON 271 Microeconomic Theory
- ECON 272 Macroeconomic Theory
- ECON 341 Mathematical Economics
- MATH 211 Calculus I
- MATH 212 Calculus II
- MATH 235 Multivariable Calculus
- MATH 245 Linear Algebra
- MATH 329 Probability

Two units chosen from:

- MATH 300 Fundamentals of Abstract Mathematics
- MATH 309 Financial Mathematics: Theory of Investments
• MATH 312 Differential Equations
• MATH 320 Real Analysis
• MATH 323 Discrete Mathematical Models
• MATH 328/CMSC 328 Numerical Analysis
• MATH 330 Mathematical Statistics
• MATH 336 Operations Research
• MATH 396 Special Topics (approved for MTEC major)

Two units chosen from:
• ECON 300 Industrial Organization and Public Policy
• ECON 310 International Trade and Finance
• ECON 330 Environmental and Resource Economic Theory
• ECON 331 Labor Economics
• ECON 332 Public Economics
• ECON 360 Selected Economic Topics
• ECON 370 Advanced Econometrics
• ECON 372 Advanced Macroeconomics
• ECON 480 Senior Capstone Seminar in Economics

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Honors Program

In order to be eligible, students must have met the following qualifications:
• Completion of at least 18 units of coursework, not including courses in which the student is currently enrolled
• Overall GPA of 3.3 or higher
• Completion of at least four units within the major, excluding courses primarily for first-year students (MATH 211, MATH 212, MATH 232; ECON 101, ECON 102), with a cumulative GPA in all such courses of at least 3.3

The student will select a willing faculty member to serve as lead advisor for the project. Together they find a second faculty member to serve as consultant. One faculty member should be from economics and one from mathematics.

The student and lead advisor will plan the student's honors program. The student and advisor will plan four units of coursework in support of the honors topic. Two of these units will be MATH 340 Directed Independent Study or ECON 490-ECON 491 Honors Seminar/Research, depending on the department of the lead advisor. These courses are used to prepare the honors thesis. The remaining two units will be selected from the regular curriculum with an additional honors component; one unit will be from upper-level economics and one unit from upper-level mathematics. These courses will be chosen with an eye towards maximizing the student's ability to produce a quality honors thesis.

A completed honors thesis will be read and approved by a committee of at least three readers, including the lead and consulting advisors, and will be presented to the faculty in both departments.

Math

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science
William Ross, Chair
Professors Charlesworth, Davis, Fenster, J. Hubbard, Nall, Ross
Associate Professors Barnett, Cain, Caudill, K. Hoke, Kerckhove, Lawson, Owen, Shaw, Szajda
Assistant Professor Wares
Director of Developmental Mathematics H. Hoke

The Math Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no mathematics course grade below C- (1.7). Students are strongly advised to consult with faculty in planning their major curriculum.

For either the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree:

MATH 211 Calculus I
MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II
MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus
MATH 245 Linear Algebra
MATH 300 Fundamentals of Abstract Mathematics
MATH 306 Abstract Algebra I
MATH 320 Real Analysis I
CMSC 150 or CMSC 155 Introduction to Computing
Four electives in math at the 300-level

And for the Bachelor of Science degree:

Four other units in computer science with at least two at the 300 level, or two units beyond the introductory level in one of the following fields: physics (200 level or above), chemistry (200 level or above), or biology (numbered higher than 205).

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Note: Students are strongly advised to complete either MATH 306 or MATH 320 prior to the senior year.

The Math Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no mathematics course grade below C- (1.7). Students are strongly advised to consult with faculty in planning their minor curriculum.

6 units, including

MATH 211 Calculus I
MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II
MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus
MATH 245 Linear Algebra
Two units at the 300 level

Actuarial Sciences

Students interested in becoming an actuary should consider either majoring in mathematics or mathematical economics. Either of these options will provide the necessary education... that can lead to successful entry into the field. A strong background in mathematics is essential for students interested in a career as an actuary. This should include

Three semesters of calculus (MATH 211, MATH 212, and MATH 235),
One semester of linear algebra (MATH 245), and
Two semesters of calculus-based probability and statistics (MATH 329 and MATH 330).

In addition, courses in applied statistics, computer science, economics, and finance are also extremely valuable.

The best way to ensure that you are attractive from an employment perspective is to pass the beginning actuarial examinations while you are still a student. Actuaries achieve professional status by passing a set of examinations and by satisfying certain educational experiences that are prescribed by the CAS and the SOA. The concepts contained in these assessments can be based on college courses (a B- or better is required), or an exam can be taken. For more information about preparing to be an actuary, contact Dr. Kathy Hoke in the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

Related Fields
Mathematical Economics

Pre-calculus

The Math and Computer Science Department at University of Richmond does not offer Pre-calculus. Students needing this course as a pre-requisite to other courses will need to complete it in high school or make their own arrangements to complete it later. The course is not eligible for transfer and will not count toward a B.A., B.S., or B.S.B.A. degree at the University of Richmond.

Honors Program in Mathematics

Promising, qualified math majors are invited by the faculty to apply to the honors program in mathematics. Successful completion of the program is designated on the student's academic record and diploma.

To qualify, students must have:
- completed 19 or more units of University work;
- earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0;
- completed 3.5 or more units in mathematics courses at the level of MATH 235 or higher;
- submitted a recommendation letter from a member of the mathematics faculty;
- submitted an application to the program, working in conjunction with a faculty member to describe a topic and develop a plan for completing the thesis.

To earn honors in mathematics, students must have successfully completed:
- the presentation of an honors paper to the mathematics faculty as a culmination of the independent study (the paper must be accepted by the departmental committee.)

Courses

MATH 102 Problem Solving Using Finite Mathematics
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Topics to demonstrate power of mathematical reasoning. Course has two components: (1) introduction to the fundamentals of mathematical proof, and (2) the application of these fundamentals to at least one particular area of mathematics. The area is dependent on the instructor.

MATH 119 Statistics for Social and Life Sciences
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to statistical methods with some applications in the social and life sciences. Topics include descriptive statistics, graphical methods, introductory probability, estimation, hypothesis testing, regression, correlation, and the analysis of categorical data. The proper use of statistical computing software like SPSS will be emphasized.

MATH 190 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 2 with Laboratory
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
One of two courses taught fall semester as part of Integrated Quantitative Science program. Each semester of the course will be organized around a guiding principle that integrates several concepts. Along with co-requisite, will include ten hours for lecture and lab combination.
Prerequisites

MATH 195 Special Topics
Units: .25-1
Description
Special topics satisfying neither major nor minor requirements.

MATH 211 Calculus I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Limits, continuity, derivatives, and integrals. Derivatives of trigonometric, exponential, logarithmic, and inverse trigonometric functions; the derivative as a rate-of-change; linear approximations; Fundamental Theorem of Calculus; applications to the sciences, social sciences, and economics.
Prerequisites
High school precalculus.

MATH 212 Calculus II
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Techniques of integration; applications of integration; improper integrals; Taylor's Theorem and applications; infinite series; differential equations; applications to the sciences, social sciences, and economics.

Prerequisites
MATH 190 or MATH 211.

MATH 219 Introduction to the Design of Experiments
Units: 1
Description
The basic theory and principles related to the design of modern scientific experiments. Topics include: analysis of variance (ANOVA) for experiments with a single factor, multiple comparisons of treatment means, factorial experiments, blocking, randomized block designs, Latin square designs, random effects models, analysis of covariance, nested models, and other topics.

Prerequisites
Either Mathematics 119, Psychology 200, Chemistry 300, Business Administration 301, or Mathematics 330.

MATH 232 Scientific Calculus II
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
Same topics as MATH 212, but with examples and applications drawn from the physical sciences, biology, and medicine.

Prerequisites
MATH 190 or MATH 211.

MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSR)
Description
N-dimensional Euclidean space, functions of several variables, partial derivatives, multiple integrals, line and surface integrals, classical integral theorems, applications.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 212 or 232.

MATH 245 Linear Algebra
Units: 1
Description
Vector spaces, matrices, systems of linear equations, linear transformations, applications.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 212 or 232 or Computer Science 222.

MATH 300 Fundamentals of Abstract Mathematics
Units: 1
Description
Logic, quantifiers, negations of statements with quantifiers, set theory, induction, counting principles, relations and functions, cardinality. Includes introductory topics from real analysis and abstract algebra. Emphasis on methods of proof and proper mathematical expression.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 212 or 232.

MATH 304 Mathematical Models in Biology and Medicine
Units: 1
Description
Mathematical models in modern biological and medical applications. Primary focus on practical understanding of the modeling process, and development of requisite modeling skills. Topics include discrete and continuous dynamical systems, including parameter estimation.

Prerequisites
Math 235, 245 or 300.

MATH 306 Abstract Algebra I
Units: 1
Description
An introduction to the theory of groups. Topics include subgroups, cyclic groups, permutation groups, homomorphisms, isomorphisms, cosets, Lagrange's Theorem, normal subgroups, and the Fundamental Theorem of Finite Abelian Groups.

Prerequisites
MATH 245 and MATH 300.

MATH 307 Abstract Algebra II
Units: 1
Description
An introduction to the theory of rings and fields. Topics include rings, integral domains, ideals, factor rings, polynomial rings, ring homomorphisms, fields, and extension fields.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 306 is prerequisite to 307.

MATH 309 Financial Mathematics: The Theory of Interest and Investment
Units: 1
Description
Develops a practical understanding of financial mathematics and interest theory in both discrete and continuous time. This theory includes the fundamentals of how annuity functions are applied to the concepts of present and accumulated value for various cash flow streams and how this is used for future planning in valuation, pricing, duration, immunization, and investment. Topics include: rates of interest and discount, the force of interest, level and varying annuities, evaluation of financial instruments (e.g. bonds, stocks, leveraged strategies), measures of interest rate sensitivity, and the term structure of interest rates.

Prerequisites
Math 235, 245 or 300.

MATH 310 Advanced Multivariable Calculus
Units: 1
Description
Differentiation of vector-valued functions, Jacobians, integration theorems in several variables. Fourier series, partial differential equations.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 235.

MATH 312 Differential Equations
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to ordinary differential equations and their use as models of physical systems. Linear and nonlinear equations and systems of equations, including existence and uniqueness theorems, analytical solution techniques, numerical methods, and qualitative analysis. Includes studies of global behavior.
and local stability analysis of solutions of nonlinear autonomous systems; bifurcation analysis. Application and modeling of real phenomena included throughout.

Prerequisites
MATH 212 or MATH 232 and MATH 245.

MATH 315 Modern Geometry
Units: 1
Description

Prerequisites
Mathematics 235 or 245.

MATH 320 Real Analysis I
Units: 1
Description
Topological properties of the real line and Euclidean space. Convergence, continuity, differentiation, integration properties of real-valued functions of real variables.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 235 and 300. Mathematics 320 is prerequisite to 321.

MATH 321 Real Analysis II
Units: 1
Description
Borel sets, measure theory, measurable functions, Lebesgue integration, sequence and series of measurable functions, Lebesgue dominated convergence theorem.

Prerequisites
MATH 320.

MATH 323 Discrete Mathematical Models
Units: 1
Description
Applications of discrete mathematics from two viewpoints: how mathematical models are used to solve problems from other fields and how problems from other fields stimulate the development of new mathematics. Probabilistic models are emphasized. Examples of problems include analysis of board games, elections, and DNA.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 245.

MATH 328 Numerical Analysis
Units: 1
Description
Analysis and implementation of algorithms used in applied mathematics, including root finding, interpolation, approximation of functions, integration, solutions to systems of linear equations. Computer error. (Same as Computer Science 328.)

Prerequisites
MATH 245 and either CMSC 150 or CMSC 155 or MATH 190.

MATH 329 Probability
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the theory, methods, and applications of randomness and random processes. Probability concepts, independence, random variables, expectation, discrete and continuous probability distributions, moment-generating functions, simulation, joint and conditional probability distributions, sampling theory, laws of large numbers, limit theorems.

Prerequisites
MATH 235 and MATH 245, which can be taken concurrently.

MATH 330 Mathematical Statistics
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to basic principles and procedures for statistical estimation and model fitting. Parameter estimation, likelihood methods, unbiasedness, sufficiency, confidence regions, Bayesian inference, significance testing, likelihood ratio tests, linear models, methods for categorical data, resampling methods.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 329.

MATH 331 Complex Analysis
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the calculus of functions of a single complex variable, including series, calculus of residues, and conformal mapping.

Prerequisites
MATH 235 OR PHYS 301.

MATH 336 Operations Research
Units: 1
Description
Linear and Integer Programming: algorithms, complexity, sensitivity, and duality. Applications such as assignments, networks, scheduling.

Prerequisites
MATH 245 and either MATH 300 or CMSC 222, which can be taken concurrently.

MATH 340 Directed Independent Study
Units: .25-1
Description
For well-qualified students who wish to work independently in areas not included in curriculum. Proposal must be approved by departmental committee.

Prerequisites
Permission of department chair and instructor.

MATH 350 Coding Theory and Cryptography: The Mathematics of Communication
Units: 1
Description
Error-correcting codes are used to ensure reliable electronic communication in everything from Blue Ray players to deep-space transmission. Cryptographic systems are developed to keep communication secret in everything from e-commerce to military communication. This course develops the mathematics underlying the transmission of messages. In coding theory, we will develop theoretical constraints on codes, construction methods for good codes, and algorithms for encoding and decoding efficiently. In cryptography, we will explore historically important systems as well as modern public-key cryptosystems.

Prerequisites
Mathematics 245 and either Mathematics 300 or Computer Science 222 or permission of instructor.

MATH 395 Special Topics
Units: 0-1
Description
Selected topics in mathematics.
Prerequisites
Varies with topic.

MATH 396 Selected Topics in Mathematics
Units: 1
Description
Selected topics in mathematics for mathematical economics.

MATH 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

Military Science and Leadership

Mark A. Thomson, Lieutenant Colonel, U. S. Army, Chair
Assistant Professors J. Carter, W. Carter, Freeman, Marshall

The objective of the military science and leadership program is to provide the leadership and management foundation required for military service as a commissioned officer or in a civilian counterpart position. In support of this objective the program includes classroom instruction and activities geared to the development of leadership skills.

Military science and leadership classes may be taken by all University students. Class enrollment in the military leadership classes carries no U.S. Army commitment and there is no obligation to enroll for successive course offerings. College and/or commissioning credit may be awarded for prior military service, attendance at the ROTC Leader's Training Course, or Junior ROTC participation. International students desiring to attend military science and leadership classes must have written approval from their respective embassies prior to taking classes.

Courses

MSCL 101 Foundations of Officership
Units: .5
Description
Introduces students to fundamental components of service as an officer in the United States Army. These initial lessons form building blocks of progressive lessons in values, fitness, leadership, and officerhip. Additionally, the program of instruction addresses "life skills" including fitness, communications theory and practice (written and oral), and interpersonal relationships.
Prerequisites
First- or second-year class standing or permission of department chair.

MSCL 102 Introduction to Leadership
Units: .5
Description
Introduction to "life skills" of problem solving, decision making, and leadership designed to help students in the near term as leaders on campus. Also will help students be more effective leaders and managers in the long term, whether they serve in the military or as leaders in civilian life. This course is designed to introduce the student to fundamental officer skills such as map reading, land navigation, tactics, and leadership values/actions. Using these basic skills, students will build a rudimentary understanding of the core competencies necessary to become an Army officer and leader.
Prerequisites
First- or second-year class standing or permission of department chair.

MSCL 201 Innovative Team Leadership
Units: .5
Description
Explores the dimensions of creative and innovative tactical leadership strategies and styles by examining team dynamics and two historical leadership theories that form the basis of the Army leadership framework. Aspects of personal motivation and team building are practiced planning, executing, and assessing team exercises, and participating in leadership labs. The focus continues to build on developing knowledge of the leadership values and attributes through understanding Army rank, structure, and duties as well as broadening knowledge of land navigation and squad tactics. Case studies will provide a tangible context for learning the Soldier's Creed and Warrior Ethos as they apply in the contemporary operating environment.
Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 101 and 102 or permission of department chair.

MSCL 202 Foundations of Tactical Leadership
Units: .5
Description
Examines the challenges of leading tactical teams in the complex contemporary operating environment (COE). Highlights dimensions of terrain analysis, patrolling and operations orders. Continued study of the theoretical basis of the Army leadership framework explores the dynamics of adaptive leadership in the context of military operations. Provides a smooth transition to MSCL 301. Cadets develop greater self awareness as they assess their own leadership styles and practice communication and team-building skills. COE case studies give insight into the importance and practice of teamwork and tactics in real-world scenarios.
Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 201 or permission of department chair.

MSCL 204 Leader's Training Course
An intensive 28-day training experience for college students unable to meet the basic course requirements (MSCL 100- and 200-level courses) on campus. Leader's Training Course is the Army's two-year ROTC Program entry point. Through the Leader's Training Course, students without ROTC experience can qualify for Advanced Course (MSCL 300- and 400-level course) entry. The Army observes these students and determines their officer potential in a leadership-oriented, challenging, and motivating 28-day training program. The camp philosophy is based on an action-oriented training plan. Emphasis is hands on, outdoor training with rapid, constructive feedback to the cadet. Above all else, Leader's Training Course is a leadership experience. The training program is designed to inspire students to become outstanding leaders with a sound understanding of traditional leadership values. At the Leader's Training Course, students are trained to lead and develop their officer leadership potential.

Prerequisites
Enrollment in the ROTC program.

MSCL 205 Foundations of American Military History
Units: 5
Description
Major military engagements from the colonial period through the current operating environment and analysis of conflicts using the Principles of War and After Action Review lessons learned. Describes the military's role in society; examines the evolution of war and the progression of military professionalism; analyzes the major wars fought by the US Army, using the principles of war; discusses the role of the US military in joint operations; discusses the role of the US Army in humanitarian operations and nation-building at home and abroad and analyzes lessons learned from military history to the Contemporary Operating Environment (COE). COE case studies give insight into the importance and practice of teamwork and tactics in real-world scenarios.

MSCL 301 Adaptive Team Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Cadets study, practice, and evaluate adaptive team leadership skills as they prepare for the demands of the mandatory 32-day ROTC Leader Development and Assessment Course (LDAC) at Fort Lewis, Wash. Challenging scenarios related to small-unit tactical operations are used to develop self awareness and critical thinking skills. The cadet will receive systematic and specific feedback on leadership abilities.

Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 202, 204, or permission of department chair.

MSCL 302 Leadership in Changing Environments
Units: 1
Description
Instruction and case studies that build upon leadership competencies and military skills attained in Military Science and Leadership 301 prepare students for future responsibilities as Army officers. Specific instruction is given in individual leader development, planning and execution of small-unit operations, individual and team development, and the Army as a career choice. Prepares cadets for the mandatory 32-day Leader Development and Assessment Course at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 301 or permission of department chair.

MSCL 390 Independent Study
Units: 1
Description
Instruction, case studies, and book analysis that build upon leadership competencies and military skills attained in earlier Military Science and Leadership courses. Online instruction and assignments mirror the syllabus for a student's normal pre-commissioning course progression. This course is available for sophomores, fall semester juniors, and senior cadets. This course is taught by the professor of military science.

Prerequisites
Two semesters of military science and permission of department chair.

MSCL 401 Developing Adaptive Leaders
Units: 2
Description
Develops student proficiency in planning, executing, and assessing complex operations, functioning as a member of a staff, and providing performance feedback to subordinates. Cadets are given situational and leadership opportunities to assess risk, make ethical decisions, and lead fellow ROTC cadets. Lessons on military justice and personnel processes prepare them to make the transition to becoming Army officers. Students will lead cadets at lower levels. Both classroom and battalion leadership experiences are designed to prepare them for their first military unit of assignment. Identify responsibilities of key staff members, coordinate staff roles amongst six separate universities and colleges that make up the ROTC battalion, and use battalion field/garrison situations to teach, train, and develop subordinates.

Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 302 or permission of department chair.

MSCL 402 Leadership in a Complex World
Units: 1
Description
Continues to develop student proficiency in planning, executing, and assessing complex operations, functioning as a member of a staff, and providing performance feedback to subordinates. Explores the dynamics of leading in the complex situations of current military operations in the contemporary operating environment (COE). Students examine differences in customs and courtesies, military law, principles of war, and rules of engagement in the face of international terrorism. Also explores aspects of interacting with non government organizations, civilians on the battlefield, and host-nation support. Students are given situational and leadership opportunities to assess risk, make ethical decisions, and lead fellow ROTC cadets. Designed to prepare for first military unit of assignment. Students will identify responsibilities of key staff members, coordinate staff roles amongst six separate universities and colleges that make up the ROTC battalion, and use battalion field/garrison situations to teach, train, and develop subordinates. The course uses case studies, scenarios, and "What Now,
Lieutenant? exercises to prepare students to face the complex ethical and practical demands of leading as a commissioned officer in the United States Army.

Prerequisites
Military Science and Leadership 401 or permission of department chair.

Modern Literatures and Cultures

Yvonne Howell, Chair
Professors Bonfiglio, Howell, Ravaux-Kirkpatrick
Associate Professors Bower, Delers, Hamarneh, Kapanga, Pappas, Radi, Troncale
Assistant Professor Chan
Director of the Arabic and German Language Programs Sulzer-Reichel
Director of the Intensive Language Program in French Baker
Director of the Intensive Language Program in Italian Martin
Director of the Japanese Language Program Suzuki
Director of the Global Studio Scinicariello
Director of ESL Services Grove

Modern Literatures and Cultures Majors

- Chinese Studies
- French
- Cross-School Major in French and International Business (To be carried out in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)
- German Studies
- Cross-School Major in German and International Business (To be carried out in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)
- Italian Studies
- Cross-School Major in Italian and International Business (To be carried out in conjunction with a major in the Robins School of Business with an international business concentration.)
- Russian Studies

(Note: Portuguese and Spanish courses are offered through the Department of Latin American and Iberian Studies.)

Modern Literatures and Cultures Minors

- Arabic Studies
- Chinese Studies
- French
- German Studies
- Italian Studies
- Japanese
- Russian Studies

For full course listings in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, and Russian, see the individual program pages.

Study Abroad

Study and travel abroad are strongly encouraged for all students. The department offers summer study programs in China, the Czech Republic, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Jordan, and Russia. In addition, there are exchange agreements for study during the academic year in Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Quebec, and Russia; others are being negotiated. For a complete list, contact the Office of International Education.

The Residency Requirement

For all MLC majors, at least 5 of the 9 courses required for the major must be taken on the University of Richmond campus. If the student participates in a study abroad program, at least one upper-level course in the major must be taken upon return from the program.

Modern Literatures and Cultures (MLC)

Departmental courses designated as MLC are taught in English and have no prerequisite, except as noted. Approved MLC courses may be counted as elective credit toward the relevant major in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, or Russian Studies if taken in conjunction with a Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum (CLAC) component (25 units).

Administration

Placement
A student who desires to continue study of a language begun elsewhere or spoken as a first language will be placed for continuation by the Department of Modern Literatures and Cultures. The determination of level may be by the score received on the AP, IB or SATII test in a given language; by placement test; or, in special cases, by interview. Students who meet the language communication skills requirement by placement may not take for credit 100- or 200-level courses in the same language.

Sequential Credit
Once the 100 or 200 level is begun, continuation, if any, must be to the next higher level within the sequence of courses. Students cannot receive credit toward the degree for 100- or 200-level coursework which is taken after credit has been earned in coursework more advanced in the sequence.

Medium of Instruction
All courses taught in the department are taught in the respective language with the exception of the courses listed in the modern literatures and cultures category.

Self-Directed Language Acquisition Program (SDLAP)

The Self-Directed Language Acquisition Program allows students to study languages not offered in the standard curriculum. Participants in the program develop competence in speaking, reading, and writing a less-commonly-taught language while honing their skills as autonomous learners and exploring the cultural context of language use. Modern Hebrew, Persian, Swahili, and Turkish are routinely offered; other languages are offered upon student request when necessary resources can be arranged.
All students begin the program in SDLC 110 or SWAH 110. SDLAP courses do not fulfill the COM 2 requirement. It is strongly advised that students complete COM 2 before entering the program.

Courses

MLC 135 English Communication in Cultural Context
Units: 1
Description
Focus on ESL students' English language ability by studying U.S. history and culture. Class discussions will emphasize intercultural communication, stereotypes, U.S. culture, and major historical events in U.S. history. Class activities will focus on vocabulary building, pronunciation, writing skills, listening, and reading comprehension. The course materials will include short stories, articles, newspaper articles, radio programs, and videos.

Prerequisites
Departmental approval. Open only to international exchange students who are speakers of English as a second language.

MLC 140 Academic Writing in English as a Second Language
Units: 1
Description
Study of the language of written academic English as practiced in the U.S. Focus on writing analytical papers, research skills, advanced English grammar, and academic style of writing. Study of advanced reading skills. Readings on U.S. culture. Open only to speakers of English as a second language, based on test scores at entrance.

MLC 198 Teaching English as a Second Language through Literature and Film
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to methods of teaching ESL. Emphasis on using literature and film as texts to enhance the ESL learning experience. Hands-on application of ESL theories. Includes experience with lesson planning, materials development, and instructional technology.

MLC 210 Women, Virtue, and Temptation in Literature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Representation of feminine virtue and vice in world literature.

Prerequisites
Departmental approval. For students in Moore International.

MLC 211 Reading to Live
Units: 1
Description
Explores the extent to which fiction can enhance (and often inform) our understanding of complex political, social, and economic issues. Students will learn new categories of analysis that will help them understand why fictional depictions of social values, modes of behavior, and moral choices can make both practical and theoretical contributions to the question of how we, as readers and social actors, might more fully live our lives.

MLC 225 Chinese Culture and Civilization
Units: 1
Description
Interdisciplinary introduction to Chinese society and culture from earliest times to the present. Explores topics on ancient philosophy, religion, literature, art, architecture, customs, and other aspects of China's rich and diverse heritage, and introduces social transformation from a pre-modern empire to a modern nation state. Questions such as social changes, urban life, popular culture, and the values and ideas that captivate contemporary Chinese people's attention will also be addressed.

MLC 227 The Action Genre in East Asian Cinema
Units: 1
Description
The action genre is a persistent film genre with a strong literary, theatrical, and operatic tradition in East Asian cinema. This course traces the historical and cinematic evolution of the action genre from swordplay to kungfu to gunplay in Hong Kong, Japanese, and Korean cinema from the 1960s to the digital age. Students will acquire a critical vocabulary in visual analysis such as classical Hollywood narration, montage, continuity editing, and the "pause-burst-pause" pattern that are central to the punctuation of kinesesthetic shocks in the action genre. We will explore how culturally specific codes of honor, loyalty, masculinity, and femininity (rooted in literature and theatrical codes) are lost or gained in translation as a result of film adaptations, international co-productions, and cross-cultural readings. Taught in English. All films are subtitled in English.

MLC 232 Russian Painting: 19th Century
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Survey and analytical study of significant periods of Russian painting, focusing on interconnections between philosophy, literature, spirituality, and ideology in Russian painting during various historical periods and developments in Russian culture and intellectual history.

MLC 233 Russian Painting: 20th Century
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSHT
Description
An interdisciplinary study of early 20th century Russian painting as an organic part and expression of the cultural and intellectual development of fin de siecle Russia. The cultural significance of Russian paintings is traced through a critical analysis of primary historical, philosophical, literary, artistic, and other sources of the period.

MLC 235 Special Topics in Japanese Film
Units: 1
Description
Discussion and analysis of Japanese films with emphasis on understanding the cultural and historical aspects of Japan through cinematic representations.

MLC 242 From Scheherazade to Jasmine: The Arabian Nights in World Literature and Culture
Units: 1
Description
Reading of excerpts from the Arabian Nights and discussion of the structure of the work. Survey of the translation and dissemination of the work in different cultures of the world, but especially the West. Critical survey of the impact of the work in world literature and culture.

MLC 243 Polities and Social Movements in Modern Middle Eastern Literatures
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Discussion of literary works by writers from the Middle East during the past few decades with an emphasis on the social and political issues these texts address. Examination of these texts as literary products first and foremost and it is within such a status that they can be our entry point to the societies of the Middle East and their problems.

MLC 244 Writing Women in Modern Arabic Fiction
Units: 1
Description
Tracing of the shifts and changes of the construction of women as literary characters in the modern fiction of the Arab world, within the context of changing social, political, and cultural conditions. The rise of new social movements and the increasing role of women in society and culture resulted in quick and somewhat radical transformations of the constructions of women in fiction mostly as a result of the writings of women themselves. Reading trace and discuss the different paths charted by women writers during the last three decades of the twentieth century.

MLC 256 Psychoanalysis, Literature and Culture
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
General introduction to use of psychoanalytic techniques to analyze literature and culture. Readings from Freud and post-Freudian theorists used to interpret variety of literary texts, as well as films, ads, and other examples from popular culture.

MLC 260 Literature and Social Change in Eastern Europe
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Selected readings in 20th century Czech and Polish literature. Analysis of primary texts (in translation) focuses on the representation of both science and socialism as powerful ideological forces.

MLC 265 German Cinema
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Survey of German cinema from the 1930s to the present emphasizing the historical and cultural context in which the films were produced.

MLC 321 Introduction to Nineteenth-Century Russian Literature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduction to Russian literature and critical literary analysis. Pushkin, Gogol, Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Chekhov, and others.

MLC 322 Introduction to Twentieth-Century and Contemporary Russian Literature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Introduction to Russian literature and critical literary analysis. Includes Modernism, Soviet Socialist Realism, and contemporary Russian fiction.

MLC 323 Hero, Talent, and Beauty: Classical Chinese Narrative
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to various aspects of Chinese literary tradition and an examination of how historical, philosophical, and aesthetic traditions influence the generic evolution of literature. Canonical readings include the 17th-century text of Romance of the Three Kingdoms and Dream of the Red Chamber in the 18th century.

MLC 325 Revolution and Modernity in Chinese Literature
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Exploration of modern Chinese literature, visual culture, and critical thought from the beginning of the twentieth century to the end of the Mao era (1911-1976). Focus on the use of literature in "saving the nation" as a response to imperialism and the challenge of the West in the early twentieth century. Discusses how various writers and genres such as the short story, prose poetry, novella, and film convey and advocate ideas about "revolution" and "modernity".

MLC 331 Russian Cinema
Units: 1
Description
General introduction to Russian cinema focusing on the significant portion of Russian cinema within the context of European and world cinemas. Emphasizes historical and theoretical contributions of Russian cinema and traces development of cinema in Russia from Protazanov and Eisenstein to Tarkovsky, Todorovskiy, Mikhalkov, and Sokurov. Different variants of the course that would appear in alternate years will have variety of topical foci such as Russian and European cinema, World War II, ideology and art in film, Soviet socialist realism, literature and cinema, Shakespeare in Russian cinema, the auteur in Russian cinema, Russian female directors, the female image in Russian cinema, Stalin and Lenin in film, etc.

MLC 333 Bolshevists, Bombs and Ballet: Soviet Culture and Civilization
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Survey of intellectual and scientific life, artistic movements, and popular culture under communism in the Soviet Union. Interdisciplinary focus on the arts, music, science, and literature with attention to complicated relations between official and private culture.

MLC 340 European Romanticism
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Comparative study of the major international currents in European romanticism, drawing from the literary traditions of England, France, Germany, Italy, and Russia.

MLC 341 Gender and Sexuality in 19th-Century France
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Examines representations of gender and sexual identity in 19th-century France as demonstrated in literature, film, and historical documents.

MLC 346 Insiders and Outsiders: Arabic Encounters with the West
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
Study of texts from throughout Arab history since the expansion of Islam until today, in which travelers and thinkers, academics and politicians, everyday people and people with religious or other ideological agendas describe their encounters with the world outside their own cultural environment. These texts will be analyzed less for the information they contain about the world they describe, but for what the views and thoughts their writers reveal about their own world and frame of mind. The texts will be read in translation and will cover material from the earliest Islamic travelers such as Ibn Fadlan to figures of current history such as Usama bin Laden.

MLC 347 Islam, Nationalism, and the West - Modern Thought in the Arab World
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSHT)
Description
Historical survey of the main thinkers and ideas in the Arab world during the past two centuries. Emphasis on the different and contending reactions to the challenges of modernity and the West as well as the relation to indigenous and traditional ideas, especially religion.

MLC 350 Introductory Linguistics
Units: 1
Description
General, historical and/or descriptive linguistics.
Prerequisites
Completion of Communication Skills II-Language requirement

MLC 351 Contemporary Literary Theory
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSLT)
Description
A broad survey of literary theory, with textual applications, and including structuralism, Marxism, post-structuralism, feminism, psychoanalysis, and new historicism.

MLC 352 Language, Race, and Ethnicity
Units: 1
Description
Study of the origin, development, and use of language as an implement of racial and ethnic discrimination that configures nativism and national language together as an apparatus privileging a central, original population and marginalizing the other.

MLC 355 Chinese Cinema
Units: 1
Description
An introduction to Chinese cinema in relation to issues of modernity, nationalism, gender, cultural identities and beyond. Selected canonical films of China, Taiwan, and Hong Kong will be introduced.

Honors Program

The music honors program recognizes the most distinguished majors, who complete an advanced course of study, culminating in an honors thesis. Successful applicants will be assigned an advisor to guide their work and monitor their progress.

Students should declare their intention to seek honors and meet with the honors coordinator in their sophomore year.

Students must have completed 18 or more units of course work and at least four or more units in music (excluding prerequisites) with an overall grade point of at least 3.3 or above. Honors candidates must be recommended by at least one full-time member of the Department of Music.

Application for departmental honors must include:
1. a one-page letter from the student describing how the program requirements will be met,
2. a letter of recommendation from a full-time faculty member of the music department,
3. the student’s transcript, and
4. a writing sample consisting of a paper written in a music course.

Applications must be submitted to the department chair by November 1 (March 1 for the spring term applicant) of the junior year, approved by the music faculty and submitted to the arts and sciences honors committee by November 15 (March 15 for the spring term applicant).

To earn departmental honors, students must complete 3.5 units of honors course work, including MUS 400, MUS 401 / MUS 402, and two honors independent study courses or two standard elective courses with special work above and beyond the norm.

Units earned from MUS 400, MUS 401, and MUS 402 are in addition to the 12 units required for the music major. Honors students are to maintain a grade point average of at least 3.3 while participating in the program.

Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.

PHIL 373 Epistemology
Units: 1
Description
Explores central issues in epistemology. These include the nature of knowledge, justification, and rationality. Historical and contemporary readings will expose students to a wide variety of different approaches and answers to questions concerning the nature and scope of knowledge.
Prerequisites
Philosophy 271 or 272.

PHIL 374 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.

PHIL 375 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.

PHIL 376 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.

PHIL 377 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.

PHIL 378 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
Units: 1
Description
A survey of basic issues about the nature of practical reason. Also considers associated issues about intentional action; persons; the good, moral demands; and the normativity of ethics.
Prerequisites
One previous philosophy class.
Selected topics in philosophy arranged by issues. Recent topics: the emotions; science, pseudoscience and the paranormal; intermediate logic; ethics, human and nonhuman. May be repeated for credit when topic differs.

PHIL 386 Honors Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Seminar for honors students on topic selected mutually by instructor and those enrolled. Permission of department.

PHIL 390 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Faculty member directs student's reading and study.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

PHIL 395 Honors Thesis
Units: 1
Description
Supervised completion of research thesis begun and approved in majors' seminar.

PHIL 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research [or produce a creative arts project] in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor.

Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law

David Lefkowitz, Coordinator (Philosophy)

The interdisciplinary major in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL) enables students to pursue a rigorous exploration of the historical, methodological, and theoretical interconnections among these four fields of study. Students will acquire knowledge of different conceptual, theoretical and normative perspectives within each discipline, and will learn to use methods appropriate to each of them. The distinctive aim of the major is to assist students in synthesizing what they learn from their study of philosophy, politics, economics, and law so as to apply a combination of practical and theoretical knowledge to questions of social order and public policy.

The Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.0, with no course grade below a C- (1.7).

13-14 units, including

Core Courses

- ECON 101 Principles of Microeconomics
- PPEL 261 PPEL Seminar in Theory and Public Policy
- PPEL 262 PPEL Seminar in Law and Social Order
- PPEL 401 PPEL Capstone Seminar

Area Courses

- One course in normative ethics
- One course in normative political theory/political philosophy
- One law-related course

Note: Area requirements can be fulfilled by courses in a variety of departments and schools. Majors should consult the PPEL website for an up to date list of approved courses. Exactly one area course may also count toward the 5 units within the primary concentration field.

Concentration

A required concentration chosen from Economics, Politics, or Philosophy including:
Five units selected from within the primary concentration field.
One unit from each of the other two concentration fields.

Notes:
Students may petition the coordinator to have a new course count as an area or concentration course.

No more than half of the courses satisfying the requirements of the major may be taken in a single department.

With the exception of Leadership Studies, no more than three courses that count toward the completion of another major may also count toward the PPEL major. No more than four courses that count toward the completion of a Leadership Studies major may also count toward the PPEL major.

Study abroad is strongly encouraged. Upon approval of the PPEL coordinator, relevant coursework abroad can substitute for PPEL major requirements with the exception of PPEL 261, PPEL 262, and PPEL 401.

Students seeking an exception to any of the major requirements must submit a petition to the PPEL Advisory Committee. No exceptions or substitutions will be made for the four core courses. Please see the PPEL coordinator for additional information. Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major.
Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

Area Courses

Ethics Area Courses

- BUAD 392 Ethical, Social and Legal Responsibilities of Business
- ECON 233 Ethics and Economics
- LDST 377 Ethical Decisions-Making in Healthcare
- LDST 450 Leadership Ethics
- PHIL 120 Contemporary Moral Issues
- PHIL 265 Bioethics
- PHIL 360 Ethics
• PHIL 365 Action, Responsibility, and Free Will
• PHIL 375 Ethics and Practical Reasoning
• RELG 265 Religion and Moral Decisions
• RELG 267 Varieties of Christian Ethics
• RELG 269/ENVR 269 Ethics, Religion and the Environment

Political Theory/Political Philosophy Area Courses
• ANTH 328 Anthropology of Human Rights
• ANTH 335 Law and Order: The Anthropology of Justice
• GEOG 370 Geographies of Economic Development and Globalization
• HIST 391 Transnational Social Reform
• LDST 205 Justice and Civil Society
• LDST 308/PLSC 330 The Creation of the American Republic
• LDST 361 Sex, Power, and Politics
• LDST 374 Contemporary Debates in Democratic Theory
• LDST 378 Statesmanship
• PHIL 221 Feminist Political Theories
• PHIL 337 Social and Political Philosophy
• PHIL 363 Power and Politics
• PLSC 311 Classical Political Thought
• PLSC 312 Modern Political Theory
• PLSC 315 American Political Theory
• PLSC 339 Jurisprudence in Contemporary American Politics
• RELG 369 Ethics, Religion, and War

Law-Related Area Courses
• ANTH 335 Law and Order: The Anthropology of Justice
• ECON 231 Law and Economics
• HIST 199 Scottsboro Trials
• JOUR 303 Ethics and Law
• LDST 308 The Creation of the American Republic
• LDST 371 Moral Limits of the Criminal Law
• PHIL 260 Philosophical Problems in Law and Society
• PHIL 364 Philosophy and Law
• PLSC 331 Constitutional Law
• PLSC 333 Civil Rights/Liberties
• PLSC 336 American Constitutional History
• PLSC 337 The American Legal System
• PLSC 339 Jurisprudence in Contemporary American Politics
• PLSC 352 International Law and Organization
• PLSC 362/ENVR 362 Environmental Law and Policy
• RHCS 353 Rhetoric and Law

Concentrations

PPEL Concentration in Economics
Erik Craft (Economics) and Jonathan Wight (Economics), Advisors
7 units, including

ECON 102 Principles of Macroeconomics
ECON 271 Microeconomic Theory
One unit chosen from:
• ECON 231 Law and Economics
• ECON 233 Ethics and Economics

Two elective units in Economics at the 200 or 300 level
One elective in Philosophy
One elective in Political Science

PPEL Concentration in Politics
Stephen Simon (Political Science), Advisor
7 units, including

Five elective units in Political Science
One elective in Philosophy
One elective in Economics (ECON 102 or 200 level or higher Economics course)

PPEL Concentration in Philosophy
Geoff Goddu (Philosophy) and Nancy Schauber (Philosophy), Advisors
7 units, including

Four elective units in Philosophy
One elective in Political Science
One elective in Economics (ECON 102 or 200 level or higher Economics course)
One unit chosen from: PHIL 271 Ancient Greek Philosophy or PHIL 272 Modern Western Philosophy

Physics
Cornelius Beausang, Chair
Professors Beausang, Gilfoyle
Associate Professors Bunn, Lipan, Trawick
Assistant Professors Helms, Singal
Director of Physics Laboratory Nobel Manager of Laboratories Wimbush

The Physics Major
For the Bachelor of Arts degree

11 units, including

PHYS 127 General Physics I or PHYS 131 General Physics with Calculus I
One unit, chosen from:
• PHYS 128 General Physics II
• PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus II
• PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics
• PHYS 134 Biological Physics

One unit, chosen from:
• PHYS 201 Einstein's Relativity
• PHYS 202 Particle/Wave Duality and the Quantum Revolution
• PHYS 205 Introduction to Modern Physics
PHYS 221 Intermediate Laboratory
PHYS 397-PHYS 398 Junior Seminar
PHYS 497-PHYS 498 Senior Seminar
Three additional units in PHYS

MATH 212 Calculus II or MATH 232 Scientific Calculus II
Two additional units in courses approved by the department

This degree is offered primarily for students who wish to pursue a career in education or business or wishing to earn a cultural degree.

For the Bachelor of Science degree
13-14 units, including

PHYS 127 General Physics I or PHYS 131 General Physics with Calculus I
One unit, chosen from:
- PHYS 128 General Physics II
- PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus II
- PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics
- PHYS 134 Biological Physics

PHYS 221 Intermediate Laboratory
PHYS 301 Mathematical Methods in Physics
PHYS 303 Classical Mechanics
PHYS 305 Electromagnetism
PHYS 308 Statistical Mechanics
PHYS 309 Quantum Mechanics I
PHYS 397-PHYS 398 Junior Seminar
PHYS 497-PHYS 498 Senior Seminar
0-1 unit of experimental work in addition to PHYS 221 chosen from:
- PHYS 216 Electronics
- PHYS 231 Experimental Physics
- PHYS 381 Research
- PHYS 406 Summer Undergraduate Research

One unit, chosen from:
- CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics, and Synthesis
- CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing
- CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
- MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus

MATH 245 Linear Algebra
Two additional units in PHYS numbered above 200, excluding PHYS 381

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

The Interdisciplinary Physics Major for the Bachelor of Science Degree

Note: Students cannot major in both physics and interdisciplinary physics.

This degree is intended for students with a broad interest in several sciences or interdisciplinary science or who wish to pursue one of the engineering options.

15 units, including

PHYS 127 General Physics I or PHYS 131 General Physics with Calculus I
One unit, chosen from:
- PHYS 128 General Physics II
- PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus II
- PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics
- PHYS 134 Biological Physics

One unit, chosen from:
- PHYS 201 Einstein’s Relativity
- PHYS 202 Particle/Wave Duality and the Quantum Revolution
- PHYS 205 Introduction to Modern Physics

PHYS 221 Intermediate Laboratory
PHYS 301 Mathematical Methods in Physics
PHYS 397-PHYS 398 Junior Seminar
PHYS 497-PHYS 498 Senior Seminar
MATH 212 Calculus II or MATH 232 Scientific Calculus II
Three additional units in physics at the 200 level or above
One of the concentrations described below. All concentrations require 4-5 additional units beyond those listed above.

- Biology Concentration
  - BIOL 200 Integrated Biological Principles I
  - CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics, and Synthesis
  - Three additional units in biology

- Biochemistry Concentration
  - CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis
  - CHEM 205-CHEM 206 Organic Chemistry
  - BIOL 326/CHEM 326 Biochemistry or CHEM 327 Biochemistry with Lab

- Chemistry Concentration
  - CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis
  - CHEM 309-CHEM 310 Physical Chemistry and CHEM 314-CHEM 315 Physical Chemistry Laboratory
  - One additional unit in chemistry

- Computer Science Concentration
  - CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing or CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing
  - CMSC 221 Data Structures with Lab
  - Three additional units in computer science

- Mathematics Concentration
  - MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus
  - MATH 245 Linear Algebra
  - MATH 312 Differential Equations
  - Two additional units in mathematics at the 300 level or above

- Engineering Concentration: 5 units of engineering courses
  - This concentration is intended for students participating in the 3-2 engineering program.
The required units will be earned at another institution.

The Physics Minor

5 units, including
Three units numbered above 200, excluding 397-398 and 497-498

Two additional units in PHYS

Dual-Degree (3-2) Engineering Program

Building on the strengths of majors in physics, mathematics, computer science, chemistry, and biology, the School of Arts and Sciences offers students with special career goals the ability to pursue dual degrees in a five-year period. Some opportunities allow a student to earn a Bachelor of Science from Richmond and also a Bachelor of Science from a cooperating engineering school, while others enable a student to complete an undergraduate degree from Richmond and an accelerated master's degree in engineering from a partner institution—all within a five-year period. The physics department's pre-engineering advisor can provide information about participating programs and requirements.

Honors Program

Specific requirements for honors in physics:
1. A cumulative GPA of at least 3.3 in their physics courses, in addition to the 3.3 GPA required overall.
2. At least 3.5 units of courses designated as honors courses. These courses will be divided as follows:
   (a) 1.0 units must be independent research, typically done as research with an individual physics faculty member. These will typically be fulfilled by two semesters of some combination of physics 381 and 382, for 0.5 credit units each. The physics department has also discussed creating an additional course designated as "honors research," which would carry one unit of credit per semester; at least one semester of such a course would also fulfill this requirement.
   (b) 0.5 units must be from taking both semesters of senior seminar, PHYS 497 and PHYS 498. As a part of this course, physics honors students will be required to present at least one oral presentation on the topic of their independent research undertaken for part (a). Physics honors students will also be required to present a final written thesis describing their research. The thesis and oral presentation must be approved at an honors level by the research supervisor and at least two additional readers within the physics department, or their designees.
   (c) The remaining courses (2.0 units) may be any courses in physics numbered 200 or higher, including approved transfer courses, that are specifically above the current requirements for a B.S. in physics.

Courses

PHYS 121 Astrophysics
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
Celestial motions, stellar structure, cosmology, and related problems including appropriate concepts of elementary physics. Not among the recommended options for science or math majors. Includes laboratory.

PHYS 125 Elements of Physics
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
Principles and applications of physics. Topics selected from mechanics, sound, light, electricity, magnetism, heat, and modern physics. Not among the recommended options for science or math majors. Includes laboratory.

PHYS 127 General Physics 1
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
First of a two semester sequence in general physics. Topics from mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, light, and modern physics are covered in the two-semester sequence. Includes laboratory. NOTE: Physics 127 is not a prerequisite to 128. A student may not receive credit for both Physics 131 and 127.

Prerequisites
Algebra and trigonometry.

PHYS 128 General Physics 2
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
Second semester of a sequence in general physics. Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, light and modern physics are covered in the two-semester sequence. Includes laboratory. NOTE: A student may receive credit for only one of the following courses: 128, 132, 133, 134.

Prerequisites
Algebra and trigonometry.

PHYS 131 General Physics with Calculus 1
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
First semester of a calculus-based introductory sequence. Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, light and modern physics are covered in the two-semester sequence. Includes laboratory. NOTE: A student may not receive credit for both Physics 127 and 131.

Prerequisites
Math 190 or 211 (may be taken concurrently).

PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus 2
Units: 1

Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSNP)

Description
Second semester of a calculus-based introductory sequence. Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, and light are covered in the two-semester sequence. Includes laboratory. NOTE: A student may receive credit for only one of the following courses: 128, 132, 133, 134.

Prerequisites
Math 212 (may be taken concurrently) and Physics 127 or 131 or 191 or permission of instructor.

PHYS 133 Atomic and Sub-Atomic Physics
Units: 1
Description
Second semester of a calculus-based introductory sequence with emphasis on physics of atoms, molecules, nuclei, and quarks. Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, and light are covered in the two-semester sequence. Includes laboratory. NOTE: A student may receive credit for only one of the following courses: 128, 132, 133, 134.
Prerequisites
Math 212 or 232 (may be taken concurrently) and Physics 127 or 131 or 191 or permission of instructor.

PHYS 134 Biological Physics
Units: 1
Description
Second semester of a calculus based introductory sequence. Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, and light are covered in the two-semester sequence that includes laboratory. Examples emphasize applications of physics to the biological sciences, and earth and environmental science. NOTE: A student may receive credit for only one of the following courses: 128, 132, 133, 134.
Prerequisites
Math 212 or 232 (may be taken concurrently) and Physics 127 or 131 or 191 or permission of instructor.

PHYS 191 Integrated Science/Math/Computer Science 4 with Laboratory
Units: 1
Description
One of two courses taught spring semester as part of Integrated Quantitative Science program. Each semester of the course will be organized around a guiding principle that integrates several concepts. Along with co-requisite, will include ten hours for lecture and lab combination.
Prerequisites

PHYS 201 Einstein's Relativity
Units: .5
Description
Focuses primarily on special relativity as it relates to time, space, velocity, momentum, and energy. This course is identical to the first half of PHYS 205, and meets concurrently with it for the first 7 weeks of the semester. Students may not earn credit for both PHYS 201 and PHYS 205.
Prerequisites
PHYS 132, PHYS 133, PHYS 134, or PHYS 191

PHYS 202 Particle/Wave Duality and the Quantum Revolution
Units: .5
Description
Introduces ideas of particle/wave duality that are central to understanding quantum mechanics, a major revolution in early 20th century physics. This course is identical to the second half of PHYS 205, and meets concurrently with it for the second 7 weeks of the semester. Students may not earn credit for both PHYS 202 and PHYS 205. Students are strongly encouraged to take either PHYS 202 or PHYS 205 before taking PHYS 309.
Prerequisites
PHYS 132, PHYS 133, PHYS 134, or PHYS 191

PHYS 203 Systems Biology
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to the fundamentals of systems biology, an emerging field that focuses on complex interactions in biological systems. Topics chosen come from the perspective of the design of biological circuits. For students in the biological sciences, physics, chemistry, and mathematics interested in quantitative biology and the interface between the biological and physical sciences. No laboratory.
Prerequisites
Physics 131 and Biology 199 and Math 211, and Computer Science 150 or 155; Or Physics 191 and Chemistry 191.

PHYS 205 Introduction to Modern Physics
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to topics in 20th-century physics including special relativity, quantum mechanics, and statistical physics.
Prerequisites
PHYS 132 or 133 or 134 or 191

PHYS 209 Quantum Mechanics
Units: 1
Description
In-depth introduction to quantum mechanics with emphasis on linear algebra and Hilbert space.
Prerequisites
PHYS 202 or 205 or equivalent

PHYS 210 Electromagnetism
Units: 1
Description
An introduction to electromagnetism with emphasis on the mathematical description of electromagnetic fields, particularly in the frequency domain.
Prerequisites
PHYS 132 or 133 or 134 or 191

PHYS 211 Electronics
Units: 1
Description
Laboratory course in basic electronics and instrumentation for science majors. Study of dc and ac circuits, diodes, rectifiers, transistors, operational amplifiers, binary logic, Boolean algebra, digital circuits, analog-digital conversion, transducers, and computer interfacing.
Prerequisites
Physics 127-128 or 132 or 191. Physics 216 is a prerequisite to Physics 217.

PHYS 215 Computational Methods in Physics
Units: 1
Description
Project-oriented: applying computers to solution of problems in physical sciences.
Prerequisites
Physics 132 or 133 or 134 or 191 and some familiarity with at least one higher-level computer language.

PHYS 216 Electronics
Units: 1
Description
Laboratory course in basic electronics and instrumentation for science majors. Study of dc and ac circuits, diodes, rectifiers, transistors, operational amplifiers, binary logic, Boolean algebra, digital circuits, analog-digital conversion, transducers, and computer interfacing.
Prerequisites
Physics 127-128 or 132 or 191. Physics 216 is a prerequisite to Physics 217.

PHYS 221 Intermediate Laboratory
Units: 1
Description
Experiments in classical and modern physics emphasizing independent work. Six laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
(PHYS 127 and 128) or (PHYS 132 or 191).
PHYS 231 Experimental Physics
Units: 1
Description
Focuses on optics. Includes the study of (1) ray optics: lenses, system of lenses, lens aberrations (2) scalar wave optics: diffraction, interference (3) polarization of light: states of polarization, polarizers, wave retarders. Emphasizes the relation between experiment and theory through hands-on experience. Data analysis and its theoretical interpretation is a central part of the course. Upper level laboratory course for science majors, emphasizing independent work. Consists of six laboratory hours per week. Students, working in pairs, will spend approximately 2 weeks on each of 6-7 experimental projects.
Prerequisites
PHYS 132.

PHYS 301 Mathematical Methods in Physics
Units: 1
Description
Selected mathematical topics needed for upper-level work in physics. Topics taken from vector calculus, matrices, calculus of variations, orthogonal functions, and complex analysis.
Prerequisites
132 or 133 or 134 or 191

PHYS 303 Mechanics
Units: 1
Description
Mathematical analysis of physical laws pertaining to dynamics of particles and rigid bodies. Introduction to moving coordinate systems and Lagrange's and Hamilton's methods.
Prerequisites
Physics 301 or permission of department.

PHYS 305 Electricity and Magnetism I
Units: 1
Description
Electrostatic fields and potentials, dielectrics, magnetic fields, and potentials. Maxwell's equations, electromagnetic waves.
Prerequisites
Physics 301 or permission of department. Physics 305 is prerequisite to 306.

PHYS 306 Electricity and Magnetism II
Units: 1
Description
Electrostatic fields and potentials, dielectrics, magnetic fields, and potentials. Maxwell's equations, electromagnetic waves.
Prerequisites
Physics 305.

PHYS 308 Statistical Mechanics
Units: 1
Description
Statistical methods applied to description of physical systems. Statistical calculation of thermodynamic quantities, laws of thermodynamics, statistical distributions, and classical and quantum statistics of ideal gases. (Same as Chemistry 308.)
Prerequisites
Physics 301 or permission of department.

PHYS 309 Quantum Mechanics I
Units: 1
Description
Wave mechanics and quantization; Schroedinger equation for variety of potentials; hydrogen atom in detail; perturbation methods. (Same as Chemistry 401-402.)
Prerequisites
Chemistry 310 or Physics 301 or permission of department. Physics 309 is prerequisite to 310.

PHYS 310 Quantum Mechanics II
Units: 1
Description
Wave mechanics and quantization; Schroedinger equation for variety of potentials; hydrogen atom in detail; perturbation methods. (Same as Chemistry 401-402.)
Prerequisites
Physics 309.

PHYS 381 Research
Units: 0, .25, or .5
Description
Laboratory or independent study. 0.5 units requires six hours per week. PHYS 381 may be taken a maximum of four times. Both available for 0, .25, or .5 units.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

PHYS 397 Junior Seminar
Units: 0
Description
Required of all third-year physics majors. Does not count in units required for minor.

PHYS 398 Junior Seminar
Units: .5
Description
Required of all third-year physics majors. Does not count in units required for minor.

PHYS 404 Theoretical Physics
Units: 1
Description
Application of mathematics to selected topics in physics.
Prerequisites
Physics 301 or permission of department.

PHYS 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research or produce a creative arts project in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

PHYS 479 Special Topics
Units: 5-1
Description
Topics include particle and nuclear physics, solid state, modern optics, relativity, field theory.
Prerequisites
Permission of department.

PHYS 497 Senior Seminar
Units: 0
Description
Required of all senior physics majors. Does not count in units required for minor.

PHYS 498 Senior Seminar
Units: .5 (498)
Description
Required of all senior physics majors. Does not count in units required for minor.

Political Science
Andrea Simpson, Chair
Professors Carapico, Dagger, Kandeh, Palazzolo, Wang
Associate Professors Eriklund, Mayes, Roof, Simon, Simpson
Assistant Professors Beavis, Cherry, Datta, Lang, McGowen, Pribble, Szajder Lee

The Political Science Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework in political science comprising the major, must be 2.00 or above with no course grade below C- (1.7).

10 units, including

PLSC 220 Introduction to American Government
Two courses, chosen from:
• PLSC 240 Introduction to Comparative Politics
• PLSC 250 Introduction to International Relations
• PLSC 260 Introduction to Public Policy

PLSC 270 Social Science Inquiry
One unit, chosen from:
• PLSC 311 Classical Political Thought
• PLSC 312 Modern Political Theory
• PLSC 315 American Political Theory

PLSC 400 Senior Seminar

Four elective units at the 300 level, three of which must be in political science.

Note: Students may elect to take one department-approved course outside of the major related to political science; please consult the department website for a list of department-approved courses from other departments.

The major must include a minimum of six units of University of Richmond political science courses. No more than two units of credit toward the major can be given for courses, including cross-listed courses, offered by other departments or schools at the University.

Study abroad and internships also are encouraged. Students who have an interest in attending law school should consult with the pre-law advisor; students interested in attending graduate school should consult with the department chair about undergraduate courses that they should consider taking.

Honors Program

The political science honors program recognizes the most distinguished majors, who complete an advanced course of study, culminating in an honor's thesis. In order to be eligible, students must have completed 22 units of course work overall and at least six units in political science (including research methods) by end of junior year, with an overall and political science grade point average of 3.7 or above, and must be recommended by at least one full-time member of the Department of Political Science. Accepted honors students complete four units of designated honors coursework, including 11 units of political science courses. Honors course work may include honors seminars, standard elective courses with special work above and beyond the norm, or honors independent study courses, though at least two units must be from honors independent study (PLSC 491 and PLSC 492) devoted to proposing, researching, and writing an honors thesis in the senior year. A prospectus for the honors thesis topic must be approved before the end of the second semester junior year, at which time the candidate must identify a thesis advisor and a second reader. The thesis will fulfill the senior capstone requirement for the major; honors students are exempt from taking PLSC 400. Honors students must successfully defend their thesis before a committee of at least two readers, including the thesis advisor, and present their research at the School of Arts & Sciences Student Symposium in April of the senior year.

Courses

PLSC 220 Introduction to American Government
Units: 1
Description
Basic roles, structures, and functions of American political institutions and introduction to American political process.

PLSC 240 Introduction to Comparative Politics
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Concepts, approaches, classifications, and models useful in comparing political structures and processes. Political systems characteristic of countries with different cultures and levels of economic development.

PLSC 250 Introduction to International Relations
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Framework for analyzing contemporary international system: goals of nation-states and other actors; how such actors attempt to achieve their goals; and some forces that help or hinder attainment of goals.

PLSC 260 Introduction to Public Policy
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Contemporary social and economic problems in America, public policies adopted or proposed to deal with them, and ways of analyzing those problems and policies.

PLSC 270 Social Science Inquiry
Units: 1
Description

Prerequisites
Political Science 220 and permission of instructor.

PLSC 400 Senior Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Reading and research focusing on important topics in political science. Both topics and instructors change from semester to semester.
Prerequisites
Senior status and completion of seven units in political science, including 270

PLSC 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research or produce a creative arts project in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor

PLSC 491 Honors Independent Research and Writing
Units: 1
Description
Reading and research toward an honors thesis.
Prerequisites
PLSC 270 and acceptance in departmental Honors program.

PLSC 492 Honors Independent Research and Writing
Units: 1
Description
Reading and research toward an honors thesis.
Prerequisites
PLSC 270 and acceptance in departmental Honors program.

Psychology

Elizabeth Crawford, Chair
Professors Allison, Kinsley, Newcomb
Associate Professors Berry, Crawford
Assistant Professors Bukach, Burnette, Knouse, Landy
Clinical Assistant Professor LeViness

The Department of Psychology offers a rigorous, graduated curriculum that combines the highest expectations of achievement in an environment rich in opportunities for intellectual stimulation and growth. Our primary mission is to provide an academic setting for students to become knowledgeable, skilled, reflective, and highly accomplished, preparing them to excel in the best graduate and professional schools and in the most competitive, creative employment contexts. We prepare students to lead productive lives characterized by an inquiring attitude, engagement in the life of mind, and immersion in the larger community. Our faculty are dedicated to excellence in teaching and scholarship, and seek to cultivate in students a love of learning and involvement in their academic community by providing multi-layered mentoring opportunities. The department strives to educate and train its students to reach their potential.

The psychology faculty believe that education is as much an activity as it is a body of knowledge. As professors, we embrace pedagogical approaches that emphasize the scientific method; curiosity about the world and its phenomena; intellectual challenge and complexity; familiarity with primary source materials; interactive and collaborative learning; critical and analytical thinking; mastery in oral and written expression and communication; and the historical and philosophical foundations of psychological science. We value psychology’s connections to the arts, humanities, and natural sciences; we teach professional ethics; we embrace diverse perspectives and individual differences; and we promote student involvement in local and international culture, community, and society. These curricular emphases reflect our educational goals and aspirations. They represent directions for fostering, challenging, and strengthening our students’ intellectual experience, and they pervade all levels of our curriculum, from the introductory to the most advanced. Collaborative research pursuits between faculty and students are the centerpiece of the psychology major.

The Psychology Major

Note: The grade point average of the department-specific and related-area coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

For the Bachelor of Arts degree

10 units, including
PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
PSYC 299 Integrated Topics
One course from Psychology 310-Psychology 329
One course from Psychology 330-Psychology 349
One additional course from Psychology 310-Psychology 349
One course in the Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series
Three electives at the 300 or 400 level

For the Bachelor of Science degree

14 units, including

PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
PSYC 299 Integrated Topics
One course from Psychology 310-Psychology 329
One course from Psychology 330-Psychology 349
One additional course from Psychology 310-Psychology 349
One course in the Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series
Three electives at the 300 or 400 level
MATH 211 Calculus I
MATH 212 or MATH 232 Calculus II
One unit, chosen from:
- MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus
- MATH 245 Linear Algebra
- MATH 312 Differential Equations
- CMSC 150 Introduction to Computing
- CMSC 155 Introduction to Scientific Computing

One unit, chosen from:
- BIOL 201 Genetics
- CHEM 141 Introductory Chemistry: Structure, Dynamics and Synthesis
- PHYS 127-PHYS 128 General Physics I and II
- PHYS 131-PHYS 132 General Physics with Calculus I and II

Note: No more than one unit of PSYC 299 may be applied to the 10 units required in psychology. No more than one unit of internship and two units of PSYC 361 may be applied to the major.

The Psychology Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

7 units, including

PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
PSYC 299 Integrated Topics
One course from Psychology 310-Psychology 329
One course from Psychology 330-Psychology 349
One additional course from Psychology 310-Psychology 349
One elective at the 300 or 400 level

The Senior Capstone Experience

The department’s senior capstone experience is intended to provide psychology majors with an intensive and integrative experience in psychology to culminate their undergraduate careers.

Students pursuing either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree must choose one of three Senior Capstone options:

Option 1
One advanced seminar. One course in the Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series to be taken during the fall or spring semester of the student’s senior year.

Option 2
Senior research and one advanced seminar. One course in the Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series to be taken during the fall or spring semester of the student’s senior year, and collaboration with a faculty member on a year-long senior research project in PSYC 461 and PSYC 462 courses.

Option 3
Senior honors research and two advanced seminars. One course in the Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series to be taken during the fall semester of the student’s senior year, a second course from this series to be taken during spring of the senior year, and collaboration with a faculty member on a year-long senior honors research project in PSYC 491 and PSYC 492 courses.

Study Abroad

Psychology majors are encouraged to study abroad. Students should plan to take their 300-level laboratory courses at UR and use their time abroad to take electives for the major, as well as other courses outside of the major that they need for graduation. The key to successful integration of a study abroad experience with a psychology major is early and careful planning with the student’s advisor and department chair. More information is available here: psychology.richmond.edu/program/study-abroad.html

Honors Program

Students invited into the honors program may earn honors in psychology by completing the following requirements:

1. Two courses from Psychology 433-Psychology 449 series;
2. PSYC 491;
3. PSYC 492

Courses

PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychological Science
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSSA)
Description
Overview of the study of human behavior, with emphasis on scientific reasoning and the technological skills involved in the process of conducting psychological research and understanding human behavior. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.

PSYC 200 Methods and Analyses
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to research methods and statistical procedures in psychological science. Emphasis on mastering fundamental scientific, reasoning, and technological skills associated with literature review, research design, experimental manipulation, data collection, data analysis, data graphics, data interpretation, data presentation, and scientific writing. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 100 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 299 Integrated Topics
Units: 1
Description
Courses that provide an integrative perspective of psychological theories, issues, and research across two or more disciplinary (or subdisciplinary) contexts. A maximum of 1 unit of PSYC 299 may be applied to the major.
Prerequisites
Psychology 100 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 300 History and Systems of Psychology
Units: 1
Description
History of psychology and of major schools of thought and their viewpoints. Recommended for majors who are planning to attend graduate school in psychology.

Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 319 Psychopathology
Units: 1
Description
Critical examination of research and theory in psychopathology and behavior disorders including the phenomenology, etiology, assessment, and treatment of major forms of psychological disorders. Emphasis on an integrative approach incorporating clinical, developmental, biological, and sociocultural perspectives. Intensive co-requisite laboratory experience focused on conceptual, methodological, and analytical skills used in clinical psychology and investigation of psychopathology and behavior disorders. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 329 Special Topics
Units: 1
Description
Critical examination of concepts in one of the following areas of psychology, including but not limited to life span development, clinical and abnormal, social cognition, health, learning and memory, cross-cultural, personality, human diversity, and other specialized topics in the developmental, clinical, and social psychological sciences. Emphasis on theory, research, and applications in lecture with intensive laboratory component. May be repeated for credit when topic differs. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.
PSYC 331 Behavioral Neuroscience
Units: 1
Description
Focus on the neural regulation of behavior, from animal to human. Intensive lab component with techniques and approaches used in design, execution, and analysis of research in behavioral neuroscience. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 333 Cognitive Science
Units: 1
Description
Examines the nature, function, and mechanism of mental structures that process and represent information, in humans as well as other intelligent agents. Cognitive science integrates methods drawn from psychology, neuroscience, philosophy, computer science, linguistics, and anthropology. Intensive lab component applies techniques from various fields, emphasizing human experimentation and the observation, analysis, and design of simulated creatures. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 341 Cognitive Neuroscience
Units: 1
Description
Critically examines what brain injury and cognitive deficits can tell us about the relationship between brain and behavior. Covers the functional anatomy of the major cognitive systems, including action, object recognition, attention, memory, language, emotion, and executive function. Includes an intensive laboratory experience focusing on research skills employed in the field of cognitive neuroscience. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 349 Special Topics
Units: 1
Description
Critical examination of concepts in one of the following areas of psychology, including but not limited to psycholinguistics, stress, sensation and perception, animal behavior, and other specialized topics in the cognitive and brain sciences. Emphasis on theory, research, and applications in lecture with intensive laboratory component. Two and a half lecture and one and a quarter laboratory hours per week.
Prerequisites

Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better.

PSYC 359 Special Topics
Units: 1
Description
Special course offerings to explore specific direction within subdisciplinary area of psychology. May be repeated for credit when topics vary.
Prerequisites
Stated when course is offered.

PSYC 361 Independent Research
Units: .5-1
Description
Individual research conducted in collaboration with faculty. Note: No more than 2 units may count toward a psychology major. Available as pass/fail only.
Prerequisites
Psychology 200 with a grade of C- or better and permission of supervising instructor prior to registration.

PSYC 388 Individual Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
Supervised independent work in field setting designed to give student applied experience after completion of appropriate coursework in psychology. Requires consultation with and approval by department chair. No more than 1.5 unit of internship in any one department and 3.5 units of internship overall may be counted toward required degree units. Available as pass/fail only.
Prerequisites
Psychology 299 appropriate to the internship setting.

PSYC 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer fellowships to conduct research or produce a creative arts project in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 8 weeks, the student must engage in the project full-time (at least 40 hours per week) during this period, and the student must be the recipient of a fellowship through the university. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer Arts and Sciences fellowship by faculty mentor.

PSYC 433 Multivariate Statistics

Religious Studies
Douglas Winiarski, Chair
Professors Davis, Eakin
Associate Professors Cobb, Geaney, Shaw, Winiarski
Assistant Professor Hanaoka

The religious studies major is designed to provide students with both breadth and depth in the academic study of religion. When declaring the major, the student must meet with the departmental representative to formulate a course of study appropriate both to his or her interests and to the goals of the major generally.

The Religious Studies Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

9 units, including

Five units at the 300 level, excluding RELG 388, RELG 395, RELG 396
Four elective units in religious studies

The religious studies major is designed to offer students a broad education while providing them with the interpretive tools from the field of religious studies. The department encourages double majors. In addition, cognate courses in other departments may be included within the required nine units, with the approval in advance of the religious studies department. Under no circumstances will more than two
The Religious Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

5 units, including

At least three units at the 300 level, excluding RELG 388, RELG 395, RELG 396
Two elective units in religious studies

The religious studies minor is designed to provide basic grounding in the academic study of religion. The religious studies minor requires five units in religion, reflecting the diversity of areas and approaches that make up the religious studies department.

Honors Program

Qualified students may apply to work for honors at the discretion of the department. A major who wishes to pursue honors should meet with the honors coordinator, usually no later than the first semester of the junior year. The department will then invite selected students to apply for honors, at which point those students will meet with the honors coordinator to plan a designated honors program in conjunction with a faculty advisor. The honors program will normally consist of four related courses, approved by the honors committee of the School of Arts and Sciences, two of which will be RELG 403-RELG 404, culminating in an honors thesis. The advisor and two other members of the department will constitute the thesis committee for each thesis and will supervise the required oral defense. Honors will be granted only to those students whose theses meet departmental standards.

The Rhetoric and Communication Studies Major

Note: The grade point average for coursework comprising the major must reach a C (2.0) or higher with no course grade counting toward major below a C- (1.7).

10 units, including

RHCS 103 Rhetorical Theory
RHCS 104 Interpreting Rhetorical Texts
RHCS 295 Topics in Research (repeated for a total of 2 units)
RHCS 490 Senior Capstone
One 100- or 200-level elective
Four 300- or 400-level electives, one of which may be taken outside of the department if approved by advisor after the major has been declared.

Note: RHCS 412 Seminars and RHCS 295 Topics in Research may be counted more than once toward the major. No more than one unit each of internship and independent study may count toward the major. Internships are strongly recommended and are graded pass/fail. Practicum credits will not count toward the major and are graded pass/fail. Applies to majors/minors and general electives.

The Rhetoric and Communication Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average for coursework comprising the major must reach a C (2.0) or higher with no course grade counting toward major below a C- (1.7).

6 units, including

RHCS 103 Rhetorical Theory
RHCS 104 Interpreting Rhetorical Texts
RHCS 295 Topics in Research
Three 300- or 400-level electives

Note: No credit toward the minor will be awarded for internships or practica. Applies to majors/minors and general electives.

Honors Program

The Honors Program is designed for outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond the level of standard course work. Its purpose is to provide these students the opportunity to broaden and deepen their knowledge of the major field.

Eligibility and Admission

To be eligible for admission to the Honors program a student should have:

1. 18.5 or more units of completed work
2. A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.3;
3. or more units in the major field (exclusive of courses primarily for freshmen) with evidence of distinguished achievement.

A student who does not meet these qualifications may be admitted to the Program with the special recommendation of the major department and the approval of the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

Students may request consideration by their department, or departments may invite a student to apply.

Each application will include a program of study planned in consultation with the major department and will indicate specifically how the student's Honors Program is to be accomplished. The application, along with an advising copy of the student's transcript, will then be presented by the department to the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program by about November 15th for the fall term applicant and by about March 15th for the spring term applicant.

Program of Study

Each student's program of study will include at least 3.5 units of Honors course work and must meet all Honors requirements set by the major department. Course work may include Honors seminars, Honors independent/directed study courses in which the student meets at least weekly with one or more professors, Honors research courses, and standard courses taken for Honors credit. Standard courses taken for Honors credit may be either (1) courses in the student's regular course of study that require extra work of a kind approved by the departmental Honors committee or (2) courses, approved by the departmental Honors committee, in the student's area of study, that are in addition to any departmental major requirements. Courses of type (1) are the norm. Any program that wishes to incorporate courses of type (2) as part of their Honors requirements must submit significant justification for approval by the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program. No more than two courses may be standard courses taken for Honors credit (and with work appropriate to Honors status).

To demonstrate superior achievement, Honors students are normally required to submit a written Honors thesis to the major department in time for a final grade to be submitted to the registrar. At the discretion of the major department an alternative work that presents a comparable challenge to intellectual initiative and academic achievement may be substituted. All thesis work should be read and evaluated by more than one reader and, if appropriate, presented publicly in a departmental or Arts and Sciences forum. Departments may also require that students pass written and/or oral comprehensive examinations.

All Honors students are to maintain a grade point average of at least 3.3 while participating in the program. Exceptions require approval by the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

If at any time the student or the major department decides that Honors work should not continue, the department should submit a request for withdrawal to the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

Recognition of Honors Work

A student who successfully completes the Honors Program will receive the degree with Departmental Honors, to be noted on the student's permanent record along with the title of the Honors Thesis or comparable work. The student's diploma and the Commencement Program will also indicate achievement of Departmental Honors, and the Honors Thesis or equivalent will be preserved in a separate collection in Boatwright Library.

RUSN 498 Senior Research Project I
Sociology

Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Jennifer Nourse, Chair
Associate Professors French, Hass, Neff, Nourse, Obi, Ransom, Wharton
Assistant Professors Briddell, Grollman, Richards
Professionals from the field also are employed as adjunct faculty. Upper-level courses are taught on a rotating basis.

Sociology is the systematic study of social life in order to understand the causes and consequences of human action. Sociologists study the structure and processes of modern, industrial societies. They examine how social structures (groups, organizations, and communities) and social institutions (family, education, religion, etc.) affect human attitudes, actions, and life-chances. Sociologists use various theoretical perspectives to understand such areas as culture, socialization, conformity and deviance, inequality, family patterns, race and ethnic relations, and social change. Combining theoretical perspectives with empirical research allows constant testing and refinement of the body of knowledge that comprises the field of sociology. Sociology offers students an opportunity to develop new insights and a different perspective on their lives and to understand everyday social life as a combination of both stable patterns of interaction and ubiquitous sources of social change.

The Sociology Major

Note: The grade point average of the sociology coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C- (1.7).

10 units, including

SOC 101 Foundations of Society: Introduction to Sociological Analysis
SOC 211 Sociological Research Methods and Data Analysis
SOC 221 Sociological Theory
SOC 401 Capstone Experience
6 elective units in Sociology, with a minimum of 4 at the 300 level or higher

Notes:
- Students must earn a grade of C- or better in either SOC 211 or SOC 221 in order to take 300 or 400-level sociology courses.
- No more than one 200-level course, excluding SOC 211 and SOC 221, may be taken for credit towards the sociology minor.
- No more than two courses may be taken at other institutions, including study abroad institutions.
- SOC 326, SOC 327, SOC 388, and SOC 389 may not be counted toward the sociology minor.

Honors Program

The goal of the Sociology honors program is to give those students with superior interests and talents in the field to explore both sociology and personal intellectual interests and themes beyond the limits of typical courses offered. This will prepare these advanced students for possible graduate work or more advanced career prospects. Successful completion of the Honors Program is shown on the student's permanent academic record and on the diploma.

Eligibility and Admission

To qualify for the honors program in Sociology, a student should have:
1. 18.5 or more units completed overall
2. At least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average for all courses
3. Excluding coursework primarily for first-year students, 4 or more units completed with distinction in the major field and a 3.5 cumulative grade point average for Sociology courses

To enter the honors program, the student must submit a letter of intent, with nominating support from one faculty member, by March 15 of his or her junior year. These to facilitate research. This 2-unit combination is in addition to the 10 units required for the Sociology BA.

- The senior thesis will be assessed and graded by the student's thesis advisor and the chair of the Honors Program. If one person fulfills both these roles, an outside person whose expertise is sufficiently close to the thesis topic will be asked to aid with assessment. In case of disagreement, another member of the department will be asked for his/her opinion on the appropriate grade to resolve the disagreement.

- The student must take two standard one-unit upper-level courses for Honors credit that include additional extra work agreed upon by the student, the course instructor, and the Honors program coordinator. One of those must be related to the intended senior thesis topic. This one course may be in any department, but in any case it should meet with the approval of the student's thesis advisor or Honors Program chair.

The student may withdraw at any time. Should he/she not complete required additional work or maintain an overall 3.3 grade point average and a 3.5 grade point average for Sociology coursework, the student will not receive credit for the Honors Program, and the department will submit a request for withdrawal to the Faculty Committee on the Honors Program.

The department will encourage students in their junior year who appear qualified to consider the Honors Program seriously as soon as possible, to facilitate preparation for the senior thesis and any required summer work/research.

The Honors program coordinator will meet with participating students no less frequently than one time per month (or via email or other means of communication in the summer) to assess progress. The student and his/her advisor should develop a schedule for meetings and assessment they find most appropriate.

Outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond standard coursework have the opportunity to broaden and deepen their knowledge in selected major fields through the honors program. To qualify, a student should have at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average, 18 or more units completed and, excluding coursework primarily for first-year students, 3.5 or more units completed with distinction in the major field. Students electing to fulfill requirements for the honors program in the Department of Theatre and Dance must designate at least two units of honors credit through a combination of upper-level courses. This will require the student to do additional work over and above the normal requirements of the course. In addition, the student also must take Honors Thesis Preparation (THTR 380) and Honors Performance/Thesis (THTR 381). The student must have attained a departmental GPA of 3.30 by the beginning of the fall semester of the senior year. The student also must maintain that GPA through the completion of the program and an overall GPA of no less than 3.0 while in the program. Students should declare their intention to seek honors and meet with the honors coordinator in their sophomore year. Students who have not declared by the second semester of their junior year are disqualified from further honors consideration. Those who have declared that they are seeking honors will be considered candidates until they fail to meet one of the program’s requirements. Successful completion of an honors program is shown on the student's permanent academic record and on the diploma.

Courses

THTR 115 Theatre Appreciation
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
An introduction to the role of actors, playwrights, directors, designers, and audiences in the highly collaborative art of theatre. Students learn to appreciate the artistic and intellectual processes of theatre artists and to use knowledge of historical forms and traditions in order to evaluate contemporary live theatre. Students will engage in creative projects in the classroom and interact with professional theatre artists via lab work on mainstage productions. Laboratory assignments with mainstage productions.

THTR 119 Broadway Musical Theatre
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Survey of the Broadway musical theatre from its 19th century roots to the present day. Provides basic introduction to music theory and culminates with performance of original one-act musical(s) written and produced by class members. In addition to regular class meetings, weekly labs are held for rehearsals and presentation of special topics. (Same as Music 119.)

THTR 201 Stagecraft
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to scene design and construction, lighting design and execution, scene painting, sound design, and properties in theory and practical applications. Laboratory hours required.

THTR 203 Introduction to Light and Sound
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to the technical aspects of lighting and sound design and reduction, and to the creative process required to make informed design choices. Laboratory hours required.

THTR 205 Production Studies I-Fundamentals of Theatre
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Examines the meaning of art to theatre/dance and the necessity of research, while exploring the elements of acting, directing, dance, scene design, lighting, costume design, makeup, and sound design in theatre productions. The study of theatre history and theory will provide students with a framework for the analysis of text and performance. Also, students will learn methods for assembling a theatre portfolio that will represent their course work, research, and creative projects.

THTR 206 Introduction to Costume
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduction to role of costume designer as collaborative artist in theatre process. Survey of historical implications for design. Basic skills of costume construction. Laboratory assignments with mainstage productions.

THTR 210 Performing Diversity: A Cultural Odyssey
Units: 1
Description
Furthers understanding of minority groups in America by investigating their social condition from an experiential base. Participants will explore existing portraits and issues associated with minorities as well as connect with important notions on cultural diversity in America. Special importance will be placed on celebrating ethnic achievements and lifestyles. Plays, poetry, and other performance art forms (including cooking and dressing) will constitute significant class presentations.

THTR 212 Basics of Acting
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Basic methods of analysis and performance techniques necessary to generate believable human behavior on stage. Study of roots (mind/body processes), not ends of acting (performance). Class exercises to develop and discipline actor's physical, vocal, and imaginative equipment. Laboratory assignments with major productions.

THTR 213 Fundamentals of Stage Makeup
Units: 1
Description
Art and application of theatrical makeup, realism to fantasy. Corrective makeup; specialty makeup (aging, scars, beards, animal faces). Laboratory assignments in conjunction with all major productions.

THTR 215 Physical Theatre: Actor as Creator
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Introduces students to the contemporary approaches to theatre-making which focus on the body. Through a series of workshops & creative projects, students will learn techniques for generating original material, developing their spontaneity and creativity, and creating theatre that is personally meaningful and collectively engaging.

THTR 219 Ensemble Performance
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Exploratory class which attempts to generate honest and spontaneous responses from the actor to performance and play creating circumstances. Major emphasis is placed on teamwork, the search for truth and attaining actual potential in the art of playing. With a view to synergizing theatre activity with communal responsibility participants are encouraged to draw on issues around them and nurture creative inspiration from societal needs. Improvisation, storytelling, and multiple role playing are primary mediums for advancing the experience.

THTR 299 Going Solo: The Politics of Identity in Contemporary Solo
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Examines the development of solo performance from the 1970s to the present. Pays close attention to the ways solo practitioners use the body to highlight specific cultural, social, and political histories of marginalization encountered by the working class, people of color, women, lesbians, and gays. Engages with a multitude of genres including performance art, autobiographical forms, spoken word, stand-up comedy, and hip-hop based work.

THTR 239 Latina/os On Stage: From the Barrios to Broadway
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Examines the evolving formation of Latina/o identity in Broadway and community productions as well as popular culture with special attention to issues of globalization, migration, and transculturation.

THTR 301 Scene Design
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Artistic aspects of stage setting in theory and in practice. Consideration of mechanical perspective, watercolor sketching, color schemes, and history of period design. Stresses how the design process is inspired by the script and how the design of scenery is only part of the larger creative process called theatre. Laboratory hours required.
Prerequisites
Theatre 115, 201, 205 or permission of instructor.

THTR 302 Scene Painting
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Study of function of scenic artist in theory and practice. Hands-on approach to scene painting. Laboratory hours required.

THTR 305 Sound Design
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
Exploration of the field of sound design through "hands-on" experiences with the design process, as well as the use of various types of recording and editing equipment, software programs, and research protocols and materials used by sound designers to create the aural environment for a production.
Prerequisites
THTR 203 or THTR 205 or Permission of Instructor

THTR 306 Production Studies II: Analysis, Conceptualization and Problem Solving
Units: 1
Description
Continues to build on the foundations established in Theatre 205, focusing more intently upon the process of preparing a play for theatrical production. Students will select a play and develop a production concept by analyzing the text, preparing the necessary dramaturgical research, and using their study of the elements of theatre to realize their production as a classroom project. The various facets of this project will serve as the core elements of a personal theatre portfolio representative of their course work, research, and creative projects.
Prerequisites
Theatre 205.

THTR 307 Lighting Design
Units: 1
Description
Upper-level course in lighting design for the stage. Special emphasis on project-based, "hands on" learning with students implementing their own designs through analysis, research, creative and practical applications. Laboratory hours are required.

Prerequisites
THTR 203 or 206.

THTR 308 Basics of Directing
Units: 1
Description
Principles and techniques of directing the realistic modern play. Case studies and scene work. One-act play prepared for production by each student. Laboratory assignments with major productions.

Prerequisites
Theatre 205 or 212 or permission of instructor.

THTR 309 Theatre History I
Units: 1

Prerequisites
Theatre 205 or permission of instructor.

THTR 313 Theatre for Social Change I
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement (FSVP)
Description
A studio and seminar class inspired by African and European models in Theatre for Development, a specialized field of drama focused on social development and grounded in participatory procedure. The activity involves research, analysis, scenario building, and performance. Participants will be exposed to exercises in devising and performing work for impacting social transformation. The course will highlight issues within the immediate environment as well as the larger Richmond community, and practice will occur in both domains.

THTR 314 Theatre for Social Change II
Units: 1
Description
Designed to enable students to utilize and transfer the skills acquired in Theatre 313 into the larger community. Working in smaller groups, they are responsible for implementing and evaluating a theatre-centered project within the context of social and sustainable development. They will foster the creation of a play by community members on issues affecting their daily lives. Significant emphasis is given to cultivating an interaction with experts in related areas of concern towards galvanizing meaningful future growth in the selected community.

THTR 315 Independent Study
Units: .5-1
Description
Restriction: Prospectus must be submitted and approved prior to the end of advance registration. Does not count for theatre or dance minor.

Prerequisites

Requires students to form a production organization and produce a substantial play. The production will be staged at the beginning of the next semester and students will receive their final grade after successful completion. Students must select play, analyze material, provide requisite dramaturgical research, create a budget, design all visual elements, raise funds for and publicize the production, conduct rehearsals, and provide a thorough critique of the results.
Prerequisites
Theatre 306

University Seminar

University Seminars provide entering students the excitement of engaged learning through a diverse array of seminar topics. With small classes, a variety of topics, and close contact with faculty, University Seminars offer an opportunity to study topics involving perspectives of faculty from two or more of the University's schools. These cross-disciplinary perspectives are increasingly important in the modern world.

Course

UNIV 401 University Seminar
Units: .5-1
Description
Inter-disciplinary seminar team-taught by faculty from two or more schools of the University. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.
Prerequisites
Junior or senior standing

Wellness

Recreation and Wellness
Tracy Cassalia, Health Educator

In keeping with the University's objective of fostering knowledge and personal well-being, every undergraduate student will complete a three part wellness series prior to graduation. Before arriving on campus, first year and transfer students will complete Alcohol Edu, an on-line alcohol prevention and education program. Once on campus, students will complete a two-hour alcohol seminar (WELL 085) specific to policies of the University and the Commonwealth of Virginia. Students are also required to complete two WELL 090 health education topics courses. Classes are geared towards topics that will promote academic success and personal health.

The wellness program, a division of student development, is responsible for the wellness graduation requirement. All students seeking a bachelor's degree must complete the requirement prior to the start of their junior year. The wellness graduation requirement consists of the following classes:

- UR Aware (WELL 085) Alcohol Awareness Program
- Plus 2 (WELL 090) a wellness topic of choice
- Plus 2 (WELL 090) a second wellness topic of choice

Each course is graded with an S or U (Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory). Students who have not satisfactorily completed WELL 085 by the end of their first year of enrollment will have an administrative hold put on their record and will not be able to register until they have made arrangements to take the class.

Courses

WELL 085 URAWARE: Alcohol Awareness Program
Units: 0
Fulfills General Education Requirement (WEL1)
Description
An alcohol prevention/education program designed to assist students in making positive decisions regarding alcohol issues. Students must satisfactorily complete this component of the wellness requirement their first semester on campus. Student will first complete Alcohol Edu, an on-line alcohol prevention and education program followed by a two-hour on-campus alcohol seminar.

WELL 090 PLUS2: Wellness Topics
Units: 0
Fulfills General Education Requirement (WEL2)
Description
The wellness topic component of the wellness graduation requirement. Students will be offered a choice of health and wellness topics every semester. Sample topics include nutrition, sexual health, relationships, and stress management. Students are required to satisfactorily complete two topics for graduation. Topic sessions run for six weeks, 90 minutes each week. Students are encouraged to complete this component of the wellness requirement before or during their sophomore year. (The wellness requirement carries no credit, but is billed at a tuition rate equivalent to .25 units of credit for the cost of instruction.)

WELL 200 College Student Development: Applications to Residential Life
Units: 0
Fulfills General Education Requirement (WEL2)
Description
Theoretical and experiential study of human behavior. Emphasis on self-awareness and growth, and its application to understanding students and their lives. Attention given to leadership skills in a residential setting.
Prerequisites
Must be a recently-selected residential life staff member or receive instructor's permission to enroll.

Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies

Crystal Hoyt, Coordinator

The women, gender and sexuality studies program is grounded in a) the analysis of gender and sexuality as historically emergent concepts and regions of human experience; b) the histories of political and social movements focused on the concerns, needs, and perspectives of women and sexualities minorities; and c) the theoretical and methodological frameworks of feminist analysis across the disciplines. Working in close consultation with an advisor, students may engage in a wide range of coursework emphasizing their specific areas of interest within the interdisciplinary field.

The Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies Major

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the major must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C (2.0).

10 units, including
WGSS 200 Introduction to Women, Gender & Sexuality Studies
WGSS 489 Research Methods and Capstone Preparation
WGSS 490 Senior Capstone Experience

Seven additional units in WGSS or cross-listed courses. At least four of the seven courses must be at the 300-level or above, and no more than .5 unit of internship credit may be counted toward the major.

Students must develop their major course of study plan in consultation with their advisor/WGSS coordinator. Plans must be submitted in writing and kept on file. The procedure for submitting a plan can be found on the WGSS website.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the major. Prerequisites do not count toward the major unless otherwise noted.

The Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies Minor

Note: The grade point average of the coursework comprising the minor must be no less than 2.00 with no course grade below C (2.0).

5 units, including
WGSS 200 Introduction to Women, Gender & Sexuality Studies
Four additional units in WGSS core or cross-listed from at least two different departments, including no more than 0.5 units of internship credit.

Students are expected to fulfill all prerequisites necessary for courses within the minor. Prerequisites do not count toward the minor unless otherwise noted.

Courses for Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies

Credit

See the departmental listings for descriptions of the following courses offered for women, gender, and sexuality studies credit. Courses marked with an asterisk (*) may or may not carry women, gender, and sexuality studies credit in any given semester. You will need to make arrangements with the instructor and the women, gender, and sexuality studies coordinator at the beginning of the semester in order to count courses marked with an asterisk towards the WGSS major or minor. A comprehensive listing of courses is published each semester on the WGSS website and should be taken as the final arbiter for women, gender and sexuality studies credit.

Undergraduate Study at The Robins School of Business

Mission
The mission of the Robins School of Business is to develop an active learning community in which excellent teaching, scholarship, and service are integrated to stimulate intellectual inquiry as the foundation for responsible leadership in the global business environment.

Pursuing a Major or Minor in the Robins School of Business
Beginning with the class entering in the Fall of 2010, students interested in pursuing a major or minor in the Robins School of Business (Business Administration, Economics or Accounting) must have a 2.7 GPA after completing at least 12 units at the end of three semesters of college coursework, including ECON 101, ACCT 201, and MATH 211 (or its equivalent).

General Prerequisites for All Courses in the Robins School
Except by permission of the dean, Accounting 201-202, Economics 101-102, Business Administration 202 and Business Administration 205 are prerequisites to all other courses in the Robins School of Business. The business minor program requires a student to complete Accounting 201-202 and Economics 101-102 prior to taking any other business class. Accounting 202 and Business Administration 205 may be taken simultaneously with the require core courses of Marketing 320, Management 320, 330 and 340, Finance 360, and Business Administration 392. In order to take core and/or upper level business classes, students must have a declared major or minor in the Robins School of Business. In addition to the aforementioned pre-business and core course, a major much complete Business Administration 497 (or International Business 411 in the case of International Business concentration.)

Study Abroad
All Robins School of Business students, even those not concentrating in international business, are encouraged to apply for study abroad. The Robins School enjoys relationships with leading business schools throughout the world. In accordance with University policy, credits will be transferred only from partner institutions or preapproved study programs. While studying abroad, students must complete a course that focuses on culture/society, history, political system, or economy of the host school's country or region. Students studying in a country where the native language is not English are required to participate in the host school's or other preapproved pre-semester language course, whether offered for credit or not. Students may complete no more than two courses in the same field. For example, a student may take no more than two marketing courses or two finance courses. Students may complete no more than two business school core courses while abroad. The associate dean for international programs may grant exemptions to this policy in extreme circumstances and/or for students studying abroad for an entire academic year.

Honors Program
Outstanding students with intellectual initiative and the desire to pursue academic achievement beyond standard coursework have the opportunity to broaden and deepen knowledge in selected major fields through the honors program. Departmental honors coordinators invite promising qualified majors to apply, but an interested student may contact his or her major department or the faculty committee on the honors program to indicate interest and obtain further information. To qualify, a student should have at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average, 18 or more units completed and, excluding coursework primarily for first-year students, 3.5 or more units completed with distinction in the major field. Successful completion of an honors program is shown on the student's permanent academic record and on the diploma.

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (B.S.B.A.)
The Robins School of Business offers the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (B.S.B.A.). Within this degree, there are three majors: accounting, business administration, and economics. All business administration majors must choose one primary area of concentration. Students may choose a primary concentration in the areas of finance, economics, marketing, management, or international business. In addition, students may electively choose a second area of concentration in accounting or from those listed above.

Students may only have one major in the school of business, chosen from accounting, business administration, or economics. A concentration(s) may be attached to any of these majors but is only required for the business administration major.

Candidates for a B.S.B.A. must:

Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 201 Games and Experiments in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to game theory. Based on a scientific metaphor that many interactions that we do not usually think of as games such as market competition, collusion, auctions, elections, bargaining can be treated and analyzed as games. Study of how to recognize and model strategic situations, how and when their actions will affect the decisions of others, and how to gain advantage in strategic situations.
Prerequisites
ECON 101

ECON 210 The Economics of the European Union
Units: 1
Description
Comparative analysis of European and United States' economics systems, including a review of the evolution of the European Union. Although the scope of the course is primarily European, Japan and China also are studied.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 211 Economic Development in Asia, Africa and Latin America
Units: 1
Description
Comparative analysis of economic growth, income and wealth distribution, trade and finance, population, agriculture, and industrialization in Latin America, Africa, and Asia.
Prerequisites
Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 220 History of Economic Thought
Units: 1
Description
Survey of development of economic analysis with emphasis on contributions from Adam Smith through J.M. Keynes.
Prerequisites Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 221 American Economic History
Units: 1
Description Use of economic theory and methods to study American history with special emphasis on economic growth. Topics include Native American development up to the arrival of Europeans, transportation revolutions, slavery, agriculture and monetary controversies in the late 19th century, health and nutrition, immigration, technological change, the Great Depression and New Deal, and civil rights.
Prerequisites Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 230 Environmental Economics
Units: 1
Description Development and application of economic principles to understand and evaluate causes and solutions to environmental problems such as pollution and conservation. Topics include economics of biodiversity protection, global warming, natural resource damage assessment, measurement of environmental values, and alternative strategies for pollution control. Special attention given to optimal use of exhaustible and renewable natural resources. (Same as Environmental Studies 230).
Prerequisites Economics 101.

ECON 231 Law and Economics
Units: 1
Description Application of economic analysis to legal concepts. Using goals of efficiency and wealth maximization, shows how economic theory can unify property law, contract law, tort law, criminal law, and family/sex law, as well as offer new insights to old problems.
Prerequisites Economics 101.

ECON 232 The Economics of Gender
Units: 1
Description Uses economic methods to explore how gender differences lead to different economic outcomes for men and women, both within families and in the marketplace. Topics include allocation of time between the household and the labor market, consequences of employment for family structure, theories of discrimination, and occupational segregation. Historical trends and cross-cultural comparisons are discussed at length. Policy areas include antipoverty programs, comparable worth, affirmative action, antidiscrimination legislation, parental leave, and provision of child care. While the focus of the analysis of gender and economics is on the U.S., such findings are not universal and the semester concludes with international comparisons that demonstrate important differences.
Prerequisites Economics 101 and 102.

ECON 233 Ethics and Economics
Units: 1
Description Explores ethical considerations that arise in economic analyses. In positive economics, how are choices informed by considerations of duty or virtue (in addition to utility)? In normative economics, how do concepts of welfare and efficiency derive from ethical theories, and how have these changed over time? What competing ethical theories add to our understanding of public policy issues? Preparation for a complex world when economic analysis is viewed as complementary to a critical-thinking process about ethical frameworks. Addresses additional questions such as: What is the moral philosophy behind capitalism? What are the moral limits to markets? Do businesses create and rely upon moral capital?
Prerequisites Economics 101.

ECON 260 Selected Economic Topics
Units: .5-1
Description Major areas in economics, application of economic principles, and analysis of policy issues.

Excel, SPSS, and SAS are used in weekly computer lab sessions.

Prerequisites
ECON 270.

ECON 372 Advanced Macroeconomics
Units: 1
Description
Examination of selected topics in macroeconomics beyond the basic theory level covered in Economics 272. Topics may include forecasting, time-series econometrics, growth theory, analysis of dynamic, stochastic general-equilibrium models, and open-economy macroeconomics.

Prerequisites
Economics 272 and Business Administration 301.

ECON 480 Senior Capstone Seminar
Units: 1
Description
Utilizes theoretical and applied economic models from previous economics courses. Semester assignments guide students through a major research project of one of the following forms: contemporary economic analysis, historical economic analysis, viewpoints in economic analysis, or quantitative economic analysis. Students develop an economic question; gain access to existing knowledge; demonstrate command of existing knowledge; use existing knowledge to explore an issue of interest; understand the steps to complete a substantial research project; and sharpen written communication skills. Note: Participation in the honors program fulfills the capstone requirement.

Prerequisites
Econometrics 271 and 272, Economics 270 or Business Administration 301, and senior standing.

ECON 490 Honors Seminar in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Honors seminar.

Prerequisites
Departmental invitation.

ECON 491 Honors Thesis in Economics
Units: 1
Description
Capstone independent research project and honors paper. Note: Participation in the honors program fulfills the capstone requirement.

Prerequisites
Departmental invitation.

The finance concentration requires a minimum of four courses chosen from among the finance courses in addition to the pre-business and business core requirements outlined above. A maximum of seven courses can be taken in any area of concentration. The finance concentration offers optional curriculum tracks. Students may pursue one of the optional tracks listed below by taking all of the finance courses listed under each track.

Optional Finance Concentration Program Tracks (suggested courses and sequences)

(1) CFA® Track (emphasis on investments and securities)
FIN 366 Investments
FIN 462 International Financial Management
FIN 466 Fixed Income and Derivative Securities
FIN 467 Portfolio Management and Analysis
FIN 468 Student-Managed Investment Fund (senior year)

Suggested Supporting Courses:
- ECON 200 The Economics of Money, Banking and Financial Markets
- FIN 369 Alternative Assets
- FIN 369 Deal Structure and Valuation
- FIN 461 Cases and Financial Modeling

(2) Corporate Finance Track
FIN 361 Corporate Finance
FIN 366 Investments
FIN 461 Cases and Financial Modeling
FIN 462 International Financial Management

Suggested Supporting Courses:
- ECON 200 The Economics of Money, Banking and Financial Markets
- FIN 369 Deal Structure and Valuation

Notes:
- Students planning to enroll in FIN 468 should complete FIN 366 during their junior year.
- Program tracks do not affect the finance concentration requirements of the B.S.B.A. degree.
- IBUS students taking FIN 462 and concentrating in finance need only three additional courses in finance.

Special Opportunities and Graduate Work Preparation

Students are encouraged to speak to their academic advisors about special opportunities in programs such as the Student-Managed Investment Fund; Chartered Financial Analyst Student Program; Federal Reserve Challenge; Investments Club; and Business Conditions and Analysis Review.

Students interested in graduate work should consider taking ECON 370 Advanced Econometrics. In addition, a math minor or a combination of MATH 212 Calculus II; MATH 235 Multivariate Calculus; MATH 245 Linear Algebra; MATH 329 Probability; and MATH 330 Mathematical Statistics would be especially helpful for students interested in pursuing a Ph.D. in finance.

International Knowledge Requirements
These requirements consist of international business knowledge and international cultural and social knowledge.

International Business Knowledge, five courses, including
IBUS 381 International Business Environment
IBUS 411 International Business Strategy

One course chosen from:
- FIN 462 International Financial Management
- or other international focused accounting or finance course approved by the associate dean for international business programs

One course chosen from:
- MKT 325 International Marketing
- MGMT 333 International Management
- IBUS 390 International Business Issues
- or other international focused management or marketing course approved by the associate dean for international business programs

One international economics course chosen from:
- ECON 210 The Economics of the European Union
- ECON 211 Economic Development in Asia, Africa and Latin America
- ECON 260 International Policy
- ECON 310 International Trade and Finance
- or other international focused economics course approved by the associate dean for international business programs

Note: One course in international business knowledge from accounting, finance, marketing or management can apply to a second concentration.

International Cultural and Social Knowledge, two courses, including
- One approved course with an international focus from the humanities. A list of approved humanities courses is available on the international business website.
- One approved course with an international focus from the social sciences. A list of approved social science courses is available on the international business website.

International Experience Requirements
The international experience requirements consist of cultural experiences and a work experience.
International Cultural Experience: Students concentrating in international business must complete two of three international cultural experiences:
- Successfully complete an approved university-level program of study in a foreign country for at least one semester;
- Demonstrate proficiency in a second language. This may be done by earning a grade of C or better in a commercial language course.
• (e.g., FREN 306 French at Work, LAIS 306 Spanish in Business) or
• in a 300-level conversation course (e.g., ITAL 301 Italian Conversation, RUSN 301 Russian Conversation), or
• by earning a satisfactory score on an appropriate language proficiency examination;
• Live in another country for at least 12 continuous weeks other than study abroad experience.

International Work Experience: An international work experience is required for the international business concentration. This requirement may be met by completing an approved internship in the U.S. in an organization’s international section, or by working in an organization located outside the U.S.

Notes: Subject to prior approval of the associate dean for international business programs, working abroad may satisfy both the international work experience requirement and one of the two international cultural experience requirements.

The Jepson School of Leadership Studies offers a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in leadership studies, as well as a minor in leadership studies. To earn this degree a candidate must satisfactorily complete the curricular requirements outlined in the following section and meet the general degree requirements of the University.

The Jepson School of Leadership Studies seeks to develop in each student a base of knowledge for understanding leadership in a variety of settings. Curriculum goals are achieved through courses that emphasize both leadership theory and practice, thus helping students connect knowledge gained through coursework to the world outside of the classroom.

Admission Procedures
Students wishing to major or minor in leadership studies must apply for admission to the Jepson School during the fall semester of their second year.

A faculty committee reviews applications and chooses students based on essays and academic performance as well as faculty recommendations and extracurricular activities.

Prospective majors and minors must have completed or be enrolled in LDST 101 Leadership and the Humanities or LDST 102 Leadership and the Social Sciences to be considered for admission to the program. Both courses are required for the major and minor, but either course may be taken as a first course in leadership studies. After taking LDST 101 or LDST 102 and prior to admission, students may also take LDST 205 Justice and Civil Society. Electives are open to all students at the University.

Students seeking admission to the School need to attend information sessions, which are held in the fall. Application materials will be made accessible by the Associate Dean for Student and External Affairs once a student has attended an information session. The application deadline is September 30 or next business day. The new class is notified of acceptance in mid-October and the new class is welcomed into the Jepson community at the Prelude ceremony in November.

Honors in Leadership Studies

The Jepson School faculty offers a track by which students with a proven academic record of intellectual initiative and scholarly drive can earn honors in leadership studies. The faculty invites interested students to apply for the honors track. The deadline for this application is October 1 of the student's junior year. To qualify, a student must be a leadership studies major, hold at least a 3.30 cumulative GPA and at least a 3.30 leadership studies GPA, and have earned a B or higher in at least four leadership studies courses. The application form is available for qualified juniors from the associate dean for academic affairs.
Once accepted to the honors track, in order to receive honors in leadership studies, a student must:

- Enroll in LDST 399 Junior Honors Tutorial, for spring semester of junior year.
- Submit a five-page proposal and preliminary bibliography to be accepted by the course instructor and a Jepson faculty thesis advisor.
- Enroll in LDST 497 and LDST 498, Senior Honors Thesis I and II, during senior year.
- Successfully present one chapter, bibliography, and chapter-by-chapter outline of thesis to the student's committee by the last day of classes in the spring semester of senior year.
- Successfully defend thesis before the student's committee by the last day of classes in the spring semester of senior year.
- Complete undergraduate program with at least a 3.30 cumulative GPA and at least a 3.30 leadership studies GPA.

Students in the honors track must complete all aspects of the standard Jepson curriculum. LDST 497 and LDST 498 can count for a maximum of one unit of advanced course credit.

Study Abroad

Leadership studies students are encouraged to study abroad. Majors may count a maximum of one unit of study abroad credit toward the advanced course requirement. This course must enhance the student's academic plan in leadership studies. Determination of whether a course enhances a student's academic plan in leadership studies will be made by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students are encouraged to study abroad in the spring of junior year, although alternate arrangements typically can be made to accommodate students planning to study abroad in the fall of junior year.

Courses

FYS 100 First Year Seminar
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement First Year Seminar
Description
Allows students to choose from a list of special topics courses while they pursue a shared set of educational goals. All seminars are designed to expand the students' understanding of the world, enhance their ability to read and think critically, enhance their ability to communicate effectively in writing, speech, and other appropriate forms, develop fundamentals of information literacy and library research, and provide the opportunity for students to work closely with a faculty mentor. Topics descriptions for each term can be found on the FYS website. Students must take two different FYS 100 courses to meet the First Year Seminar degree requirement.
Prerequisites
First-year standing.

LDST 101 Leadership and the Humanities
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to leadership as an object of study through examination of its historical foundations and intellectual development. Readings selected from history, literature, philosophy, political theory, religion, and social theory. Emphasis on assessing these texts in light of reasoned argument and on drawing out their implications for leadership studies. This course may be taken before or after LDST 102.

LDST 102 Leadership and the Social Sciences
Units: 1
Fulfills General Education Requirement FSSA
Description
Introduction to the study of leadership through theoretical and empirical explorations of social interaction. Readings selected from anthropology, economics, political science, psychology, and sociology. Emphasis on advancing the understanding of leadership through an increased appreciation of the rich complexities of human behavior. This course may be taken before or after LDST 101.

LDST 205 Justice and Civil Society
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of contemporary society and understandings of justice. Readings on civil society, theories of justice, and analysis of poverty and related socio-economic problems. Includes a service learning component with critical reflection on community service to populations in need.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 101 or 102 or permission of instructor.

LDST 250 Critical Thinking and Methods of Inquiry
Units: 1
Description
Examination of knowledge and argumentation as they pertain to leadership. Analysis of scientific methodology and logic, language and interpretation, and their influence on the study and practice of leadership.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 101 or 102, and admission to the Jepson School of Leadership Studies as a major or minor.

LDST 290 Selected Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Topics developed by Jepson school faculty, visiting faculty, or faculty in other schools of the University that address particular issues in leadership studies. Examples may include leadership studies courses in the Sophomore Scholars in Residence program. May be taken more than once for credit if topics vary.
Prerequisites
Varies depending on topic.

LDST 300 Theories and Models of Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Examination of theories and models in leadership studies. Introduces role of theory in social science, and both classic and contemporary leadership theories/models are presented. Emphasis on critical analysis of theoretical perspectives.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 101 and 102, and admission to the Jepson School of Leadership Studies as a major or minor.

LDST 302 Leadership in Organizations
Units: 1
Description
Focus on leadership theory and research within and across formal organizational settings such as public/private, profit/nonprofit, professional/nonprofessional, and unitary/multidivisional. Examination of rational, natural, and open systems, and of how leadership differs in each system. Primary focus social/organizational.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 300.

LDST 303 Leadership in Political Contexts
Units: 1
Description
Informal and formal processes by which power and authority are exercised and leadership is selected within political systems in various settings. Examination of leadership in basic processes and institutions of government through case study of legislative issues. Primary focus historical.

LDST 304 Social Movements
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of history of leadership in social movements. Comparison and contrast of forms, mechanisms, and practices of leadership in various stages of a social movement. Examination of values of leaders as expressed through stories of ordinary people involved in leadership in social movements. Primary focus historical.

LDST 306 Leadership in Cultural and Historical Contexts
Units: 1
Description
Study of the ecological and cultural factors that shape political organization. Case studies drawn from primatology, cultural anthropology, and political history to illustrate what makes human leadership unique and investigate why leadership and political organization vary across human societies, both historically and cross-culturally. Some of the questions we consider include: Why do humans adopt leader and follower roles at all? What is the nature of leadership in other social animals, particularly chimpanzees? Are there any human societies that lack leadership? What kinds of societies have seen more leadership by women? Why are some human societies more hierarchical than others? Exposes students to the ecological, cultural, and historical contexts that shape leadership and also stimulates critical thinking about human social behavior in general. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 307 Leadership in International Contexts
Units: 1
Description
Comparative study of leadership in various cultures and in cross-cultural organizations. Topics include cultural and ethical influences on leadership, the relationship between leaders and followers in various cultures, and problems of cross-cultural leadership. Primary focus ethical.

LDST 308 The Creation of the American Republic
Units: 1
Description
Examines principles and practice of leadership within political context of the founding of the American Republic from 1776 through 1788. Primary focus will be on day-to-day work of the Constitutional Convention and the subsequent debates over ratification of the new constitution. Primary focus historical. (Same as Political Science 330.)

LDST 309 Leadership and the Common Good
Units: 1
Description
Examines political, social, economic, psychological, moral, and/or religious approaches to how societies determine and pursue goods in common. Attention to conceptions of well-being, how individuals and societies determine it, and how leaders and citizens achieve it. Focus on leadership challenge of negotiating tensions between individual and collective welfare, and how leaders in various contexts move citizens to embrace common goals.

LDST 310 Folk Music and Protest Thought
Units: 1
Description
An exploration of leadership in the arts that will examine the subject from three perspectives. First, it will consider figures in traditional, old-time, and folk music whose contributions have been transformative. Second, consideration will be given to folk music as a variety of American political and social thought, as an expression of ideas about human nature and the politics of the day. Finally, there will be an evaluation of the persuasive power of song as a rhetorical means of spreading, and perhaps inculcating political and social ideas in the minds of the people. Primary focus historical.

LDST 320 Good and Evil
Units: 1
Description
An analysis of empirical studies of moral phenomena, examining such questions as (a) What is humanity’s moral nature? (b) Why do people act morally or immorally? (c) What feelings and sentiments do people experience when they consider and act in ways both proper and improper? and (d) How do people see, construct, judge, perceive, and react to positive and negative feelings, thoughts, and behaviors? Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 325 Leading Socially Active Businesses
Units: 1
Description
Examines a new business model in which company leaders go beyond charitable donations to humanitarian causes to facilitate the involvement of employees directly in community problem-solving and volunteering. Addresses questions such as the following: Does this form of leadership raise new expectations for business in the 21st century? Does it change the primary role of business? Is this approach sustainable? What are the motivations for this business model? Does this business model require a different form of leadership from traditional models? Primary focus social/organizational.
LDST 340 Early Modern Crises in Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Discussion of primary texts that disclose difficulties in formulating political and religious policy during the crises that start with the later Middle Ages in Western Europe and run into the seventeenth century. Students will be expected to evaluate as well currently influential interpretations of the crises and proposed resolutions. Specific subjects will be selected from a menu that includes medieval papal imperialism and decline, the development of early modern secular bureaucracies, Renaissance political theory, religious reformations, and religious wars as well as Machiavelli, More, Luther, Calvin, Whitgift, Lord Burghley, Queen Elizabeth I, Emperor Charles V, and King Henry IV (France). Primary focus historical.

LDST 342 Dead Leaders Society
Units: 1
Description
Exploration of the lives and times of important leaders of the past to gain insight into leadership, to learn how to evaluate leaders, and to gain expertise in better understanding the complex role that the surrounding context plays in the leadership relationship. Uses historical case studies to identify the leadership challenge and examine the values and activities of individuals in response to the mix of opportunities and constraints provided by fellow stakeholders and contemporary cultures, as well as by the long-term social, economic, and intellectual forces. Primary focus historical.

LDST 345 Civil War Leadership
Units: 1
Description
A study of the events leading to the Civil War, and the military and political leadership on both Union and Confederate sides during the war. Topics include the roles of slavery and political leadership in starting the war, the leadership of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis during the war, and that of Generals Ulysses S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, James Longstreet, George B. McClellan, and William T. Sherman in shaping the outcome of the war. Primary focus historical.

LDST 351 Group Dynamics
Units: 1
Description
Introduction to scientific study of group processes through vocabulary, concepts, theories, and research. Both classic and contemporary theories and research are presented. Emphasis on both theoretical and applied components of group dynamics. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 352 Presidential Leadership
Units: 1
Description
A study of theories of presidential leadership and assessments of several presidencies, including those of George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Franklin Roosevelt, John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, and Bill Clinton. Addresses the personal qualities and capacities as well as the situational and historical contingencies that influence the effectiveness of various presidencies. Also considers the nature of social perception and its role in appraisals of presidential performance. Special attention will be given to presidential campaigning and presidential debates. Each student will undertake the study of one or more presidents. Primary focus historical. (Same as Psychology 449.)

LDST 354 Conflict Resolution
Units: 1
Description
Understanding principles and dynamics of mediating disputes and achieving agreements between groups and individuals. Discussion of negotiating techniques and ethical issues related to use of such techniques by leaders. Use of simulations and exercises to practice skills for resolving conflicts. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 355 Competition, Cooperation, and Choice
Units: 1
Description
Economic approach to leadership examines how individuals come together in social settings (a market place, an organization, a political entity) to make distributive decisions. Particular focus on Adam Smith’s analysis of the development of modern industrial society and on important policy debates about slavery, the franchise and eugenics. Consideration of Smithian insights applied to contemporary game theoretic and experimental research on the emergence of cooperative behavior in settings where individual interests sometimes conflict with the interest of the group (or society). Special attention to public goods games and institutional frameworks that facilitate cooperation in a repeated prisoner’s dilemma setting: competition, repetition, punishment, and reciprocity. Primary focus ethical.
Prerequisites
ECON 101

LDST 356 Leading Change
Units: 1
Description
Examines theories, concepts, and processes of leadership and change in several contexts including organizational, community, political, and societal. Focuses on purpose or reason for leading change in social structures, human conditions, dominant ideas, or prevailing practices using theoretical and experiential approaches. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 359 Gender and Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Examination of gender, and leadership by focusing on the psychological literature related to gender, stigma, and leadership. Primary focus is on using empirical research to help decipher fact from myth, evaluating and analyzing the scientific merit of the research, and applying the research to real world situations. Focus will be on understanding prejudice, stereotyping, and stigma, analyzing perceptions of female leaders as well as experiences of these leaders, and considering strategies for change. Course may be taught from a non-empirical perspective. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 361 Sex, Power, and Politics
Units: 1
Description
Explores the processes by which "sexuality" is constituted and informs the leadership process. Readings on the social Discussions address questions about whether we would be
is Mill's defense of the "harm principle" in On Liberty.

LDST 368 Leadership on Stage and Screen
Units: 1
Description
Discussion of primary dramatic texts and films that examine leadership in a variety of settings and frameworks. Uses critical readings to contextualize the works as commentary on the issues and crises of leadership present at the time of their creation and examines the way in which they continue to address ethical and logistical leadership concerns in later periods and alternative contexts. In addition, discussions will focus on the use of film and theater as vehicles for questions of sociopolitical change and ethical inquiry. Course expectations include a theatrical production project working in the greater Richmond community designed to use the theatrical experience to enact social justice and examine leadership at work. Primary focus ethical.

LDST 371 Moral Limits of the Criminal Law
Units: 1
Description
Engages John Stuart Mill's project to determine "the nature and limits of the power which can be legitimately exercised by society over the individual." The starting point for the course is Mill's defense of the "harm principle" in On Liberty.
Discussions address questions about whether we would be justified in using the criminal law to limit the liberty of individuals who engage in offensive behavior, behavior that is harmful only to the actors themselves, or behavior that is thought to be immoral. Readings from thinkers such as James Fitzjames Stephen, Patrick Devlin, H.L. A. Hart, and Joel
Feinberg. Primary focus ethical.

LDST 374 Contemporary Debates in Democratic Theory
Units: 1
Description
Examination of contemporary debates in democratic theory, including works on writings of political theorists supplemented by scholarship in empirical political science, sociology, and political economy as appropriate. Specific topics examined may include the distribution of political and economic power in democratic societies; the relationship between political institutions and economic actors; the role of citizens in sustaining democratic regimes; the role of normative values in public-policy making; the role of deliberation in democratic societies; and possibilities for institutional reform to expand democratic self-governance.
Primary focus ethical.

LDST 375 Economic Policy and Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Explores two questions using debates amongst economists as our policy laboratory. First, what is the scope for policy makers to lead the economy through crises and the inevitable ups and downs that accompany economic expansion? How much agency should policy makers assume and when are unusual mechanisms called for? Second, what leadership role do economists legitimately play in the development and implementation of new economic policy? As we read and discuss the policy proposals of the past, we explore the answers to these and other questions in today's economic contexts. Primary focus ethical.

LDST 376 Leadership and Governance in the Contemporary American Metropolis
Units: 1
Description
Examination of political, economic, and civic structure of contemporary American cities and their surrounding suburbs through the lens of contemporary democratic theory.
Critically assesses historical and contemporary strategies for improving urban life employed by leaders in each of these sectors, with particular attention to the constraints these actors face. Specific topics discussed include transportation, land use, economic development and fiscal management, public education, crime, poverty, the formation of governing regimes, multiracial coalition building, and suburban sprawl.
Primary focus ethical.

LDST 377 Ethical Decision Making - Health Care
Units: 1
Description
Systematic examination of the central ethical decisions faced by leaders in medicine and healthcare. Topics include decision making for incompetent patients, consent, abortion, euthanasia, disability, resource allocation, organ donation, and experimentation with human and non human animals. Readings by historical thinkers such as Jeremy Bentham, Immanuel Kant, and John Stuart Mill.
Contemporary readings from bioethicists such as John Finnis, Judith Jarvis Thompson, Derek Parfit, Jonathan Glover, James Rachels, Peter Singer, and Ronald Dworkin. Primary focus ethical.

LDST 378 Statesmanship
Units: 1
Description
Focus on statesmanship through historical and biographical case studies of such figures as the American founders, Abraham Lincoln, and Winston Churchill. Also will seek to understand ways in which constitutional, legal, and political institutions can encourage, thwart, or direct leadership on a grand political scale. Primary focus historical. (Same as Political Science 310.)

LDST 379 Reason, Rhetoric, and Leadership
Units: 1
Description
Consideration of the relationship between rhetoric and leadership. Focus will be on such examples as Thucydides' "History of the Peloponnesian War," the Declaration of Independence, "The Federalist Papers," and the oratory of Abraham Lincoln and Winston Churchill. Primary focus historical. (Same as Political Science 316.)

LDST 383 Leadership and the Future of Higher Education
Units: 1
Description
Examines issues of leadership in higher education. Focus on how presidents work with constituents to achieve legitimacy, guide plans, and make decisions. Explore both traditional and emerging models in higher education. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 386 Leadership in a Diverse Society
Units: 1
Description
Study of how diversity affects social relations with an emphasis on leadership. Examines diversity, primarily through the lens of social psychology, by examining individual and collective dynamics in pluralistic settings. The primary focus is to familiarize students with basic research on intergroup relations, prejudice, stereotyping, and discrimination, so that they may: (1) evaluate and analyze the scientific merit of this research, and (2) apply this research to real world situations—e.g., reflect on the effect of social identity on achievement, performance, mental health, physical health, etc. Focuses on the causes, correlates and consequences of stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination. Also addresses approaches to ameliorating these problems. Primary focus social/organizational.

LDST 387 Leadership and Religious Values
Units: 1
Description
Study of how political, cultural, and religious leaders draw on and influence their respective religious traditions. Primary focus: historical.

LDST 389 Research Methods
Units: 1
Description
In-depth examination of various research methods used in leadership studies. Consideration of issues associated with design of studies, collection of various kinds of data, writing research proposals and reports, and analysis of data.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 101 or 102 and admission to the Jepson School of Leadership Studies as a major or minor.

LDST 390 Selected Topics
Units: .5-1
Description
Topics developed by Jepson School faculty, visiting faculty, or faculty in other schools of the University that address particular issues in leadership studies. Examples may include leadership and psychology and literature and leadership. May be taken more than once if topics vary.
Prerequisites
Varies depending on topic.
LDST 399 Junior Honors Tutorial
Units: .5
Description
Juniors accepted to honors track (in fall of junior year) work with Jepson faculty members in this spring tutorial to develop thesis proposal and preliminary bibliography to be accepted by the course instructor and a Jepson faculty thesis advisor.
Prerequisites
Acceptance to honors track.

LDST 406 Summer Undergraduate Research
Units: 0
Description
Documentation of the work of students who receive summer grants to conduct research in the summer. The work must take place over a minimum of 10 weeks, and the student must be the recipient of a Jepson School summer research grant. Graded S/U.
Prerequisites
Approval for summer research grant by Jepson School Student Affairs Committee

LDST 450 Leadership Ethics
Units: 1
Description
Application of moral theory to the values and assumptions of leadership, focusing especially on the ethical challenges of leaders past and present, group behavior, and leadership theory. Topics include self-interest, power, charisma, duty, obedience, and the greater good.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 300. Restricted to senior majors and minors or by permission of instructor.

LDST 488 Internship
Units: .5-1
Description
Applied experience in field of leadership studies and accompanying seminar. Observations of leaders in government, corporate, or nonprofit settings. Students are expected to apply what they have learned in required courses such as Theories and Models.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 490 Independent Study
Units: .5-2
Description
Independent study allows students to pursue research on their own topic of interest under the supervision of a faculty member. Independent study proposals must be submitted to the associate dean for academic affairs at least two weeks before the beginning of classes for the semester in which the independent study is to take place. The independent research experience will culminate in a final written product.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 491 Collaborative Study
Units: .5-2
Description
Collaborative study provides students with the opportunity to conduct research collaboratively with a Jepson faculty member on a project of theoretical or methodological importance to the faculty member's program of research. Collaborative study must involve more than providing research assistance to an ongoing project; rather, the student must take responsibility for conducting original research of scholarly value. Collaborative study will be grounded in rigorous methods appropriate to the discipline in which the student is working and will culminate in a final written project.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 492 Directed Study
Units: 1
Description
Group reading and discussion in a specified area of leadership studies under faculty supervision.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 495 Senior Thesis I
Units: 1
Description
Year-long engagement in independent research project under supervision of faculty advisor.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 496 Senior Thesis II
Units: 1
Description
Year-long engagement in independent research project under supervision of faculty advisor.
Prerequisites
Department approval.

LDST 497 Senior Honors Thesis I
Units: 1
Description
Year-long engagement in independent research to produce written thesis worthy of honors in leadership studies. See description of Jepson honors track for further details.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 399 and commitment of a faculty thesis advisor are required to register for 497; in December of senior year, upon oral presentation of research and proposal, Jepson faculty verifies permission to enroll in 498.

LDST 498 Senior Honors Thesis II
Units: 1
Description
Year-long engagement in independent research to produce written thesis worthy of honors in leadership studies. See description of Jepson honors track for further details.
Prerequisites
Leadership Studies 399 and commitment of a faculty thesis advisor are required to register for 497; in December of senior year, upon oral presentation of research and proposal, Jepson faculty verifies permission to enroll in 498.

UNIV 401 University Seminar
Units: .5-1
Description
Inter-disciplinary seminar team-taught by faculty from two or more schools of the University. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.
Prerequisites
Junior or senior standing
